PLEDGES-TO-BE IN GAMMA PHI HOUSE STIR PANAHELLENIC

Council Voices Objection to Nine Girls Remaining in Penalized House

DEAN FOX EASES BURDEN

Heavier Punishment May Be Imposed; Meetings Are Secret

Opposition to allowing "pledges-to-be" of Gamma Phi Beta the privilege of being guests in the house until November 1 has been voiced by members of the Alumnae Panhellenic council which met yesterday. The nine girls who have been "holding out" were given permission to do this by the administration.

Gamma Phi Beta had been penalized by the elimination of the pledging privilege until November 1, and members of Panhellenic held that the punishment should be strictly adhered to, especially in view of the fact that similar cases have appeared in the past and in few cases has punishment been evaded.

Not Reversing, Says Dean

In regard to the action of the administration Dean Elizabeth Fox said yesterday: "I am not reversing the ruling of the Panhellenic council in allowing Gamma Phi Beta to take as guests their nine pledges-to-be, but am merely removing the burden of the penalty from the shoulders of the freshmen girls concerned."

There is opinion that all action in regard to rush week and pledging should be taken by the Panhellenic council and the discussion of the matter filled the meeting yesterday afternoon and will be taken up again tonight in a special meeting.

That the nine girls were bearing the greatest burden of the punishment by waiting and that they were unable to find suitable rooming places for the short time is given as the reason given by the administration for lifting the penalty.

Discussed by Girls' Houses

Information from an authoritative source is that a penalty even more severe than the one at first imposed may be ruled, although all of the meetings of the Panhellenic have been behind closed doors. Discussion of the problem has been carried on through the girls' houses and the culmination is expected in the meeting tonight.

Officers of the council have emphasized the fact that all through the affair there has been little hard feeling, and that the girls of the house on which the penalty was inflicted have presented their side of the case in a straightforward manner.

The Panhellenic council was responsible for the original punishment for the violation of rushing rules on Friday of rush week. It was alleged that Gamma Phi Beta entertained a rushee at their house during hours when she had dates with another house.

COEDS MEET BAD MEN

Throngs at Open House

FROSH ARE IN HEAVEN

Police, detectives and other guardians of the law were evidently taking a vacation on Saturday evening. Nothing else could explain the manner in which Roy Gardiner, Dr. Brumfield, Mahony and "Fatty" Arbuckle were allowed to find their way about Eugene, especially in the vicinity of the various sorority houses and girls halls of the University. They did not stay long at any one place it is true, eighteen minutes being the average time, but no house was overlooked.

Even though their visits were short these notorious ones did much to turn the tide of public sentiment in their favor. More than once Dr. Brumfield was followed by a feminine whisper of "Isn't he nice?" Fatty Arbuckle was strangely altered in appearance, being something over six feet in height and noticeably thin but never the less a shy maiden was heard to say, "Oh but I think he is good looking."

It was not only noted criminals that visited Eugene on Saturday evening as there were known names were heard. There was Thermos Bottle, Cornedbeef, Cabbage, Soda Fountain and others, many others.

No it was not a meeting of the society for the assembling of Who's Who, neither was it a lunatic asylum assembly, but merely the annual University open house. The well known names were assumed for the evening only and the unusual names did not in the least interfere with the round of entertainment. The wearers of the titles danced, drank punch and otherwise acted as University men are supposed to act at such a time.

Much confusion was avoided by the adoption of the schedule of visits and by adhering closely to the time limit agreed upon. It is true that several young frosh were very much disappointed because they were not allowed to spend the entire evening at the first house they visited but at the next house they found an equally good looking girl and did not grieve long.

It was a successful open house, every one laughed and no one looked bored for long. All in all it seems that the University will be able to get along nicely until the next one, if the next one will just hurry along.

Orchestra and Glee Clubs Send Call for Musicians

Vacancies in the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and in the University Orchestra are to be filled this week as far as possible, according to the directors of the organizations. Tryouts for the Men's Glee Club will be held in the studio of John Stark Evans, the director, between 4:00 and 6:00; for the Women's Glee Club in the studio of Leland A. Coon at 7:00 and for the Orchestra in Rex Underwood's studio between 5:00 and 5:30.

Each of the directors spoke emphatically of wishing to have as many as possible tryout for his organization. "I'd like to have them come and try for the club no matter if they can only carry a tune in a basket," was Mr. Evans' way of putting it. Mr. Underwood and Mr. Coon echoed his sentiment.

Orchestra has Rehearsal

A successful rehearsal marked the opening of the year's activity of the orchestra last night. With those successful in tonight's tryouts, Mr. Underwood hopes to round out the organizations into a larger and better one than that of last year. There are vacancies in all departments of the Orchestra, said the director, and everyone who can play any orchestra instrument is urged to try out. The second rehearsal will be held tonight at 7:30 in Villard hall.

