OREGON BATS OUT 6-3 VICTORY; BERG HOLDS SUNDODGERS

Varsity Wrecking Crew Goes
After Visiting Pitcher
Hard In Fourth.

SHARP FIELDING HELPS TO CHECK WASHINGTON

Home Team Gives Encouraging
Performance; to Play
Again Today.

Oregon took the first of the two-game series from the Sundodgers yesterday afternoon, on the Cemetery Ridge diamond, by a score of 6 to 3. Art Berg, varsity southpaw, with airtight support from his infield as well as numerous stellar catches by the outfield, was responsible for the defeat of the Northerners.

Oregon's batting rally started in the fourth inning when the varsity nine accepted the offerings of Sitzer and proceeded to hang up four timely hits before the Washington coach sent in Leonard to the rescue. Captain Reinhart started the rally in the fourth by singling into short right field. Knudsen advanced Reinhart to second with a pretty bingle into right. Gamble hit a long fly into center field for two bases, scoring Reinhart. Base succeeded in chalking up another hot one on the Washington pitcher, scoring Knudsen, and Zimmerman sacrificed to the infield, scoring Gamble. Leonard went in for Sitzer, the Sundodger twirler, at this period of the game, but Berg singled into left, scoring Base before the inning ended.

Leonard Holds Hitters.

Sitzer pitched good ball until the fourth canto, when he blew up. Leonard, who went in after Sitzer, managed to hold the Lemon-Yellow nine to three scattering hits for the remainder of the game. The remaining scores for the Lemon-Yellow nine came in the eighth frame when they were aided by two errors on the part of the Sundodgers, and Gamble and Base came across the plate when Zimmerman drove a long hit into left field. Zimmerman was robbed of the honor of the three-base hit, however, when he was called out by the umpire for failing to touch second.

Washington's scores came in the first part of the eighth, when they garnered two hits off Berg and this, coupled with the one error of the Oregon nine, gave them their tallies. Leonard drove a hot grounder through Reinhart and was advanced to second by Torrence with a sacrifice. Welts then beat out a hit and Leonard went to third. McMahon sacrificed a long fly to right field, scoring Leonard, and Maloney's two-bagger shortly afterward brought Welts across the plate with the second tally. Gardner got

HENDRICKS HALL TEAM WINS DEBATE SHIELD

Victors Receive 25-21 Decision Over
Zeta Rho Epsilon; Doughnut
Series Is Ended.

Hendricks hall debate team was awarded the debate shield last night, having won out over Zeta Rho Epsilon in the final debates of the doughnut league. The debates were judged on points. Hendricks hall receiving 25, while Zeta Rho Epsilon scored 21. Though the winners lost by a 2 to 1 decision to Zeta Rho negative, the negative team from the hall obtained an unanimous decision over the affirmative Zeta Rho duo.

Members of the two debating teams participating in the finals were: Hendricks Hall, Gladys Johnson and Elizabeth Mellis, affirmative, and Elizabeth Stephenson and Emily Veazie, negative. The women representing Zeta Rho Epsilon were Edna Largent and Elsie Hildebrand, negative, and Celia Shuee and Ruby Baugh, affirmative.

Judges for the Hendricks hall affirmative team were Miss Tira Dinsdale, Prof. A. E. Caswell and Dr. B. J. Griffin. Those acting for the Zeta Rho Epsilon affirmative were Miss Watson, Prof. Cameron and Prof. McDougal.

PLEDGING IS ANNOUNCED.

WOMEN'S BUILDING SAID BEST EQUIPPED ON PACIFIC COAST

Miss Thomson Tells of Many Advantages of New Structure.

DEPARTMENT MAJORS CONTRIBUTE TO FUND

Office and Room Arrangement
Replete With Modern Features.

"We now have the best equipment on the coast," said Miss Harriet Thomson, acting head of the department of physical education, yesterday, when she was asked about the Women's building, the formal dedication of which will take place today. "And some eastern people who have visited us, say that we have one of the best equipped homes in the United States. That applies to arrangement of the building and to apparatus. The building is so arranged," she continued, "that our work can be conducted without congestion. There is a complete circuit so that from the time a girl comes into the dressing room until she goes out to class, there is not the piling up and crowding to get out or in, that we have had to contend with in the old building. As for apparatus, we have practically every appliance that is used for regular class work, restricted work, and corrective work.

"When the girls come to us," Miss Thomson went on, "they are grouped according to the kind of work they can do, or are able to do. They are given a physical examination, and assigned to regular, restricted, or corrective work. There is a fourth group, called the clinic or remedial, in which a few are handled under the direct supervision of the physician, and the department senior majors.

