

COUNTRY CLUB TO GRANT PRIVILEGES OF GOLF COURSE

Board of Directors Offers Suggestions and Asks Cooperation

STUDENT ACTION URGED

Eugene Links Will Be Open to University Players on Week Days

At a meeting of the Board of directors of the Eugene Country Club held at the Eugene Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, the question as to whether the club would make an offer to co-operate with University students brought forth the general sentiment that the club would be delighted to extend privileges to students provided the latter co-operate to their fullest ability with the officials of the club. There was not a vote cast in objection to the tentative plan which was offered to provide for the extension of privileges to any students of the University of Oregon who wish to play on the links of the Eugene Country Club.

Many remarks were made as to the number of students who had at various times visited different ones of the officers to inquire whether any accommodation was to be made for those interested in golf. The general opinion was that because of the tremendous interest which the students of the University appear to have taken in golf, the club should put itself out a bit to care for those wishing to play. It was emphatically to be understood that the links of the Eugene Country Club are privately supervised and that persons not members of the club are ordinarily not allowed the right to play on the course. In the event of the Club permitting students the use of the nine holes during various days of the week, they are expected to recognize the extreme privilege granted them and in return are expected to co-operate in all respects with the course manager by heeding all rules.

Co-operation is Urged

"We shall be glad to co-operate with the students in this matter," said A. R. Tiffany, president of the Country Club, "but we shall expect the fullest co-operation on the part of the students who intend to take advantage of our offer. I can say for myself, and I believe that all the directors will agree with me, that there will be no objection to students who so desire to play every day on the course excepting Saturdays and Sundays. During the winter months Saturday morning playing privileges will be given them if they so desire. Students playing on the course would be asked to return the courtesy extended to them by observing all the course rules and turning in their cards at the end of each day's play. They would always have to give way to club members wherever necessary. Other arrangements, he said, can be made in the event of a conference with student golfers.

RUNQUIST GRIDIRON COACH

Oregon Graduate and Athlete Takes Position Under Faulk

A. C. Runquist, former Oregon football and track man, is now helping Coach Faulk whip the Benson Technical School pigskin booters into shape. Before entering the University, Runquist played center on the Washington high school team. At Oregon he starred at tackle under both Hugo Bezdek and Shy Huntington. Runquist was graduated with the class of 1920.

"Line Up With Lemmy" to Be Motto of Drive

At eight o'clock Wednesday morning "Lemmy" will be on the campus and begin his two day campaign for subscriptions to Lemon Punch, the University comic monthly publication. "Line up with Lemmy" will be the slogan during the two days and will appear on the tags given to all subscribers. The first five organizations to sign up 100 per cent of its members will each receive a leather bound volume of Lemon Punch numbers. The man and woman who gets the largest number of subscriptions will also each receive a leather bound volume. A card will be given to each purchaser and when presented at the time of the appearance of the magazine will

THUNDERING THOUSAND TO MEET ON HAYWARD

All Who Can Play Instruments Are Requested to Bring Them To Game Today

"There will be an informal meeting of the Thundering Thousand this afternoon at 2:30 on Hayward," was the announcement given out yesterday by Yell King Obie Oberteuffer.

Word has been passed out from the graduate manager's office that student body tickets must be presented at the gate for admission. It is emphatically declared that this rule is intended for all.

All students who can play instruments are requested to bring them along as the R. O. T. C. band has not yet been organized and at present the University is without a band. "Pianos, violas, or any kind of an instrument," says Obie.

Another announcement is to the effect that rosters' caps are to be worn if possible. There will probably be a serpentine between halves and as this game is one of the two which are to be in Eugene this year it will be the only chance for the rosters to "get in condition" for the Homecoming struggle.

REGISTRATION ABOVE 2000

ENROLLMENT SETS NEW MARK AND IS STILL RISING

Increase Over Last Year's Total 17 Per Cent; Men Outnumber Women Largely

For the first time in the history of the University of Oregon, registration at Eugene will exceed the 2000 mark, according to statistics of the Registrar's office. Present registration, for the fall term, numbers 1975, but enrollment at the medical school in Portland, which is to be included from now on, numbers 152, and puts the number of students beyond 2000. This mark is regarded as sure to be exceeded on the campus proper within the next few days.

Registration for the fall term of last year numbered 1688, and compared with the 1975 this term, shows an increase of seventeen per cent. The number of men continues considerably in excess of the number of women.

The expansion of work in the pure sciences, pre-engineering, architecture and professional geology make it likely that the proportion of men will continue to grow.

Passing the 2000 mark has been long looked forward to by Oregon alumni, and has come sooner than it was expected.

DEAN FOX WANTS RECORDS

Tests of Social Affairs for Year To Be Sent to Office

An effort is being made by Dean Elizabeth Fox as head of the social affairs committee to simplify the social programs on the campus and to do away with conflicting social affairs. If all of the organizations on the campus would send in to her a list of the social affairs they had planned, and the dates for them, it would greatly facilitate her work.

