ALL FOR "SHY."

No matter what our feelings may have been yesterday, today we are all for one man—Coach "Shy" Huntington.

He is to be our coach next year, and he is to have our united support throughout the next football season. And between now and the end of next season, let there be nothing said against the man. The unanimous opinion of the athletic council should reflect the opinion of the students, alumni, and faculty which it represents. We join with the athletic council in voting unanimously for him.

"Shy" Huntington has been discussed and re-discussed in the columns of the Emerald, and not one word has been said against him as a man. "Shy" is a man all the way through. Few have said things against his ability as a coach. The football men believe that he has the ability to direct teams, and the entire country believes them. "Shy" is known in all parts of the country. The Harvard game, and the publicity which followed and preceded that game assures that "Shy" is a good student of football. His students know and believe in his knowledge of the game.

The chief criticism which has been directed against 'Shy' has been made indirectly. "Shy" represents the graduate coach system, and in past years this system as used at Oregon has not proved successful. It has been said that the graduate coach system is a breeder of dissension among students and players. But that cannot be the fault of a fair coach. It is the fault of an oversensitive student body. In presenting the petition to the athletic council asking for the abolishment of the graduate coach system, it was said that there was a feeling among the students that partiality had been shown by a graduate coach. If the truth were known, it would likely prove that "Shy" has been the opposite of partial; he has gone out of his way to give those who claimed they were not receiving a square deal an opportunity to prove their merits when he otherwise could not have done so. If a player deliberately lays down on a coach, no one could blame the coach for refusing to allow that player to remain on the team.

Petty politics are present on any campus. They should not be allowed to affect football. It has not been campus politics that has caused the situation which was ended by the athletic council last night. It has been disgruntled individuals, who took care to spread their disagreeable thoughts among other students. And those students were not working for a Greater Oregon or a winning eleven. They are working for individual glory, and failing to gain that, they have vented their spite on the coach. Politics will be with us perhaps always. They are almost a necessity. But let's not besmirch our school by allowing petty disgruntled feelings of individuals to influence student sentiment and with that, student politics, so that it will work against Oregon.

There is only one way to work for a mightier Oregon during the coming year, and that is to back our coach. We are all for "Shy."

AN APOLOGY.

An apology is due the business men of Eugene by a student who sought to use the columns of the Emerald to attack the downtown merchants who signed the petition asking for the retention of the graduate coach system at Oregon. The policy of the Emerald has always been to print all communications addressed to the editor if the writer made known his identity, whether or not he wished his name to appear as the signer of the communication in the columns of the paper. Anyone who does not appreciate what has been done for the University and its students by the business men of Eugene can lay no claim to being a loyal Oregon student.

The question was not whether the business men had any right to take sides in the coaching situation. It is whether or not Oregon students are willing to have downtown merchants take an interest in the activities and affairs of the school. The writer of this communication, we believe, does not represent the opinion of any large campus group. Oregon has always boasted of the friendly co-operation between the citizens of Eugene and the University. That friendship cannot be broken by any student who becomes so worked up over a situation that he would sacrifice anything in order to gain his point. Oregon hopes for the continued friendship and co-operation of business men and citizens of Eugene.

The "Price at any price" gang, the "Dobie or die" bunch, and the "Bezdek or bust" element have given way before the "I'm for 'Shy'" body of which every loyal Oregon student is a member.

SEVEN YEAR MEDICAL COURSE IS PROPOSED

of 15 units, distributed as follows: English, four units; algebra, one and one-half; geometry, physics, chemistry and history, one each; Latin and foreign language, two each; electives, one and one-half.

Knowledge of Languages Desirable.
High school physics and chemistry are desirable because these subjects, in college, usually require high school preparation. Latin is required either as a preparatory subject or in college by a number of medical schools, and is accordingly recommended, especially since students having completed the first three years of the seven year medical course of this university may desire to take their last four years elsewhere. A reading knowledge of both French and German is considered highly desirable by the time the third college year is reached. One noted school in the east requires both languages for entrance.

An outline of the medical course for the first year includes general chemistry, 13 hours; general biology (including lectures on the history of medicine), 12 hours; English, nine hours; physical education and military science, six to nine hours; and a choice of either mathematics, 11 to 12 hours, or French or German, 15 hours.

Clinics to be Visited.
In the second year are offered organic and quantitative chemistry, 12 hours; physics, 12 hours; biology, 12 hours, and from six to nine hours in physical education and military science. Besides these, the student is expected to continue with his elective. For graduation, nine hours credit are required in one course in one of the following groups: Social sciences (including economics, philosophy, history, psychology and education), or public speaking, art, drawing, or music. In addition to this, medical students in the first and second year will be expected to visit about five clinics yearly, under appropriate supervision.

For the third year the course includes chemistry, three hours; biology (human physiology, general physiology, and general bacteriology), 12 hours; psychology, six to eight hours; and electives, either 25 or 26 hours. The course in psychology, which covers two terms, is especially designed for medical students in place of the three term course in elementary psychology for general students. It normally follows a course in psychology dealing especially with the nervous system.