Hygiene Held Important.
"Our work," stated Miss Thomson, "is based on the fact that disease, both infectious and organic, can be in time eliminated by right living. It is a large faith, and a long ways off," she smiled, "but if everybody works, I think we can arrive." Personal hygiene lectures and three periods of exercise a week are given to get over to the students the idea of regular exercise, and to fix habits of exercise.

"Another thing that I would like to have clearly understood," continued Miss Thomson, "is that we have two distinct programs, the health program and the sick program. The health program is based on the belief that no matter how well we think we are, we can build up more energy than we started with. Into the sick program, comes the infirmary, the physician, and the nurses, in the effort to bring individuals up to normal, so they may go on with health building."

Inception Come 10 Years Ago.
When Miss Thomson first came to the University, ten years ago, she says, there was just beginning to talk of a new building for the department. Plans were made for asking the legislature for an appropriation. When the request was made, it met the reply that the state could not appropriate enough for the building, but that some could be given if the amount would be matched by the people.

"At that," said Miss Thomson, "Mrs. Gerlinger set out to get the money. She has devoted the last six years to doing just that. Any amount from a nickle up was accepted. She developed one idea after another, and finally the fund was assured. Majors in the department pledged $500 a year for the last two years, the last of which they just paid last week. This means that about 40 girls gave $1000, which they earned doing physical education work, coaching dancing classes, giving massages, and so on.

"In 1910," resumed Miss Thomson, "we had four majors in the department. Now, we have 66. The fact that 30 of them are freshmen shows that our improved equipment is getting more girls into the work. We have more requests for instructors from the department every year, than we can possibly supply people for."

In the basement of the new building is the dressing room and 704 lockers. Eighty girls can have shower baths at the same time. The shower is regulated by the janitress, all the girls have to do is to stand under the water. "This arrangement makes for very quick work, and incidentally," laughed Miss Thomson, "it saves water." On this same floor is the swimming pool and the hair drying room, where 20 girls can dry their hair

Women's Building Reality Owing to Mrs. Gerlinger, Say University Authorities

The University and the state of Oregon owes the Women's building, first of all to Mrs. George Gerlinger, woman regent of the University, according to President P. L. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Gertrude Talbot, head resident of Hendricks hall.

"I can say for Mrs. Campbell and myself," said President Campbell yesterday, "that we have had occasion to know of the great amount of hard work it has taken, often under very discouraging circumstances, to get the fund for the Women's building to the amount required."

"The University and the state," continued the President, "are indebted to Mrs. Gerlinger's unflinching enthusiasm and untiring energy for pushing the campaign through a period of years and finally bringing it to such splendid success. She was largely influential, also, in securing the appropriation of $650,000 from the legislature for the building. She went personally before the ways and means committee and made the plea for the women of the state.

"The University and the whole state," concluded President Campbell, "owe a great debt of gratitude to Mrs. Gerlinger for the magnificent achievement which she has personally directed, and into which she has put most loyal devotion and untiring energy."

"The money came from just everybody and everywhere, it is a long story," Miss Talbot said. "It has been a marvel to me how Mrs. Gerlinger has persevered until the money was all raised. Anyone else would have given up long ago. I don't believe there is another woman in the state who would have undertaken and carried out such a large task."

"Mrs. Gerlinger has given her time and energy for the building in a way that can not be estimated. She will not claim the credit," went on Miss Talbot, "she says the people of the state gave the money, and so they did, but we owe the building to Mrs. Gerlinger just the same. She went personally to many of those who have made large gifts and solicited subscriptions. She encouraged memorial gifts, any have been made. She worked at the legislature, too, and it was through her efforts that the state appropriated money for the building.

"For ten years, Mrs. Gerlinger has been a regent of the University; she went east and saw what the women of other schools had, and she determined that our girls should have something just as good," continued Miss Talbot.

"Some said, 'why not let the legislature appropriate the money and be done with it?' but the money, coming as it has, in small gifts from individuals and clubs in all parts of the state," went on Miss Talbot, "has widened the interest in the University in a way that nothing else could do.

"It is remarkable," declared Miss Talbot, "that the largest individual gift was $1500. This gift was made by President Campbell and his wife. The largest memorial gift, $3000, was made by Mrs. Mary Thompson, Mrs. J. N. Teal, and Miss Genevieve Thompson in memory of D. P. Thompson. Many memorial gifts of $1000, $500 and less amounts were given. The marble memorial tablet bearing the names of persons so honored is placed on the landing of the grand staircase in the building.

