"IT'S UP TO YOU" IS SLOGAN OF MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Future of Lemon Punch Hangs On Result of Campaign, Says Manager

BOOTH WILL OPEN AT EIGHT THIS MORNING

First Five Houses to Receive Bound Volume; One For Highest Individual

With one thousand subscriptions as their goal, and "It's up to you" as their slogan, the Lemon Punch subscription campaign committee will open their drive for Oregon's humorous magazine this morning at eight sharp. The rewards offered for the first campus organizations to report every member a subscriber is expected to induce many to report ahead of the scheduled opening in order to be one of those to receive the bound volumes offered to the first five. In addition, Dean Ireland, chairman of the committee, announced last night that a bound volume inscribed with the name of the owner, will be presented to the person having the most subscriptions at the end of the campaign.

All is now in readiness, tags and blanks having been issued to the members of the committee at a meeting held in the journalism shack last night. A unique feature of the drive will be introduced this morning, when several hundred hand-bills advertising the drive will be distributed about the campus. Instructions to those who have subscribed are that the tags be worn both days of the drive, in order that time may not be wasted by the members of the committee in approaching those who have already subscribed.

The big lemon-shaped booth, prepared by a special committee under the direction of Phoebe Gage, will be in front of the library, where the headquarters of the campaign will be. A large blackboard will be used to announce organizations who have reported themselves 100 per cent subscribed. Harris Ellsworth, manager, has announced that positively no subscriptions will be received by the committees until eight o'clock this morning, which means that all organizations and individuals have an even chance to win the bound volumes of a year's issue of Lemon Punch offered.

"We must secure 1000 subscriptions at least in order to make the magazine a success," said Harris Ellsworth, manager of the publication. "Unless every student who is at all interested in the Lemon Punch turns in his subscription now, we will not have any definite knowledge whether or not the students of the University of Oregon really want a comic magazine."

"It is to the students interest as well as ours to subscribe immediately," he continued. "Seventy-five cents will entitle the subscriber to four issues of the magazine, which would otherwise cost him twenty-five cents per issue."

As to the magazine itself, Stan Eisman, editor, feels assured that Lemon Punch will be equal if not better than any similar publication in the country. "We shall excel in art work," he said. "I do not like to make the expectations of the students too high," he continued, "but I want them to know that the artists who have contributed to the first issue are equal, if not superior to those who contribute to any other such college publication."

"The magazine will be in the hands of the printers in a few days. Many of the cuts have already been made, and copy is being gone over for the last time. I wish to say however, that although I believe the magazine will come up to expectations in its first issue," continued Eisman, "the subsequent issues will be far the better, because we will have a definite organization with which to work, and contributors will have a better idea of what is desired."

Friday, December 10th, the first issue of Lemon Punch will be ready for distribution. Subscribers will be issued their copies upon presentation of receipts is-

OREGON PROFESSORS TO GO TO CONFERENCE

Educational Problems To Be Discussed at Oregon-Washington Gathering.

The University will be represented Saturday, December 4, at the Oregon-Washington Educational Conference at the Multnomah Hotel in Portland, by Dr. B. W. DeBusk, head of the department of educational psychology, Professor F. L. Stetson, of the extension division, and Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education. The conference is under the direction of Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and is one of the sectional meetings being held by him over the United States.

The conference is not primarily a meeting of teachers, but of business and club men, the hope being to increase the interest of these people in vital educational questions. Topics on the program for discussion are: "Legislative Programs," "How to Get Trained Teachers," "The County Unit System," and others. Speakers from each state will talk on each problem. J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction of Oregon, and Mrs. Josephine Collins Preston, Washington state superintendent of public instruction, will present state questions. The principal speaker will be Dr. Claxton.

GIRL DEBATERS SIGN CONTRACT WITH O.A.C.

Tryouts For Varsity Team to Be Held Next Week

The contract for a woman's debate with O. A. C. to be held sometime in March was accepted at a meeting of the Forensic council Tuesday afternoon. Tryouts for the women's varsity team will be held the first of next week, according to the plans of W. M. Michael, debate coach.

The question has not yet been selected, but questions similar to those chosen for the men's varsity debates have been submitted by Oregon together with the suggestion that the debate be held the first Friday in March.

If the question for the inter-collegiate debate has not been decided upon by the time of the try-outs a tentative one will be used.

