

VETERANS OF SOCCER SEEK TO HAVE GAME MADE LETTER SPORT

Available Material for Teams Best Oregon Has Had, Declares Dymont.

EXHIBITION CONTEST PLANNED FOR MARCH

Difficulty in Procuring Field On Which to Play Is Big Obstacle.

Prospects and plans for soccer as a recognized minor letter sport at Oregon were discussed by Dean Colin V. Dymont and several of the 16 veterans of the past successful season in a meeting of soccer enthusiasts at the Beta house Tuesday evening. An exhibition game, played for the express purpose of enlightening the students on the advantages and possibilities of soccer as a sport, will likely be staged early in March.

Dean Dymont expressed his belief that available material for a good team next season is the best he has ever seen at the University. Dean Dymont, it will be remembered, not only founded and fostered the growth of soccer here at the University, but also introduced the great Scotch game as a competitive sport in Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club in Portland.

Game Worth Continuing.

"At present the great difficulty lies in procuring grounds on which to play games," said Dean Dymont in his opening remarks. "A soccer field should be like a billiard table—no holes, no bumps, no rough places. But the game is worth going on with even if we have to play on muddy Kincaid. The University has some 40 acres of land here, but it should look forward to 1927 and crowded conditions." Dean Dymont assured the soccer men that he would do his best toward obtaining a field on which to play.

At the meeting it was decided that a committee of three, collaborating with a faculty member, should put the question of granting a minor letter with sweater before the student council next week. Haseltine Schmeer, Elmo Madden and Phil Brogan, were appointed by Morgan Staton, who presided as chairman at the meeting, to act as this committee. Koerber and Patterson, co-stars in the backfield in the two tie games against O. A. C. last fall, are not back in school this term, and in the absence of Koerber, captain-manager of the team, Staton was elected to act as captain in the contemplated exhibition game.

City Team Will Be Met.

Neil Ford, former Oregon man, later a soccer player at Stanford and O. A. C., will be asked to captain the city team which will probably meet the University players in March.

Optimism regarding the future of soccer as a regular intercollegiate sport was expressed by Dean Dymont and several of the men. "Few people know that there is a 'Big Eight' soccer league in the United States," said Oregon's soccer coach. This league is composed of 8 professional teams in the east. Other speakers mentioned the growth of soccer in California, especially in Stanford, and said that soccer at the University would open up a field of athletics open to a type of men different from football or basketball players.

Y. W. BANQUET PLANNED

Committees and Arrangements Made for Event of March 9.

Plans are being made for the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet which is held every year on March 9, at the Hotel Osburn. It is expected that this year there will be about 400 or 500 people there, according to Miss Dinsdale. Announcement of the officers for the coming year are always made at this banquet.

The following committees have been appointed: Reception, Marjorie Holaday, Vivian Chandler, Leta Kiddle, Florence Furuset and Eleanor Spall. Invitations, Ruth Flegal and Elsie Marsh. Programs, Isla Gilbert and Ruth Lane. Decorating, Glyde Schuebel, Beatrice Wetherbee and Ruth Lane. Tickets, Nancy Fields and Margaret Smith. Place cards, Frances Habersham and Beatrice Wetherbee. LOST: AN UMBRELLA, OWNED BY TINY LADY

Dinner Party Ends Disastrously for Inhabitant of Japanese Tea Garden.

It is not known at what fraternity house it occurred, — but the dinner party must have been exceedingly gay — for the lady is not easily disconcerted and has never been known to do such a thing before, and it was raining at the time — but, she came home without her umbrella.

Miss Tingle is very sure that the little lady had it when she left with "one of the brothers," but it wasn't with her when she came back several hours later and has not been seen since. The lady in question belongs to the Japanese tea garden, and as the entire garden went with her, and the umbrella, being only a part of an inch in diameter, couldn't really be of much use to anyone even in this rainy weather. Miss Tingle cannot understand how it happened.

The Japanese garden, tea-house, temple and all, was borrowed to decorate the table at some fraternity house last Sunday, and that's when it all happened.

Since the garden has been rearranged, the lady is strolling toward a tiny pool all surrounded with water lilies, and the gay little black and white umbrella is greatly missed.

