

COMMERCE BUILDING AND NEW DORMITORY NEARS COMPLETION

Material Shortage Overcome; Bad Weather No Longer Hindrance.

Bad weather and difficulties in getting finished mill work are responsible for the recent delay in the completion of the two new buildings, Susan Campbell hall and the school of commerce. Both buildings are now past the stage where the weather can affect the workmen and it is not expected that the mill will have any further trouble in making deliveries.

The commerce building now has all the exterior brick work finished except cleaning, and all the windows are hung. The radiators have been temporarily connected with the steam pipes and the bricks are rapidly drying. The conduits, through which all the wires are passed, have been laid. Plastering will begin in a week or two and soon after the flooring will be laid.

Architecture Sound Proof.

The flooring is to be made very strong and sound proof. Over the sub-flooring will be laid felt deadeners, then screeds, which are one and three-quarter inch boards placed at intervals. The regular flooring will be laid on the screeds and over that the same cork flooring that is used in the education building, the twin of the commerce building.

Susan Campbell hall is more nearly completed than the other new structure. All the plastering has been done and the dozen carpenters are putting in the finish lumber as fast as it arrives. Susan Campbell hall is another twin building, its counterpart being Hendricks hall.

There will be 28 suites for the girls, a suite for the janitor and wife, and a suite for a matron or guests. Each suite is composed of a study room, sleeping porch and dressing room. Conveniences such as individual wardrobes, medicine closet, mirror, and wash bowl will be built in each suite.

Fire Protection Feature.

The best of protection against fire has been provided by the architects. Two brick fire walls, extending from the basement to the singles, divide the building into three wings. In each wall there is only one opening which is a doorway on the first floor. Both doorways have been provided with fire doors of sheet iron and fire-proof glass. Numerous fire hose have been placed in convenient positions.

On the first floor in the north wing will be the living room, with fireplace and book cases. In the basement just below a similar room with a fireplace, is to be a recreation room.

No date has been set for the completion of the school of commerce building but it is to be expected early in the spring term. Susan Campbell hall will probably be ready for furnishings by the Easter vacation.

OREGON CLUB DANCE TO BE AT ANCHORAGE

Thirty Couples Will Enjoy First Social Affair Since Men Re-organize; Feature is Planned.

Following the basketball game next Saturday evening the Men's Oregon Club will hold its first social event since its reorganization, a dance in the Anchorage hall. The change of places from the woman's building, as was first planned, to the Anchorage, was necessitated by the action of Mr. Newell, superintendent of the University grounds, who decided that the new building is not yet ready to accommodate a group of people. Also, furniture is being stored in the building.

Due to the small size of the Anchorage hall room, the attendance has been limited to the first 30 tickets sold to the men. Decorators will bring boughs from the timber Saturday morning, and Barney Garrett, president of the club, states that all will be under way for a good time by 8:30 Saturday evening. Several of the men are now working out a feature, which, it has been intimated, will dim the luster of the pyrotechnic display of any active volcano.

The patrons and patronesses for the dance are Professor and Mrs. Milne and Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert.

AD CLUB TO HEAR FACULTY MEN.

President Campbell and Dean Robbins will be the principal speakers at the weekly luncheon of the Portland Ad Club today at Portland, the program for the affair being in charge of the extension centre of the University.

MISS HAMILTON TO REST.

Miss Merle Hamilton, one of the assistants in the circulation department of the library, went to her home in Roseburg for a rest of a few weeks, because of very poor health.

OVER $1300 PLEDGED FOR STUDENT RELIEF

Representatives Appointed to Collect in Organizations and On Campus.

Practically $1200 has so far been pledged by the students of the University for the Hoover European Student Relief movement. Approximately $200 more has been pledged by the faculty, bringing the total up to about $1400. Over $350 was taken in Thursday and Friday, at the booth in front of the library.

That this University is keeping up, in proportion to her size, with other universities and colleges throughout the United States, is evidenced by a telegram received from the headquarters of the Hoover European Relief Council, setting forth the amounts pledged by some of the larger American institutions.

According to this telegram, Princeton pledged $15,500; Harvard, $7,500; Yale, $7,600; Cornell, $4,000 with hopes of raising it to $7000; Northwestern, $3100. California expects to raise $5000. The total in pledges and campaigns for all the schools in the United States is $400,000.

At a committee meeting Monday evening it was decided for the convenience of those making pledges, that a representative be appointed in each organization on the campus to look after the collecting of the pledges in the respective houses.

The booth in front of the library will be open Thursday from 9 to 13 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m., to receive the payments of those outside of the organizations. Anyone who is unable to get to the booth will be called upon by a special committee.

Due to an error in the Emerald, it was stated that the booth in front of the library was to be open Tuesday. The booth was open last Friday, but owing to the large amount that is still to be collected, will be open again this coming Thursday.

WASHINGTON MEN GET BONUS.

Temporary filing offices have been opened on the campus of the University of Washington, and three hundred men have already filed applications for bonus payments from the state. This number is thought to be about fifteen per cent of the total of ex-service men in the University who are entitled to the bonus.
