

CANDIDATES FLOCK TOWARD EDITORSHIP OF EMERALD; 4 OUT

John Dierdorff is Latest to Throw Hat in Ring For Daily Head

IMOGENE LETCHER TO SEEK COUNCIL BERTH

Many Positions Go Begging; Ireland Unopposed For President

A tendency of political aspirants to flock towards certain positions is noticeable in recent election developments, there now being a total of four candidates out for editor of the Emerald. Other offices, relatively quite important, have been neglected by office-seekers, and the list of positions for which no candidates have announced themselves is surprisingly large.

Yesterday two new candidates threw their hats in the ring. John Dierdorff has announced that he will be a candidate for editor of the Emerald, and Imogene Letcher for junior woman on the student council.

John Dierdorff, candidate for editor of the Emerald, is at present an assistant news editor on the Emerald, having been promoted early this year, and during last a member of the news staff before his promotion early this year, and during last year. He was a member of the Oregon staff last year, and is editor of the feature section of this year's year-book. He is also prominent in class and student activities, being a member of the junior prom committee. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, and of Kappa Theta Chi.

Editor Race Interesting.

Other candidates for editor of the Emerald previously announced are Stan Eisman, Eugene Kelly and Floyd Maxwell. Unless someone withdraws his candidacy at the last moment, the race for Emerald editor will be the most interesting in years. It is the first time in history that there have been four candidates out for the position.

Imogene Letcher, who is a candidate for junior woman on the student council, is accompanist on the girls' glee club, and has been prominent in musical activities on the campus. She is a member of the Kwama, Mu Phi Epsilon, and the French club. She is a Kappa Alpha Theta.

Ireland Still Unopposed.

Elston Ireland as yet remains the only candidate for A. S. U. O. president, while Ruth Austin and Marvel Skeels are the two candidates out for student secretary. For junior men on the student council, two to be selected, John Anderson, "Tubby" Ingle and Harry Mayer, are the candidates who have come out. Inez King remains unopposed for editor of the Oregonian.

As yet no candidate for vice-president has been announced. One senior woman on the executive council, one junior man on the executive council for a two-year term, three senior men on the student council, two senior women on the student council, and one sophomore man on the student council—all these positions have as yet no applicants.

MOTHERS' DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY PASTORS

Eugene Ministers to Conduct Special Services In Connection With University Program.

The ministers of Eugene, co-operating with the University committee for Mothers' Day, are planning special services for next Sunday, May 8. Reverend Mr. Jennings, of the Episcopal church, has announced his sermon to be entitled, "Our Debt to Motherhood." Reverend Mr. Stivers, of the Christian church, will speak on "Behold Thy Mother." The choir is preparing special music for the occasion.

Reverend Mr. Spangler, of the Congregational church, has notified the committee that Dr. Graham Taylor will deliver the sermon at the morning service. Dr. Taylor is one of the greatest social workers of America and will be remembered as the leader in the famous Chicago commons work.

The topics of the sermons at the other churches will be announced later. Clare Ryan, chairman of the services committee, hopes that all students and their mothers will attend one of the services Sunday morning and in this way show their appreciation of the co-operation.

SCENARIO IS WANTED FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END

Moving Pictures Will Be Taken of Campus Activities; Romance Not Desired.

Have you ever had that hankering to show off your ability as a scenario writer? According to Alfred Powers, who has charge of the publicity work of the University, anybody who has any ability or thinks he has any in that line, will have a chance to demonstrate it. Plans are being made to film the various Junior week-end activities, and some sort of a scenario is needed to put the idea across. There is to be no romance, hero, heroine or any of that sort of thing, but what is needed is some idea that will bring about the unity of the different events. About 1400 feet will be filmed, which will give ample play for the imagination of the embryo writer. The scenarios must be in the hands of Mr. Powers by May 7.

Lew Tyrrell has been selected as operator and Harry Smith will act as director, assuring plenty of action and interesting moments. The films will be sent to the Rothacker Film Company, of Chicago, for finishing. The pictures will then be returned here to be sent all over the state, preferably to the high schools, in order that prospective students may be given some insight in college life.