"There are vacancies in each voice in the Men's Glee Club," said Mr.

Evans. "We'd like to have everyone out for the tryouts." Numbers will be given out beginning at four. If the candidate cannot get there at four, five will be all right.

Bring Voices; That's All

"Applicants for places in the Women's Glee Club are to bring only their voices," Mr. Coon said. "This is only the first tryout. At the second which will be held soon solos will be required." There are 18 places in the Club to be filled. Of these four, one in each voice, will be used as a sort of understudy to fill vacancies in case of sickness.

Tryouts for an accompanist for the Women's Club will be held in Mr. Coon's studio on Friday afternoon between 2:00 and 4:00. The accompanist is used not only to play accompaniments for the Club but also to appear in solos.

Two Trips for Women

All of the organizations had very successful seasons last year and this year even better plans are in the making. Maurice Eben, president of the Men's Club, is working on a trip to the East, the Women's Club is planning two trips during the year, and the Orchestra will have at least one long trip, probably to eastern Oregon, and is planning a trip to Portland. The Portland people who heard the women on their last year's trip are asking that another concert be given there, according to Mr. Coon.

FAVORABLE SEASON IN TRACK FORECAST; CRACK MEN RETURN

Abbott, Crack Half Miler, On Campus Again After Year's Absence

FALL TRAINING STARTED

Art Tuck, Holder of Coast Javelin Record, To Be Back on Squad

Oregon's chances for a winning varsity track team for the coming spring were materially increased by the return of Leith Abbott, crack half miler, to the campus as a student and the eligibility of Ralph Spearow, former Multnomah athlete and crack, frosh, pole vaulter and high jumper, for this year's squad.

Abbott, who has been absent from the campus for a year, during which time he served as telegraph editor on the desk of the Pendleton Tribune, is one of the fastest middle distance men in the Northwest. Two years ago, in the spring of 1920, Abbott won the Northwest conference championship in the half mile against a strong field in the fast time of 1:55.

Spearow a Winner

Ralph Spearow, who will be on the job for the varsity this year, was for a number of years a consistent winner for the Winged M in the pole vault, high jump and relay, last year with the frosh he had little difficulty in winning his events.

Practically all of Oregon's track men who are eligible for another season with the varsity are either back or have signified their intentions of returning for another year under Bill Hayward.

Arthur Tuck is at present at home in Redmond, Oregon, but has signified his intention of returning. Art hung up a new Coast record last year in the javelin and is practically certain of a first place in his event. Sean Collins star quarter miler, has written that he will return at the beginning of the winter quarter which will strengthen the quarter mile contingent and the relay team.

Walkley Looks Good

Captain Glen Walkley looks like a sure bet in the mile and two mile for Bill's aggregation next spring. Walkley clipped the Pacific Coast Conference record a quarter of a second in the mile, at the conference meet in Eugene last Junior week-end. Captain Walkley's new time in the mile was 4:28.

The sprints should be fairly well taken care of this year with Larsen and Hemenway, lettermen back on the job and Al Grilley the frosh speed merchant returning for the winter quarter. In the half Abbott will find able assistance in the person of "Speed" Pelletier who should bring home some points for the varsity this year.

In the pole vault there will be three lettermen on the job, Don Portwood, Tubby Ingle and "Shrimp" Phillips, strengthened by the advent of Spearow and Rosenberg of the yearlings.

Other Available Talent

"Scotty" Strachan, "Tiny" Shields and "Chuck" Parsons, a member of last year's frosh will handle the weights, while Art Kuhnhausen and Webber, a sophomore, look good in the hurdle events.

Hayslip and Dick Sundleaf are back in school and are ready to go in the quarter. Both men are veterans and performed on last year's relay team.

A fair sized turnout greeted Trainer Bill Haywards first call for track which is to take the form of cross country, and is for the purpose of providing fall training for track aspirants. Bill wants all track men out Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at four.

PLEDGES ARE ANNOUNCED

Nine Taken by Mens' Fraternal Houses None by Women

Nine more men have been announced as pledged by the various fraternities. The following is the list:

Delta Theta Phi—Jesse E. Williams, Bozeman, Montana; Raymond E. Nelson and Bordon Wildinson, of Portland; William Dadds and Stephen Bothwell, of St. Helens, and Thomas Chatburn, Coquille.

Delta Tau Delta—Russel Gowans, Portland.

Kappa Theta Chi—Myron Shannon and Donald Cook, Helix.

Kappa Sigma, Frank Wright, Portland.