"The city of Eugene gave $5000. Other towns have given; clubs and organizations of all kinds in all parts of the state have contributed. Groups of friends of the University have given programs, dances, teas, and various functions to add to the fund. Girls have had candy sales, they have put up fruit, and sold post cards to earn their pledges to the fund. One girl drove a traction engine, that she might herself earn the money for her gift of $5.

"Alumni of the University have given, students and faculty have given, University clubs and fraternities have given.

"It is the countless small gifts that mean so much," said Miss Talbot. "The remarkable thing to me," she repeated, "is that the single gifts have not been so large, but that so many persons and organizations have pledged." There are hundreds of persons named as the givers of $50 and $100. Two framed, illuminated tablets, naming donors, arranged by towns, hang in the lobby of the building, one on each side of the grand staircase. These are done in script with red, blue, and gold decoration.

The building is the gift of the state, but the ideal and the energy that made it a reality are the gift of Mrs. George Gerlinger, according to those who have watched the campaign from the beginning.

MUSICAL COMEDY ACT PART OF STUNT SHOW

Clever Plot, Pretty Chorus and Many Surprises Said to Feature
Dramatists' Skit.

A musical comedy, scintillating, sparkling and beautifying, is promised for one of the big acts at the Junior stunt show which is to be given next Saturday night at the Eugene theatre. Pretty girls, singing songs and dancing prettily as they sing, are but one of the startlingly pleasing features of this act, says Marion Gilstrap, who is one of the members of the cast.

The act is being put on by Mask and Buskin and its participants are said to be stars of the nth or more magnitude. The players are now working on their parts and the first rehearsal will be held in a day or two. Several big league surprises are corked up in this act, according to dope.

George Stearns has resigned as general chairman of the show committee and Arthur Johnson is now handling the affair. The art and dramatic departments are co-operating in the presentation of the show. At least ten big acts have already been lined up and there will also be a number of short curtain acts.

OPEN HOUSE AT HALL

Susan Campbell Girls Will Give Tea and Musical Program.

The girls of the Susan Campbell hall will entertain at an informal open house this afternoon from 3 until 6. Guests will be given an opportunity to inspect the rooms and tea will be served in the reception room, while the recreation room will be open for dancing during the entire afternoon.

A general invitation is issued to all students and friends of the University to call during the afternoon, but no special invitations have been issued.

PLEDGING IS ANNOUNCED.

Bachelorhood announces the pledging of William S. Hopkins, of Medford, Oregon.

ROLLS WILL ABOUND AT CAMPUS LUNCHEON

Associated Industries Furnish Part of Food Needed Today; Hour
Set at 12.

Three thousand rolls! Yes, and bread, besides. There will be baked beans, ice cream, and everything. Where? At the campus luncheon, and of course everybody will be ready to eat at 12 o'clock today.

The 3000 rolls are the gift of the Associated Industries, an organization of Oregon manufacturers. The gift was made through Mrs. L. A. Humphreys, a demonstrator for the organization, and besides the rolls, the luncheon is indebted to the manufacturers for 200 bottles of catsup, 54 pounds of coffee, and four caddies to tea cookies. The rolls were made at the Ideal bakery.

Each sorority and fraternity is furnishing the amount of food required for a meal for its members, and the Oregon club has collected money to pay for the ice cream in addition to that furnished by Friendly and Hendricks halls. All visitors and University people are expected to partake of the luncheon.

Ella Rawlings is chairman of the general committee for the assembling of the luncheon.

NAVY WILL SELL BOOKS

Surplus Stock Now Available For Students and Faculty.

Surplus books of the naval department, containing volumes of interest to the teacher, business man, scientist, and professional man, have been placed on the market and are available to students and faculty members, according to a circular received at the President's office from the Board of Survey, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C.

The list of books contain works of fiction, law, science, philosophy, history, language, biography, and religion and special reductions are offered to purchasers of large lots. Those interested may obtain catalogue by addressing Central Sales Office, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C.

THREE MORE NAMES ARE ADDED TO LIST OF OFFICE SEEKERS

Neil Morfitt, Alice Evans and Ila Nichols, Seniors,
Want On Council.

MEMBERS OF ELECTION BOARD ARE SELECTED

Voting to Be Next Wednesday
From 10 to 2; Committee to Meet Monday.

Two petitions to have the name of a candidate placed on the ballot have been filed and another is being circulated now, assuring at least three other candidates in the field other than those nominated at Thursday's student body meeting. Neil Morfitt has been nominated by petition for the office of senior man on the student council, while Alice Evans' petition for senior woman has been received. A petition was being sent around yesterday to have the name of Ila Nichols placed on the ballot for senior woman on the student council.

