PRESIDENT TO MAKE ADDRESS AT FIRST ASSEMBLY OF YEAR

Meaning of Education To Be Topic of Dr. Campbell This Morning

JOHN B. SIEFERT TO SING

New Instructor in School of Music and Both Glee Clubs Will Appear

"What is education?" The freshmen haven't been on the campus long enough to find out, and while the older students have, most of them only think they know. But President Campbell expects to tell the student body something about it at the first regular assembly of the year to be held in Villard hall promptly at 11 o'clock this morning. All the students are urged to be there as no classes are held at that hour.

Besides the talk and welcome of the president, Lyle Bartholomew, president of the associated students, will speak, and there will be several musical attractions. John B. Siefert, tenor, a new member of the faculty of the school of music, will sing a selection from "La Boheme," and there will be numbers by the men's and women's glee clubs. This is Mr. Siefert's first appearance before the University students. It is said that he possesses a very pleasing voice, and comments by the press on his work in the east have been very favorable.

According to tradition, the men of the freshman class occupy the seats in the balcony, and the women those seats on the lower floor to the left upon entering the auditorium. And that the members of the incoming class be in their seats is the earnest request of the faculty, for by attending assembly, and particularly the first assembly of the year, the new students quickly become familiar with Oregon customs and life. Members of the faculty will be seated upon the platform.

FROSH FOOTBALL MEN NUMBER NEARLY 100

Candidates Appear Light and Many Lack Experience; High School Stars Among Aspirants

Nearly a hundred aspirants for the freshman football team are working out every night under the direction of Baz Williams, coach, and Everett Brandenburg, assistant. Williams is handling the line candidates and Brandenburg is supervising the work of the backfield men. The candidates for the freshman eleven do not appear to be up to the standard of previous seasons for the most part. They are only about middle weight and many of them are green. Good coaching and hard work should bring about much improvement in a short while, however. The first game is October 22 with Mt. Angel at Eugene.

Haak of Washington high, King of Franklin high and Smith from Forest Grove are doing good work at quarter. Bate Jacobberger of Portland is considered one of the best kickers among the candidates. Brown, who played in Illinois last year, and Tergenson of Pendleton are also expected to make a good try for a berth on the first squad.

Thirty-five of the men who are out are trying for backfield positions and only five are out for ends. It is practically impossible to tell who will have a chance in the final frosh line-up this early in the season and it will take at least two weeks of hard work to whip the squad into shape for effective group practice.

YELL PRACTICE PLANNED

Tryouts for Assistants to be Held Next Wednesday Afternoon

Rooters' practice will be held on nearly every Wednesday afternoon in order to develop a strong spirit of cooperation among the students and to make the "Thundering Thousand" a reality, according to Del Oberteuffer, yell leader.

The first time that the yells will be dusted off for the year will be at the Y. M. C. A. Mix Friday night and this will be followed by the first regular yell practice next Wednesday afternoon. Tryouts for assistants to Yell-King Oberteuffer will be held at this time. Several men have already signified their intention of coming out but there is lots of room for ability and interest, says Oberteuffer. Names of all candidates are wanted in advance by him.

No Dates Made By Bureau of Appointments

"Hello, is this the appointment bureau? I'd like to make an appointment with Fergus Reddie!"

This, or something like it, is what the other end of the line says a dozen times a day when Miss Burnett, the secretary at the appointment bureau of the school of education, takes down the receiver. Miss Burnett then explains that Fergus Reddie's favorite haunts and habitations are entirely other, and that the appointment bureau is intended for the purpose of assisting students to find teaching positions.

Any student who has had the required number of hours in the school of education, and the needed amount of experience, may register at the appointment bureau, but many persons, Miss Burnett says, appear to labor under the delusion that through the appointment bureau they may get in touch with anyone on the campus. It would simplify registration if this was the case—but it isn't.

SHELDON TO MAKE ADDRESS

Dean H. D. Sheldon of the school of education, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the general session of the State Teachers' Association during the Christmas holidays. His subject will be, "The Life and Service of J. H. Ackerman."