Plans for women's debates with other universities are to be made soon, according to Professor Michael. The University of Washington has requested a women's varsity debate with California, but the arrangements have not been completed. It is expected that a contract for a meet between Oregon and Washington will be made.

DR. CARLISLE WRITES FOR MEDICAL PAPER

Article Outlines Co-operative Campaign Carried on in Sociological Work in Oregon.

Dr. Chester L. Carlisle, director of the Oregon state survey of mental defect, delinquency and dependency, has an article in the November issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association entitled "The Physician as a Factor in a Statewide Co-operative Program for Prophylaxis of Sociological Disorders."

The article outlines the origin, object and scope of the Oregon state survey, drawing attention to the statewide citizen co-operative plan which was carried out, and emphasizing the importance of the physician in such a campaign. The article also carries an illustration of the record cards which were used in the survey. These are unique in that they provide that any combination of symptoms in the sense of sickness, criminal delinquency or unsuccessful conduct, in a social interpretation of the term, may be shown in the case of any one individual.

These record cards together with certificates requesting the voluntary co-operation of all the citizens of Oregon, are original with this survey, which is the first citizens' co-operative movement in mental hygiene in the history of the world.

The Journal of the American Medical Association is the official organ of the medical profession in the United States.

STEERS AND LESLIE NAMED ON OFFICIAL ALL-COAST ELEVEN

George Varnell, Sport Writer, Gives Oregon Two Places On Mythical Team

NO O. A. C. PLAYERS ON FIRST STRING SELECTION

Mautz also Rated on Substitute Squad; California Leads With Five Men

With the ending of the intercollegiate football season the selection of the mythical all star teams begins and the above selection is the one made by George M. Varnell, official conference referee and well known western sport authority who selects the teams to be published in the football guide and rule books. Varnell gives two places on his first team to Oregon men, Bill Steers at quarterback and "Spike" Leslie at tackle. On his second string Varnell also names Carl Mautz for a guard position.

Team.	Position.
◆ Pacific Coast All-Star Elevens.
◆ Chosen by George M. Varnell
◆ Muller, U. of Cal.	End
◆ Leslie, U. of O.	Tackle
◆ Majors, U. of C.	Guard
◆ Dunlap, W. S. C.	Center
◆ Hamilton, W. S. C.	Guard
◆ McMillan, U. of C.	Tackle
◆ Berkeley, U. of C.	End
◆ Steers, U. of O.	Quarter
◆ Templeton, Stanford	Halfback
◆ Sprott, U. of C.	Halfback
◆ Gillis, W. S. C.	Fullback
◆ Team.	Position.
◆ Rose, O. A. C.	End
◆ Clark, U. of W.	Tackle
◆ Mautz, U. of O.	Guard
◆ Smith, U. of W.	Center
◆ Cramer, U. of C.	Guard
◆ Pershing, Stanford	Tackle
◆ Faulk, U. of W.	End
◆ Erb, U. of C.	Quarter
◆ Toomey, U. of C.	Halfback
◆ Bekman, U. of W.	Halfback
◆ Kasberger, O. A. C.	Halfback

The Oregon Aggies fail to rate a place on the first team and are represented by Rose at end and Kasberger at fullback on the second string eleven.

California leads in the number chosen with five, but head positions, a guard, tackle and halfback berth being filled by California players. Muller and Berkeley were selected for the wing positions, Majors, captain of the Bears at guard and McMillan tackle. Sprott is the backfield man chosen from California's fast eleven.

"Dink" Templeton, of Stanford, is given a place at the halfback position. Templeton was responsible for the defeat of both Washington and Oregon by the Cardinals this season and is rated as about the best kicker on the coast. Gillis, the smashing fullback on the Washington State eleven this season rates the fullback berth and Dunlap and Hamilton also of the Cougar eleven are given a berth on the mythical team, Dunlap at center and Hamilton at guard.

Washington is given four places on the second string, the Oregon Aggies two, California three and Oregon and Stanford each one. The University of Southern California is not awarded a berth because they are not in the conference.

In speaking of the selection of "Spike" Leslie for a tackle position, Varnell says "Leslie of Oregon and McMillan of California drew the tackle positions. Leslie was a great player on the Oregon line this year. His work stood out throughout the season.

Regarding the selection of Steers he continues, "Steers of Oregon has been given the quarterback job. Quarterbacks of real class were scarce in the conference this season. Steers is a valuable open field runner, good punter, accurate field goal kicker and a good general on a fast field; he is one of the best open field runners the conference has."