Since it was through the Emerald that the lady got the "date" Miss Tingle is hoping that it may be equally effective in restoring to her the missing article.

'WATCH ACCOUNT' SAYS AD BUILDING PLACARD

Students Are Warned to Keep Track of Bank Balance; Bad Checks Bring Penalties.

"Watch your bank account."

This short crisp warning appeared in large black letters yesterday over the window in the "Ad" building through which students take a last saddened look at their term taxes. Further reading of the conspicuous placard elicits the interesting information that "checks returned unpaid subject the student to the same penalties as for non-payment" and "no checks will be accepted from students who have had bad checks returned."

These warnings are a means, according to those who preside at the window, of bringing to the attention of many students the fact that a bank balance has its limitations as to staying power and those who become over-confident and have their checks returned are liable to a certain implied "penalty," and in future will have to possess cash when dealing with the financial department.

Carelessness in over-estimating the bank balance is the cause of a great majority of these financial "duds" that are returned by the bank, according to officials, who also give out the interesting information that very, very few feminine names appear over the dotted line on these shattered hopes.

DEBATE SUBJECT PICKED

Elimination Series to Begin in April; Jessie Todd, Chairman.

"That the provision of the present law imposing Panama canal tolls on American coastwise vessels should be repealed" is the question for debate chosen by the women at their meeting last week in Professor Crockett's room. Nearly every living organization on the campus was represented at this meeting and a great deal of interest was shown in the work to be done this spring. Jessie Todd has been made chairman of the committee on debate and she will announce new plans as they develop.

It was decided that each house should secure their own coaches if possible and then report the names to Marjorie Stout, whose telephone number is 7F13.

The second week in April is the time set for the first elimination series of women's debates. Because the time is short it is urged that the girls begin work on their material immediately. To the winning team falls the honor of holding the cup for the year following their victory. For the last two years the cup has been in the possession of Hendricks hall.

BOXING TEAM CHALLENGES.

The boxing team of the University of Texas, organized for the first time last year, is issuing challenges to colleges in the southwest in the hopes of starting intercollegiate competition in that line of sport.

FOOTBALL SWEATERS WILL BE PRESENTED AT ASSEMBLY TODAY

Thirteen "O's" Will Be Given To Veterans of 1920 Season.

PEP FEST TO PRECEED AGGIE RETURN GAMES

Bill Hayward, "Shy" Huntington and G. M. Bohler to Give Out Dope.

Presentation of football sweaters to thirteen men who earned their laurels on the gridiron last season will be the feature of the special assembly and student body meeting to be held in Villard hall at eleven o'clock today.

Four girls who represented the University in the swimming meets with O. A. C. last year will receive sweater awards.

Following the presentation of awards a gigantic "pep fest" is to be staged, according to plans announced by those in charge. Athletic "dope" for the coming season will be outlined by captains of the various teams and the trainers and coaches.

With the biggest track event of the year, the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate meet, in the offing, Trainer Bill Hayward will outline Oregon's chances and relative position in comparison with the other universities which will compete.

Hard Game Expected.

The football events of the past year, and the way the dope stands for the coming season, will be outlined by Coach "Shy" Huntington. Coach George M. Bohler and Captain Eddie Durno, high point man of the varsity squad, will speak on the basketball season which is now in progress. Oregon this week-end will face one of the hardest sets of games of the entire season when they meet O. A. C., primed for a come-back to efface the defeat scored against them twice in succession last week.

Special musical numbers will be given by Alberta Potter, whose violin selections will be accompanied on the piano by her sister, Aurora Potter. Student committees will have several reports to make. John Houston, head of the social committee, Norton Winnard, condoleance committee and Don Davis, entertainment committee, will speak on the activities of the bodies which they represent.

Pep Rally Planned.

Concluding the assembly it is planned to hold a rally as a pep demonstration to proceed the O. A. C. games this week-end. The varsity yell staff has promised to be on hand to take care of any excess of enthusiasm which might be developed.

Those who will receive the big "O" football sweaters are "Brick" Leslie, "Spike" Leslie, Carl Mautz, "Mart" Howard, "Nish" Chapman, "Bill" Reinhart, "Scotty" Strachan, "Tiny" Shields, Neil Morfitt, "Rudd" Brown, Ed Ward, George King, Pierre Mead.

