SUBSCRIPTIONS SOLD FOR OREGONA TOTAL ONLY FOUR HUNDRED

Circulation Manager Frater Calls Receipt Books In Today.

LOIS HALL WINS FIRST PRIZE IN SALES DRIVE

Campaign To Be Reopened In February For Two or Three Days.

The student body did not come through as was expected in the recent campaign for Oregon subscriptions, and only 400 have been turned in to date. According to Wes Frater, who has been managing the drive, there are perhaps 200 more which have not been turned in. It is necessary, Frater announces, that all receipt books be in by tonight, and those having them are requested to leave them in the history room upstairs in the library between 2:30 and 5:00 p. m. These must be turned in before a final estimate of the result of the drive can be made.

The prizes for the largest number of subscriptions were hotly contested for. Lois Hall winning the first prize of $25; Betty Pride $5.00 and an Oregon; Art Campbell $3.00 and an Oregon; Georgina Perkins $1.00 and an Oregon; Nancy Fields, an Oregon. The leatherbound Oregon for the house which was first to report 100 per cent went to Phi Sigma Pi.

The campaign will be opened again early in February, for a snappy drive of two or three days, at which time it is hoped that the financial condition of the students will be better. This is to give another opportunity of subscribing to those who offered the excuse of financial embarrassment.

HAYCOX TO ENTERTAIN LIBRARY ASSEMBLAGE

Rolling Rhymes Will Be Composed for Crowd By Neophytes Attired In Smock.

Rolling, rollicking, rhythmic rhymes, with perhaps a bit of prose, fresh from the machine of the neophyte, will be the gist of Ernest Haycox's address before the assemblage which usually gathers in front of the library on such rare occasions — in modern times minus eggs and cabbages.

Haycox will appear on the step of the library, just before the students wander down "Hello" Lane toward assembly, attired in a smock, the emblem of his election to Ye Tabard Inn, the Oregon Chapter of Sigma Upsilon, to demonstrate the worth of his wares in verse or prose.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?

French Club Holds First Meeting of Term; Dance Is Planned.

The members of the French club gathered round the jolly fire at the Y. W. bungalow Tuesday evening and held the first meeting of the term. Frank Jue sang "Macushla" by Dermot Macmurrongh, and responded to an encore with "The Star" by Rogers. William Russis gave a short informal talk. Then tea and wafers were served and everyone visited, supposedly speaking French, but here and there as the conversation became animated they broke into English in order to get everything said they wanted to say.

A dance for the members of the club is being planned for the near future. A play is also to be given soon.

The next meeting is to be held at the bungalow two weeks from last Tuesday. Any new students on the campus, or those who did not join last term may do so now. Application for membership may be taken up through Raymond Burns, president of the club. Those wishing to join should do so as soon as possible, as only those who have paid their fees will be listed in the Oregon as members.

ONIONS OR DANCE?

Because cooked onions made up the meal in the girls dormitory at Northwestern University, on the evening of the junior prom, the girls all "prommed" hungry.

WANTED: MAN WITH 42-INCH WAISTLINE

Sergeant Epperson Searching for Physical Specimen With No. 12 Feet and 6 1/2 Head.

Like Diogenes of old, Sergeant Epperson, who has charge of the quartermaster department of the University R. O. T. C., is trying to find a peculiar type of individual. Physique rather than character is the peculiarity for which Epperson is seeking, however, for since the first of the year the sergeant has had on his hands a fine collection of odd-sized clothing, for which no R. O. T. C. members have applied.

"What I need is a man who can wear five caps, size six and a half, one pair of military trousers with a perfect 42 waist-line, and a brand new pair of number twelve shoes," said the sergeant. If any man in the University could fill the above requirement, he would probably be received with open arms by the quartermaster sergeant, who would be glad to issue the odd clothing.

FIJI QUINTET WINS FROM BACHELORDON

Kappa Sigma Takes One Sided Contest.

Doughnut League Standings.
Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Fiji	11	1	.916
Kappa Sigma	8	1	.888
Kappa Theta Chi	8	2	.800
S. A. E.	7	3	.700

Phi Deltas	4	8	.333
Friendly Hall	3	9	.250
Oregon Club	3	10	.230
Delta Theta Phi	0	7	.000

The fast Fiji five took Bachelordon into camp 12-4, and the Kappa Sigma quintet were returned victors over Oregon Club 20-5 in the two fast doughnut basketball games played yesterday afternoon in the indoor gym.