APPOINTMENTS GIVEN OUT

MARIAN LINN GETS VACANT SEAT IN COUNCIL

Other Committees Filled by New Head of Student Body; Nine are Named

Committee appointments as announced yesterday afternoon by Lyle Bartholomew, student body president, give indication that the wheels of student government are beginning to turn after a summer of inactivity.

Marian Linn has been named a woman's representative on the student council to succeed Imogene Letcher who finds herself unable to return to the University until the second term.

Other committees on the council have been filled as follows: entertainment, Guy Koopp, chairman, Jason McCune, and Helen Carson; campus, James Say, chairman, and Marian Linn; condolence, Maurice Eben, chairman; and Mildred Ferguson; and dance, Art Campbell, chairman, Alice Evans, and Clayton Ingle.

RELIEF WORKER FROM SIBERIA PICKS OREGON

Wasili Muller Enrolls Here After 18 Months With Anti-Typhus Train In Stricken Land

Wasili Muller, former student at the Far East Governmental University at Vladivostok, and for eighteen months attached to an anti-typhus train that covered 10,000 miles through Siberia in the service of the American Red Cross, has arrived on the University of Oregon campus to enter the pre-medic course. Muller arrived from Siberia last week and brings with him letters of appreciation from Red Cross officials for his work with the organization in his native land.

The young Siberian received his preliminary education in Denmark and since 1914 has been in Russia both in the military service and with the Red Cross train. Muller, who speaks good English with but a slight foreign accent, states that over 200,000 soldiers were cared for by the forces of the anti-typhus train during his eighteen months of service.

TWO ORGANS TO BE USED

Music Students Will Practice at Town Churches

The organs of both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches are to be used for instruction and practice purposes by students in the University school of music. Heretofore only the Methodist church organ was used, but it was kept busy during all available time. This year a much larger organ enrollment has made it necessary to arrange for the use of the Presbyterian organ also.

John Stark Evans, professor of organ, and Leland A. Coon, professor of piano, are organists at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, respectively.

LINDSAY McARTHUR VISITS

Lindsay McArthur, of Baker, a graduate with the class of 1920, has been visiting on the campus for the past few days before entering the University of Oregon medical school in Portland. He made the trip from Baker to Eugene in a car with Jack High, a freshman.

WOMEN'S HOUSES TAKE 104 GIRLS AS NEW MEMBERS

Forty-nine of New Pledges Come From Portland; Eugene Next

OPEN SEASON NOW ON

Bids Given Out After Week of Rushing; New Plan Used This Fall

One hundred and four women have been pledged by the women's fraternities and sororities on the University campus since the rushing period closed Tuesday afternoon. Kappa Kappa Gamma leads with 16 pledges and Kappa Alpha Theta is second with 13. The list of pledges follows:

Kappa Alpha Theta: Eleanor Eakin, Astoria; Genevieve Phelps, Pendleton; Florence Fortmiller, Sally Cusick, both of Albany; Mary Hardie, San Diego, Cal.; Rebecca Ireland, Pasadena, Cal.; Florence Buck, Eugene; Mary Harris, Georgianna Gerlinger, Mary Gill, Jeanne Gay, Ruth Sosenich, Martha Shull all of Portland.

Alpha Delta Pi: Mildred Dedman and Helen Harper, of Portland; Julia Jaghan, and Dorothy Brodie, of Eugene; Pauline Case, of Coquille; Portia Kidwell of Pendleton; and Orpha Titus, of McMinnville.

Zeta Rho Epsilon: Eva Russell and Beatrice Tidd, of Eugene; Mildred Youell, of Silverton; Hazel Hayden, of Eugene.

Pi Beta Phi: Lucile Douglas, of Marshfield; Norma Barrett, of Pasadena, Cal.; Dorothy La Roche, and Vera Weaver, of Portland; Louise Vonder Ahe, of Eugene, and Dorothy Byler of Coquille.