The following women will receive sweaters: Valiere Coffee, Helen Nelson, Frances Moore and Winifred Hopson.

GIRLS' FORUM TO MEET

Labor's Organization and Influence Will Be Discussed.

Factors to be considered in employing labor will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Industrial Forum at the Y. W. C. A. this evening at 7 o'clock. Included in this are morals, causes of the labor turnover, lack of organization, and individual borrowing power.

Other questions to be talked about are as follows: Is the ordinary estimate of man in the modern industrial world chiefly utilitarian? Is the sacredness of life the first claim on industry? What evidence have we that there is a change in the aims of industry as opposed to profit?

Lois Morthland and Laura Moates will read papers on these subjects after which the discussion will be led by Mozelle Hair. Every girl on the campus is urged to attend these meetings. The interest in them is growing at every meeting, according to Miss Dinsdale. It is expected that in the near future the forum will have a moving picture from the bureau of labor in Washington, D. C., on "Women in Industry."

Star Norton to Take Lead in "Arizona"; Other Parts Assigned; Bob Earl, Coach

Star Norton has been chosen for the leading part in the student body play "Arizona," a four-act comedy-drama, to be given at the Eugene theater on March 5.

This is a good live western play, full of pep and go from start to finish, according to Johnny Houston, chairman of the committee in charge. The actors have been carefully chosen, most of them having had more or less experience on the stage.

It is the students' play, so prices are going to be made as moderate as possible. Announcements of the ticket sale will be made later.

An endeavor is being made to have the University orchestra furnish music, although nothing definite has yet been arranged.

Bob Earl will direct the play. The committee in charge is composed of Johnny Houston, Mary Taylor and Bob Earl. The members of the property and stage work committee are Cecil Adams, Norton Winnard, and Ted Baker. Advertising is in charge of Arvol Simola. The cast is as follows:

Colonel Bonham, Eleventh U. S. Cavalry—"Hank" Foster.

Sam Wong, a cook—Ray Dunn. Mrs. Canby, wife of the rancher—Dorothy Wootton.

The Thacher-Oregon club game was the closest yet played this season. Zeta Rho and Oregon club are now tied for second place in the series, each having won two games out of three played. Miss Catharine Winslow was referee and Miss Laura McAllister umpire for both games.

SCULPTURE IS PRAISED

Students Have One More Week Before Prizes Are Given Out.

The time for awarding the prizes in sculpturing has been extended another week. The work which the prizes will be awarded on is a piece of sculpture which is to go over the outside entrance of the new art building.

Dean E. F. Lawrence is offering a first prize of $10, and the students of the sculpture club are offering $10 for second, third, and fourth prizes. The students have been much interested in this work and have done splendid work on their designs.

FOOD CLASS ENTERTAINS.

The committee on student living was entertained yesterday at luncheon in Mary Spiller hall. The luncheon was served by Veda Patten and Lucille Watkins, members of the class in food preparation, as part of their practical work in the department. The guests were: Dr. Bertha Stuart, Dean Elizabeth Fox, Miss Lilian Tingle, Dr. B. W. DeBusk and Professor Peter C. Crockett.

ALTHOUSE IS CALLED THRILLING BY EVANS

Tenor Has Achieved Success in New York Opera.

"Paul Althouse has a thrilling voice, the kind that sort of makes you get up on the edge of your chair," said John Stark Evans, assistant dean of the University school of music, of the Metropolitan tenor who will sing in Villard hall this evening.

"I heard Althouse about ten or a dozen times in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City — always in opera," Mr. Evans continued. One of the operas was "Cavaleria Rusticana" in which he took the part of "Turridu." Mr. Evans also heard him sing in the Russian opera, "Boris Godounov," in which he made his first success at the Metropolitan. "He created his own role in this opera, and his singing of the part of 'Dimitri' was most magnificent," said Mr. Evans.

"Mr. Althouse is young and an American. He is robust—has the physical vigor to back up his voice. His voice is not a light lyric one but heavy and dramatic. At the same time, however, he has a wonderful control of it so that he can sing softly, with ease.