In the fast, hardfought Fiji-Bachelordon contest Knudsen, forward for the victors, combined good head work with fast floor work, playing a star game throughout, ably assisted by Alstock and Goar, the trio converting two field goals each. For the Bachelors Clark, forward, played speedy ball throughout the game, while Black, guard, and Wellington, forward, kept the ball in their own territory a good part of the time by their accurate passing and fast floor work.

The teams lined up as follows: Fijis—12. Bachelordon—4. Knudsen 4. Clark 4. Alstock 4. Wellington. McMillan. Benedict. Hosten. Erickson. Erickson. Goar 4. Black.

In the somewhat one-sided Kappa Sigma-Oregon Club game, Andre, forward for the winners, was the principal point getter, scoring five field goals and converting two free throws. Rorkhey and Burnett, guards, played up to their usual good form while Blackman, center, showed to advantage. For the Oregon Club, Boyer, forward and Frasier, guard, played fast, heady ball each adding a field goal.

The line-ups follow: Kappa Sigma—20. Oregon Club—5. Strahorn. Boyer 2. Andre 12. Veatch 1. Blackman 4. Hill. Rorkhey 2. Keech. Burnett 2. Frasier 2.

The following games will be played this afternoon in the indoor gym at 4:00 o'clock: Kappa Theta Chi vs. S. A. E. Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Theta Phi.

4 O'CLOCK ASSEMBLIES HELD.

Four o'clock assemblies have been held at the U. of W. to see what proportion of the students would respond to a late afternoon meeting. President Suzzallo says "I would rather have a small group of students at an assembly who are there because they desire to be than to have all the students present and some of them dragged in. The spirit of a greater Washington will have to come out of a small group."

WORLD HISTORY AND LITERATURE WILL BE OFFERED NEXT YEAR

New Courses to Remedy Lack of Relationship in Present Curriculum.

THREE TERM'S WORK REQUIRED FOR CREDIT

Additional Faculty Member To Be Supplied; Classes Are Elective.

Beginning with the fall term of next year concurrent two year courses in general world literature and universal history will be offered by the departments of English and history respectively, according to Dean Colin V. Dymont. The courses are planned to give a comprehensive and correlated knowledge of world history and literature to those students who carry them to completion.

The literature courses will be given by Dr. E. S. Bates and Professor H. C. Howe and will be open to sophomores or upperclassmen only, as will also be true of the history course. Six terms of work has been arranged in the English department. Oriental literature, including Hebraic, Persian, Hindoo, Chinese, and Japanese, will be taken up the first term under the direction of Professor Howe.

Bates and Howe to Teach. The other work outlined, in order of terms is: Greek and Roman literature, medieval and early Renaissance, late Renaissance and 18th century, first half of 19th century, and the last half of the 19th and present day literature. Dr. Bates will teach four terms of this work and Professor Howe will have two, the first and fifth.

Wide reading will be done in this course, according to Professor Howe, and the class hour will be devoted to lectures relative to the literature which the members of the class may be reading at the time. Term papers will be required rather than examinations in this work. This will be a two-hour course.

The principal purpose of such a course is to give students familiarity with other literatures than English through the medium of translations, according to Professor Howe. This cannot be accomplished through the language department, he says, on account of the time and effort which would be taken in translation.

New Man Sought. An interesting series of lectures is promised by Professor Howe for this course.

A new member will be added to the history department to handle the course in universal history. A suitable man for the place is now being searched for and will be chosen as soon as possible.

Under the period system of teaching history and literature the students get a knowledge of intervals but do not have the periods correlated, according to Dean Dymont. It is necessary, in view of the events of the past few years, that the young people of today have a historical perspective of participation in international affairs, he says. The more students learn of international history and the men who contributed to it the better they will be able to serve their country, he says.

Correlation Sought. "Two great service courses" is the way Dean Dymont classifies these new groups. They will give a sociological, economic, historic and literary interpretation of each of the periods covered and in addition are so planned as to be entirely correlated. It is planned to have the instructors in each of the departments keep in touch with each other in order that the relationship made be more perfect.

