OREGON LOSES FIRST GAME OF SEASON TO MULTNOMAH QUINT

Clubmen Annex Ragged Contest by 21-19 Score; Bohler Well Pleased.

CHEMAWA FIVE TO PLAY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Indians Will Meet Lemon-Yellow Here in Two Encounters; Team Strong.

Excelling the Multnomah Club quintet in team work and passing but falling short in basket shooting ability, the varsity basketball five lost the opening game of the season to the winged "M" veterans in Portland Saturday night, by a score of 21 to 19. The game was ragged and loosely played. It was fully as slow as might be expected of an early season game, neither team showing any form, due to the fact that there has been little time to get into shape.

Coach Bohler was well pleased with the work of the Oregon squad in their initial appearance and says it was anybody's game until the final whistle, which meant that Multnomah did not outclass the varsity five as it was supposed they would. The club guards stuck to Durno throughout the game and tried to smother him at every chance but even at that, the little forward scored 9 points although he was only able to hoop one field basket, the rest being fouls which he converted. Eddie scored seven out of 11 tries for foul throws, missing only one out of seven tries in the initial period.

Entire Squad Used.

"Hunk" Latham, playing with the varsity for the first time, made three field baskets and Behar and Marc Latham are each credited with one basket from the floor. Coach Bohler used his entire squad of eight men during the contest, "Bill" Reinhart starting the game at Chapman's place in the guard position when it was found out late Friday afternoon that "Nish" would be unable to make the trip on account of faculty ruling.

The end of the first half saw the teams running neck and neck with a 12-10 all score, but the clubmen took the lead soon after the second period opened and kept it to the end of the game. Gus Clerin, X. Clerin and Ned Fowler annexed the points for the club five. Fowler is a former Oregon star and his work in the latter part of the game against his old Alma Mater representatives was a feature.

Chemawa to Play.

It is not known yet whether a return game can be arranged with the club five for some time. The opposition to the lemon-yellow quintet this week will be furnished by Chemawa, the Indians coming here for a two-game series to be played on Friday and Saturday nights. Chemawa always puts a good team in the field and the two games this week-end will give the students a chance to see the varsity in action the first time this season.

Line-up Is Given.

The line-up in the Saturday night game was as follows:

Oregon 19	Morton
Durno 9	Morton
Morton	Durno
Gus Clerin 12	Morton
X. Clerin 4	Morton
Toomey	Morton
Twining	Morton

Substitutions: Multnomah, Fowler 5 for Morton, Morton for Gus Clerin; Oregon, Base for M. Latham, Knudsen for Durno, Durno for Knudsen, Couch for Reinhart, M. Latham for H. Latham, Referee, Harry Fischer.

HEAT PLANT ENLARGED

New 250-Horsepower Boiler Added To Former Equipment.

With the acquisition of a new 250-horsepower boiler the heating capacity of the University heating plants is increased to a great extent. The four old boilers were of the 80-horsepower size, and their combined power was only 320 horsepower; thus the new boiler will make the heating capacity a little over 1 1/2 times its former power. The new boiler contains 75 four-inch heating tubes 15 inches long.

The increase in the plant has been made necessary by the increased building space on the campus. The new furnace is to receive its first trial Monday afternoon.

MICE AND FROGS COME BY UNIVERSITY MAIL

Bags Containing Live Animals First Class Matter, Food and Laundry Received Daily.

Frogs, live, dead and croaking ones; mice, white and of the common field variety, liquid air, household furniture, and divers other things in the shape of mail which seem to help make the wheels of the University whirl, make their entrance to campus activities through Burleson hall, the new campus post office.

When the University was smaller, when there weren't so many Marys and Johns to be written to, and when the science departments used home grown specimens instead of the more expensive makes, the office in Johnson hall served adequately enough as the campus post office; but this year it became necessary to provide larger quarters for the mailing department so a special building nicknamed "Burleson hall," was built just back of Johnson hall for this purpose and here the mail is handled in large quantities.

Besides the first class mail, three and four sacks of other mail are handled daily. During the holidays as high as seven sacks were handled per day. Many boxes of nourishment are received, and clean laundry from home is a regular Monday morning feature. There are also professor's notes, boxes of them, which are received by each professor on the faculty list.

The next thing we'll get will probably be guinea pigs," said postmaster Lane. "But let it be hoped that a 'Pigs' is Pigs' episode will not occur here."

SUCCESS OF OREGANA DRIVE NOW HANGS ON RESULT OF LAST DAY

Six O'clock Tonight to Mark Close of Canvass for 1921 Year Book.

LOIS HALL LEADS IN RACE FOR BIG PRIZE

Extra Copies Are Not To Be Printed; Subscriptions Must Come In Now.

Today is the last day of the drive for subscriptions to the Oregana, and only 450 books have thus far been sold. This means that unless much more work is done today the circulation of the book will be the smallest in years and as small as any college on the coast.