As it is, Dean Fox has the list of the dances that the organizations are to give, but has no record of the other social events. If a list of all of the social affairs of the organizations and the glee clubs, orchestra, and the like were sent to the office of the Dean it could be arranged so the other social functions which come up would be given dates that would not conflict with affairs already planned.

SIX DEBATES AND ONE ORATORICAL CONTEST PLANNED

Forensic Council Arranges Public Speaking Program for College Year

PROF. C. D. THORP COACH

Tryouts for Varsity Men to Be Held Soon; Several Veterans Back

Two triangular debates, two debates for women, and one triangular oratorical contest besides the annual state oratorical contest are included in the Varsity forensic schedule formulated by the Forensic Council at a meeting Wednesday. Tryouts for the debate teams will be held within two weeks. Three former varsity men, Boyd Iseninger, Ted Rice, and Paul Patterson will try out.

The first triangular debate will be with O. A. C. and Reed College, while the second will include Oregon, Washington and Stanford. The dates for these contests have not as yet been announced.

Debates with O. A. C. and the University of Washington form the woman's debate schedule.

The debate coach for this year is Prof. Clarence D. Thorpe, who succeeds Manfred Michael. He received his M. A. Degree from the University of Michigan and after that was the head of the English department at the Northwestern Arizona normal school where he had charge of the public speaking classes for five years. From there Professor Thorpe went to the University of Arizona as head of the debate and public speaking departments. He will coach both the men and women's varsity teams. He says he is well pleased with the co-operation shown by other departments in the University towards putting debate on its old basis.

Professor Thorpe is co-author of a book on modern public speaking.

The State Oratorical contest will be held on this campus some time in March. Two months later Oregon orators will meet representatives of both Idaho and Washington in Seattle.

It was decided to do away with all freshman debate for this year. In so doing the council granted the first year men the right to try for the varsity team after they have been in school for three months. It is hoped that this action will strengthen the varsity team. Offers for debates with both the O. A. C. Books and the Washington Frosh were turned down because of the council's decision. The Council also decided on a thorough revision of the campus doughnut debate league. Although the plan has not as yet been announced the council feels that much improvement over the old system will be made.

FORTY MEN ARE OUT FOR VARSITY DEBATE AT O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oct. 7.—(P. I. N. S.)—More than 40 men will turn out for the varsity debate tryouts to be October 19, according to Professor C. B. Mitchell, debate coach. The subject under fire will be "Resolved: that Oregon should enact an anti-alien land law in regard to orientals." A dual meet with the University of Washington, a triangular meet with Reed college and the University of Oregon and another contest—possibly a trip to California, including meets with several institutions—will be the work for the year.

PHYSICAL COURSES RECOGNIZED

The University of Illinois now recognizes the course in physical education and coaching as a major subject offering for the academic degree. This summer 407 students were registered in the coaching classes.

PACIFIC U. HERE TODAY

Frosh Eleven Developing

YEARLINGS SHORT IN WEIGHT, LONG IN SPEED AND PEP

Baz and Brandenburg Driving Men Hard With Hopes of Building Machine

MATERIAL WEEDED TO 40

Reinhart, Spear, and Lovelace Show Up; First Game With Mt. Angel, Oct. 22.

With Coaches Baz Williams and Everett Brandenburg driving them hard in daily workouts, the forty aspirants for places on the frosh eleven are giving more promise of developing into a real machine. The prospect was none too encouraging at the start, with the majority of the men ignorant of the fine points of the gridiron sport, but the coaches are trying to crowd a few years of experience into the few weeks of practice, and results are beginning to show.

In the opening days of the season there was no lack of willing raw material, but the number has been weeded down to two score of the most promising. The coaches now have an aggregation looking less like an overcrowded class and, with the smaller number out, closer individual attention to the players is possible.

There is lots of fight, "pep" and speed among the men, and with time and experience great developments should take place. Baz and "Brandy" are doing all in their power to make the team a success, and if hard work stand for anything the coaches should have a squad that will finish somewhere near the top.

Among those showing up to advantage is Reinhart. In addition to his size he has lots of fight. Spear also is promising material with an abundance of "pep" and plenty of poundage. Lovelace is another who is coming into better form day by day, but needs lots of work. He is exceptionally fast and boots the pigskin farther than any of them.

Williams Has Hopes

Coach Williams is hopeful for his men. While they are small he believes that they will stack up fairly well with their opponents during the season. Practice is beginning to tell, but not sufficiently to enable the coaches to pick any definite men for the final lineup.

The first game on the frosh schedule is with Mt. Angel on October 22, to be played here. By that date something more definite will be known about the ability of the respective players. Probably not before then will a lineup be made.