Guard on Grid Mautz Holds Prisoner Line

Carl Mautz, all-American guard on Walter Camp's second team and all coast guard for three years from the University of Oregon played his old position this summer on the Multnomah county jail line-up. The usual pigskin gave way to the cold strong bars of justice. Mautz alone faced his hundred odd growling opponents, but he smiled for on his huge key ring were the pieces of steel that held their line. It is reported that he played his old reliable game, allowing no one to break through his section or score a touchdown under the "bar."

A mother with an only child could not tender more love than did Carl when it came to looking after his charges. It is said that on Sunday morning he assembled them and talked of their spiritual future, where bread and water were terms not understood. Visitors of the jail were entertained with a complete history of every inmate, his accomplishments and talents which had placed him within the confines of the county bastille.

But Carl's career had its ups and downs. These came when the prisoners were taken to and from the upper chambers, via the elevator route. However all was not work for Carl, as he had his cribbage board near by and proceeded to establish himself firmly as champion of the officers of justice.

He will not accept a chair at some university in criminology but is now attending medical school in Portland.

CUPID MOWS THEM DOWN

MORE THAN 25 PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS FALL

Fusillade Fells Steers and Foster Well Known Athletes; Havoc Wrought This Summer

County clerks, ministers and justices of the peace had their incomes considerably augmented during the vacation period by the marriages of University students and faculty members. No fewer than 25 students and seven of the faculty were married during that time.

Miss Norma Dobie, instructor in English literature, and Melvin Solve, assistant professor in rhetoric, were married early in September. Mr. Solve returned this summer from Norway where he studied for a year on a scholarship from the American-Scandinavian foundation. Both Mr. and Mrs. Solve are on the faculty this year.

Another faculty wedding was that of Miss Catherine Beekley and Dr. Henry B. Yocum, both assistant professors in the zoology department last year, which took place in East Orange, New Jersey. Dr. Yocum is on the faculty again this year. Lillian Pearson, who graduated last June, and Dr. Harold Crossland, assistant professor of psychology, were also married during the summer.

George Hopkins, a member of last year's senior class and this year instructor in the school of music, was married to Miss Edith Ernst of Halifax, Nova Scotia, at Claremont, Cal. The marriage was celebrated at Eugene.

VARSITY CRIPPLED BY LOSS OF STARS IN BEARCAT GAME

Reinhart and DeArmand Out With Injuries; Backfield Punter Lacking

NEITHER TEAM IN SHAPE

Oregon Without Punch to Put Ball Over When Within Striking Range

After defeating Willamette University on Saturday by the narrow margin of 7-3 Head Coach Huntington and his staff of assistants put the varsity football machine through a strenuous workout yesterday, in preparation for the hard games of the next two weeks. The squad is handicapped by the loss of Bill Reinhart, quarter, and Tommy De Armand, half. Reinhart suffered an injury to his shoulder in the battle with the Bearcats that may keep him out of a suit for two months, while De Armand had his knee badly wrenched. "Chuck" Parsons suffered a slight injury to his knee but was back in a suit yesterday.

Oregon's varsity is in sad need of a good backfield punter and Coach Huntington is working several kickers in the attempt to develop one. "Hunk" Latham is the latest acquisition to Shy's string of punters and in his first nights workout looked very promising. Spike Leslie is getting the carry on the ball, but has trouble in getting it away from him quickly enough. Dutch Gram is working in nice form but so far lacks the distance.

Clerin Nearly in Shape

Hugh Clerin's shoulder which was injured last week in scrimmage is beginning to get back into shape under the capable hands of Trainer Bill Hayward, and Clerin, who has been showing some rare promise as a guard, will be in A1 shape for the battle with Coach Kelly's Idaho team, October 15.

The game with Willamette was something of a disappointment to the followers of the Lemon-Yellow and showed many weaknesses in line and backfield. Although the collegians found it impossible to penetrate the heavy varsity line for anything like substantial gains, Oregon lacked the punch to advance the ball when yardage meant touchdowns.

The ball remained in the varsity's possession during the major portion of the contest but successive fumbles and blocked punts prevented heavy scoring, and it was not until late in the third quarter that Oregon by a succession of straight line plays put over her lone score, Reinhart kicked goal.

Irvine Makes Pretty Kick

Willamette's three points came in the final quarter, a blocked punt gave

Tryouts for Yell Staff To Add Pep to Practice

Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 the thundering thousand goes into action on Hayward field, the first yell practice of the year. Not only is it going to be a yell practice, but Coach Huntington has assured Yell King Oberteuffer that a scrimmage will be staged which is guaranteed to get a good show. It is probable that "Shy", Bill, Bart, and Mitchell will speak to the students.

This year the staff will put on a new yell, one which will to a certain extent take the place of the locomotive. King "Obie" has termed the new yell a knockout. Also, "Obie" has promised the students something new and snappy in the line of yell practice. The uniforms this year will be strictly regulation. The cheer leaders will be dressed in white trousers, and dark green sweaters.

