KNOW THE CONSTITUTION.

The revised constitution, as printed in yesterday's Emerald, with the explanations made in assembly yesterday, should make it possible for every student to say either "I believe in it," or "I am against it." The student who still persists in saying "I don't know anything about it," is a poor Oregon student indeed, for not caring to take enough time to find out about his government and how it is conducted.

The revised constitution will be adopted by the associated students next Thursday. It is doubtful if anyone can fail to realize the great improvement of the new pact over the old, or can fail to understand the need of the associated students for a budget system and a centralized government, as provided for in the new constitution.

There are, perhaps, sections or clauses to which objection may be taken by a few. But the main idea of the new constitution must not be sacrificed because of the minor points. If they are wrong, and it is improbable that the revisions committee could have drawn up a constitution which would satisfy everyone, amendments may be made at any time.

It will be noticed in reading over the revised pact, that the acts of any officers or of any body may be amended by a majority vote of the students present at any meeting of the associated students. Article XV, which contains this section, thus protects the interests of the students. No body, however small, may do anything directly against the will of the students.

There is no excuse for ignorance of the contents of the new constitution. It concerns every activity of the associated students and affects every student, particularly if he participates in any student activity, or plans to do so during his stay in the University. Familiarize yourself with the main points, so that you can know whereof you speak when you announce yourself either "for" or "against" the new constitution.

Kineaid field seems to be getting into shape for the track athletes fairly fast, with the assistance of several able-bodied frosh every day. But how about Hayward field? Will it be ready for the coast conference meet?

If A. S. U. O. meetings were held oftener, perhaps we would all be wearing some award.

DELEGATES TO VISIT INDIANA CONVENTION

Oregon Sending Miss Thomson and Ollie Stoltenberg.

Ollie Stoltenberg, president of the women's athletic association, and Miss Harriet W. Thompson, assistant director of the physical education department, will represent the University of Oregon at the convention of women's athletic associations at Bloomington, Indiana, March 18. Both were elected at a special meeting of the association Wednesday night, and expect to leave for Bloomington not later than Sunday.

The convention will be attended by delegates from practically every large school of physical education in the country. Each school is allowed one official delegate who will attend the closed, official meetings and will be allowed one vote. This is to prevent the schools near Bloomington from sending a large number of delegates. All other representatives will be permitted to take part in the informal meetings and round table discussions. Miss Thomson will be the official delegate from Oregon.

In the closed meetings, basketball rules, women's coaching, varsity games, point systems for women's sports and finances will be discussed; also the advisability of preparing a national directory of women's schools of physical education. The question of the revision of women's athletic association constitutions will be brought up in the round table discussions, in which the unofficial delegates will take part. Ollie Stoltenberg will represent the University in these informal conferences.

At the special meeting called for the election of delegates, Miss Stoltenberg said that the executive council of W. A. A. had decided that a junior should attend but the association members decided otherwise, since Miss Stoltenberg received more votes than two juniors, Lois Barnett and Emily Perry, who were also nominated. Miss Catharine Winslow and Miss Thomson were nominated for the official delegate and Miss Thomson, who has been working hard to get the executive council to finance one of the delegates, was elected. The expenses of the trip will be paid by the student body and by the W. A. A.

FROSH BASEBALL BEGINS

40 Men Are Turning Out For Nightly Workouts Under Coach Steers.

Candidates for the freshman baseball team are working out every afternoon on a new diamond near the R. O. T. C. barracks. So far the frosh are merely having light batting and fielding practice. However two five inning practice games will be played Saturday. Coach "Bill" Steers is using this method to get some line on the respective abilities of the 40 men who are out. "Bill" says that he has some good material, but until the tryouts Saturday there will be no men picked for the team.

A tentative game has been scheduled with Eugene high school which will be played as soon as Coach Steers gets his line-up whipped into shape.

FRENCH SKIT GIVEN AT CLUB GATHERING

Members of Group Shine As Dramatists Although Speaking Foreign Language.

"A Doctor in Spite of Himself" "Le Medicin Malgre Lui" was the clever French comedy produced by members of the French club at the regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. Those who took advantage of the invitation of the club had an opportunity to see that English is not the only language in which campus dramatic talent expresses itself, as the entire play was spoken in French.

Marion Gilstrap as Martine and Joe Ingram as her husband, Sgnarelle, excelled in the quarrel scene where they hurled epithets in vociferous French.

A very charming part was that played by Helen Enoch as the patient of the would-be doctor. All of the parts were well sustained in character presentation.

The play was under the direction of Mademoiselle Gouy, instructor in French.

The characters are as follows:
Geronte.....Verne Blue
Lucinde.....Helen Enoch
Leandre.....Wilbur Bolton
Sgnarelle.....Joe Ingram
Martine.....Marion Gilstrap
Robert.....Raymond Burns
Valere Lucas.....Verne Fudge

2 INFANT PRODIGIES LOCATED IN EUGENE

Mental Tests Reveal Geniuses 4 and 8 Years Old.

Eugene has some exceptionally bright children as well as New York and Boston. Work in connection with the research in mental testing classes under Dr. B. W. DeBusk has revealed this in the case of two children. The tests were conducted by Ruth Montgomery, graduate student in the school of education.

Elizabeth, four years old, in chronological age, has a mental age of over seven, and an intelligence quotient of 172, which puts her in the genius class. She does not go to school, but she can print her name, copy anything, write all the numbers, and count up to one hundred. She can write on the typewriter. She knows all the names of singers from graphophone records, and can tell the singer from hearing the record. Besides all this, she is very strong and well, and her physical development is perfect.

Janet who was tested at the Patterson school last year, is eight years and six months in chronological age, and has a mental age of fourteen years and eleven months. Her intelligence quotient is 175, so that she is in the genius class. She reads Shakespeare and really understands the stories. She has read all of Mark Twain's books and is very fond of them. She has a remarkable memory and imagination, and an actual thirst for knowledge.

She has written several chapters of a humorous book. She particularly admires humor, and probably is not the sort of prodigy that takes life seriously. The play life of both these children is the same as that of any healthy youngster. They are really just like ordinary children, says Miss Montgomery, only they are exceedingly bright.

Elizabeth's test was made recently at the request of her parents.

MU PHI TO GIVE VESPERS

Program Will Consist of Solos, Duets and Trios.

Solos, both instrumental and vocal, duets and trios of all kinds will be heard at the first annual vesper services given by the Mu Phi Epsilon in the Presbyterian church March 20.

This program will be given at the usual vesper hour, 5 o'clock. According to Mrs. William Case, wife of the Presbyterian minister in Eugene and a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, it will be one of the most interesting things of the kind given in Eugene this year, as the organization is made up of many of the best musicians on the campus.

Alberta Potter will play the violin and Aurora Potter the piano. Arrangements have been made for Beulah Clark to play the flute. A complete program cannot be given at this time, but Mrs. Case has promised that it will be well worth one's time. Sunday is Palm Sunday hence the services are to be praise services, and all of the numbers will be along this line. The entire entertainment is to be in charge of the Mu Phi even to the detail of the ushering.