Morfitt's candidacy had been previously announced but owing to some accidental circumstances he was not nominated at the regular meeting. He has been prominent in student activities in his three years on the campus. He is a letter man in football and a member of the Order of the "O." He took an important part in the organization of the student chamber of commerce. He is a member of Sigma Nu.

Alice Evans Out For Council.
The petition of Alice Evans has been received, bringing the aspirants for senior woman up to three. She is prominent in various campus activities, being head of baseball, an officer of Pi Lambda Theta, national educational society, Samara, a member of the varsity basketball team and Junior Week-end committee. During her freshman year she was class secretary. Miss Evans is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity.

Ila Nichols, who petition is expected to be filed in time to have her name placed on the ballot as a candidate for the office of senior woman on the student council, has taken an active part in student body and campus affairs. She is a member of Kwama, is president of Phi Theta Kappa, women's commerce fraternity, and is secretary of Eutaxian. Upon the organization of the student chamber of commerce she was elected a trustee of the body. She is also a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and of Alpha Phi.

Election will be on Wednesday of next week, instead of next Thursday, as was announced at the student body meeting. Both the old and new constitutions are definite on this point. The polls will be open from 10 in the morning until 2 in the afternoon.

Announcement of the members of the election committee has been made by Elmer Pendell, chairman of the polls committee. Sixteen members have been appointed and it is planned to have them work in teams of four each so that the counting may be finished as quickly as possible, according to Pendell.

Committee Is Named.
Those appointed are Wanda Brown, Nish Chapman, Charles Crandall, Don Davis, Jack Dundore, Alice Ham, Claire Holdridge, Wilbur Hoyt, Chuck Huggins, Lois Macy, Lyle McCroskey, Paul Patterson, Edith Pirie, Harry Smith, Eleanor Spall and Francis Wade. These people are requested by Pendell to attend a short but very important meeting of the committee on Monday night at 9 o'clock in the upstairs of the library.

STANFORD WILL NOT COMPETE.

Word was received last night that Stanford will not participate in the Pacific Coast Conference Field and Track meet to be held here May 21. A four-man team will be sent east to represent the Cardinal at the Intercollegiate American Amateur Athletic Association meet to be held in the Harvard stadium the latter part of this month.

DEAN ROBBINS SPEAKER.

Dean E. C. Robbins, of the school of business administration, spoke to the Eugene Chamber of Commerce the first of the week, "on the plans for the school of business administration."

Women's Memorial Hall Has Charm of Antique Decoration

Quaint antiques, dull woods beautified by age, heavy cabinets with hand carvings which speak of long ago, massive tables from monasteries, sea chests whose scars breathe history, rugs from the Orient, hangings from England—furnishings gathered from many lands, combine to give dignified distinction to the social room of the Women's building, which will be dedicated today.

The many who came today will find nothing of the coldness and formality of a new building, for so carefully have the furnishings been selected and placed that the atmosphere is one of hospitality and charm that comes from the beautiful and permanence of the hand wrought furnishings, aged by use.

"Everything has been selected with an eye to beauty, durability and suitability," says Mrs. George Gerlinger, who has directed the interior of the building and has chosen the furnishings.

Panels Are Feature.
The entrance to the social wing of the building is from the south. In front of this entrance on each side of the stairway hang framed parchment panels bearing 1200 names of those whose gifts helped make the building possible. The lettering and art work was done by Miss Norman Bassett, of Portland, and is distinctively beautiful. The mosaic colors add a touch of brightness to the ivory walls.

At the right of the entrance is the men's club room. Here the men may slip away for a "smoke." They will not be blamed if they stay longer in one of the deep upholstered chairs or the soft davenport. Gold, gray and dull blue are combined in this room. The hangings are of old English chintz in an interesting pattern.

The women's room occupies a similar position at the left of the entrance. The furnishings are more feminine, although the same colors are used. A large quaintly framed mirror from old New England, occupies a prominent place and there are many odd antique pieces.

Donors Are Commemorated.
In front of the entrance, above the landing of the grand stairway, is the memorial tablet. It is of soft ivory-colored Kesoto stone on which are carved the names of the donors. At the top are land. Over the other fireplace the motto is that found over the door of a villa in the names of those who gave $500 in memory. Following are the names of those giving individual donation. Next are the names of organization and then are the names of business firm, who made large gifts. Laid in a votive spirit at the foot of the memorial tablet are beautiful Oriental