Kappa Kappa Gamma: Margery Flegal, Mary Skinner, Catherine Spall, Nan Montgomery, Madelyne Lester, Josephine Orput, Joy Johnson, Mildred Johnson, Helen Caples and Penelope Gehr, all of Portland; Dorothy Von Berg, of Albert Lee, Minnesota; Gretchen Clemens, of Grants Pass; Gretchen Brown and Maxine Buren, of Salem; Alice Titus and Laura Teschner of Eugene.

Alpha Chi Omega: Margery Baird, of Bend; Vera Price, of Scappoose; Claudine Broders, of Eugene; Frieda Goodrich, Geraldine Root and Norma Wilson, of Portland.

Alpha Phi: Lylah McMurry, Ruth Akers, both of Eugene; Helen Adams, Helen Chambrea, Lucy Hoover, Anne O'Reilly, all of Portland; Eugenia Page, Hood River; Peggy Schubel, Oregon City; Helen Atkinson, La Jolla, Cal.

Delta Gamma: Margaret Bowden, Frances Lyons, both of Marshfield; Laura Sontles, Hood River; Vida Povey, Sherwood; Betty Kerr, Pauline Bordenant, Doris Holman, Margaret Dickey, Thyra St. Clair, Inez Fairchild, Marguerite Stamm, all of Portland.

Delta Zeta: Mary Search, Hazel Haak, Florence McCoy, Frances Faust, Grace Evans, all of Portland; Eunice Zimmerman, Frederika Travis, both of Eugene; Clara Gnatridge, Prairie City; Jean Perry, Klamath Falls.

Gamma Phi Beta: Bernice Davies, Astoria; Margaret Masters, Portland.

Instead of having the rushing season last from Monday until Saturday morning of the first week of school as before it started Thursday noon preceding registration and the bids were given out Tuesday evening in accordance with plans formed last year. This was done to avoid confusion with the first week's classes. Girls may be pledged at any time from now on.

WARRINGTON IN PARIS

F. Miron Warrington, professor of Romance languages in the Portland Center of the Extension Division, is in Paris studying at the Sorbonne. Mr. Warrington expects to go to Madrid in March for further study.

MISS STEPHENSON IN NEW YORK

Miss Emma Stephenson, of the library staff, is spending a year in study at The Dalles high school last year.

MANY CHANGES IN BUILDINGS TO AID HOUSING PROBLEM

Music and Business Schools Have New Structures This Year

OLD QUARTERS ALTERED

Several Improvements On Campus Add Greatly to Available Space

Two new buildings have been occupied and many alterations made in old structures since the close of the University last June. The new commerce building was finished during the summer and is now occupied by the school of business administration, the department of economics and the department of history. The school of music is also in its new building on the south campus, where the sopranos no longer will have to compete with the Southern Pacific railroad jazz.

The new commerce building is practically a duplicate of Oregon hall and provides modern classrooms and offices for the departments housed there. It forms the second unit of a court yard, which, when completed, will be surrounded on three sides by buildings and will face Thirteenth avenue.

Auditorium Seats 600

In the new music building there are 14 studios, 13 practice rooms, a lecture room, office and lounge or reception room. An auditorium, as yet not completed, will seat 600 and has been designed especially for concert purposes. Soundproof walls are used throughout, as well as patented soundproof doors. The lecture room is located at the extreme edge of the building, away from the studios and practice rooms. An upstairs room with a fireplace has been arranged for a meeting place of Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, men's and women's musical fraternities. The lounge and reception room is also fitted with a fireplace. "This room offers hospitality to everyone," says Dean Landsbury, "whether musicians or not." The furniture, draperies and carpets were furnished by the Oregon Council of Music, the students and the faculty. The members of the faculty have fitted out their own studios.

Old Buildings Used

The school of sociology now occupies the old commerce building, which will be known as the sociology building. Some of the rooms are used by the rhetoric department, drama and architecture and the arts. The old music building now houses the household arts department and the extension division. The old quarters of household arts have been made into a dining room for women living in Susan Campbell hall. Law and languages will expand into the rooms in Oregon hall formerly occupied by the extension division.