Three hours credit will be carried by the history course and with the two hours in literature a total of thirty hours may be earned toward graduation in the two years work. Each of the courses will be elective only in year groups and no credit will be allowed for less than a full year's work.

ALTERNATE EXAMS USED.

The faculty of Ohio State University has recommended the use when possible, of alternate sets of examinations so that the two students with the same questions will not be seated next to each other. They believe that this system will do away with cheating.

Bishop Shepard to be Heard Twice on Campus Today; Noted Churchman Making First Visit

Bishop William O. Shepard noted religious worker who will speak at assembly Thursday, will also speak to the women of the University at the regular association meeting of the Y. W. C. A. to be held in the Bungalow Thursday afternoon at 4:45. This is the first time that the Bishop has had the opportunity of speaking to the women of this University and Miss Tirza Dinsdale urges that as many of the girls attend the meetings as possible.

An opportunity will be given to meet the bishop from 4:45 to 5:15 while tea is being served before the regular meeting begins. Isla Gilbert who will be in charge of the meeting has met the Bishop and she speaks highly of his power as a speaker and of his personality. Special music will be heard, but the main part of the meeting will be given over to Bishop Shepard's address.

Bishop Shepard has always been deeply interested in colleges and collegiate activity and his talk at the assembly Thursday will be of special interest to the students here.

WILLIAM O. SHEPARD.

FROSH SET FEB. 11 AS DATE FOR GLEE

Plans for Frolic Completed; Committees Announced.

Plans for the Frosh Glee are complete. The date is set for Friday, February 11. The time and place are 8:30 p. m. and the new Armory, and Dean John Straub's "best Froshman class in history" is preparing to give the University a real treat.

The arrangements are in the charge of Harold Brown, who announces that all the details have been worked out, and nothing remains but to do the actual work. A ten piece orchestra has been engaged, and clever programs and features planned.

Seven committees are at work on the dance plans, and already two meetings have been held. "In promising that the decorations will be unique," said Brown, "we realize that the phrase is trite, but we have made a real effort and are sure that the Armory will look different."

Special committees have been at work on the feature, grand march, and programs. It is planned to have fourteen dances on the program, with two extras, not including the feature.

Decoration: Jack Bixby, Chas. Thompson, George Benson, Mark Young, Ianthe Smith, Charles Buchanan, Elva Guttridge, Kilham, Star Norton, Dug Farrel, Si Valentine.

Programs: Walt Holmar, Elisabeth Strowbridge, Lot Batie, Truth Terry, Frank Dorman.

Grand March: Alice Baker, Margaret Peterson, Jason McCune.

Feature: James Meek, Mary Swart, Ed Kamna.

Patrons and Patronesses: Mary Alexander, Ben Reed, Hildigard Reppinen.

Orchestra: Helen Bale, Desmond Cundiff, Alten Bennette.

Refreshments: Virginia Pearson, Rodney Belknap, Don Hood, Marie Fisher.

NEW INSTRUCTOR HERE

Miss Hazel Hauck Here from Washington to Teach Home Economics.

Hazel Hauck, who has accepted a position as instructor in the home economics department arrived Sunday from the University of Washington. She will assist in the classes in food and nutrition and in dress design and will have charge of the course in household budget making and business of the household.

Miss Hauck, who was a senior in home economics, will continue her studies while here and plans to return to Washington for the summer session and complete work for her degree.

NO ADMISSION FEE FOR CHEMAWA GAME

Armory Contest to Start At 7:15 Both Nights.

No admission will be charged for the opening game of the varsity basketball season Friday and Saturday nights, when Oregon's five will mix with the Chemawa Indian quintet at the Eugene Armory. The games will start promptly at 7:15 both nights, the doors opening at 6:30.

A section has been reserved for townspeople, and it is thought that the seating capacity of the Armory, which is 2500, will amply take care of the crowd expected. The regular Saturday night dance will be held following the second contest.

The lineup of the varsity five will be practically the same as used in the Multnomah game. The Chemawa team is reputed to be fast, and a hard contest is expected by Coach Bohler.

GIBES AND SCRIBES WILL APPEAR AGAIN

Editing Class To Publish Sheet For Third Annual Newspaper Conference.

