

HEAVY WORKOUTS HARDEN VARSITY FOR P. U. BATTLE

Coach Huntington Prescribes Stiff Scrimmages

SQUAD IS STRENGTHENED Weeks of Practice Rounding Out Stonewall Line

With the smoke of battle well cleared away from the Willamette tussle, the varsity is settling down to the hardest kind of work for the coming battle with Pacific University on Saturday. Last night the boys worked out on Hayward field and Head Coach Huntington put them through the stiffest kind of scrimmage.

Bill Reinhart has not yet put in an appearance and the full extent of his injury is not known, it is hoped however that the speedy quarter will be back on the job as his loss is keenly felt. "Chuck" Parsons, who was slightly injured in the Willamette game, had his knee twisted again in the scrimmage last night but his condition is not believed to be serious. Tommy DeArmand, injured in the fray at Salem, may not be back in the game for some time, and De Armand too will be missed as he was showing rare promise behind the line. To make matters worse "Spike" Leslie, Oregon's All Coast tackle has an injured foot with possible danger of infection. However, the injured men are in the capable hands of Trainer Bill Hayward, who is something of a wizard in putting the boys back in condition.

Squad Strengthened
The squad is strengthened by the return of Len Jordan who was out of the game last week with an infected foot. He is showing up well in practice and may get a chance to show his stuff against the collegians Saturday. Jordan played part of the time with the yearling team last fall and had a year's experience with the University of Utah freshman team during the war. He is especially strong on the defense.

"Spring" Johnson called signals for the first string men in last night's scrimmage and will likely have his chance to pilot the varsity against Pacific. George King, last year's full back is spending most of his time at half as "Tiny" Shields is being used at full a majority of the time. King is rounding into condition nicely and is hitting the line with a world of punch.

Line in Shape
The line is beginning to show the results of the weeks of practice and though there is room for improvement, is gradually acquiring some of the stonewall characteristics so necessary to a winning football team. Captain Mart Howard and Neil Morfitt are looking good in the wing positions, with capable understudies in Latham and Risley, while the tacklers are well taken care of by Spike Leslie, McKeown and Scotty Stracian. Bud Brown looks like the real stuff at guard, Bud played end last year and is fast enough to get through the line and muss up some plays. Floyd Shields is working regularly on the first string at guard and is developing nicely. Hugh Clerin, whose injured shoulder has kept him out for some time will probably be back in the scrimmage line soon. At center Bark Laughlin and Bill Johnson are grimly fighting it out, with Laughlin on first call.

Inexperience seems to be the big thing for the coaches to overcome; they have the punch out there and they are pretty fast, but aside from a bare skeleton of varsity men, the squad is green and lacking in football knowledge. The coaching staff is doing its utmost toward giving the boys experience by putting them through long hours of stiff scrimmage, and the can-

FROSH PARTY POSTPONED
The Freshman get acquainted party has been postponed from October 8 until October 15, according to announcements coming from the offices of Dean John Straub last night. The Frosh committee pleads for more time to get ready for the "largest class in history." The frosh are not supposed to know each other before that date.

CROCKATT TO WRITE FOR DISARMAMENT SESSION

Appointed by Carnegie Foundation Will Describe Trans-Pacific Shipping and Commerce

Professor Peter C. Crockatt of the economics department of the University of Oregon has received the appointment of writing up trans-Pacific shipping and commerce from the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace for the coming disarmament conference. At present Professor Crockatt is studying for his Ph.D. degree at the University of California on a leave of absence from the university. He is attached to the Pacific question in the disarmament field and it is considered a distinct honor that Professor Crockatt should be chosen to write this article. He has done much original research in the field of trans-Pacific shipping and his doctor's thesis is on that subject. The article will be published by the Carnegie foundation, to appear about the end of the year. Professor Crockatt will return to the University at the beginning of the winter term.

ACTIVE AND ALUMNAE BOARDS.
The constitution of national Panhellenic provides that where two or more national fraternities are installed on a college campus, there shall be in existence also a local Panhellenic association, whose duty it shall be to interpret rushing rules and, in cases where necessary, place penalties for infringements of such rules. The purpose of this association is declared to be wholly for protection of the various fraternities, and their existence and functioning on the Oregon campus has had for its aim the simplification and satisfactory adjustment of former unfortunate rushing conditions.

Feeling that the recent infringements by Gamma Phi Beta, with her subsequent action on the penalty, made for a breaking down of the friendly and impartial functioning of the other fraternities and their representative boards, the action of last night was taken.

FRESHMEN TO DECORATE LESLIE TOOZE'S GRAVE

New Traditions Suggested to Class To Be Observed Annually On Memorial Day

The present freshman class will be given an opportunity to inaugurate a new tradition, according to plans discussed last night by Dean John Straub, class advisor of the frosh; the plans being for the decoration of the grave of Leslie Tooze, Oregon graduate who died overseas while in the army, by the freshman class on each Memorial day. Tooze's grave lies just off the campus in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

"The idea should develop into one of the biggest ceremonies on Memorial day ever celebrated by this University," says Dean Straub. "Tooze was a typical Oregon boy, and in decorating his grave we would be showing our appreciation not only to Tooze, but to every Oregon man who died over seas."

The ceremony would consist in placing flowers on the grave and the planting of a small silken flag by a committee selected from the freshman class each year. Dean Straub intends to bring the matter up before the student body and get them to ratify the actions of the class.

LETTER MEN ARE FAVORED

Dance Managers Will Be Hosts to Wearers of Lemon 'O'

Life is becoming sweeter for the Order of the "O" men these days. Not only do they have the right to wield a wicked paddle but now their presence is becoming so desired that dance managers are allowing them to do the light fantastic free-for-nothing. Advertising which makes its initial appearance today concerning the student dance at Eagle hall, Friday and Saturday night, features the fact that wearers of the big yellow "O" are "guests." Herb Darby and "Shrimp" Phillips are to play hosts.

Y. M. C. A. CANVASS ENDING-TODAY IS IN SIGHT OF GOAL

No exact figures will be available with regard to the campaign until the count is made today, but all indications are that the students are going to shoulder their share of the additional burden, which will come as a result of a wider program and a higher salaried secretary this year.

Previous Records Beaten
The subscriptions will amount to considerably more than any raised during preceding years.

All men who have not yet come through are urged to pay up today. The "Y" is a deserving cause, and needs the help of all the men on the campus.

STUDENT DANCE THURSDAY

Stroller's Orchestra is to give a musical program and dance especially for college students at the armory Thursday night. The orchestra concert will be presented from 8 to 9 o'clock, and dancing will take place from that time until 12 o'clock. Part of the proceeds will go to the Elk's Christmas fund, and University Elks and friends are expected to be present. Stroller's Orchestra is on its way from Seattle to San Francisco, and has an engagement booked at the St. Francis Hotel in the latter city.

No matter how excellent the mechanical work in a pair of glasses, it counts for nothing unless the formula from which the glasses are ground is the correct one for your eyes.

The formula will only be correct when it is based on the result of a careful examination. Consequently a thorough examination by a competent person is the first requisite for a satisfactory pair of glasses.
