

SIGMA DELTA PHI GETS CHARTER OF ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Local Chapter Started Here Two Years Ago, Aiming For This National.

FIFTH ON COAST TO BE TAKEN BY ORGANIZATION

Members Prominent In Student Activities; Five Times Leaders In Grades.

Sigma Delta Phi, local girls' sorority on the campus, has been granted a charter of Alpha Chi Omega, and will be installed as Alpha Theta chapter of the national organization some time in June.

Sigma Delta Phi was formed on January 14, 1919, and at that time it was the first sorority to be organized on the campus for four years.

Five Chapters On Coast.

There are five chapters of Alpha Chi Omega on the coast, at Berkeley, California; two at Los Angeles, California; Corvallis, Oregon; Pullman, Washington.

Mrs. George McMorman and Mrs. M. H. Douglass, of Eugene, are patronesses of the local organization.

During their two years as a distinct organization on the campus the girls of Sigma Delta Phi have been prominent in University activities and have worked for the attainment of a "Greater Oregon."

Active girls of Sigma Delta Phi who will be installed in June are: Mary Moore, Eugene; Leola Green, Baker; Alice Hamm, Eugene; Mary Turner, Eugene; Germany Klemm, Eugene; Bess Shell, Wallawa; Dorothea Boynton, Eugene; Charlotte Clark, Filer, Idaho; Wanna McKinney, San Pedro, California; Beatrice Hensley, North Bend; Eunice Eggleston, Enterprise; Annabel Denn, Roseburg; Ruth Sanborn, Eugene; Edyth Wilson, Astoria; Frances Moore, Aberdeen, Washington; Florence Jagger, Oregon City; Margaret Jackson, Baker; Hilda Hensley, North Bend; Alice Curtis, Marshfield; Georgine Crockett, Eugene; Henrietta Hansen, Astoria; Gwladys Keeney, Portland; Truth Terry, Portland; Marie Courtney, Baker; Mildred LeCompte, Portland; Nita Howard, Eugene.

SENIOR PLAY MAKES HIT WITH 2 CROWDS

Full Houses Greet Both Performances of "Nothing But the Truth."

Clever repartee, action and tense situations make the three-act comedy, "Nothing But the Truth," staged by the senior class, the best production which has been put on this year.

John Houston, as Bob Bennett, the man who bet ten thousand dollars that he could tell the truth for 24 hours, brought down the house time after time with his keen acting.

Everett Pixley, Neil Morfitt and Lyle Bartholomew, partners on the bet, spend most of their time trying to catch Bob in the act of telling a falsehood, with no success.

Marian Gilstrap, who plays the part of a hardened young person from the "Follies," is a splendid character lead.

"Nothing But the Truth" played to two crowded houses, and it is planned to stage it in other towns.

THETA SIGMA PHI ELECTS.

- Ruth Austin, Lenore Cram, Helen Dougherty, Inez King, Margaret Scott, Jean Strachan, Jessie Thompson, Elisabeth Whitehouse.

Campus Piggers Urged to Greater Efforts by Lemmy

The Piggers' Number of the Lemon Punch, which is the last issue for the year, was appropriately distributed at the senior play last night.

There are more illustrations than usual in this number, most of them depicting the various stages in the life of the pigger.

Lemmy will come out oftener next year, says its business manager, Harris Ellsworth, and the editorial staff has plans which will make Oregon's humorous publication better and bigger than ever.

CALIFORNIA TEAMS LEAD TENNIS MATCH

Final Contest Scheduled For Saturday Morning.

California and Stanford racquet-wielders proved too strong for their northern competitors in the Pacific coast tournament which began here yesterday.

California had a smooth-working doubles combination in Levy and Bates, both of whom are ranked high among the tennis players of the whole west.

Stanford eliminated Washington in the doubles, when Neer and Davies defeated Waller and Langlie, 6-1, 6-3.

Oregon Agricultural College turned in a victory over the Washington State College doubles pair. The Corvallis men Maberly and Joy, were played to three sets by Webber and Heald, of Pullman.

In the singles California was invincible, with Levy and Bates. Levy eliminated Joy, of O. A. C., 6-1, 6-1. Bates, in turn, overcame Taylor, of Washington, 6-0, 6-3.

Smith and Westerman, of Oregon, made a fine showing in the singles until they were crushed under the southern juggernauts.

This leaves Stanford and California in the finals scheduled for this morning at 10 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL EDITORS PERFECT PERMANENT ORGANIZATION PLANS

Seniors Persuade, Frosh Hump Themselves, Fountain Splashes, Green Caps Disappear Friday

Big seniors, little seniors, lean seniors, fat seniors, dirty seniors, clean seniors; all armed with wide and active paddles, great knobby willow clubs, and other husky persuaders, were official overseers of Campus Day activities.

Spouffe! Guggle! Spouffe! Only the annual quota of senior fountain victims receiving their deward for work well done, or not done at all, at the hands of the army of senior cops, at 11 o'clock, when there was nothing left to do but the finishing touches to the great forenoon's work.

The fountain played merrily around the shoulders of the willing babes who had been waiting for a year to plunge into its depths.

The "O" never looked fresher than it did after the ministrations of the yearlings under the loving guidance of the varsity letter men.