The various details of the scenario must be all worked out, giving titles and the other particulars necessary to a first class production. If any further information is desired, it may be obtained from Mr. Powers, in the journalism shack.

FIRST PRIZE TAKEN BY THETAS AT FROLIC

Sigma Delta Phi Stunt Gets Honorable Mention

(By J. S.)

The April Frolic is over, but discussions of it are not. Many chuckles are still heard over the funny things especially those of the Kappa Alpha Theta stunt which won the silver cup by its cleverness and originality. Many exclamations persist about the notably lovely things, especially the Sigma Delta Phi stunt which was given first honorable mention, notwithstanding the fact that a gorgeous painted background, done by Germany Klemm, refused to hang because it was the chief sufferer when a pitcher of water was upset earlier in the evening. Much praise is spoken for the clever costumes of the usful articles, found on a lady's dressing table, which appeared in "Vanity Fair," and won second honorable mention for the Tri Deltas.

As to costumes, there was everything from the gorgeous peacock (Dorothy Fitchard), which was given the first prize of $5, and the quaint, dainty, little pin cushion (Ethel Wheeler), who received the second prize of $2.50, to the jolly Chinese cook (Lillian Goon), who won honorable mention.

Color? The crowd resembled an artist's palette, much bedaubed. There was represented everything that was known to appear in human form, besides birds and beasts, a lip stick, powder puff, rainbow, jellyfish, packages of Kellogg's toasted cornflakes, and a small army of T. B. germs. The "Blue Devils" were there, six strong; the Gold Dust twins, and Aunt Jemima were present, to say nothing of the bride, the bathing girl, and all varieties of dancers.

Though the door was mercilessly barred against men, (except two or three dazed looking janitors and property men), men's clothing was in evidence in all its stages from the snowy-wigged Colonial gentleman, and the powdered, perfumed dandy, to the modern college football hero, proudly displaying the Varsity "O." The whiskered sailor and the barefoot boy were there; there was no lack of gal-lants in khaki, and swaggering gobs. The country pumpkin was there with his lady, rubbing shoulders with one of the "ladies from hell" in kilties complete.

Elegantly embroidered Japanese and Chinese were there in flocks; Dresden China Colonial dames, and colorful Spanish ladies were numerous; the ever-present little girl was there, dressed in everything from a calico pinafore to pink paper ruffles.

As for the stunts—they are simply beyond description. Some of them were whole shows in themselves. Surely, no other time during the year is there such a medley of fun, beauty, grace and audacity. The opinion of the feminine half of the student body seems to be that the April Frolic was "a scream" from the start at 7:30 to the finish at 12:30, and that a smokeless smoker in Villard could not in any way compare with it.

BASEBALL MEN ARE WORKING HARD FOR SUNDODGER SERIES

Trip North Shows Lack of Experience Due to Wet Weather

CHANCE FOR TITLE NOT YET DESTROYED

Varsity Remains in Running For Conference Honors.

Returning from their ten-day junket trip through the north, the Varsity baseball squad is being given no rest period and Coach Bohler is running his protégés through the paces in preparation for the two-game series with the Sundodgers to be played here on Friday and Saturday of this week. The Varsity took two out of the five conference games played on the trip, and in the games lost, errors, due to lack of experience counted for scores made by their opponents. Oregon should have taken the second game from the Cougars from all reports.

"I am well satisfied with the work of the team on the trip," Coach Bohler said yesterday, "and it was fully as good as I could expect." In the opinion of the Oregon mentor, there is a good excuse for the losing of the three games in the north on account of lack of experience and the short practice period between rains before the conference season opened.

Oregon's inexperienced infield is working well, considering the disadvantages which they have been up against, and Bohler believes that with this year of experience, another season should see the crew playing big league ball for the varsity.

