IT'S UP TO YOU!

The paramount question on the campus today is: "Shall Oregon have a comic magazine?" That question is now up to you, and the results of the Lemon Punch subscription campaign today and tomorrow will be an accurate prediction of the will of the campus on this question.

A few men have spent a great deal of time and more or less money so far in gathering together material for the first issue of the proposed magazine, until it is now well on its way to completion. These men have done this work, not with the thought of material gain, nor as a means of bringing their own names before the campus spotlight. They have done it because they believed a comic magazine was necessary on the Oregon campus, and that Oregon should not go down in history with its campus humor unheralded. They believe they are doing something for Oregon, and they ask the rest of the student body to join them.

Oregon needs this comic magazine. The very fact that the publication will be sent to some fifty other universities and colleges in the country is an item that will add to the fame of our school. Parts of the magazine will likely be quoted in prominent national publications. A good comic magazine, such as Lemon Punch, will be as good a means of advertising Oregon as a champion football eleven.

Alumni of Oregon are waiting for Lemon Punch. They expect Oregon to advance as it grows, and they think Lemon Punch will be an advance. You will not disappoint these graduates and ex-students by failing to get behind the magazine at the hour of its greatest need.

There is no question but what the magazine will be worthwhile and truly representative of Oregon. But it needs and must have the backing of every student if it is to be a success. One thousand subscriptions will assure a successful year, but if every student in the University would take it upon themselves to subscribe, they would have the pleasure of assuring Lemon Punch that its welcome will be genuine, that its need is felt, and that the campus has faith in it.

Not only must a few organizations report a hundred per cent subscription among its members, but so must the entire campus. An especial appeal is directed to those students living outside campus, living outside organizations, for those are the ones who will be most directly benefited by an individual subscription.

If you want Oregon to have a comic magazine, a magazine of the type of Washington's Sundodger, Stanford's Chaparral, and California's Pelican, today is the time to speak. The fate of Lemon Punch hangs on the result of today's campaign. Remember, it's up to you!

sued tomorrow. A list of subscribers will be made, and these will be checked off as they are issued. Manager Ellsworth urges, however, that each subscriber keep his receipt in order to avoid any complications.

The "It's up to you" campaign committee, which expects to secure 1000 Lemon Punch subscriptions today and tomorrow, is as follows:

"LOBOS" CHOSEN AS SOBRIQUET.

The University of New Mexico has found a new name for its athletes—they are called "Lobos." This name was picked, they say, because a lobo is noted for his cunning, feared for his strength, and dreaded for his endurance.

STEEERS AND LESLIE NAMED ON OFFICIAL

a number of sport authorities and writers throughout the northwest, both Steers and Leslie appearing to be an almost unanimous choice from the Oregon players for positions on the all star teams. Portland sport writers give a position to Leslie, Steers and Mautz in one case and to Steers, Leslie, Mautz and Howard in another.

Coach "Shy" Huntington of the Oregon team has expressed himself as not wishing to attempt to select an all star coast team. It would be hard to improve on the one which Varnell has selected and according to his system which is to get a team selected by most of the coaches and the select the ones who receive the most mention for the line-ups. This about answers the purpose.

EX-STUDENT AND WIFE HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, who were married Thanksgiving day are spending a few days visiting with friends on the campus, after a short outing at Nimrod Mrs. Kennedy was formerly Miss Mildred Briggs of Portland and John Kennedy a member of the class of '21, is now manager of the Commercial Advertising company of Portland. The couple were dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta Tuesday evening. They will leave today for their home in Portland.

WHAT THE OLD GRADS ARE DOING.

Merle R. Chessman, a member of Beta Theta Phi and a graduate of Oregon with the class of 1909, is now manager and editor of the Astoria Evening Budget. He proved his ability while still on the campus, being associate editor of the Oregon Weekly one year and assistant manager the next. He was manager of the Glee club for two years and managed the Junior Prom, he was a Failing Beakman orator, a member of the University Press club, was Junior orator and was on the track team in 1918.