GAMES AT CORVALLIS HARDEST OF SEASON

Whether the reaction from the effect of the defeat at Seattle will have a good or bad effect can be told better after Friday night. Coach Bohler is of the opinion that the strain on the physical condition of the men in the six hard games played last week is responsible for the defeat at Seattle and that the reaction will be one which will be of benefit to the men.

The O. A. C. rooks will come here on Friday and Saturday of this week for a two game series with the Frosh five. The games will be played in the men's gym, the Saturday game at 3:30 and the Friday game at 4 o'clock. No admission charges will be made for the freshman games.

WISCONSIN HAS WIRELESS.

A complete United States army field wireless is used to train the signal corps men in the cadet regiment of the University of Wisconsin.

O. A. C. WRESTLERS OUT

200 Men to Report Daily to Coach Rathbun for Mat Workout.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb. 1.—Candidates for varsity wrestling are to report to Coach Rathbun at once as practice has already begun in the preliminary departments of the training. More than 200 men are signed up for the mat game and some good bone crushers should be developed, according to the coach.

Enough old material is back in harness to insure a scrappy squad of wrestlers and indications point to a good team although there is very little material out for the heavier weights; namely, the 158 and 175 pound classes.

CLASS PUBLISHES PAPER

Students of Southern California Print 24-Page Sheet.

University of Southern California, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 1.—Twenty selected students from the departments of advertising and newswriting published the Saturday, Jan. 22, issue of the Long Beach Telegram. The paper was twenty-four pages large and contained five solid pages of advertising solicited by U. S. C. students in addition to the regular and foreign advertisements. The students handled the entire editorial end of the publication, taking over all the regular news beats and departments including the police court and the advice to the love lorn.

STUDENTS DISQUALIFIED

Californians of Poor Standing Requesting Leave to be Dropped on Semester.

University of California, Feb. 1.—Students whose mid-term reports indicate that they are not doing passing work in at least ten units, or thoroughly satisfactory work in at least eight units, and who request leave of absence, will be considered as though they had been disqualified and their return to the University barred for one semester, was the statement made by Dean T. M. Putnam, chairman of the committee on disqualified students.

No work completed after the end of the semester can contribute toward the ten units.

MORE TEACHERS SOUGHT

School of Education Receiving Calls for School Instructors.

The education department is continually receiving calls for grade and high school teachers who can begin work at once, says Professor C. A. Gregory, and all persons interested should register at the appointment bureau at the school of education.

The department has just received a call for a seventh and eighth grade teacher for a school in a small town, at a salary of $130. Further information can be obtained from Professor Gregory.

COMPETITION TO CLOSE.

Competition for the $10 prize for the lunette over the sculpturing building entrance, offered by Dean Ellis F. Lawrence, of the school of architecture, will be closed today, and the judging by a committee picked by Dean Lawrence is to be completed tonight. Additional second, third and fourth prizes amounting to ten dollars are offered by the students in the sculpturing classes.

LAW BOOKS RECEIVED.

A set of the Pennsylvania reports has been recently received for the law library.

U. OF S. C. TO PLAY EAST

University of Detroit and Notre Dame Willing to Contract.

University of Southern California, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 1.—U. S. C.'s football team is certain of playing one eastern team and possibly two next season according to graduate manager Henry Bruce. The University of Detroit and Notre Dame have expressed their willingness to meet U. S. C., but final arrangements have not yet been made. The University of Detroit wants a Thanksgiving Day game, and guarantees the Trojans $10,000 in addition to their expenses. Detroit is willing to play either in Los Angeles or Detroit. The proposition for a game in the east is looked upon favorably by manager Bruce as the Trojan eleven has not played outside of Southern California since 1917.

PROCEDURE MAY ALTER

Method of Student Body Nominations at Stanford is up in Election.

Stanford University, Feb. 1.—Revision of the method of nominations of student body and class officers will be placed before the students at an election soon. The new plan provides for a nominating assembly three days before the February and June elections at which time candidates for the various offices of the association may be placed in nomination from the floor. At present, nominations are made through the campus press.

GYM EXPERIENCES DROUTH.

While filling the swimming tank in the men's gym Sunday evening the workmen burst a pipe, thus causing many a wail from the Monday bath hounds as it was necessary to shut off the entire water system in the gym while the repairs were being made. The mourning ones may resume their dip habit as per usual Tuesday, assures the power house superintendent.

CORNELL TO TRY HONOR SYSTEM.

An under graduate committee interested in the installation of an honor system in examinations to be installed at the beginning of the second term at Cornell University is planning an intensive campaign which will be launched soon.

MAN AT O.A.C. IS 56 YEARS

Oldest Man on Campus Takes Advantage of Workman's Compensation.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb. 1.—"One is never too old to learn."

This is the slogan used by James Kinkade, the oldest man attending O. A. C., who will be 56 years old February 12. Kinkade has but one leg. His other leg was broken in an accident. Gargreth set in and it became necessary to have it amputated. As he could not work this winter and was entitled to compensation through the workman's compensation law, he was sent to O. A. C. for vocational training.

PARENTS CONSENT NEEDED.

Students at the University of Illinois registering in the new course given in aviation must first gain their parents' consent. The University has taken such action to guard itself against complications in case of accident.
