NOMINATIONS TO BE MADE THIS MORNING; MORE STUDENTS OUT

O. Johnson and N. Winnard Announce Candidacy for Vice-Presidency

ASSEMBLY MAY BRING FORTH "DARKHORSES"

Few Positions Unfilled; Many Declare Intentions and Aspirations.

Formal nominations for A. S. U. O. offices are scheduled for this morning at 11. Indications late last night were that an unusual number of "dark horses" would enter the lists at the final moment, and possibly a few candidates would withdraw.

An unusual feature of elections this year is that some offices have no applicants. Two senior women are to be elected to the student council, and so far no candidates have announced themselves for that position. No candidate has yet announced himself for yell leader, although it is understood that at least one student is out for that position. Only two candidates are out for senior man on the student council and three will be elected.

Yesterday saw the expected number of last-minute announcements, including two for vice-president—Ogden Johnson and Norton Winnard. The new candidates and the offices to which they aspire are listed below:

Ogden Johnson, candidate for vice-president, has been prominent in student activities. He is now assistant manager of baseball, and was for a short time circulation manager of the Emerald. He

Giant Frogs From Louisiana Do Big Broad Jumps In Lab

An involuntary shudder might race up the spine of one viewing the latest acquisition to the biology laboratory, and most ordinary persons would probably say, "Ugh! the nasty frogs!"

But these are not ordinary frogs, their bodies are eight inches long. When they have their legs stretched out, they are 16-inch frogs. (And one of the students who fondles them insists that frogs are always measured with their legs stretched out.)

Anyone who happens to remember their reactions to the small garden frogs which used to hop out on the walk at inopportune times, might visit the biology laboratory and see if a correspondingly large reaction is produced by a 16-inch frog. Also, any who consider frog's legs a dainty might derive a gluttonous pleasure in contemplating the meaty, eight-inch extremity of these frogs.

18 Frogs In Lot.
The frogs (there are 18 of them) arrived on the campus last Thursday, all the way from New Orleans, in a box, without a bite to eat. They are to be property of the laboratory, and are to be used in the work of the classes in biology and physiology.

"Two years are required by these huge frogs for their development from the egg through the tadpole stage and into real frogs," says Dr. H. B. Yocom, instructor in the department of biology. "These frogs are probably six or eight years old," he continued. Their diet

SUNDODGERS WILL PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Last of Series With O. A. C. to Be Finished Today.

The University of Washington baseball nine has arrived in this section and is playing the last of their two-game series with the Oregon Aggies today. Tomorrow the Sundodgers will arrive here for the series with the varsity nine. Coach Bohler has not given out his lineup for the game yet, and there is no certainty as to who the uniforms will be issued tomorrow.

Rain has interfered with practice schedules and hardly a fair workout has been given the men this week; just who will work on the mound for the varsity is also a matter of speculation yet. The Oregon mentor is non-communicative on the prospective lineup, although it is probable that he may give it out tomorrow morning.

ADVERTISING CLUB IS ORGANIZED WITH FIFTEEN MEMBERS

Local Is Tenth Organization of Similar Nature in United States.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR COMING YEAR

Floyd Maxwell Is President; Ellsworth and Ashcraft Hold Positions.

Final action in the formation of the University of Oregon Ad Club was taken at a meeting last night, and with 15 charter members the club is now one of the recognized campus organizations. The object of the new organization is to promote a more lively interest in the subject of advertising on the campus and elsewhere, and to bring to bear the influence and practical assistance of the club in matters affecting the welfare of the University in which the power of publicity may be used.

The main idea in the organization of the club as is seen in the purposes given, is a great deal similar to that of the Portland Ad Club and similar clubs in other cities throughout the country, and it has been modeled a great deal after the fashion of these progressive organizations. Regular programs for the following out of a better advertising campaign and the studying of practical advertising problems will be arranged and taken up in the meeting of the clubs, and a number of prominent advertising men throughout the state will be guests of the organization from time to time to assist in these programs.

To Aid Publicity Work.

It is the plan of the club to take a prominent and active part in the publicity work of the University and it will strive towards this end. Among the suggested ideas which will be carried out will be a questionnaire campaign to ascertain the value of various pamphlets and booklets sent out by the University, and a report on the best methods of publicity work along this line.

One of the first resolutions adopted at the meeting of the club last night was the endorsement of the plans for the memorial to the soldier dead, and an offer of assistance in the matter of working out the publicity campaign for the gathering in of the contributions to make this memorial a success.

May Affiliate With A. A. C. W.

Action was taken at the first meeting to bring about an affiliation of the local club with the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, and according to communications received recently by Professor Thacher, who conceived the idea of the club on the Oregon campus, this can be arranged with little difficulty. The club at the University of Oregon is the tenth organization of advertising students in the United States. Other clubs are at the University of Wisconsin, New York University, Syracuse University, the University of California and other schools.

