

CHANCE FOR OXFORD NEAR

APPLICATIONS DUE OCT. 29 FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Elections Will Be Held Dec. 3 For Three-Year Term Beginning Next Fall

Applications for Rhodes Scholarships are due October 29, according to information received at the office of Dean Dymment, chairman of the Rhodes Scholarship committee of the University, and it is strongly urged that all candidates report to him at once to arrange for a meeting with the committee, which has as its members, besides the chairman, Professor Barnes and Dr. Bates.

R. F. Scholtz, president of Reed College, who is secretary of the Committee of Selection in this state, has sent the necessary application blanks which state the conditions under which the awards are made. Elections this year will be held in 32 states on December 3, and scholars elected at this time will enter Oxford in October 1922. The scholarships are tenable for three years, and until further notice will bear a stipend of 350 pounds a year. There is no restriction placed upon a Rhodes scholar's choice of studies.

Although the scholars are appointed without examination, and the choice is made on the basis of their record in school and college, there are certain qualifications which the candidate must have. To be eligible he must be a citizen of the United States and unmarried, be between the ages of 19 and 25, and have completed at least his sophomore year in college. He may apply either in the state in which he resides or in the one in which he has received two years of his college education.

The qualities considered in making the selection are those of manhood, force of character, and leadership; literary and scholastic ability and attainments; and physical vigor, as shown by his interest in outdoor sports and in other ways.

Kerby Miller was the last University of Oregon student to receive a Rhodes Scholarship. He studied at Oxford last year, and will remain there this year and next also.

FIVE CANDIDATES AT O. A. C.

OREGON MEN AT REUNION

Prominent Part Taken in Banquet of 91st at Portland

More than half the speakers at the 91st Division banquet held at the Multnomah Hotel in Portland Saturday night were former University of Oregon men, according to Colin V. Dymment, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts, who attended the reunion. The 362nd Infantry post was responded to by Lieutenant Ben Derris, commander of the Eugene post of the American Legion; the 364th Infantry by Lieutenant Lamar Toozie; the 316th Sanitary Train by Major W. Carlton Smith, M. C.; Artillery, Captain Robert Kuykendall; and the American Red Cross, Dean Dymment, who was connected with the 362nd Field Hospital. Other speakers were on the program, but these were all at one time on the campus.

SLOGANSMITHS ARE SLOW TO SUBMIT THEIR IDEAS

Suggestions in Homecoming Contest Minus Quantity, and But Seven More Days to Go

Only seven more days left for the homecoming slogan contest and no slogans have been turned in, according to advices from the Alumni Secretary's office.

The homecoming slogan contest began Saturday, October first, and will end October 10. The purpose of the contest is to get a snappy and appropriate slogan for homecoming, and the originator of the accepted slogan will be awarded two grandstand tickets for the Oregon-O. A. C. game November 19.

Slogans must be written on a loose piece of paper, accompanied with a copy of the slogan and the contestants name, which are to be placed in a sealed envelope and given to Lois Pixley at the Alumni Secretary's office in the Administration building.

The judges are Norton Winnard, Jack Benefiel, Karl Onthank and Jeanette Calkins.
