OUR GUESTS.

Junior Week-end means guests. It means many of them, more perhaps than at any other time during the college year. And no guests are more welcome than those who are prospective students of our own University.

Aside from the hearty welcome which we give them all, it is a distinctive privilege of every loyal Oregon student to show these guests the best time possible while they are here. We are revealing to them the finer side of our University and our student life. The events of these few days have been arranged expressly for our guests, that they may see Oregon Spirit exemplified in the activities of the students.

All the guests who will be here during the week-end have been invited here—perhaps not by you, but by some Oregon man or woman. And they are as much your guests as anyone else! As an Oregon student, you are host to every visitor on the campus during the week-end.

It would be easy for Oregon students to claim the best of everything for themselves. But that is not the way Oregon Spirit does things. Oregon Spirit means hospitality, democracy, co-operation and good sportsmanship. Our guests realize this and expect those things from us. Our University is being weighed in the balance during the week-end and it is up to us to show them that the balance is all in favor of Oregon.

It is reported that some over-exuberant gentlemen (?) waited in line at the Eugene theatre for tickets to the senior play from Thursday morning on. Evidently they neglected to remember that there were women in the University who would also like good seats for the comedy tonight. So the change in plans made by the senior play committee should see to it that everyone gets a fair chance to see the play. And there's no question but what it will be well worth seeing. The fact that it's a knockout is nothing but the truth.

DEDICATION OF TWO NEW BUILDINGS WILL BE HELD ON MAY 27

T. R. Cole, Seattle, Authority On Educational Movements, to Speak.

The dedication and formal opening of the new buildings of the school of education and University high school will take place on Friday, May 27, according to Dean H. D. Sheldon, who has charge of the program for the day.

The exercises will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon. T. R. Cole, assistant superintendent of the city schools of Seattle, will deliver the principal address. Mr. Cole is an authority on the junior high school and other educational movements, Dean Sheldon says.

There will be brief speeches by President P. L. Campbell, D. A. Grout, superintendent of the Portland schools, J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, and E. F. Carleton, superintendent of the Eugene city schools.

Several musical numbers by students of the high school, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Landsbury Beck, of the University school of music, will be included in the program.

Various departments of the high school will have special exhibits, including the art department, the classes in manual training, and other classes of the junior and senior divisions.

"The opening of these two buildings marks the completion of a very important stage in the development of the school of education," Dean Sheldon declared. "In order to get the best results from the University high school, it was advisable to have it separate from the rest of the campus, so that the children might be perfectly free to develop without getting in the way of the University students. This was especially true of the play-activities; in the old place there was no room for the high school students to play. Now, however, the student is given full opportunity to develop along the lines he should follow."

Oregon is the only university on the Pacific coast, Dean Sheldon said, to have a model high school completely under its own control. The high school at the University of California is controlled in part by the city of Oakland. The larger universities east of the Rockies, such as the Universities of Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois, have high schools run on much the same system as that used by the Oregon University high school, Dean Sheldon said.

The evening program will be presented by the students of the University high school. The one-act play, "Neighbors," will be put on in the high school auditorium, under the direction of Miss Ethel Wakefield, and music and feature dances will follow. The program for the day is as follows:

Devotional exercises—Dean E. C. Sanderson, of the Eugene Bible University.

Music—University High School Glee Club.

Address—The Future in Secondary Education, T. R. Cole.

Music—Solo.

Talks—Superintendent D. A. Grout, Superintendent E. F. Carleton, President P. L. Campbell.

Dean H. D. Sheldon, of the school of education, will be presiding officer for the day's program.

Lost.—In or near the library, a blue silk parasol, with curved amber handle. Finder please call Irene Whitfield, 658.

Chi Omega	2	3
Zeta Rho Epsilon	0	5
Alpha Phi	0	5

Kappa Alpha Theta stepped up to third place in the League I series by defeating the Tri Delt team, 17 to 14, Tuesday afternoon. The result came as a complete surprise. Tri Delt was leading, 9 to 5 at the end of the fourth inning. In the fifth, however, Theta made 12 runs, including one homer. She was held to a zero score in the sixth, but the Tri Delt were unable to make any considerable gain in the last two innings. Theta had previously been beaten twice by Oregon Club and Sigma Delta Phi.

The Tri Delt have completed their schedule in the doughnut league and will probably stand second in League I, although Theta has a chance to tie with her for that place if she wins from Delta Gamma next Monday. Two regularly scheduled games were not played Tuesday, due to Zeta Rho Epsilon and Alpha Phi's withdrawal from the league, and Gamma Phi Beta's forfeiting to Sigma Delta Phi. The lineups were as follows:

BUILDING PROGRAM RAPIDLY CARRIED OUT

Education and Commerce Structures, With New Woman's Dormitory, Total About $315,000.

The academic year which is just drawing to a close has witnessed great strides in the physical improvement of the Oregon campus. The passage of the millage bill, guaranteeing the University a larger income, has made possible the beginning of work on three new buildings, the school of education building, commerce building and woman's dormitory. These three structures aggregate $315,000.

Beside these three, a new building is being constructed for the school of music by a Eugene holding company, and the Woman's building has been completed. Inclusive of reconstruction work, the plans started during the past year will necessitate a total expenditure upon the part of the University itself of some $700,000.

Practically all of the new buildings are expected to be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term of 1921. These buildings do not by any means end the University's program of construction, for there is a pressing need for such buildings as a class room building, gymnasium, science building, and library. The program, however, for further construction, has not been definitely outlined, though many plans are on hand for its completion.

WILL SAIL FOR CHINA

Former Oregon Student Is Missionary to Oriental Country.

Edythe Blanche Stansbury, a former University of Oregon student, will be included among the 28 young women who will sail as missionaries to foreign lands during the summer and fall, according to advices received from the general board of promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention, from New York City. Miss Stansbury, who attended summer school here in 1914, has been selected for a position in the southern part of China. Miss Stansbury's home is in Davison, Michigan, and she attended Drake University and Cotner University in addition to the University of Oregon. The missionaries are being sent out under the auspices of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, and Miss Nellie G. Prescott, foreign secretary, has charge of the appointments. Miss Stansbury is a member of the Davison Baptist church.
