

MANY GRADS RESERVE SEATS FOR BIG GAME

Gridiron Stars Plan to Return On November 13.

PAT M'ARTHUR COMING

Order of "O" to View Fight from Sidelines.

Many letters are received each day from former Oregon students reserving seats for the Homecoming football game. Among these are found many well-remembered persons.

Judge Lawrence T. Harris of the supreme court at Salem, has written in for a number of seats. Judge Harris was a well known member of the class of 1893.

Eugene Good, class of 1917 is to be here. "Gene" will be remembered as the brother of the famous Bill, "Weary" Good.

Mrs. Dean H. Hayes has reserved seats for the ball game. Mrs. Hayes was Rosalie Friendly, whose father was one of the first board of regents, and for whom Friendly hall was named.

Dr. Clarence W. Keene, of Silverton, will visit old time scenes once more. Dr. Keene received his A. B. here in 1896, and his M. D. in 1901, and was a famous track man of that time.

One of the most well known visitors will be Rep. C. N. ("Pat") McArthur, an old Oregon graduate, president of the A. S. U. O. in 1901 and 1902, and a member of the Athletic Council 1903-1908. To "Pat," is due much of Oregon's success in athletics; in fact he has been appropriately called "the father of athletics" at Oregon.

Mrs. Roy Cleaver of Creswell sends word that she will be here for the great celebration. Mrs. Cleaver was Ruth Davis, Oregon graduate of the class of 1913, and later, assistant in the school of music.

Another athletic star who will visit the campus is Clarence M. Bishop, old Oregon football player, and an all-American star of former years.

One of the oldest graduates who is to return for Homecoming is Owen Osburn, of the class of 1880. Mr. Osburn is at present a Portland druggist.

Among others who are to return are: Ben Chandler, class of 1913; Fred E. Kiddle, 1917; Leslie P. Miller, 1908; Fred N. Stump, 1905; Walter S. Hodge, 1913; Mabelle Kirkwood, 1903; George T. Colton, 1919; Bob Kuykendall, 1913; Beatrice Locke, 1916; Gladys Diment, 1920; Dorothy Duniway, 1920.

Each fraternity and sorority house is making extensive preparations to entertain a large number of alumni. Kappa Sigma expects more than 60; Sigma Chi, 40, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, 30.

All old letter men have been sent a special invitation by the president of "The Order of O", to come back and have a bench on the sidelines. Extensive plans are being made for their entertainment, one of these being for alumni to meet and attend the ball game in a body.

FOOTBALL RESULTS SMASH FORECASTS

California Likely Represent West at Pasadena.

Football dope took the usual route in Saturday's games and exploded all over the coast. California put a crimp in the chances of the Washington State eleven for the championship honors by defeating the Congars 49 to 0. This practically means that California will represent the West at the big intersectional game at Pasadena on New Year's Day. The game was predicted to be won by a close score, and Washington State was even conceded the victory by a number of sport writers and coaches throughout the West.

The other big surprise received by football fans was the defeat of Washington by Stanford, 3 to 0, at Seattle. The Sandodgers were expected to win over their southern opponents by about three touchdowns. This is Stanford's third consecutive victory and they appear to be going strong, although they are not conceded in the same class with "Andy" Smith's University of California team. "Dink" Templeton, the star halfback of the Cardinals, was responsible for the victory over the Sandodgers; he booted a drop kick squarely between the posts.

Whitman is playing up to real class this year, and walloped the University of Montana, Saturday, by a 13 to 7 score. Montana was expected to have little trouble in defeating Whitman.

SUNDAY PAPER STARTED.

The University of Michigan is to have a Sunday paper. The paper will contain feature articles written by students and faculty.

OREGON FACULTY MEN AT JACKSON INSTITUTE

Almack and Stetson Talk at Medford; University Well Represented Among Teachers.

John C. Almack, director of the extension division, and Professor F. L. Stetson, of the department of secondary education, returned Saturday from Medford where they attended the Jackson county teachers' institute, Nov. 3, 4, 5.

Mr. Almack says he "didn't do much except speak eight times." Prof. Stetson spoke seven times, says Mr. Almack, so the University was well represented.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the institute, says Mr. Almack, was the gathering of the alumni at a luncheon at the Hotel Medford on the first day of the institute. Arrangements were made to have a similar meeting every year; E. H. Hedrick was appointed to take charge of plans for next year.

At the luncheon, short talks were made by Supt. George A. Briscoe, '05, of Ashland; Supt. G. W. Milan, '20, of Phoenix; Supt. Aubrey G. Smith, of Medford; Mr. Almack and Prof. Stetson. Besides these, the following alumni and former students were present:

Grace Knopp, 1920; Mrs. Briscoe, Geraldine Ruch, 1920 and Minnie Poley, 1914, all of Ashland; Tula French Kinsley, 1918; Cecil Creede, 1921; Donna Henry, 1918; Elizabeth Ferguson, 1909; and Eunice Davis, 1916, all of Medford; Supt. E. H. Hedrick, 1916; Agnes Dunlay, 1918; Beatrice Gaylord, 1918, all of Central Point; Mrs. Laura W. James of Rogue River, and Jessie O. Todd, of Siskiyou.

Mr. Almack goes to Tillamook to spend three days at the Tillamook county institute, Nov. 10, 11, 12.

DR. SHELDON IN PORTLAND.

Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, spent Monday evening, November 8, in Portland where he addressed the Laurelhurst Club, composed of business men and school patrons, on the question of "The Problem of the Kindergarten." The meeting was arranged by Principal Max Barr, of the Laurelhurst school, and was held at the school house.