The following are requested to appear with solos, Monday: Sadie Eccles, Dorothy Carpenter, Joanna James, May Fenne, Ramona Rowe, Rita McMullen, Helen Williams, Beatrice Gorman, Allegra Ragsdale, Maude Lagerson, Kathleen Kern, Catherine Nicholson, Margaret Phillips, Hildred Hall, Verna Price, Florence Cartwright, Hulda Hafner, and Merle Oliver.

WATER MEETS PLANNED

POLO TEAM BEING ORGANIZED BY VETERAN SWIMMERS

Games to be Scheduled For This Year With O. A. C. and Multnomah Club; Later With Californians

Water polo and swimming are coming into their own at the University with such men as "Mick" Wilson, "Duke" Howard, George Neale, Lyle Palmer, "Hap" Hazard, Bill Inke and Art Erickson in the game.

A water polo team is being organized with Howard and Wilsey, veterans at the game, doing the coaching. Although there is no schedule at the present time for meets with the different universities and athletic clubs, there are hopes of scheduling meets with O. A. C. and Multnomah club this year and with other colleges in the ensuing years. Stanford and California have asked for meets, but the game is not sufficiently advanced here to make any certain dates.

"Mick" Wilsey specializes in the 50 and 100 yard sprints as do Lyle Palmer and "Hap" Hazard. Wilsey was captain of the 1920 team and is a veteran in the swimming game.

"Duke" Howard is strong in the back stroke and the 200 yard dash while Bill Inke is a good all-around man.

Art Erickson, a swimmer of some note from San Diego, specializes in the back stroke.

Swimming teams will not be organized until the winter term and it is hoped that a strong team can be found. The new physical ability test will probably reveal much material that can be used for this team.

PLAYERS SUGGEST CHANGE

U. of W. Group Will Probably Come Under Control of Students

University of Washington, Oct. 7.—(P. I. N. S.)—Members of University Players Association have suggested that college theatricals be under the direction of the A. S. U. W. for the purpose of centralized control. The dramatic faculty and possibly the board of control will consider this plan.

It is believed that such a scheme is a beneficial financial arrangement for the A. S. U. W., and that the consolidation of the two dramatic clubs was an improvement last year.

KANSAS Y. W. TO GIVE OPERA

The Y. W. C. A. of the University of Kansas will soon put on the opera "The Pirates of Penzance," a composition by Arthur Sullivan.

SEVERAL AGES TO BE MISSING FROM FIRST HOME TILT

Reinhart and DeArmand Will be on Sidelines and Leslie Too May Be Idle

MANY PLAYERS TO BE USED

Coaches to Take Final Chance To Get Line on Talent For Season

"Prink" Callison, center on Oregon's 1918-19 varsity, returned to Eugene last night and will register in the University. He has been playing with the Olympic club in San Francisco all season and will start practice with the Lemon-Yellow warriors next week.

"Callison will be a valuable addition to the team in the game against Idaho next week," said Coach "Shy" Huntington last night.

At 2:30 this afternoon on Hayward field the Lemon-Yellow varsity will tangle with the Pacific University eleven in the first game on the home field this season. The invading gridsters arrived last night on the 6:45 Oregon Electric, 18 strong, accompanied by Coach Leo J. Frank.

Oregon's team will be minus several of its stars when it swings into action this afternoon but will present a strong line-up against the Forest Grove aggregation. Billy Reinhart and Tommy De Armand will decorate the side lines, while it is doubtful if "Spike" Leslie, star tackle and punter, will be used more than a few minutes if at all as the coaching staff are taking no chances on disabling the big fellow.

Johnson to Call Signals

Huntington's backfield will probably start this afternoon with "Tiny" Shields at full, King and Parsons in the halves and Ward Johnson at quarter. Johnson has been calling signals all week in scrimmage. He is heavier than Chapman, who was used at quarter in the Willamette game.

In the line, Captain Howard and Neil Morritt will likely start at the ends, with "Scotty" Strachan in right tackle and McKeown in left, provided it is decided not to use "Spike" Leslie. Floyd Shields and Rud Brown will probably start as guards, with Bark Laughlin at center.

Many to Have Trial

A majority of the likely candidates who are out for the team will be used tomorrow by the coaching staff as this is the last opportunity to get a line on what they can do under fire before the intercollegiate schedule starts.

Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel announced today that positively no students would be admitted unless they present their student body tickets. There will be no exceptions to this rule, according to Benefiel, and those who do not wish to go back after their tickets should be sure to have them on hand.

Freshmen Live in Tent; Will Stay Four Years

College students are usually pictured as gregarious fellows who react unpleasantly toward solitude, sophisticated beings who live in a peculiarly accentuated environment where "ukes" are thumbed as attenuated rings of tobacco smoke roll toward the ceiling, dimming the luster of varicolored varsity pennants. But at Oregon two freshmen have been found whose nomadic habitat is entirely different.

Their home is a tent under a leaning maple near the edge of the millrace. Behind them is a perpendicular wall of shell storied oligocene sandstone, the bed of the great inland sea which spread over the Willamette sound. This place is known as the old stone quarry, close to the city limits of Eu-
