

HEADQUARTERS OPENED FOR STUDENTS ABROAD

American University Union Offers Club Facilities In Paris And London.

Of interest to students and faculty members who contemplate visiting or studying in England or France is the announcement contained in the annual report of the American University Union in Europe, of which the University of Oregon is a member, of the opening of new and expensive headquarters in London and Paris for the exclusive use of American college students and representatives.

The American University Union in Europe is composed of the majority of American institutions of higher learning whose scholastic requirements for a degree measure up to the standards set by the board on applications of the University Club of New York City.

The Union maintains headquarters and club facilities for all accredited students and faculty members of the association, and endeavors, according to the report, to advance the welfare of American studying abroad and to form a closer bond of service between the universities of the United States and Europe.

During the war 5700 American soldier-students attending foreign colleges received the attention of the Union and the privileges of the club rooms in England and France.

BUILDING BILL SIGNED

Plans of University Music Department Receive Legislative Sanction.

All doubt as to the validity of the University's contract for the rental of the new music building financed by the floating of a bond issue by the University of Oregon Holding company, was removed Saturday when Governor Olcott signed senate bill No. 236. The bill was introduced by Governor Bell of the Lane-Linn senatorial district, and authorizes the University to lease the building from the holding company.

Legislative sanction of the contract was thought necessary by the state attorney-general who based his opinion on the question as to whether the state University has the legal right to enter into contract for the rental and eventual purchase of a building financed by a private company, without special action of the legislature.
