

LANGUAGES TAUGHT WITH AID OF PICTURES

French, Spanish Pronunciation Shown by 9 Photographs

Teaching pronunciation by means of pictures is the new method used in the correspondence courses in French and Spanish which have recently been added to the extension division curriculum. A set of nine photographs showing the forms taken by the lips and teeth in expressing different sounds, are loaned to all students who enroll in either of these courses. These photographs were posed for by a girl who was formerly a student in one of the Portland classes.

These courses are prepared by Professor F. M. Warrington. Mr. Warrington learned French when a child, and has traveled considerably in French-speaking countries. He resided for some years in Mexico, and attended the University of Mexico, where he became thoroughly conversant with the Spanish language. The theory upon which he bases his courses is that the student should be prepared to use the language for trade purposes rather than from a literary standpoint.

The courses are illustrated by means of charts and pictures, following a method which is very effective. Mr. Warrington is applying to these courses his knowledge of the best principles of correspondence study. He uses a great many little devices to make the courses interesting and concrete.

Many extension divisions, especially in the larger universities, are offering correspondence courses in foreign languages, but probably none of them have courses that have been so carefully worked out. These courses are being offered to students at exactly the same price that is charged for other correspondence courses, one dollar per credit hour.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE TEAMS TO MEET HERE

District Contests Over Championship To Be Determined Junior Week-End.

State high school district debates to determine district winner ended March 12, and reports from six of the twelve districts have come in to Professor Almack's office.

Mr. Almack reports the known winners, who will meet on the campus Junior week-end to determine the state championship, as: Salem in the north Willamette district; Eugene won from Riddle Friday thus placing first in the south Willamette district; Knappa in the lower Columbia district; Heppner in the Umatilla district; Burns in the southeast. Klamath Falls high school is to represent the south central district here during Junior week-end.

With the preliminary debates finished the extension division is now preparing a questionnaire to be sent each of the winning teams for the purpose of finding out what methods they prefer to use in the finals.

The winning team is to be presented with a cup, which has twice been won by Salem. Corvallis was the winner last year. It is the desire of every team to prove superior to the north Willamette team this year in order to prevent them from winning the Almack cup for a third time. If Salem wins the cup again this year it will become a permanent possession of that high school.

POSTERS WILL BE USED

Art Class Doing Practical Work; Prize of $5.00 Offered.

The poster work, done by the first year class in design, is to be put to practical use this year. McMorran and Washburne have offered a $5.00 prize for the best poster, and are planning to use the others, made by the class, in advertising the spring materials.

Each year this class in design has made posters for their second term problems, and last year they were so very good that Miss Rhodes felt they could be put to some practical use.

They are to be used in the windows of McMorran and Washburne during the months of April and May, and will advertise silks, wash materials, draperies, suits, blankets, and ready to wear goods.

Other members of the class are making posters to be used in the Oregon Product Display on April 11. This display is to be in Eugene and will be under the auspices of the home science club, which has taken up the problem of promoting Oregon products.

HOMER COLLECTION ENLARGED.

The Pauline Potter Homer collection in the Library has been enlarged by the addition of a set of French novels bought recently in Paris by Mrs. Evelyn Starr Leslie, and presented by her to this collection.

VACATION TRIP IS PLAN OF MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Home Concert To Be Given Here in April Will Include All New Program.

Whether the men's glee club will make a tour during spring vacation is still a matter of conjecture. Present plans call for a trip that will include Silverton, Salem, Dallas, Astoria, Tacoma and Seattle. This would take from March 28 to April 2. These plans are merely tentative, however, and no contracts have been signed as yet.

The home concert of the club will be given April 22, and plans are being made to hold it in the new women's building. A number of new songs are being rehearsed, and none of the program which has been given to a local audience before will be presented at that time. Features of the entertainment will be some clever mixtures of opera and jazz.

Under the direction of John Stark Evans the personnel of the club is made up as follows:

First tenors: Nelson English, Curtis Phillips, Wallace Cannon, Frank Short, and Ralph Poston.

Second tenors: George Hopkins, Wayne Akers, Creene Fariss, Arthur Johnson and Joe Ingram.

Baritone: Charles Huggins, George Stearns, John Gavin, French Moore, and Glen Morrow.

Bass: Morse Eben, Carl Newbury, Herbert Pate, E. Camna and Harris Ellsworth.

pendent and do not like to 'lie down' as it were or to tie up to anybody else. They do not understand us. How could they? We don't seem to understand them either.

"Then there is the refusal of the United States to accept those mandates in Mesopotamia, Persia, and Turkey. Those counties are costing England $500,000,000 a year right now.

"Another unfortunate factor is that foolish remark attributed to Admiral Benson: 'We'd as soon fight the British as the Germans,' you remember. The French also have been disturbed by this.

"Lastly, there is the Irish propaganda. The British are at last becoming dreadfully sensitive about this matter."

The Colonel expressed pleasure at the apparent emphasis on ethics in the University's teaching. "Greatest thing in the world: without ethics, nothing else matters." He admitted having the German idea of education in mind as a thing to be avoided—the narrow specialization without a proper appreciation of human values. The University's growth delights him. With a sweep of his arm he took in the campus. "I wouldn't trade this," he said, indicating Oregon's beautiful outdoors, with its breadth and freedom, "for any university in Europe."

ALMACK HELPS STETSON, NINE COLLEGES WILL COMPETE IN CONTEST

Professor Unable To Hold Class On Account of Family's Illness.

Professor John C. Almack, assistant director of the extension division spent the week-end in Portland, going there Friday in order to take Professor F. L. Stetson's classes in teaching methods. Professor Stetson was unable to teach his classes at that time due to the illness of three members of his family, who are threatened with pneumonia. He also canceled a lecture he was scheduled to give at Monmouth Normal on Thursday for this reason.