UNIVERSITY TEACHERS WILL PARTICIPATE IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Dr. Sheldon to Make Report On Junior College Activities

ENGLISH COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS ESSENTIALS

Educators of Oregon to Speak On Varied Problems of Interest

Oregon instructors will take an active part in the program of the Oregon State Teachers' association at the meeting of that organization in Portland, December 27, 28, and 29. A number of other persons from the campus will also take part in the meeting of the English Council which will hold two sessions during the other meeting. Additions to both programs will be announced later.

Dr. Henry D. Sheldon, chairman of the committee on junior colleges, will make a report to the superintendents' section on junior colleges. He will also read a paper before the high school science association on the "Necessity of a Continuous Science Cycle from the Social Point of View."

H. R. Douglass, of the school of education, will discuss the present conditions in higher education before the college section. Dean Elizabeth F. Fox will also be present to meet with women of the association who hold administrative positions.

Miss Helen N. Rhodes, chairman of the art department this year, has arranged to have Miss Esther Wuest, supervisor of art in the Portland schools, talk on the "Use of Oregon Motifs in Design." Malcolm Tennant, window trimmer at the Meier & Frank store, will speak on window trimming as an artistic profession, supplementing his talk with a demonstration of trimming a window and of draping a figure. Professor Peck, of Oregon Agricultural College, will address the association on landscape gardening.

Discussions and papers on the minimum essentials in English and the segregation of composition and literature will make up the program of the English council. The council will also meet in joint session with the history section at luncheon to discuss the co-ordination of work in the two departments. Mrs. Margaret Goodall, of the campus high school, is secretary of the council.

FACULTY TO CONSIDER CREDIT FOR Y STUDIES

Instructors in Religious Subjects Favor Recognizing Value of Work Done.

Whether college credits will be allowed for the religious courses now being offered at the Y. M. C. A. hut, will be definitely decided upon at a meeting of the faculty today. This decision was reached following a meeting of the colloquium held Tuesday evening at which time the official University status of the new courses was discussed by the faculty members.

The courses in various religious subjects that are being offered this year for the first time are under the direction of the Reverend Father Edwin V. O'Hara, pastor of St. Mary's church, Eugene, and Reverend Bruce J. Giffen, student pastor recently assigned to this district by the Presbyterian Synod. The classes are being held at the Y. M. C. A. hut regularly, and the students enrolled have signed up for the work without any definite promise of receiving University credit.

Arguments for and against the granting of the college credits were made before the faculty members, both Father O'Hara and Mr. Giffen spoke in favor of placing the new subjects in the same class as other University work as regards credits. M. H. Douglass, chairman of the religious activities committee, also spoke favoring the change.

Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, of Portland, addressed the colloquium concerning a new course in semetic history to be added to the University curriculum.

LEMON PUNCH OUT, INSISTS FRESHMAN

Dummy Joke Journal Fools Babe, Two Investigators of Magazine Tell Him The Truth.

Harris Ellsworth and Ray Vester, both instigators of the Lemon Punch, were standing in the lobby of the Imperial hotel, in Portland, one day during Thanksgiving vacation. The usual inter-collegiate open house was going on merrily all about them. Then, out of the crowd approached a University freshman who greeted them thus:

"Hello, fellows, have you seen the Lemon Punch? It's just out. There's a fellow over there with a copy of it."

Harris and Ray looked at each other in surprise.

"Why we're the Lemon Punch," Ray finally managed to say, "and there have been no copies published yet."

"Well, there's a fellow here who has a copy," instead of the frosh, and he proceeded to describe the cover design in detail.

Then the light dawned on the two promoters. The youth had seen a copy of the dummy magazine which an artist had drawn up to use in getting ads. It was reposing on someone's lap, cover up, and presented the appearance of a finished product.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN BY ORCHESTRA SOON

John Stark Evans, Soloist, in Leading Numbers

The University Orchestra is to give another concert soon, in which Prof. John Stark Evans of the school of music will be the soloist in one of the leading numbers, according to information given out by the director of the orchestra, Prof. Rex Underwood. The selection which Mr. Evans will play is a concerto for the piano, by Schuman, with orchestral accompaniment. "The complete program, and the exact date of the concert have not yet been arranged," said Mr. Underwood, "but it will be given before the end of this term. We hope to make arrangements whereby the students may be admitted to this concert on their student-body tickets."