Officers elected at the meeting last night will hold over for next year, on account of the few remaining weeks in the present school year. The newly elected officers are as follows: President, Floyd Maxwell; vice-president, Harris Ellsworth; secretary-treasurer, Le Roy Ashcraft.

The 15 charter members of the new organization are Arthur Base, Robert Callahan, Henry Judd, Wilbur Phillips, Morgan Staton, A. G. Rae, T. P. Strong, W. F. G. Thacher, LeRoy Ashcraft, Wilford Allen, Floyd Maxwell, Earl Killier, R. Hillyard, Eugene Short and Harris Ellsworth.

The membership will be added to from time to time, students who are interested in advertising and who are members of the advertising classes being eligible for membership.

GIRLS WANT JOBS NEXT YEAR.

Inquiries all the way from Oklahoma and California have come to the Y. W. C. A. employment bureau asking about positions for next year. Both of the girls who have written to Miss Dinsdale, secretary, are planning to come to the University next fall and want to secure jobs.

MEETING IS ANNOUNCED.

A meeting will be held in Dean Straub's office in the Ad Building at 7:15 o'clock tonight for all aspirants for manager's position on University athletic teams. Any men who want to qualify for a manager's position are urged to be present.

FIFTEEN OF SIXTEEN MEN ON TEAM PICKED FOR TRIP TO SEATTLE

Pole Vault for Meet With Washington Will Be Selected Today

PURDY AND PELTIER WILL RUN HALF MILE

Oberteuffer, Hemenway and Larson to Take Part in Sprints.

Fifteen of the 16 men to make the trip to Seattle were chosen as a result of the tryouts last night and the doughnut meet last Saturday. The only man not picked as yet is the one to enter the pole vault, and he will be chosen from among four men this afternoon.

Three sprinters are to make the trip, Larson, Hemenway and Oberteuffer. These men will enter both the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. Oberteuffer and Hemenway are also entered in the low hurdles. The sprinters all showed up in good form last Saturday, and are looking far better than they were figured at the opening of the season. Washington will put a good sprint team into the field also, and the Oregon men will have to step out to beat them.

Three men will enter the 440 yard run from Oregon. Collins, Wyatt and Sunderleaf all run well in this event and should be able to take some points. Sunderleaf was a member of the team last year, and Collins and Wyatt were both on the frosh squad. Lucas will also go, and with these three will compose the relay team.

Purdy and Peltier will go in the half mile event. Peltier has been sick during the last week, but is in good shape. With two days rest he should be hitting his usual stride.

Walkley and Koopp Run Mile.

In the mile and two mile, Walkley and Koopp will be Oregon's entries. Walkley was also a member of the team last season and should be able to take the two mile event up north. Koopp runs a mighty pretty race in the mile, and Walkley does not finish far behind him.

From the dope sheet Washington seems to have the edge on Oregon, as far as the runs are concerned. In the field events Oregon should be able to overcome this lead considerably.

Only two men, Kuenhausen and Blackaby, will enter the high hurdles for the varsity, but in the low hurdle event Oberteuffer and Hemenway will enter besides these two. It is evident that Coach Bill Hayward is planning to grab a few extra points in this event, with four men entered.

Blackaby will handle the high jump, and Kuenhausen and Blackaby the broad jump. Blackaby will have his hands full at Seattle with two hurdle races and two jumps, but he is good in all these.

FACULTY TO DECIDE CAP AND GOWN ISSUE

Vote Also to Be Taken This Afternoon On Law School's Request For Revision of Grading.

A vote on several matters of importance, as well as committee reports on certain questions concerning University affairs, will claim the attention of the faculty at their meeting this afternoon.

It is expected that a decision will be reached as to whether or not the faculty will wear caps and gowns at commencement. Opinions of some members have been decidedly against starting this custom, but others are just as strongly in favor of it.

A vote will also be taken on the request made by the law school to revise the grading system for year courses. The new plan is to give a provisional grade at the end of the first and second terms of the work which will be superseded by the final grade at the end of the year.

A motion will be made which will make it impossible for a student to receive two grades in four years. In some curricula the courses so overlap that by taking very little extra work the student could easily apply for two degrees at the end of this time. Although this situation has never occurred, the question has arisen, and it is considered advisable to look into the matter.

The committee which was appointed to consider the possible revision of the honor system will make its report.

HENDRICKS AND ZETA RHO LEAD IN DEBATE

Results of last night's doughnut debate series between the four women's houses leading the series, resulted in the elimination of the Alpha Phi and Alpha Delta Pi teams from the finals. The finals of the series will probably be held tonight between the negative and affirmative teams of Hendricks Hall and Zeta Rho Epsilon. Results of last night's debates were:

Alpha Delta Pi, affirmative0
Zeta Rho Epsilon, negative3
Zeta Rho Epsilon, affirmative2
Alpha Phi, negative1
Hendricks Hall, affirmative2
Alpha Delta Pi, negative1
Alpha Phi, affirmative1
Hendricks Hall, negative2

INFLUENCE OF OREGON FELT THROUGH WEST

University Standards Recognized, Finds Conklin.