The Friday and Saturday games played in Portland, proved disastrous to the Varsity, North Pacific Dental College taking the first one by a 7 to 6 score and Multnomah Club getting away with the second contest by a 5 to 2 score. Rollo Gray was in the box for the Varsity on Friday, while Art Berg handled the mound position on Saturday. Both twirlers worked in first class form and errors were the downfall of the nine. Multnomah scored their five runs in the second game in one inning, three of them due to one error.

According to Coach Bohler, Oregon should win at least one of the games from the Sundodgers this week end, and no effort will be spared to take both contests if possible. Rain yesterday interfered with practice, but the team will use every available bit of time to get in shape for the coming contests with the Sundodgers. For the next three week ends, Oregon will play two-game series with conference teams on the home lot, and Oregon is not out of the running for conference honors by quite a margin, as yet.

DRAMATIC WORK IS TO BE CENTRALIZED

New Classes Opened By Department Change.

The change of public speaking from the dramatic to the rhetoric department has been made with a view to obtaining more efficient work by centralizing the work of the dramatic department, and divorcing from it the public speaking classes. The transfer to the rhetoric department will make it possible to correlate study in oral and written English.

As to the administration for next year, several courses have been planned. There will be a combined course in oral and spoken English for sophomores. The school of business administration has definitely decided to make this subject compulsory for all commerce majors. A course will be offered in extempore speaking for sophomores and juniors, similar to those given in the past. Courses in argumentation, in which more emphasis will be placed on the logical foundation of debate than has been previously possible, are included in the plans of the new department.

All students debating for the University must register in this argumentation course, and they may then present work on University debates as partial fulfillment of the course. No credit will be allowed for doughnut debate.

OREGON ADVISED TO GO ON WITH COAST TRACK MEET PLANS

Arrangements Unanimously Is Favored By Other Northern Members.

SUBSTITUTION RUMORS TERMED GROUNDFLESS

University of Southern Calif. Will Be Invited to Take Part In Contest

Telegraphic communications received last night at the graduate manager's office, from the three other northern members of the Pacific Coast Conference are unanimous in their opinion that the University of Oregon should go ahead with the arrangements for the Pacific Coast Conference meet to be held at Eugene on May 21. The telegrams were sent in response to queries sent out by Acting Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel, as to the plans of the other schools to send teams to the meet here.

Rumors that have been circulating to the effect that the Northwest Conference meet might be substituted at Eugene in place of the Pacific Coast Conference meet are groundless, according to this information, and the Northwest meet will be held at Pullman as it was originally scheduled. The communications received yesterday were from Professor Dubach, of Oregon Agricultural College, chairman of the athletic committee at that place; Darwin Meisnest, graduate manager of the University of Washington, and J. F. ("Doc") Bohler, director of athletics at Washington State College.

It is also certain that the University of Southern California will be tendered an invitation to the meet, according to the information in athletic circles yesterday. An invitation was extended to Charlie Paddock, sensational sprinter of the southern school, to attend, and a formal invitation was sent to their team to participate in the meet, last night. This action was also taken as a result of the favorable stand which the other northern members of the conference took in regard to the question of inviting Southern California to compete.

Communications Support Oregon.

The tone of some of the telegraphic communications took the same stand that the popular sentiment on the Oregon campus has been taking for the past week in regard to the attitude of the University of California in the Pacific Coast Conference meet, declaring that they believed it a breach of faith on the part of the University of California to pass up the Pacific coast meet. This was proved, they believed, in view of the fact that all the northern schools were present with their teams at the Pacific Coast Conference meet which was held at Stanford last spring. The communications also supported Oregon in the stand taken in regard to refusing to invite a second team from California to compete in the events.

The work on the track is progressing rapidly and, according to Benefiel, the oval will be in first class shape for the conference meet. The recent rains have drained off immediately, which assures the meet, rain or shine, and the cinder path will be in the best of shape for the sprints.

Word is yet to come from Stanford University in regard to sending a team to the meet. An answer was not received to the telegrams sent to the Palo Alto institution, up to yesterday, and it is not known just what the Cardinals will do. It is rumored that they also will pass up the conference meet and send their team to the east to compete in the I. C. A. A. A. track and field meet.

