NO. 130.

ANNUAL ELECTIONS TO STUDENT OFFICES TODAY; STAGE IS SET

Latham Forced to Withdraw Candidacy Because of Probation Rule.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF BALLOTING NAMED

Five Members to Work One Hour Shift at Polls; Heavy Vote Looked For.

Plans for handling today's election are based upon the presumption that the total vote will be above that cast in any previous A. S. U. O. election. Twenty students are on the list of those who will superintend the election, serve at booths during the voting and count votes. Voting will be from 10 until 2 today.

The ballots went to press at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after being held up by several technical details involving the names of some candidates. The order of offices will be the same as that used by the Emerald in its daily list of nominees, including the alphabetical order of names.

Hugh Latham, who was nominated for the position of junior man on the executive council, was forced to withdraw his name from the list of candidates. Latham is on probation this term, and a faculty ruling prevents any one probation from holding a student office. This leaves the race for this office between Ralph Couch and Jimmy King.

Ila Nichols In Race.

The name of Ila Nichols, candidate for senior woman on the student council has been accidentally withheld from the list of candidates run in the columns of the Emerald daily. Her name is included today, and will be included on the ballot.

Technically, Neil Morfitt was not a candidate for senior man on the student council until yesterday afternoon, although he was nominated for the office last Thursday. Although he had been attending classes, he had failed to register in school this term, and not being

MEET AFTER 26 YEARS

Rockford College Women Renew Friend- ship On Oregon Campus.

A friendship of 26 years ago was renewed on the Oregon campus last week-end when Mrs. R. C. Mylne, of McMinnville, and Mrs. E. S. Rolfe, of Eugene, met here during the opening of the Woman's building. Mrs. Mylne and Mrs. Rolfe were classmates at Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois, in 1895, and had not met since that time.

A short time ago Mrs. Mylne learned through friends that Mrs. Rolfe was living in Eugene, but was unable to learn her address. She wrote to her and sent the letter in the general delivery. Mrs. Rolfe received it and a meeting was arranged. Mrs. Mylne was the guest of her daughter, Margaret, at Susan Campbell hall.

Naterlin Is Not Candidate; Rumor Slightly Exaggerated

Yesterday morning the Campus Cynic pleaded for one scandal connected with student elections. Perhaps this isn't a scandal, but it is an interesting story. It is the case of Andrew ("Mutt") Naterlin versus the associated students, et al.

Said Mr. Naterlin would have been a candidate for vice-president. The associated students, as represented by Elmer Pendell, in charge of elections, Carlton Savage, president, and Lyle Bryson, secretary, decreed otherwise—Mr. Naterlin would not be a candidate.

Dean W. G. Hale, as presiding judge, rendered a one or two minute decree favoring the defendants, and Mr. Naterlin's name will not appear on the ballot. Thursday, it appears, following the regular nominating assembly, several friends of Mr. Naterlin got together, framed a petition nominating him for vice-president, and slipped it in the campus mail addressed to Miss Lyle Bryson. Also included was a petition nominating Dean Hurd for senior man on the student council. The petitions were mailed Thursday evening.

The final date for the filing of nominating petitions was set for 6 o'clock Saturday evening, instructions to that effect being in the A. S. U. O. constitution.

REED IS DEFEATED IN TENNIS CONTESTS

Visitors Succeed In Taking But One Set.

The Lemon-Yellow tennis squad, using only one first team man, defeated Reed College in a dual meet yesterday afternoon on the local courts.

Westerner, of the first team laid low the mighty Stiffen in a two-set match, 6-2 and 7-5. In his doubles in which he played with Culbertson, Stiffen and Blew, of Reed, were defeated, 6-4, 6-3. Garrett and Williams, Oregon, also beat White and Durham, 6-2, 6-3, in two hard fought sets. In the singles Garrett defeated White, of Reed, 6-3 and 6-2, and Starkweather came out strong and beat Durham, of Reed, 4-6, 6-1, and 6-2.

The only Reed victory was when Blew, of Reed, won his match with Frank Jue in a battle which resulted in a 8-6 and 10-8 win.

On Saturday the local courts will again see net action when Westerner and Smith will meet Catlin Wolford and Walter Goss, both former state champions. This match will be the last played by the Oregon men before entering the Pacific Coast Conference meet the next week.

The campus mail service delivered the petitions in the "B" box in the basement of Johnson hall, and there they remained until Monday morning. Question: Were the petitions filed on time and were Mr. Naterlin and Mr. Hurd constitutionally nominated?

Mr. Naterlin insisted that he was. Mr. Hurd was not insistent and declined to press his case. Mr. Naterlin decided to investigate the why and wherefore of his nomination not being a nomination that being the attitude of the representatives of the associated students.

