

"STORY OF OPAL" IN LIBRARY.

The first circulation copy of Opal Whiteley's book "The Story of Opal" has just been received by the University library. This book has been much in demand by students and members of the faculty since the book was published and the reserve copy received at the library.

LANDSBURY TO GIVE COURSE

A new course offered by the school of music next term is "Literature of the Piano," given by Dean Landsbury. This course is for advanced students in piano and harmony, and traces the development of piano music from the point of view of the composers of different periods.

Soccer Should Be Intra-Mural Sport

port of the athletic council, but I do not believe that financial difficulties should be the sole reason for not supporting soccer. It is a good clean sport and should be supported. In Dean Dymment the soccer men have a coach capable of working wonders with his men. The teamwork shown by the Oregon players in the O. A. C. game demonstrated the fact that Coach Dymment even during the limited time he found available to devote to the team, in the past season developed it into an efficient scoring organization."

Oregon Wins Four Games. During the eight years in which soccer has been played at the University, Oregon has won four times, tied eight games, and suffered three successive defeats. It was stated last week that O. A. C. has never defeated Oregon in soccer, but war-dust incriminated records of 1917 show that the Aggies twice defeated Oregon that year by the scores of 2-0 and 1-0. By a peculiar coincidence the two Aggie goals in the first game were made by the Ford brothers, former Oregon men. Multnomah defeated Oregon by one goal in 1916 when the two teams played in the fury of a snow storm in Portland. The soccer squad went through a disastrous season that year without the services of a coach.

Dymment Coaches Squad.

Colin V. Dymment introduced soccer as a sport at the University in the fall of 1913 and fostered its growth during his stay here. It was during his absence that Oregon suffered its three defeats in the great European game. During the past season the coaching of the squad by Dean Dymment has been a gratifying performance, and although he found it impossible to give the squad much of his time the men eagerly listened to his advice. The fact that one man, Al Capps, who never played the game before until this year, starred in the final clash with O. A. C. shows that the men trained persistently through a season of rain and mud.

Two men will be lost through graduation next year. "Hay" Schmeer, a goal tender who could guard the vital territory of a professional team, with honor, will go the way of the goals accompanied by Elmo Madden. The defensive playing this year relied largely upon Schmeer to stay the many shots directed at the Oregon goal posts.

Basis for Civics Courses in Junior High Schools Discussed.

"A Course in Civics for Junior High Schools" is the title of an article by J. C. Almack which has been accepted by "School and Society," one of the leading educational magazines of the country. The article discusses the question of how to arrive at a basis for selecting material for a course of study in civics for the upper grades.

"School and Society" is a weekly magazine published at Garrison-on-Hudson, New York, and enjoys high standing among the educators of the country. Mr. Almack's article has not yet appeared in the publication but he has received the proofs of it and it will appear in an early issue.