GIRLS' DEBATES TO END

Four Organizations Will Take Part In Final Series This Week.

The last two sets of debates in the inter-sorority debate contest will be held tonight and Thursday night. A complete schedule with the exact places where the debates will be held and the names of the judges has not been given out.

The affirmative Hendricks hall team will meet the Alpha Delta Pi. The affirmative Zeta Rho will meet the Alpha Phi; the affirmative Alpha Delta Pi will debate Zeta Rho, and the affirmative Alpha Phi will debate Hendricks hall. The question is: "Resolved, That the Exemption of the Panama Canal Tolls Originally Extended to American Coastwise Vessels Should Be Restored."

BLIND SOCCER COACH IS OREGON GRADUATE

Tom Cutsworth, Teacher of History at Riddle, Likes Outdoor Life and Athletics.

Tom Cutsworth, blind, teaching ancient, medieval and United States history as well as biology and general science in the high school at Riddle, Oregon, is a revelation to other Oregon graduates, according to Earl Kilpatrick, director of the extension division, who saw Cutsworth Saturday at a consolidation meeting at Days Creek.

Since his graduation from the University several years ago, Cutsworth has been actively engaged in educational work. Besides his devotion to the training of the minds of young Americans, he is coaching high school students in soccer and wrestling. Mr. Kilpatrick says that Tom is quite positive that the sport of soccer will replace basketball as a high school sport before many years.

The woods provide Cutsworth with his main recreation and he is reported to be an expert on anything connected with fishing and hunting or with woodcraft. His favorite outdoor sport, according to Mr. Kilpatrick, is piloting University of Oregon professors around in the mountains. To Dr. Raymond Wheeler he pays a flattering compliment. After several trips into the mountains with Dr. Wheeler he told other members of the faculty that he believed Wheeler to be a relative of Joe Knowles. "A more thorough woodsman," he said, "or one who learned so quickly, would be hard to find." Of all the men for whom he has acted guide, Cutsworth says that Dr. Wheeler is the only one who never takes a frying pan along on these outing trips.

TENNIS MATCHES WON BY MULTNOMAH CLUB

Portland Players Take Ten Out of Twelve Sets

Pitted against expert players, two of whom were ex-state champions, the Oregon tennis team, composed of Smith, Westerman, Culbertson, Jue, Garrett and Williams, went down to defeat before the whirlwind playing of the Multnomah Club team at Portland, Saturday.

Harry Gray and Walter Goss, M. A. A. C. men, are both former state champions and the Lemon-Yellow, although making a good showing, were unable to withstand their onslaughts.

Twelve games were played in all, including those in which faculty members participated. The "Winged M" took ten of the twelve, Steve Williams being the only Oregon player to win his single match. In the doubles, Garrett and Williams won a 6-3, 2-6, 8-6 victory over Max Wood and Harry Gray, of Multnomah.

Recent rains have handicapped the Oregon team to a large extent. With the Pacific Coast Conference meet in sight, renewed efforts will be made by Coaches Larrimore and Warner to whip their men in shape to meet the other conference teams.

The results of Saturday's contests are as follows:

Singles—Harry Gray won from Jue (Oregon), 6-3, 7-5; Deo Mallett won from Culbertson (Oregon), 6-2, 6-2; Walter A. Goss won from Kenneth Smith, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5; Catlin Wolfard defeated Harry Westerman (Oregon), 7-5, 6-4; Williams (Oregon), won from A. S. Frohman, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2; Roger MacVeagh won from Garrett (Oregon), 6-2, 6-4.

Doubles—MacVeagh and Wolfard won from Smith and Westerman, 6-0, 6-0; Norris and Mallett won from Culbertson and Jue, 6-2, 6-4; Garrett and Williams won from Wood and Gray, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6.

Faculty matches—A. D. Norris won from Professor Warner, 6-1, 6-2; Dr. Chipman won from Professor Larrimore, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6; Ted Steffens and Milt Frohman won from Professors Warner and Larrimore, 6-2, 6-2.