The matter was taken to Dean Hale. After briefly reviewing the case, he gave the opinion that the nomination was not a nomination, and that Mr. Naterlin was not a candidate. Decision was therefore rendered for the associated students, as represented by Mr. Savage, Mr. Pendell and Miss Bryson.

Arguments of both sides consumed the greater part of one evening, and an hour before breakfast yesterday morning. As a salve and balm to the representatives of the associated students, it was later discovered that Mr. Naterlin was on probation, and that being on probation, he would not be allowed to be a candidate for a student office, faculty regulations so decreeing.

ENTRIES SELECTED FOR SEASON'S FIRST HOME TRACK MEET

O. A. C.-Oregon Dual Contest to Be Initial Varsity Event On Hayward Field.

LIST OF OFFICIALS FOR SATURDAY GIVEN

T. M. Dunn, A. A. U. Secretary To Be Referee; Big Crowd Expected.

With all entries in, officials selected, and the field in good shape, all is in readiness for the first track meet of the home season, the Oregon-O. A. C. dual meet, Saturday on Hayward field.

Some 35 men will represent Oregon Agricultural College at the meet, while Bill Hayward has selected a like number of entries for the varsity. Weather indications promise a fast field for the first varsity track meet to be held on the new Hayward field oval.

Arrangements are to be made to handle a large crowd for the meet, it being expected that a number of students will journey over from Corvallis for the meet. Oregon may have a rooting section in the bleachers, according to present plans, while the University band will be on hand to furnish music between events.

Bill Hayward, as usual, declines to predict the result of the meet, but those in close touch with both teams are of the opinion that neither O. A. C. nor Oregon will have a walkaway. Indications are that strategy will count in the final score, as both teams are well stocked with sure point-winners in several events. The entries for each event are as follows:

100 and 220—Larsen, Hemenway and Oberbauer, Oregon; Snook, Jennings and Cook, O. A. C.

440 yard—Sunderleaf, Collins and Lucas, Oregon; Rose, Kellogg, Richert and Jacobson, O. A. C.

120 high hurdles—Kuhnhausen, McKinney and Nunn, Oregon; Draper and Cawling, O. A. C.

220 low hurdles—Hemenway, Kuhnhausen and McKinney, Oregon; Goodale, Swarthout and Seiberts, O. A. C.

Half-mile—Walkley, Wyatt, Pettier and Akers, Oregon; Sims, Hollinger, Deigh, Connett and Stone, O. A. C.

1 Mile—Walkley, Koepf and Kays, Oregon; Seea, Low and Whilliff, O. A. C.

Two mile—Blackburn and Walkley, Oregon; Hobert, McCormick and Newhouse, O. A. C.

Relay—Sunderleaf, Collins, Lucas, Wyatt and Hayslip, Oregon; O. A. C. entries not given.

High jump—Blackaby and Jensen, Oregon; Madsen, Draper and Seiberts, O. A. C.

Running broad jump—Kuhnhausen, Bowles and Blackaby, Oregon; Seiberts, Ross and Pendall, O. A. C.

Shot put—Shields, Tuck, Brown and Strachan, Oregon; Powell, Luebk and Hayden, O. A. C.

Pole vault—Ingle, Jensen and Phillips, Oregon; Osburn, Garhart and Drew, O. A. C.

Discus—Tuck, Brown, Shields and Strachan, Oregon; Powell, Luebk and Hayden, O. A. C.

Javelin—Jensen and Ingle, Oregon; Doltou, Luebk and Damon, O. A. C.

The officials for the dual meet are: Referee—T. Morris Dunne, Secretary A. A. U.

Inspectors—Vic Bradson, Edwin Durno, J. M. Reynolds.

Judges of the finish—Colin V. Dymont, W. F. G. Thatcher, Earl Simmons, E. M. Duffy.

Starter—Clyde Johnson.

Field judges—Walter Hummel, Captain Everett May, Shy Huntington, L. J. Frank, Ed. Ward, Al. Runquist.

Timers—Raymond H. Wheeler, F. L. Grannis, Robert Johnson.

Scorer—Gene Kelly.

Clerk of the course—Thomas Chapman.

Announcer—Martin Howard.

Press Steward—Floyd Maxwell.

Marshals—Slim Crandall and the Order of the "O."

JOURNALIST MAKES VISIT.

H. T. Hopkins, bureau manager for the International News Service at Portland, visited the school of journalism while in Eugene yesterday on business for his organization. Mr. Hopkins, who lately left the United Press for his present position, was among those who pulled for Oregon at the ball game yesterday afternoon.