One end of the open air gymnasium is being converted into training quarters for the football squad. The east third of this structure, which was originally a dirt floored drill shed, is being walled in, a second story built in and locker and showers provided. The upper part will be used by the coaches as office space. A drying room for clothes will also be installed.

Journalism Shack Remodeled

Perhaps the smallest of the annex family resident on the campus is that built on the annex to the University press.

ENGLISH COURSE CHANGED

Freshman Composition Class Placed On New Basis This Year

The freshman English composition course will consist of a lecture period, laboratory period and a conference period each week this year.

The lecture period is to be used for large groups of students while it is the aim of the instructors of the department to give as much individual attention as possible at the weekly conferences.

During the laboratory period, which will last two hours, the weekly theme, which heretofore was written as home work, will be written. This new system, according to Miss Burgess, affords many advantages to the student which have heretofore been denied him. Some of these advantages are quiet surroundings, the presence of advisors, and an excellent training for extemporaneous writing.

MISS ANDREWS AT COLUMBIA

Marian Andrews, '20, has been awarded a fellowship at Columbia University, and is taking social service work there. Miss Andrews was instructor in commerce and English at The Dalles high school last year.

'Lovingly Yours' Almost Floors Elmer Pendell

Just how should a theme begin? How should it end? These are questions that have puzzled many a university student, and which brought out considerable naiveté ingenuity on the part of a very young high school girl in Klamath Falls, where Elmer Pendell, a last year's graduate of Oregon is teaching English, and several other subjects.

Mr. Pendell asked the class to write a theme. This girl didn't know what a theme was, but she waded right in and wrote a letter. Mr. Pendell says he was surprised and almost overcome to find a paper beginning "Dear Mr. Pendell" and ending "Lovingly yours." He says it was a struggle to blue pencil that friendly closing, but his sense of pedagogy finally won—so he says.

NEW SECRETARY AT Y. W.

Dorothy Collier, '18, Returns After Two Years at Wellesley

Miss Dorothy Collier, new secretary of the campus Y. W. C. A., begins her work on the Oregon campus this term. Miss Collier graduated from the University in the class of 1918. In 1918 and 1919 she was assistant secretary of the organization. For the last two years she has been studying at Wellesley College, and received her degree of Master of Arts last June.

FRESHMEN HOPE TO GROW

WHEN THEY DO THEY'LL FILL THOSE R. O. T. C. UNITS

Barracks Hum as Underclassmen Draw O. D.'s Issued by Government

"Say, sergeant, ain't cha got no smaller coat, this'n a mile too big for me!"

"Who's your tailor, Bill? Some fit!"

"I'm only going to wear one leg of these pants at a time!"

These are only a few of the interesting and highly colored remarks that have been heard around the R. O. T. C. barracks during the last three days as the freshmen and others subject to military training have been drawing their "O. D.'s" for this year's cadet work.

Frosh Come Small

It isn't a case of the uniforms not fitting the men—the military department was careful to order the right sizes—but all the trouble comes from the fact that the men don't fit the uniforms. The incoming freshmen are a smaller lot than usual (individually, not as a class) and consequently in many cases the belts reach around nearly twice, the caps come down over the ears, and the blouses are a little baggy. There was one extreme exception, however, when a 42-29 pair of trousers were skin tight, and a 7 3/4 cap fitted like a Frosh derby.

Neatness is Predicted

Many exchanges are being made, however, and the quartermaster and his assistants are working hard to get the best fits possible. Many of the cadets are also having a little tailoring work done on their uniforms, so by the time the first drill day comes off, most of them will present a very neat appearance.

FROSH PARADE IS TODAY

Annual Event Starts at 4:00 in Front of Library

The annual, proverbial and perpetual parade of the members of the fledglings of the student body will be held this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The lineup will form in front of the library and it is considered highly probable by authoritative individuals that several members of the class of 1924 will be on hand to see that things go off without a hitch.