"I found that Oregon's influence seems to be very pervasive, the University is known everywhere," said Dr. E. S. Conklin, head of the department of psychology, who recently returned from a three weeks' trip during which time he visited 11 colleges and universities in the northwest and Utah.

Dr. Conklin, as a member of the committee on graduate work, was selected by President Campbell and Dr. George Rebec, dean of the graduate school, to make the trip instead of Dr. Rebec, whose ill health prevented his going. To aid in a study of the graduate field, the committee wished to get information along the line of graduate school equipment, to get acquainted with the faculties of the various graduate schools and to meet persons who are applying for assistantships here. Professor F. L. Stetson, of the school of education, made a trip into Washington for the same purpose.

"I spent a day in each of the eleven schools," said Dr. Conklin, "sometimes having a day and night journey between places. Everywhere I went, I met Oregon graduates and former students, and I always found that Oregon was not only known, but favorably known. I was constantly receiving congratulations on the educational standards of the University."

Schools visited by Dr. Conklin are: College of Idaho, Caldwell; Gooding College, Gooding, Idaho; Idaho Technical Institute, Pocatello; Agricultural College, Logan, Utah; State University of Utah, Salt Lake City; Westminster College, Salt Lake; Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah; Montana School of Mines, Butte; Agricultural College, Bozeman, Montana; Montana Wesleyan College, Helena; University of Montana, Missoula.

"I found the larger schools very crowded," said Dr. Conklin, "but the smaller ones could take care of a good many more students."

TRACK DAY MAY BE ADOPTED ON CAMPUS AS YEARLY FEATURE

Hayward Field to Be Put In Shape, Saturday, May 7, For P. C. C. Meet.

ALL MEN STUDENTS TO ASSIST IN WORK

Parade to Start at A. T. O. House, 8 o'Clock; Luncheon Served at Noon.

Track Day, a fitting name for the big campus work day which is scheduled for Saturday, May 7, promises to become one of the traditional work days on the Oregon campus and will make its initial bow to the Oregon campus as a feature of the festivities for the Mothers' Day week-end. The decision to hold the annual Track Day, at which time all the men students are to assist in getting the new track into shape for the Pacific Coast Conference track and field meet, was reached after its endorsement by the student council, the Order of the "O" and other prominent campus organizations. The necessity for such a day grew out of the fact that there remains a great deal of work to be performed on the new oval before it is in shape for the big meet.

Frosh Labor Insufficient.

Freshman labor his far been employed in getting the track into shape but the slow response by the first year men to the urgent call for work, has made the need of getting the entire student body to assist an urgent one. Plans for taking care of the work will be in the hands of the Order of the "O," and at a meeting yesterday afternoon arrangements for a man to be in charge of each group to work on the different parts of the track and field were made.

The men who are trying out for the various manager positions of the athletic teams will also take a prominent part in the work program and will be in charge of various aspects of the work under the supervision of the Order of the "O." Over half of the men students are expected to be on hand to take part in the work which will begin at 8 o'clock and will end at Saturday noon.

Parade to Start at A. T. O.'s.

Acting Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel announces that the work to be performed will consist of building fences, rolling the track, making repairs to the grandstand and bleachers and laying drainage pipe. With a good turnout it is expected that all the necessary tasks can be completed easily before noon.

The plans as projected by the Order of the O, call for the parade to begin at the A. T. O. house near Eleventh street at 8 o'clock from there the procession will gather in all the men available from the various living organizations until Hayward Field is reached when the work will begin.

At noon the laborers will take their place in the line for the campus luncheon, and work will be over for the day. Amusement will be furnished for the afternoon in the shape of the Oregon-Washington ball game which will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

HOLLIS HUNTINGTON MAY COACH SALEM HIGH

Capitol City School Wants Former Oregon Football Star As Next Year's Athletic Coach.

Hollis Huntington, former Oregon football star and brother of Coach "Shy" Huntington, has been offered a position as coach of athletics at Salem high school for next year, according to a story carried in a late edition of a Salem newspaper.

The school board of the Capitol City has wired Huntington that the position will be open to him if he cares to accept, but his decision has not yet been received. Huntington is known to have received several offers from various high schools, some of them more remunerative than that made by Salem.

Last year he coached the Anaconda, Montana, high school eleven to the championship of the state for the first time in the history of the school. In spite of the competing offers made by other cities for the services of Huntington as high school coach, the Salem school is still hopeful of securing his services. George W. Hug, superintendent of the Salem schools and an Oregon graduate, is conducting the negotiations with Huntington.