Edwin Markham, Famous Poet, Is Guest On Campus; Speaks At University Forum Tonight

Edwin Markham, famous poet of the west, will be a visitor to the campus today and will speak this evening at the Y. M. C. A. hut. Mr. Markham comes here at the invitation of the University forum and his lecture tonight will be under their auspices.

Markham, because of his influence and the scope of his work, is ranked with William Dean Howells, as one of the two greatest American spiritual writers of the present time. He was born in California, and it was his poem, written in the great southern state, "The Man With the Hoe," which made his name. This poem, although his most famous, is by no means the extent of his work, was inspired by Millet's painting by the same name. The first poem was written after the author had seen a photographic copy of the great picture, but when he saw the original, which was in the home of a San Francisco millionaire, he became so absorbed in the majesty of its despair, he took up his original draft, expanding it to the form in which it stands today. Markham, according to George Hamlin Fitch who tells of the American poet in one of his books upon American writers, was a master of free blank verse. "He thought," says Fitch, "unconsciously in this form of verse, although he was skillful in handling various poetical meters." Markham also did much in prose, and has done much in this way to better working conditions in the mills and factories.

Markham spent a large part of his life in the state of Oregon, and during one period lived at Oregon City. His visit to the campus of the University will be a short one, as he will remain only during the day and evening of his lecture.

PIGGERS' PARADISE GOING UP ON RACE

Bleachers Near Anchorage to Seat Four Hundred.

Lives of piggers all remind us,
That in spring the love god becks,
And in parting leave behind us,
Girls' pictures, cancelled checks.

With the building of a piggers' paradise on the banks of the mill race, a new epoch of pigging has made its advent. Up to the present time the grandstands on Kincaid and Hayward fields have served their purpose well; but the new bleachers which are being constructed by the Junior Week-end building committee on the banks of the mill race just above the Anchorage, bids fair to surpass them as a piggers' meeting place.

Little dream the sturdy workers as they drive the common nails into the common boards that upon these selfsame boards human destinies will be formed and if the nails are not driven properly human destinies may be changed, for 'tis a known fact that a common little nail coming into contact with a less staple material called cloth has changed many a destiny. Love may be blind, but not deaf.

As 'it is the desire of the committee that these bleachers remain for the use of coming generations, let each laborer go about his work diligently and with his hammer make the mill race bleachers a safe place to sit on.

Bleachers with a seating capacity of 400 are being constructed by the building committee on the right bank of the mill race just above the Anchorage. Up to this time no special arrangements were made during Junior Week-ends to seat the crowds attending the canoe fete, and it is the opinion of Wayne Akers, canoe fete chairman, that the presence of the bleachers will attract a larger crowd this year.

POWERS NOW LOCATED IN OREGON BUILDING

Visual Instruction Promoter Engrossed With Arrangement of New Films Which Are Arriving.

Alfred Powers, visual instruction promoter, who is at last happily situated in his new quarters on the main floor of the Oregon building, is now engrossed with the arrangement of new films that are arriving daily. The Olympic game films are here from Chicago now and will make their initial trip when they are sent into Coos county this week. Some of the Olympic pictures were taken by Bill Hayward and others were taken in the east, but they are all reported to be fine pictures of the athletic contests.

The raw films for the Junior Week-end stunt are here and Mr. Powers says that there is every belief that the venture in movies will be a thorough success for the University.

The films sent out by the extension division are said to reach about 40,000 people in the state of Oregon each month, and as time goes on and more films are available, it is expected that that record will be broken.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI ELECTS.

Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary commerce fraternity, announces the election of Robert Callahan, James Say, John M. MacGregor, Walter Cofoid, Carl Newbury and Spencer Collins.

1025 ORGANAS ARE READY FOR BINDERY

Printing Is Completed; First Copies Next Week.

The Oregana office is a quiet, uninhabited, peaceful sort of place these days. No more are heard the clicking of typewriters, the hurried call for scissors and paste, or the noise of tearing paper, and consultations of how this and that would look. The prevailing quiet is not due to the springtime weather nor to the call of the outdoors, or to anything other than that the 1921 Oregana is off the press and ready for the bindery. The printing was completed Tuesday morning and the first issues will be ready by next week.

About 1025 copies have been printed which will be issued on the campus on the Friday of Junior Week-end. The University has ordered 180 copies to send to the leading high schools throughout the state.

Something new seems to be the keynote throughout the book, for according to Wanna McKinney, editor, the cover is entirely different this year, both in design and color from that of previous annuals issued at Oregon or at any other university. A new idea has been carried out in the borders, and several surprises are being sprung in the feature section both in the make-up and in the material.

