WE'RE OFF

ONE year ago the University of Oregon campus was the scene of just such chaos, such wild excitement, such pent-up energy turned loose, as it has witnessed during the past two days. Thence, on the third day, the well oiled and perfected machine that took up the routine of the college day, hour by hour and period by period came into its own and a greater and a mightier Oregon grew out of that chaotic hubbub.

Today marks the third day since the Registrar's office in the administration building opened for business, and today will witness the same well-oiled machine, the same perfected organization come into its own again.

The new students will not forget what they came to Oregon for, the old students know what drew them back, and the banding together of the old with the new will mean an even greater and a mightier than ever, Oregon, will again grow out of the chaos.

Oregon spirit,—is contagious, it doesn't grow on one gradually but it seizes you the moment you walk out on the campus. It seized the old student when he came upon the campus again and drifted into reminiscence, it seized the new student as a revelation.

President Campbell has sounded the keynote: friendliness and democracy will always be the moving spirit in the life of the true student of Oregon. It's the Oregon Spirit.

THERE are 40 men, big "he" men, on that practice gridiron over there near Hayward Field working like trojans to show you what Oregon Fight and Oregon Spirit are. Shy Huntington, Bart Spellman, Brick Mitchell and Bill Hayward are drilling those 40 men day in and day out and they have been drilling them since September 15. Shy Huntington says there is no such thing as secret practice here,—that is our team. That is enough.

TOMORROW morning at eleven o'clock marks the first student body assembly. Every one of us can start right by going to that assembly, and going there with the right spirit. Let's all go there, let's sing Mighty Oregon, two thousand voices strong, and let's give a mighty "Osky."

GET a good start today. Go to all your classes. The student that puts off going to classes for the first few days is the student that gets the jolt when the grades come out.

JOHN M. LANGLEY DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

Mastoid Abscess and Meningitis Prove Fatal to Member of Class of 1922.

John McGregor Langley, a member of the class of 1922, died Sunday afternoon at the Mercy hospital after an illness of but four days. A mastoid abscess followed by meningitis was the cause of death, an operation proving unsuccessful.

Langley was born in Everett, Wash., October 13, 1895, and was graduated from the Lincoln high school, Portland, with the class of 1916. During the war he served two years as a wireless operator in the navy. With credits granted for military service this would have been his last year in the school of business administration. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac B. Langley, of Portland, a sister and four brothers. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the Veatch chapel, Rev. C. E. Dunham officiating. The remains were sent to Portland for burial.

GREGORY GIVES COURSES

TWENTY NEW MEMBERS ON FACULTY ROLL THIS FALL

Vacancies and Large Growth Cause of Changes

SEVERAL ARE PROMINENT

Miss Florence Alden to Head Women's Physical Work

Twenty-three new members have been added to the faculty of the University to provide for the large growth that has come to certain departments and to fill vacancies caused by resignations since last spring.

Miss Florence Alden is the new head of the department of physical education for women to fill the place of Miss Mabel Cummings, who left to take a similar position at Wellesley. Miss Alden is a graduate of Smith and Wellesley colleges and has had wide experience in teaching physical education. The new head of the department of physical education for men is H. A. Scott, who comes from Columbia University. Gerald Barnes, a University of Cincinnati man, will be an instructor in the men's department and Miss Gertrude Manchester will be a new instructor in the department for women.

Melvin Solve, who was on the faculty in 1919-20 and who has been studying for the past year in Norway as the holder of a Scandinavian-American scholarship, will again be with the rhetoric department. Wilkie Nelson Collins, a one-time head of the department of English at the University of Idaho, will also be an instructor in this department and Clarence DeWitt Thorpe will be an assistant professor.

R. Justin Miller comes from the California state immigration and housing commission to become professor of law. He is a graduate of Stanford University. E. H. Decker, a University of Michigan graduate and James A. Miller, Belmont College and the University of Chicago, will be associate professors in the law school.

Dr. Frank R. Rutter, for a number of years with the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, will be professor of foreign trade in the school of business administration. Dr. Rutter was for two years commercial attache in Tokyo and is an authority on tariffs. Philip Janney, a University of Oregon graduate will be instructor in accounting in the school of business administration.

D. E. Laneffield, who graduated from Reed College and received his Ph. D. degree from Columbia University, will be an assistant professor in the department of zoology and Benjamin Horning will be an instructor in the same department. Herman A. Leader and Elbert Hoskins are new instructors in the school of education. Roland M. Miller, from the University of California, will be an assistant professor in economics to take the place of Professor Peter Crockatt, who is on a leave of absence.

The department of chemistry gets H. G. Tanner from the government kelp extraction plant at Summerland, California. He is a graduate of Cornell University and during the war was a chemist in the dye laboratories of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. He will fill the place of Professor O. F. Stafford, who has been granted an additional year's leave of absence to perfecting a wood distilling process.

Read Bain, a University of Oregon graduate, will be an instructor in the school of sociology. Miss Maude Kerns, also a University of Oregon graduate, will be assistant professor in the school of architecture and the allied arts. Miss Gertrude Espinosa from the University of Wisconsin, will instruct in Romance languages and Miss Mattie Pattison, from Washington State College, will be instructor in household arts.

Those who have resigned from the faculty are: Catherine W. Beckley, Corabel Bien, Dr. C. L. Carlisle, Dr. Howard L. Cole, Leo H. Cossman, Mabel L. Cummings, W. C. Dalzell, George A. Duffield, Tirza Dinsdale, Andrew Fish, Alfred L. Johnson, T. A. Larremore, Laura C. McAlister, Grace McCallister, F. H. Miles, George E. Reed, Arthur Runquist, Dr. E. H. Sawyer, William M. Michael, Thora Smith and Helen Rhodes.

STUDENTS!

We are a Eugene Firm

We want your business, for we are one of the firms that has helped run your paper for years.

We are the firm that is responsible for the low prices you have been getting on Club Pins.

When we became a competitor for Club Pins, over ten years ago, the students were paying more than double for Pins not as good as ours.

Previous to that time, Pins were bought entirely through outside firms, who made prices only for profit, and not for the advertising.