Due to increased costs and an improvement in the quality of the Oregana, it will be impossible to run the risk of losing money by printing any more than are sold in the campaign. It is definitely announced that only those who order now will receive a book, for this reason.

The campaign has been the slowest of any carried on for a number of years. Those managing it state that only a lot of hard work combined with Oregon spirit will put the thing across, and save the Oregana.

Booth Closes Today.

Solicitors will hand in their books and money at the booth in front of the library between four and six o'clock this afternoon, so in order to help anyone to win the prize of twenty-five dollars it will be necessary that the subscriptions be turned in before that time. The booth will be open until six o'clock, but after that it will be impossible to pay up.

Wes Frater, circulation manager of the Oregana, who is handling the drive, has made an appeal to the committees especially to get in and change it from a failure into a success, and thus do that much for Oregon.

In the race for the twenty-five dollar prize, Lois Hall is leading Betty Pride by a narrow margin. Others who have made a good showing and still have a chance to win some of the prizes are Nancy Fields, Arthur Campbell, Georgina Perkins, and Hadden Rockley.

More Subscriptions Expected.

Since the last announcement no other houses have reported one hundred per cent subscriptions. Phi Sigma Pi won the leather bound copy by being first and Delta Theta Pi and Delta Delta Delta are also one hundred per cent. The matter was brought up in the meetings of the various houses last night in a last minute effort to give the drive the utmost publicity, and it is believed that before six o'clock tonight several more will be complete.

The poor showing made thus far is caused by lack of finances among the students rather than a lack of spirit it is believed, and it is thought by some that many would welcome an opportunity to pay their money were it possible next week.

The Oregana is progressing very rapidly and the staff will soon be nearly to enter the last lap, preparatory to printing. The pictures are practically all in, and much of the material has been passed upon.

CLASS HOUR IS CHANGED

"Student Standards of Action" Class At 5 Instead of 11.

Mapor R. C. Baird's course in "Student Standards of Action," which will be given as a part of the educational program by the campus Y. M. C. A. has been changed from 11 a. m. Tuesday to 5 on Wednesday, according to Hal Donnelly, who is in charge of the courses.

Secretary Donnelly reports considerable interest being shown in the educational program. Classes start today but it will be possible to enroll for some time yet. Special interest in the commercial part of the program is evinced by those who are signing up. A number have already started on the free typewriting and shorthand courses.

GIRLS MAY NOT DEBATE.

Whether or not inter-society debates will be held this year has not been definitely decided. This question will be taken up by Professor Michael and Professor Reddie within the next week or two. If a sufficiently large number are interested, these debates may be held. It is probable however, that no credit will be given for this work; the debates will be considered as an outside activity.

O.A.C. Challenge To Rifle Shoot Accepted; Winners In Pacific Coast Contest Go To Corvallis

A challenge has been received from O. A. C. to compete with them on the rifle range and has been accepted. Orders have also been received to pick teams for the Pacific coast rifle contest which will be held between the team in the Ninth Corps Area.

Between now and January 13, there will be tryouts for the rifle teams to be picked to represent this unit of the R. O. T. C. There will be at least two teams picked and probably three. Between that date and February 1, there will be special coaching of the men trying out for the teams. Just before the competition shoot which will determine the teams, which will take place sometime between the 1st and February 12, a first, second and probably a third team will be picked. This contest will extend over a period of two days.

The O. A. C. contest will take place some time after the Pacific coast contest and the men making the best scores in the Pacific coast shoot will be chosen to meet O. A. C.

Major A. E. Rowland has been appointed range officer and Sergeant Conyers has been appointed range Sergeant. Rifle shooting will be considered in company competition for honor company, and the company commanders are expected to get their men out.

A Gillette safety razor will be awarded the man having the highest average of scores between now and the end of the O. A. C. contest. Major Raymond C. Baird, commandant, announces.

SIX MEMBERS PICKED BY MU PHI EPSILON

Formal Pledging To Be Held Next Saturday.

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music fraternity, will hold formal pledging next Saturday for the following girls recently elected to membership in the society: Marvel Skeels, Imogene Letcher, Leona Gregory, Florence Garrett, Mrs. M. H. Douglass and Madame Rose McGrew. Madame McGrew has been an honorary member of this chapter but will be taken into active membership now.

Requirements for admission to Mu Phi have been raised to a much higher standard this year. Voice, piano, and violin are the three things that most people are actively interested in on this campus and nearly all of the entrance requirements are based on these things.

The rules under these divisions are as follows:

DR. SHERWOOD EDDY WILL SPEAK FRIDAY

Noted Worker To Be Heard By Students.

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, well-known educational worker, who has lately returned from a six months tour of the principal countries of Europe, Asia and the Near East, will address the students in a special assembly to be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Villard hall.