More pages have been devoted to real interesting material, said Miss McKinney, rather than to the regular routing department sections, more pictures are being used of the University and of campus activities, and there is less reading matter. One thing that is especially noticeable is the increased number of honor societies and living organizations that have been installed since last year, and occupy sections of the Oregana.

PROFESSORS BOOKED FOR SPEAKING DATES

Extension Division Sends Members of Faculty to Appear at High School Exercises.

The last six weeks of the spring term are booked rather full for college professors with a knack for speaking, by the extension division. Some are making extension visits to several schools and still others will deliver the commencement addresses at one or more.

Dean E. C. Robbins, of the school of business administration, is planning an extension trip next week. During his trip Dean Robbins expects to visit high schools in Hood River, The Dalles, Redmond, Bend and Prineville.

Professor Frederic Stanley Dunn is scheduled by the extension division to deliver the commencement address before the graduating class of the Nehalem high school. Nehalem is one of the towns in Coos county to which University professors make a visit when in that part of the country.

Earl Kilpatrick said today that Professor Fred L. Stetson was expected home the last of this week from an extended trip to the coast.

ZETA KAPPA PSI TO ELECT.

The election of new members to Zeta Kappa Psi, national woman's debating society, will take place next Monday evening. At this meeting, a committee was appointed to investigate the nominations for new members.

WASHINGTON STATE BEATS VARSITY 4-3 IN FIRST OF SERIES

Homer by Knudsen at Start of Contest is Responsible for Oregon's Runs.

COMEBACK IS STAGED AND LOCALS SUFFER

Visitors Score In Fourth and Fifth Innings; Second Game Is Today.

When Carl Knudsen stepped to the plate in the first inning and picked out one of Friel's offerings, slamming it clean over the center fielder's head and driving in two other runs besides making the circuit himself, it looked as if Oregon had the first game of the series with the Washington State Cougars completely sewed up, but the Northerners staged a comeback and won the contest by a 4 to 3 score. Friel settled down after the first frame and allowed but two more hits during the remainder of the game, although it looked bad for the Cougar twirler at the start.

Washington State put across one run in the fourth and three in the fifth inning, and the scoring was completed. Oregon's only chances came in the first, and the varsity made good the opportunity. Sandberg was responsible for crossing the plate for the visitors in the fourth. Berg issued him a walk and he was advanced along the circuit by Foster's hit and an Oregon error. Muller then sacrificed a long fly to right field and Sandberg romped across the plate on the throw-in. Two errors contributed to the Washington Staters' score in the fifth, Friel going to first on an error, Rocky singled and Friel came home on a second error. Sandberg, of the Washington State nine succeeded in clouting one of Berg's offerings for the second home run of the game and Rocky came across the plate ahead of him.

Varsity Makes Good Start.

The varsity started good in the initial inning, Finneran making first when King, on third base for the visitors, muffed a warm one along the third base line. Base then bunted a slow one to the infield and Finneran was thrown out at second. Reinhardt then singled, advancing Base to second, when Knudsen clouted the second ball over for a home run. Zimmerman was walked by Friel, but the next two men were sent to the bench and the inning was over.

Oregon threatened again in the sixth when Zimmerman singled and Gamble was hit by a pitched ball. Leslie was issued a walk by the Cougar twirler but the effort was in vain and the visitors tightened up, cutting off any possible scores. The Lemon-Yellow nine also threatened in the eighth but were unable to get a score across after Knudsen had reached third base.

Berg Pitches Good Game.

Art Berg pitched good ball for the varsity, allowing but seven hits and pulling himself out of several tight holes. In the seventh inning with the bases full, Art tightened up and fanned McDonald, while Beller made a pretty peg to home and Leslie caught Sandberg when he was trying to make the plate

CALIFORNIA GLEE CLUB DUE TO ARRIVE SUNDAY

Men Traveling In Four Autos; Concert to Be Given On Monday Night In Eugene Theatre.

The University of California's Men's Glee Club, which is to give a concert at the Eugene theatre on Monday night, is expected to arrive on the campus Sunday afternoon or Monday morning, according to Don Davis, who is handling the local end of the performance. The club is traveling in four automobiles and will come to Eugene direct from Medford, where a concert is being given.

This is the organization which made a tour of the Orient last year and it is said to be very good. Plans are now under way for a tour of the world and as soon as enough capital has been obtained to finance the project the trip will be undertaken. The present tour of the glee club will include coast cities as far north as British Columbia.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the California organization while in Eugene are under way and it is possible that the two glee clubs here will look after the visitors. The concert was booked by Wickes Glass, advance agent for the glee club, who was on the campus early in April.