Immediately after graduation he was given the position of telegraph editor of the East Oregonian and soon became city editor. During the war he was adjutant in the Umatilla County Guard and chairman of the U. S. Public Service Reserve, campaign manager for various war drives, assistant food administrator, secretary of Loyalty Committee, secretary of the Umatilla County Patriotic Service League in Pendleton, and chairman of the Council of Defense. Only last year he was given the position in Astoria.

He is married to Daphne Leasure who attended both the University of Oregon and University of Washington.

SCIENTISTS VISIT O. A. C.

Oregon Represented at Meeting of Western Society of Naturalists.

At the meeting of the Western Society of Naturalists, held at Corvallis last Friday and Saturday, the University of Oregon was represented by Dr. E. L. Packard, Dr. H. B. Yocum, Professor A. R. Sweetser, Miss Ethel Sanborn, and Miss Catherine Beekley. Friday afternoon, a session for reading research papers and the transaction of business, was held. This was followed by a dinner at 6:30 in Waldo hall.

Saturday was spent in visiting laboratories, orchards and other things of interest in Corvallis.

BOTANY BOOKLET OUT.

Professor Albert R. Sweetser of the department of botany has recently issued a pamphlet, "Toadstools and Mushrooms of Oregon," which contains much valuable information for those interested in the fungus growths of the state. Professor Sweetser has lately been in communication with various commercial bodies throughout the state offering the use of the pamphlet and any other information they may desire concerning the subject of which it treats.

PACKARD HAS 'COAL' WHICH WON'T BURN

Specimen of Sub-Shungite Brought Here From Canada

The organization and failure of a mining company, and the sending of a ship to sea with coal which wouldn't burn are some of the interesting features of a story recalled by a specimen of sub-shungite which Professor Packard obtained in northern British Columbia last summer for the University geological museum.

Shungite is a very rare substance similar in appearance and composition to coal, but it will not burn. Its position on the ladder representing the successive steps in the formation of the various materials classed by science with coal, which begins with a vegetable product and continues through peat, lignite bituminous and anthracite coal, and graphite, and ends up with the diamond, is somewhere between anthracite coal and graphite. Which is to say that nature has developed it a little more than anthracite coal, but not quite so much as graphite. In this development she has taken from it those gases which make coal inflammable. Sub-shungite is not quite so far along in its development as the real shungite.

In Queen Charlotte islands in northern British Columbia an outcrop of this sub-shungite was found in 1857. On the assumption that it was coal a mining company was formed, stocks were sold, a tramway was built mining was begun, and some of the substance was placed on a ship to be used as fuel. When the ship got to sea and an attempt was made to burn this coal it would not burn.

Professor Packard was traveling in British Columbia last summer and during his travels visited the place where this mine was situated. He brought some of the ore home with him, and will place a part of it in the geological museum. So far as he knows this mine is the only place on the American continent where this substance is found. There is a considerable deposit of shungite in Siberia, but it is practically unknown throughout the rest of the world.

RED CROSS DRIVE STARTS.

Delta Theta Pi is the first house to report 100 per cent in the fourth annual Red Cross roll call membership drive, according to Miss Mozella Hair, who is in charge of the campus campaign.

NEW DORM OPENS SOON GIRLS AVOID POST LIST

Applications for Reservations in Susan Campbell Hall Now in Order.

Men Outnumber Women Twenty to One on Delinquency Sheet.

The residents list for Susan Campbell Hall is now open in Dean Fox's office. All students wishing reservations should see Dean Fox this week or Ruth Engstrom thereafter.

It is impossible to announce a definite date for the opening of the new hall, but Miss Fox states that it will probably be some time between the middle of January and the first of February. It will accommodate approximately one hundred and eight students.

A deposit of ten dollars at the business office will be required from students who wish to live in the new building next term.

That the Oregon girls have a higher scholastic standing than the men—insofar as they manage to keep their names clear of the post list—is indicated by the very few feminine names to be found among the large number of post slips on file at the registrar's office. Members of the smart sex are outnumbered by the men twenty to one on this lengthy list of delinquent students.

Within a few days the faculty probation committee will hold a special meeting to take action on certain of the more pressing cases and indications are that the probation group will be materially increased.