Eight aspirants for positions on the yell staff will display their wares to the student rosters Wednesday afternoon. The candidates for positions are Ole Larson, Arthur Rosenbraun, Fred Woods, Boyd Homewood, Shrimp Phillips, Archie Erickson, Ralph Simpson, and Ted Baker.

Yell King Oberteuffer has expressed his appreciation of the rooting of the frosh at the Y. M. mix last Friday night. "They displayed a wonderful spirit," said the Yell King "and with a little practice they will go great."

The rosters will again be referred to this year as the Thundering Thousand, but Obie has emphasized that every student is expected to be out on the field for the initial practice tomorrow afternoon. Those taking gym or having classes at that hour are urged to put a plea to their instructors to get excused, or if they can't to come out to Hayward after their classes are over, because the practice will just be getting well underway at five o'clock.

Oberteuffer has stated that yell practice will not be held every Wednesday afternoon and urges all the students to be present at the initial practice. Not only does the Yell King wish to teach the new yell to the students, but he desires to organize the Thundering Thousand for the game with Pacific University next Saturday on Hayward field.

GARRETT NOW SECRETARY

B. O. (Barney) Garrett, University graduate in the class of 1920, is serving as secretary of the McMinnville Commercial Club. For a short time following graduation he acted as assistant secretary of the Salem club and then went to McMinnville, where he is said to be proving himself a live wire.

LEMON PUNCH WANTS ART

STUDENTS WHO CAN DRAW ARE INVITED TO MEETING

Plans Under Way for First Issue To Be Out Homecoming Week-end; Contributors Needed Soon

The Lemon Punch is now ready to give an opportunity for art work to all freshmen interested in this part of the publication, and to any other student who did not contribute drawings last year, but desires to take part in the future. A meeting will be held at 4:15 this afternoon in the Punch office, and all aspirants should be on hand. The kind of work needed will be outlined, and some suggestions as to drawings will be made so that preparation of material can be started immediately.

Nearly all of last year's staff are back, and plans are under way for the first issue, which will come out on Homecoming Week-end. It will probably be more than thirty pages in size, and contain about two-dozen cuts, so work is plentiful and chances are good for those who wish to get some of their drawings into the issue. In order to put out a publication containing first class work throughout, a large number of contributors are necessary. The circulation of the Punch is increasing rapidly, especially since a chapter of Hammer and Coffin was secured, and is expected to continue increasing throughout the year.

Frosh Prexy Ducked; Old Tradition Upheld

Events in the Bailey Case

Friday 5:30 P. M. : Ralph Bailey of Salem elected president of the Freshman class, and is escorted home by fifty frosh. Class announces he is not to be mill raced.

7:45: Ralph Bailey attends Stag Mix. He is escorted by 100 frosh.

9:30 P. M. Ralph Bailey is spirited away by frosh committee when introductions start.

10:00 P. M. Ralph Bailey reposes at his residence, Ninth and Hilyard. All doors locked.

Midnight: Mysterious doin'! Meeting of the Soph Dux Klan.

Saturday 2:45 A. M. Ralph Bailey goes eight feet over a hedge into the mill race.

Saturday morning: Ralph Bailey is booked at the infirmary.

Saturday afternoon: Meeting of the frosh committee on Ninth and Hilyard.

Next: Ralph Bailey hands in resignation to Dean Straub. Resignation has not yet been accepted.

Another tradition was upheld early Saturday morning when Ralph Bailey, newly elected Frosh President, clad in warm pajamas slipped into the mill race, after taking a nose dive over the hedge near Bachelorlodon. He was propped by force supplied by a number of sophomores.

At 2:35 Saturday morning a masked group assembled at the order of Ninth and Hilyard, well known as the home of President Bailey. Two carried a thirty foot ladder. One had an axe; another a complete second story outfit. No explosives could be detected by the Emerald reporter, but it is said large quantities were concealed among the masked men. The ladder was placed against the side of the house. The leader of the group at this point was seen to ring the door bell.

Now, it happened that an unsuspecting fellow by the name of Kelly had "turned in" late. He heard the door bell. Thinking that someone in the house had been locked out—he opened the door. He was immediately seized by a number of intruders. The following dialogue ensued:

"What's your name?" (A little rough house here.)

"Kelly!"

"Say it again!"

"Kelly!"

The mob was directed to the bedside of President Bailey. When Bailey emerged from the millrace he was told that he was to be ducked, once every week. A meeting of large number of the frosh was called to "thrash" the problem out. At the conclusion of the meeting the president interviewed Dean Straub, and subsequently handed in his resignation, which has not yet been accepted.

Records show that President Bailey was among the students who were treated at the infirmary Saturday morning.
