

TWO CUPS OFFERED FOR WINNING CANOES

Interest in Fete to be Aroused
By Prizes

WATER POLO BIG EVENT

Cash Prize of $10 Offered for Best Stunt

Two loving cups, one for men and one for women, will be awarded for the best entries in the canoe fete this year, according to Wayne Akers, chairman of the canoe fete committee.

"Due to an increased number of organizations and a larger number of entries than ever before," says Akers, "the committee in charge of the canoe fete has decided to grant two new loving cups; one for the best entry from the women's organizations and the other for the best one from the men's organizations. It is believed that by granting separate prizes to the men and women a keener interest, especially among the men, will be aroused. The awarding of two cups instead of one has been made possible by Clyde Davis, chairman of the committee of prizes and awards, who has carried on an extensive campaign among the merchants of the city, and has succeeded in raising the amount necessary for the purchasing of the cups."

The first event of the evening promises to be an exciting one. Chosen representatives of the senior class have issued a challenge to the members of the junior class to a water polo contest. A substantial prize will be awarded the winning team.

Rumor has it that several of the organizations have planned dances to be given after the canoe fete, and in regard to this Akers says, "These dances should be discouraged as much as possible as they will detract the interest of the students from the canoe fete itself, as the program planned will last the entire evening."

According to George Pasto, chairman of the stunts committee, not enough interest is being shown along this line. A cash prize of $10 will be given for the best stunt. The giving of stunts between the appearance of the groups of canoes is a new feature and it is hoped by the committee that it will become one of the regular features of the annual fete.

eil, took the place from Ruth Griffin by a 32 vote majority, securing 396 votes as against the latter's 364.

Koepp and Ingle, who received 565 votes respectively, were the winning candidates for positions as junior men on the student council. Anderson was not far behind, with a final of 512 votes.

Ralph Couch won from James King by a 668 to 429 count, for the place of junior man to serve two years on the executive council.

The three men selected from the seniors for the student council are Arthur Campbell, James Say and Maurice Eben. Say polled the largest number of votes, getting a total of 853, while Campbell and Eben received 784 and 773 respectively. Neil Morfitt was not far behind with a total of 704.

Imogene Letcher made a successful race for the position of junior woman on the council, winning by a majority of 128 votes.

Jason McCune, who will represent the sophomores on the council next year, had a generous lead over his opponent when the first results were announced, and the final tally showed him with a majority of nearly 200 votes.

One of the most interesting races of the election was that for the place of yell leader, and for the first time this season Del Oberteuffer crossed the tape ahead of "Ole" Larson, leading by a safe majority.

The election was held in Villard hall yesterday from 10 to 2, and a committee, composed of some 20 students, turned in the final count at 6:30. Eleven hundred and twenty-five votes were cast for the various A. S. U. O. officers.

A recount held late last night discovered several discrepancies in the original count. No changes were made in the winners, but the leads of several of the candidates were cut down considerably, while in other cases it was considerably increased.

America Becoming Self-Centered.
Declaring that since the war, America is becoming careless in regard to its duty and that the people no longer take an interest in the quality of the men elected as its political leaders, the Doctor cited facts from his experience in Chicago politics where, he asserted that one-sixth of the people combined into an efficient machine rule the rest of the population. "In a recent city election only 37 per cent of the registered voters had civic pride enough to go to the polls, but the floaters and the political machine workers all cast their ballots and were successful."

The assembly program opened with two vocal selections by Frank Jue which were enthusiastically received by his audience.

catch and robbed their opponents of a hit. Washington State's infield played stellar ball and performed in first class style, getting away without making an error. Coach Bohler made a shift in the Oregon lineup at the start of the game yesterday, putting Jacobberger in at short and sending Reinhart to his old position in the outfield at the start of the third. he sent Jacobberger to the bench, pulling Reinhart in from the outfield to cover the shortstop position and sending Knudsen to his old position in the outfield.

Skadan, of the Cougars, allowed Oregon five hits during the game. The box score follows:

PLAY TO BE PRODUCED

"Neighbors" Will Be Staged By University High School.

One of the features of the formal opening of the University high school on May 26 will be the one-act play, "Neighbors," which will be put on by a cast chosen from members of the dramatic club.

The cast is as follows: Gertrude Hill, May Woodard, Helen Smith, Sarah Rorer, Ruby Lister, Lawrence Mack, Dick Fields, Hazel Heyden.

The scene of the play is the kitchen of an old-fashioned house. The subject matter, says Miss Ethel Wakefield, who is instructor and coach, is one of real home life.

The curtain for the stage of the high school auditorium has not come yet, but a temporary makeshift will be used until the good one comes.