Frosh letters received for the noble piece of work will be cherished; yea, held as rubies beyond price. They are large letters, and very conspicuous from the rear of the honored lads.

GIRLS ONCE DREADED GETTING OUT EMERALD

As it was in the Beginning, Is now And Ought to be:

"About nine years ago, when I came here," says Dean Allen, of the school of journalism, "I had to write about half of the Women's Emerald, Junior Week-end was a strenuous time for me.

But things changed, so he avers. Came a time when the women journalists came to him with a rather hesitating, but hopeful air, and asked, "Do you think we can do it?"

"Nowadays," the dean leans back with a smile, "they go ahead and do all their own organizing, and the first I know of it is when they come to interview me for news."

600 FEET OF FILM TAKEN

Familiar Campus Traditions Included In Scenario of Events.

In spite of the interference of the weather, 600 feet of motion picture film was taken of the Junior Week-end activities yesterday.

David Husted, a freshman, submitted to a ducking, followed by the customary treatment to a paddling administered by the senior police, who were filmed in all their official regalia.

The film is being taken under the direction of the extension department, with Alfred Powers in charge.

GWGLADYS BOWEN ON CAMPUS.

Gwladys Bowen, a special student in 1919, is on the campus this week-end, making her headquarters at the Alpha Phi house.

for several days, or a week, maybe, they may look like Indians decked for battle. At 12 o'clock, a mighty blare of jazz from within caused the doors of Hayward hall to rattle and burst open to admit the seething multitude of hungry merry-makers.

Heave! Heave! Heave! It was the plea of the frosh to their beefy representatives holding the rope on the south side of the race.

The rope dipped up and down the least, least little bit, but to the one side or the other?—No! Neither side would give an inch.

One more ceremony for the frosh to participate in! No more will green lids be seen on the campus this year.

The end of campus day is the end of a perfect day.

WHERE WAS MAN WHO STAYED AT HENDRICKS?

"I am looking for the man that stayed all night in Hendricks hall," was the calm announcement of a University frosh at an early hour yesterday.

All the excitement was aroused by the arrival of three delegates to the High School Press Association convention, who arrived from Oregon City at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

After much telephoning, a University man was secured to come to his rescue but as is the way with University frosh (and others) he came to the wrong house and it was then that the girls of Hendricks got the shock because they were entirely ignorant of the arrival of the guests.

Of course it was all straightened out after a while, though, and now the guests are enjoying themselves in the real Oregon style.

"My, but Oregon hospitality is great when it gets started," was the verdict of one of the delegates.

MEN'S GYM IS ARK

Students Dance When Rain Spills Baseball Diamond.

When it rained, the animals went into the ark and vegetated, and the University students went into the men's gym and danced.

The band furnished the jazz and the floor was filled with dancers, proving that resourcefulness and enterprise can produce entertainment, even if the scheduled baseball game can't come off.

BASEBALL GAME POSTPONED.

Because of a wet field and threatening showers, the O. A. C.-Oregon baseball game, which was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed until 9 o'clock this morning when a double-header game will be staged on Cemetery Ridge.

PACIFIC COAST MEET TODAY AT 2:15; SEAT SALE NUMBERS HIGH

Teams Arrived Friday For Big Event of the Year For Oregon.

BILL HAYWARD, FAMOUS TRACK MENTOR, DIRECTS

Final Announcement Made As to Entries; New Scheme In Relay Planned.

Teams from Seattle, Pullman and Corvallis have arrived. The final choice for men on the teams has been made. The new $10,000 track on Hayward field is in the best possible shape, and the University or Oregon students and their hundreds of guests are ready to see the Pacific Coast Conference track meet this afternoon.

The meet will start at 2:15 after the teams have marched from the gymnasium to the field to the strains of "Mighty Oregon," and have been welcomed by Colin V. Dymont, in the name of the University.

Following a conference of coaches yesterday afternoon, it was decided to run the first lap of the relay in lanes, which is a distinctly new feature in track procedure.

Practically all the seats for the meet have been sold and the weather man's prophecy of a clear day, combined with a lively interest in the affair, assures that Eugene is going to have one of the most interesting Pacific coast meets ever held.

The final entries were determined late yesterday afternoon by the coaches, who also got together and drew for places on the track for their men.

EAR-RING CLASS EMBLEM

Story of Mere Man's Plight In Early Days Told to Eutaxians.

In one of the early classes to be graduated from the University there were six women and one man, and when a class emblem was to be chosen, the great-in fact, the preponderant—majority, voted to have the emblem ear-rings.

Two of the chapter members of Eutaxian, the University's first woman's organization, which was founded in 1878.

Debating was the chief interest of Eutaxian at the time, but another of the activities—Miss Whitaker informed the members seriously—was war-dancing, which took the place of the modern aesthetic dances.

HONOR FRATERNITIES ELECT. Friars.—Wayne Akers, Lyle Bartholomew, Earl Leslie, Norton Winnard.

SALEM WINS DEBATE CUP. By defeating the Eugene and Corvallis high school teams, Salem won permanent possession of the silver cup in the final debate of the series yesterday afternoon.

BASEBALL GAME POSTPONED. Because of a wet field and threatening showers, the O. A. C.-Oregon baseball game, which was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed until 9 o'clock this morning when a double-header game will be staged on Cemetery Ridge.