Green caps will be considered good form, if scanty head protection, for the doughty members of the 1925 aggregation and any that don't happen to be doughty as well. First come, best served and gentlest handled is the unofficial promise of the sophomores but no decision has been made as yet on the form of punishment to be dealt out to laggards.

BOOKS GIVEN LIBRARY

Through the generosity of the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Friendly, the library has received about 80 volumes from the private library of Mr. and Mrs. Friendly. Included in the gift are a number of volumes of books of music for the special use of the school of music.

OREGON GRADUATE TEACHES

E. L. Keazel, M. A. from Oregon in 1920, and who studied later at the University of Chicago, is now Professor of Education at Whitman College.

STUDENT OPTIMISM OVER TEAM IS NOT SHARED BY COACH

Gridiron Warriors Big And Scrappy But Slow on Hoof, Says Shy

TONS OF BEEF FOR LINE

Little Speed Seen by Bart Spellman; Mitchell Keeps Quiet About Ends

Oregon's football team is not nearly so good as the students seem to think, in the opinion of Head Coach Shy Huntington. "They're big, they've got the fight, but they're slow and lack the experience," is the way the coach puts the case.

In the backfield Bill Reinhard is showing especially well, his kicking is accurate and he is getting back his old-time speed. "Tiny" Shields, kicking and passing are improving rapidly, and Tiny is beginning to look like a sure bet behind the line. Hal Chapman and "Chuck" Parsons are kicking accurately and with the experience these practice games will afford should show some real stuff. "Dutch" Gram, Ed Kirtley, Ward Johnson and De Armand are all going strong and will likely have a chance to shine in the opening clash with Willamette, at Salem, Saturday.

Ends Showing Well

"Briek" Mitchell, end coach, refused to express an opinion of the team as a whole but has six candidates for the end berths who are showing up well though lacking in speed. Captain Mart Howard, Neil Morrill, "Huak" Latham, Campbell, Risley and Karl Von der Ahe.

Bart Spellman line coach, was of much the same opinion as Shy. "They've got the beef, but they lack the speed."

The men out for line berths are big and husky and as they develop speed much can be looked for from them. "Spike" Leslie, Rudd Brown and Bark Loughlin are all from last years varsity, while the holes left by graduation will be filled from among Hugh Clerin, Byler, Dick Reed, McCraw, Floyd Shields, McKeown, Bill Johnson, McAllister, Benjamin and K. King.

May Spring Surprise

Graduate Manager Benefield is not especially optimistic over the prospects for a team and believes that it will take lots of work on the part of coaches, players and students to get a team together that will be as good as that of last year.

Approximately 25 men will make the trip to play Willamette, as Shy intends using all the men possible in the initial set to and while little is known of the Bearcats' strength, a hard game is expected. Roy Bohler the third member of the famous Bohler family is coaching the Salem college and is expected to put a strong aggregation into the field against the varsity.

Hawaiian Eleven Strong

In a recent letter to Manager Benefield, R. C. Cooper, the student manager of the University of Hawaii, stated that all but two old men of the Hawaiian varsity are back and that there is plenty of material from which to fill their places. The University of Hawaii has scheduled six games and anticipates giving Oregon a real battle.

Mr. Cooper thought it possible that an attempt would be made to arrange swimming meets with the University and with O. A. C. The latter also extended a warm invitation on the part of the University and Honolulu for a large delegation of alumni and students to accompany the team and assure them of a royal welcome to the island. Final arrangements have been made for the trip, the team will sail from San Francisco Dec. 14 on the Maui, and will return on the Williamina Jan. 4. The estimated cost per man will be between $300 and $400.

Practices will continue nightly with a gradually increasing amount of scrimmaging and while the students are not only welcome at these practices but are urged to attend them. Shy very urgently requests that they stay absolutely off the field and far enough back to give the players plenty of room.

ALMACK STUDIES AT STANFORD

John C. Almack, assistant director of the extension division, attended summer school at Leland Stanford University and will continue his work there this winter. He is working toward a doctor's degree in the department of education.