STATUE MAY BE SEEN

"Idaho Doughboy" Is Unveiled Two Days Each Week.

The Idaho Doughboy, a piece of sculpture which Avard Fairbanks is making, will be uncovered on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Many people have tried to see this work as it has progressed, but very few have been able to see beneath the canvas covering.

This statue is for the State of Idaho and is eight feet high. Mr. Fairbanks has been working on it for several weeks and it is now taking the form of a soldier.

KAPPA SIGMA TAKES DOUGHNUT MEET BY HALF POINT MARGIN

Victors Make Score of 25; Betas, Sigma Nu and Deltas Tie Second

14 ORGANIZATIONS ENTER IN CONTEST

R. Sparrow High Man With 15½; Art Tuck is Next With Score of 12

By the narrow margin of half a point the Kappa Sigma team won the doughnut track and field meet held here last Saturday. The teams of Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and Delta Tau Delta were tied for second honors. The final score of the Kappa Sigma team was 25 points.

The fact that the meet was going to be a close one was evidenced from the first of the contest, and at no time could any one team feel confident of ultimate victory until the end of the relay which was the last event. This was the deciding event, and any of the four leading teams which entered had the chance to win the meet if the points split in certain fashions.

"Dope" Often Upset.

Time after time the "dope" was upset in the meet. The first surprise came in the first race, the 100 yard dash. From the way Al. Grilley, of the frosh team, has been stepping out during the season and the way he ran in the preliminaries it was believed that he would be able to take first place. Grilley was slow in getting out of his holes and finished a fourth. "Ole" Larsen, of the Delta Tau team, taking first. In the quarter, "Sean" Collins was figured to win easily, but Tommy Wyatt of the Kappa Sig team ran him a dead heat for first place. Webber, the Frosh hurdler, was only able to take a third in the low hurdles, but this was due to the fact that he had previously entered too many events and was tired. Ralph Sparrow took the first place in the broad jump that had been thought to belong to Floyd Bowles.

Sparrow High Man.

Ralph Sparrow, of the Delta Tau team, was high point man, taking 15½ counters. Sparrow took first in the pole vault, first in the broad jump, first in the high jump, and ran in the Delta relay team. Art Tuck, of the Sigma Nu team, was second for high point honors, with a score of 12. Art Kuenhausen and Webber were tied for third place with 10 points each.

Art Tuck showed that he was back in his true form by heaving the javelin for a distance of 140 feet, 5½ inches. This throw in an official meet would give the coast championship record to Tuck. He was also able to take a first in the discus throw and placed third in the shot put. He did not run in the sprints, due to the fact that in the morning preliminaries he strained his leg.

An exhibition two-mile race was run, although no points were counted in this event. Glenn Walkley placed first, with Blackburn running second.

Fourteen organizations entered the meet, and about 135 men participated. Many new men were brought out, and Coach Bill Hayward was able to get a line on the men he wishes to use in the Washington meet to be held at Seattle next Saturday.

SAMARA TO GIVE TEA

Botany Club to See Paintings By Mrs. Sweetser.

The paintings of Mrs. A. R. Sweetser, whose husband, Professor Sweetser, is head of the botany department, are soon to be exhibited at a tea in the art building which will be given by the Samara club, honorary botany fraternity. This collection of paintings by Mrs. Sweetser are water color reproductions of the wild flowers of Oregon, and are noted throughout the state.

A recent meeting of the Samara club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keeney, on Mill street, where Miss Mildred Johnson, an assistant in the botany department, gave a talk on "Plant Immunity." Guests on this occasion included Professor and Mrs. Sweetser, Miss Ethel Sanborn, of the botany department, and Miss Johnson.

The club members present were Frances Habersham, Wanda Brown, Edith Pirie, Elsie Lawrence, Alice Thomas, Mildred Huntley, Elsie Marsh, Ruth Sanborn, Alice Evans, Mildred Apperson and Marjorie Holaday.
