

100 FROSH OUT FOR DAILY GRID PRACTICE

Baz Williams' Squad One of Biggest in History

SCRIMMAGE TO BEGIN SOON

Promising Men Seen Among Multitude of Candidates

The 100 raw-boned Apollos who make up the Frosh football squad are crowding Kineaid Field every night, and their antics on the old gridiron are attracting a crowd of spectators who line the field and watch the enthusiastic newcomers dive about. Coach Baz Williams and Everett Brandenburg have carefully organized the squad, undoubtedly one of the largest in the history of first year turn-outs.

Although the long list contains the names of few high school stars, some real material for the team is expected to be unearthed before it is cut down. Baz Williams is putting the line men through a stiff routine of training, and within a short time will have the first squad in a more widely shape after the pruning operations have been performed. Some of the backfield men are conceded to be jokes, but Brandenburg has recognized a few of the possibilities and will have the sheep separated from the goats, in plenty of time to pick a first class backfield. Ability of the Frosh stars who have made good in high school has not been doubted, but at the present time they are unable to show their goods, and must wait until the first scrimmage practice opens. The date for the opening of scrimmage depends upon the speed with which the boys adapt themselves to the game.

Real work for the yearlings will start within four or five days say the two coaches who are beginning to single out a few promising men. Brandy mentions among his budding backs, another Jacobberger out of Portland, French also from Portland, Smith from Cottage Grove, Barton from Roseburg, and Tergeson and Powers. Williams sees in Spear from Seaside, Quinn from Washington high, White and Bliss, something to be developed.

passes be necessary, Tiny Shields is showing up as the most accurate passer in years, with quarter back Bill Reinhart as an able understudy to him in this department.

Officials for Game

Able officials have been secured for the game, men who rank without superiors, in their chosen capacities, in the Northwest. Sam Dolan, of Oregon Agricultural College will referee, Plowden Stott of Stanford, at present an attorney in Portland will umpire, and Tom Louttit of O. A. C. has been chosen to act as head linesman.

JOB OR NO COLLEGE IS FIX OF MANY STUDENTS

100 Still Seek Employment Through Y. M. Agency

Finding employment for self supporting students is still the biggest problem to be solved by the campus Y. M. C. A., Mrs. C. R. Donnelly, hut mother and employment secretary, said yesterday.

Although more than ninety students have been placed, the situation is becoming more complicated every day and at the present time there are over 100 students in need of work.

In most of the cases the need of employment is so urgent that if relief is not found within a short time many of the students will have to withdraw from the institution. To illustrate the necessity for immediate relief the hut mother cited instances of students who, after registering and paying their first month's board and room, have only from $50 to $11 left for the rest of the year.

Appreciation is Expressed

Mrs. Donnelly expressed her sincere appreciation for the cooperation given her by fraternities and sororities in placing students in positions.

To insure the employer first-class service the secretary is keeping in constant touch with him and will be prepared to replace any man who does not prove satisfactory.

The housing problem, according to Mrs. Donnelly has been solved satisfactorily and there are now more rooms than applicants.

Monthly Parties Planned

Plans have been made for giving parties in the hut at least once a month during the coming year. Just how these will be arranged has not yet been worked out; but the hut mother hopes to arrange them so that both men and women will be present.

Making the foreign student feel at home is another of the many tasks Mrs. Donnelly has taken upon herself and although she will have a rather large family of them to handle she has bright prospects for success.

HOMELESS CAT FINDS FRIEND

Betty Kerr, a Delta Gamma pledging of the latest hatch, annexed a new playmate on last Friday night. Succumbing to the muffled "meows" of a half-starved, mangy cat, she tore down to succor the needy one. With the aid of milk and Betty's winning ways, Tabby soon cheered up. She has named her find Elmer.