Gibes and Scribes, a miniature publication printed for the special edification of the visiting newspaper men of the state who will be present at the Third Annual Newspaper Conference of Oregon to be held at the University Friday and Saturday, will be distributed to the visiting scribes at the Editors' Banquet in Hendricks hall Saturday noon.

Jennie Perkins, member of the Editing Class of the University which publishes the peppy pamphlet annually; is editor of the little sheet of vitalized information. Miss Perkins, who has a staff of nine assistants, states that the color scheme and general arrangement which has characterized the publication in former years and which now appears to be established by custom, will be retained this year. "Jolly Jolts," a column devoted to the idiosyncrasies of sedate editors in their lighter moods, will claim no knowledge of such a place as a sanatorium and ye editor of the big metropolitan daily or of a hebdomadal effusion which is printed in a shack situated in the wilds of eastern Oregon is likely to feel the recoil of the linotyped jolt.

Members of the staff are not reluctant in saying that "Gibes and Scribes" will be better than ever, but the size of the paper, also established by precedent, prevents them from claiming that it will be bigger than ever. This is the third appearance of the yearly newspaper, and the editorial caption announces that it is "published annually by the Editing Class of the University of Oregon whenever the state editors meet."

ADVANCE GUARD OF NEWSPAPER MEN TO ARRIVE HERE TODAY

Attendance At Conference of Oregon Journalists To Be Heavier Than In Past.

EDITORS OF STATE TO BE GUESTS OF HOUSES

Fraternities To Entertain During Stay; Faculty Invited To Banquet.

Ready for the opening of the third annual Oregon Newspaper Conference at the University, the advance guard of the Oregon editors and publishers, are expected to arrive in Eugene today. Among the early birds will be Elbert Bede, editor of the Cottage Grove Sentinel, who will come down from Salem, where he is now acting as reading clerk of the house of representatives. Early advice received by Dean Eric W. Allen of the school of journalism yesterday indicated that the Friday morning session would be largely attended and that the attendance at the conference would probably be fifty per cent heavier than at any previous conference.

One of the latest to send in word of his intent to be here is George P. Cheney, editor and publisher of the Enterprise Record-Chiefstain, who will come from Wallowa county, in the far northeastern part of the state. Baker, Bend, Klamath Falls and Grants, places among other far-off points to be represented.

The program is the largest and strongest yet prepared for any of the conferences. Foreign advertising, a code of newspaper law, the legal advertising rate, and advertising and printing costs and prices are the topics on which there will be papers and discussions.

The University school of journalism is host to the conference. At the request of campus fraternities, an invitation was sent to the publishers and their wives by the Associated Students tendering them the hospitality of the housing houses during their stay here.

The University men on the program are Dean Allen, who will give the report of the committee on the proposed newspaper code; Dr. W. G. Hale, dean of the school of law, who will read a paper at the Friday afternoon session of the conference, on "Uncertainties and Defects of the Laws under which Oregon Newspaper Men Are Operating"; and President Campbell, who will be toastmaster at the banquet to be given to visitors, Friday evening at the Osburn, and who will speak at the luncheon to be given them at Hendricks hall Saturday noon. President Campbell will tell the editors, whose generous support helped put over the millage bill last spring, what the measure is accomplishing for the University. A representative of the students also will make an address at the luncheon.

Among the sixty visitors expected at the Conference are many of the most active and prominent newspapermen in the state. Dean Allen expressed yesterday the hope that as many members of the faculty as possible would attend the banquet Friday evening at the Osburn. Tickets are on sale at the Co-op. Members of the faculty are welcome also at the regular sessions, which will be held in the physical education building.

All University students will be admitted to the banquet at the Osburn hotel Friday evening. The price will be $1.00 per plate for the students instead of the regular price of $1.50.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCED.

Delta Delta Delta announces the pledging of Margaret Dickover of Portland and Helen Glanz, Astoria.

PLAY "PYGMALION" IS POSTPONED FOR WEEK

The appearance of Shaw's "Pygmalion," scheduled formerly for January 13 and 15, has been postponed a week, and will be played in Guild theatre on the nights of January 20 and 22, contrary to the announcement made in yesterday's Emerald.

The step was taken to allow a more thorough preparation, as well as to conform more favorably with the campus calendar.