This will be the first of a series of concerts in which the members of the faculty of the school of music will feature as leading soloists. The orchestra will play the accompaniments, and a number of selections for the full orchestra will make up each program.

According to John Anderson, business manager for the orchestra, the net returns from the first orchestra concert and dance at the Armory amounted to $425. In addition to this, many of the patrons donated towards the general admission to the amount of $20. This money was immediately made use of and several new instruments have been ordered for the orchestra. When they arrive there will be an opportunity for those who wish, to try out for the new positions.

MUSIC WILL FEATURE LAST VESPER SERVICE

Combined Glee Clubs to Sing in Choir, and Several Solo Parts Are On Program.

A program consisting entirely of music will be the feature of the last Student Vesper service this term, to be held in Villard hall next Sunday afternoon. John Stark Evans, who has charge of the program, has chosen the Saint Cecilia Mass, by Gounod, and it will be sung by the combined men's and women's glee clubs. Forty-five voices will be in the choir that sings the mass at the service.

Genevieve Clancy, George Hopkins and Glen Morrow are to have the solo parts in the service, and according to Mr. Evans who has conducted the rehearsals, the program should be one of the best ever given on the campus.

LATE NEWS BULLETIN.

At 12:30 this morning the S-Maralidas and Phi Sigma Pi were reported holding down the library steps with 100 per cent subscriptions to Lemon Punch. Four other houses reported 100 per cent at 10 o'clock yesterday evening.

FOUR HOUSES REACH 100 PER CENT MARK IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Delta Theta Phi, Tri Delt, Chi Omega, Kappa Enroll All Members for 1921

COMMITTEES REACH ALL ORGANIZATIONS

Any Who Wish May Subscribe At Table in Villard Hall Assembly Hour

Four houses had reported one hundred per cent membership in the Red Cross as early as yesterday afternoon, and very satisfactory progress was being made on the whole drive, according to Miss Mozelle Hair, who is chairman of the campus committee. The Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Theta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma houses were those which had enrolled their members in the Red Cross for the year 1921.

Those handling the drive in the women's organizations are Beatrice Crewdson, Lois Macy, Maud Barnes, Maybelle LeMont, Helen Casey, Gertrude Smith, Lela West, Katherine Morse, Ollie Stoltenberg, Anna May Bronaugh, Dorothy McKee, Dorothy Eakin, Mary Moore, Cecil Todd, Maud Largent, Dorothy Dickey, Bertha Mays.

The canvass of the men's houses is being made by R. A. Gustafson, Lyle Bartholomew, Richard Martin, Ranie Burkhead, Arthur Berg, Arthur Campbell, Hal Smith, William Porter, Lyle Johnson, Carl Knudson, Verne Henderson, Bill Coleman, J. E. Matheson, and Barney Garrett.

The faculty is being reached by Sam Warner, Martha Spafford, Mary Chambers, H. A. Clark, Raymond H. Wheeler, Madeline McManus, Percy P. Adams, Mabel Weller, Jeanette Calkins, Leona Marsters, and Catherine Winslow.

There will be a table in Villard hall at the assembly hour this morning at which any person not yet reached through one of the organizations may subscribe to the cause. Those in charge of the drive hope that every person will be reached before the drive closes at the end of the week.

1500 SEE PRUNELLA PLAYED AT SEATTLE

Fantasy Showing Here Tonight Given by Students at University of Washington.

"Prunella" or "Love in a Dutch Garden" which will appear on the campus for the first performance tonight, has been recently given by students in dramatic work at the University of Washington. Before a crowd of 1500 in Meany hall the play was a great success.

At the dress rehearsal held last night the effect of setting and lighting was declared to be wonderful by those present. A beautiful moonlight scene comes in the second act when the mummies involved in the play gather in the garden under Prunella's window in the old Dutch house. Recent improvement in the lighting system have made it possible to make the most of opportunities of this Professor A. F. Reddie looks forward to even a greater success than was the last play given by the company.

CAMPBELL'S TRIP TOPIC

President Will Talk on Eastern Tour in Assembly Tomorrow.

The results of President P. L. Campbell's recent eastern tour will probably mean big things for the University of Oregon, according to Karl Onthank, executive secretary. As this development is of vital interest to every University student the president has consented to make a report of his trip before the student body at the assembly hour this morning.

While away the president visited some of the largest eastern educational institutions and will have many interesting things to tell of their ideas and ways of doing things. The results of the lively interest in the west by eastern educators will also be discussed.