Dr. Eddy has been associated with John R. Mott and has spent much time in the Orient working among the students of Japan, Korea, China, India, the Near East and Russia. In addition to numerous educational institutions, he has spoken before the Chinese provincial parliaments, government institutions and boards of trade. He went to India in 1896 as national secretary for the Y. M. C. A. where he worked among the students until 1911 when he accepted an appointment as secretary for the Y. M. C. A. international committee for Asia.

In his present tour of the west, Dr. Eddy is visiting a number of the universities. He comes to Oregon after three days spent at the University of Washington where he delivered a number of lectures on present day problems. When it was learned that he would spend Friday on this campus, the student council petitioned the faculty to grant time in order that all might have the opportunity of hearing him. At the last faculty meeting, the hour from 4 to 5 o'clock was decided upon. The speaker will give one day each to a few of the other larger universities and will spend three days at the University of California. Mrs. Eddy, who accompanies her husband, spoke to the women at the University of Washington.

Dr. Eddy has written a number of books. He was graduated from Yale, receiving the degree of Ph. D. and later the honorary degrees of M. A. and L. L. D. His home is in Forest Hills, Long Island, New York.

CASH GOING TO PERU

Will Help Direct Reorganization of Educational System.

Harry B. Cash, Oregon ex-'15, who spent the four years following his graduation, as principal of high schools in the Philippine islands, goes to Peru next month to help direct the reorganization of the Peruvian educational system. He will be accompanied by others who are interested in foreign education. The Peruvian minister of education has an American advisor and is planning to follow the American system of education.

Mr. Cash has been at his home in Hood River since last May.

"AG" COURSES POPULAR.

Commerce and professional courses have 80 men registered and trades and industries 85. The monthly payroll of the federal board men totals $30,000.

"WAR PAINT" BARRED.

An active campaign against rouge, lip sticks and eyebrow pencils is being started by the head of the department of physical education for women in the University of Arkansas.

18 STUDENTS DROPPED FROM UNIVERSITY AND 126 ON PROBATION

Many Fail to Make Number of Credit Hours Required for One Term.

WORK DECLARED PUT ON HIGHER STANDARD

General Scholarship Lower In Spite of Failures, Says Registrar.

Eighteen students were dropped from the University and 126 put on probation for the winter term for failure to make the required hours during the fall term, according to Carlton E. Spencer, registrar. Of the 18 who were dismissed, ten were on probation last term for poor work last spring and eight failed to make that a second chance was not considered justifiable.

The raising of the scholarship standards of the University is largely responsible for most of the failures, says Mr. Spencer. Other institutions throughout the country are making their requirements more rigid, he says, and Oregon must take similar action in order that credits and degrees granted here may continue to rank with the highest.

Students Meet New Standards. The general scholarship of the University was higher than usual last term in spite of the number of failures, according to Mr. Spencer, but the great majority of students are able to meet the new standards. Insufficient preparation or lack of application on the part of the student is held responsible for most of the failures.

The policy of the administration in regard to failures is to give a student a second chance if it is at all justifiable, states the registrar. If a student fails to make nine hours in a term he is, unless the case is exceptional, allowed to remain in school on probation for the other term. If his work for that term is satisfactory in all respects, his probation is terminated, but a second failure will result in dismissal.

Many Freshmen on Probation.

About fifty per cent of those on probation this term for poor scholarship are freshmen, according to the registrar's records. Special consideration is given a freshman in such a case, Mr. Spencer says, for it is realized that a term is often required before a new student becomes accustomed to the life and environment of the University. A majority of those given another chance make good, he says. Approximately two-thirds of those on probation for scholarship last term made their hours and won full reinstatement in the University.

Participation in student activities is denied students on probation for the reason that they must be in a position to concentrate on their studies and have as few distractions as possible, according to the registrar. This is a seeming hardship when it bars a man from an athletic team or other activity, he says. However, it is only in fairness to the student who is in danger of dismissal that he not be allowed to devote himself to student body work which he might otherwise feel it his duty to do, and thereby let his studies suffer.

E. J. H. ADDED TO STAFF.

MORE "CYNICS" COMING

Today on the editorial page, the Emerald presents the third of a series of letters written to the editor by E. J. H., which appears under the heading, "The Campus Cynic." It also announces the addition of E. J. H. to the staff of Emerald feature writers.

This time the "Cynic" takes a fall out of some of the professional graybeards with whom he has been in common, and at the same time dishes out a few compliments to another class of faculty members whom—it's on the editorial page—first the women, then the library lizards, now the profs! E. J. H. has us all wondering where the cynical ax will fall next.

Of course E. J. H. cannot find victims every day but he has promised us a "Campus Cynic" as often as possible. And by the way, who is it—this E. J. H.—Watch for him. —Editor.