"I have never heard him sing 'Celeste Aida,'" said Mr. Evans, "but I have heard him sing other things which would make an equally great demand on his vocal powers. His singing of them was good and I believe he will do as well with this one."

The tenor is a great favorite in New York, according to Mr. Evans.

"Celeste Aida" forms one part of the program for the entertainment. The first section is composed of French and Italian songs. The third section is taken up by the accompanist, Rudolph Gruen. The fourth and fifth sections are Mr. Althouse's and are filled with songs, such as "The Blind Ploughman" by Clarke and "Happiness" by Hageman.

SCULPTORS GIVEN TIME

Work Done by Department Pleases Wife of Director of A. I. A.

"I feel that there is great hope for the department of sculpture in the University of Oregon," said Mrs. Robert D. Kohn, the wife of the director of the American Institute of Architects.

Mrs. Kohn was a pupil of Augustus Saint Gaudens, the noted American sculptor, and is very much interested in any work in sculpturing which is being carried on in schools and universities.

She expressed herself as liking the idea of developing in the student's work his own personality, and declared her belief that remarkable progress had been made.

ROOTERS WILL BACK HOOPERS WITH OSKIE AT AGGIE CONTESTS

Girls to Sing 'Mighty Oregon'; Men to Cheer, at Armory Friday Night.

SECTION IS RESERVED FOR O. A. C. STUDENTS

Yell Practice and "Pep" Talks Will Occupy Part of Assembly Hour.

That the old familiar "Oskey" will roar in the Armory Friday and Saturday nights when the varsity quintet battles with the Oregon Aggies is the edict of yell leader Claire Keeney. And the strains of "Mighty Oregon" will be sung by the girls, so that Oregon's fighting basketball team will meet the Aggies with a "thundering thousand" behind them according to present plans.

A part of the assembly hour this morning will be given over to the practicing of a few yells and some "pep" talks and a good old yell fest is going to break loose at the Armory this week-end. A section of seats have been reserved for the O. A. C. rooters, and it is understood that there will be a goodly number of the orange and black rooters on hand. This has only served to lend greater effort to yell leader Keeney's preparations and it will take the entire O. A. C. student body to make as much as the Oregon rooters will put forth, according to his present plans.

Team Primed for Battle.

Coach Bohler ran the squad through a pretty stiff workout at the Armory last night and with a light workout this evening, the team will be primed for the battle. These are the first conference games to be played here this season and with the exception of the Chemawa games will be the first chance for the student fans to see the varsity five in action, and there promises to be plenty of real action in these two games.

The Aggies are putting forth every effort to come back and defeat Oregon in the series, and Coach Rutherford would rather beat this team than any other in the conference, it is generally believed. But Oregon's squad is taking no chances and over-confidence is certainly not going to be felt by the lemon-yellow wearers when they trot onto the floor tomorrow night.

Durno Outwits Aggies.

Captain Eddie Durno, the diminutive speed demon of the Oregon five, and Marc Latham, who fights from the starting whistle will form the forward combination which will go against the visitors from Corvallis. Eddie scored most of the points made by Oregon last week in the two games and in spite of every effort of the Aggie guards to smother him, he eluded them with comparative ease and dropped basket after basket through with amazingly regularity.

Marc Latham can always be depended upon to score from the floor and although he isn't quite as sure in his shooting as Durno, the Aggie guards don't want to give him an opening for he will convert the chance. Marc worked at center last season and covers the

DR. SCHAFER TO RETURN

Former Professor Accepts Position in Summer School.

Dr. Joseph Schafer, formerly head of the department of history at the University of Oregon, now superintendent of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, has accepted an appointment as instructor of history in the Portland summer term of the University, according to an announcement made by Professor George Rebec, director of the summer school.

Dr. Schafer will spend each week-end of the summer term which runs from June 20 to July 19, giving lectures on the campus.

When at the University of Oregon, Dr. Schafer was also director of the extension division, and director of the summer school. He was the author of a history of the Pacific northwest, and had a part in two other histories which have been published, one by Schafer and Strong and the other by Schafer and Cleveland.
