

PROGRAM FOR DOUGHNUT ATHLETICS IS OUTLINED

Meeting of Representatives of Groups is Held

LARGE VARIETY OF SPORTS

Regular Gym Credit Awarded Intramural Activities

A program of intramural athletics which would include basketball, track, wrestling, swimming, boxing, tennis, and baseball was presented to representatives of the various houses for consideration by members of the coaching staff Thursday afternoon.

As the doughnut schedule now stands, basketball, cross country, and advanced gymnasium competition will be run off during the fall term. Boxing, wrestling, swimming, and hand ball will be held during the winter, while baseball, track, and tennis are billed for the spring quarter.

The advanced gymnasium competition will consist of a series of tests in running, high jumping, bar vaulting, rope climbing, and swimming. It is the plan of the physical department to post, each year, the name, with the records, of the man who surpasses in these tests. Regular gymnasium credit is to be given for the intramural sports this year.

The doughnut league basket ball schedule has not yet been drawn up, but the games will probably start the latter part of October and last nearly until Christmas vacation. This long schedule will permit the teams to rest more between games, which was impossible last year with the short schedule. Bohler and Durno will conduct a class in basketball for anyone wishing to attend it. This class will start next week and will be held daily from four to five in the afternoon. Many old doughnut veterans will probably be out getting in shape for the series.

To the organization which has the best record in all of the above contests, a very desirable trophy is to be given in the spring, by the department of physical education. The method of scoring will be the same as the scoring of a cross country race. The teams winning first place in each of the leagues will be credited with one point, the teams winning second place will be credited with two points, etc. The team with the least number of points wins the trophy. The individual league cups for basketball, baseball, and track will still be given the same as before.

Eddie Durno and Hank Poster will have charge of the intramural athletics this year, with representatives from all of the organizations acting as a council to help them. If the proper spirit and cooperation is shown, the new doughnut series can be put over in great style.

"OLDER BOYS" WILL MEET

PLAN TO ORGANIZE AND CHOOSE CONFERENCE DELEGATES

Chance to Get High School Lads Who Attend Conventions Here For School

All men on the campus who have at any time attended an Older Boy's Conference, are to meet Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 in the Y. M. C. A. hut to perfect an organization, which will send delegates to the conferences held yearly in sections of the state.

It is estimated that there are about two or three hundred men on the campus who have at sometime attended these gatherings, including many officers who were in office as early as 1914.

The meeting will afford an opportunity for University men to renew old acquaintances made in high school days.

OBK HAS

Genuine Ivory cigarette tubes and some people say an Ivory Head.

The "Y" invites all these men to come to the hut Tuesday, and renew friendships made with boys several years ago. Old times will be talked over, and a permanent organization will be effected. One of the chief aims of this organization will be to make possible the sending of Oregon representatives to the three big conferences held each year in this state. At the same time each year, the older boys of the state get together at some place in southern Oregon, the Willamette Valley, and Central or Eastern Oregon respectively. Last year the conferences were held at Roseburg, Salem, and LaGrande.

About eight hundred of the best high school men of the state gather annually at these conferences. They are the type of men who go on to college, and make the best college students. If it is possible for the organization now being planned to be effected, men sent from the campus to attend these three big get-togethers could influence the high school boys there to come to the University for their college education.

Don't forget the meeting men! 4:30, Tuesday, at the hut.

MANY CHANGES IN LIBRARY RESERVE BOOKS UPSTAIRS

Miss M. B. Humphrey New Reference Librarian

The old student re-entering the campus notes the change made in the library. All of the reserve books have been taken upstairs and a new reserve book desk has been placed in the upper hall. The four old class rooms have been changed into reading rooms and the reserved books are not supposed to be taken from them.

The main floor of the library is to be used as a reading room as before and all books but the reserved ones can be obtained at the main floor desk. A group of books of special interest is kept there, also the late popular fiction such as "Main Street" and "Dust," for which a fee of five cents is charged for each day when these books are taken from the library.

The new books just added to the library are kept on a rack near the desk so that every one interested can look them over before they are put on the shelves for actual circulation. Both the circulation magazines and the magazines which are to be read in the library are in the main reading room as before. The stacks will not be open to the public this year.

The class room, in the basement, formerly used for history, has been changed into a newspaper room and the old newspaper room is now M. H. Douglass, librarian, office.

Miss Mary Brown Humphrey who was a member of the summer term faculty has taken the place of Corabel Bien as reference librarian. Miss Bien is visiting in Ohio.

FRESHMEN LIVE IN TENT WILL STAY FOUR YEARS

Over a wooden foundation the two men have placed an army wall tent. The wooden floor is boarded up from the sides for more than three feet. This wall is neatly covered with tarpaper, and the tent fits snugly down the sides. Although the initial expense of erecting their tent abode was enough to pay room rent for several months, the students think their investment will be profitable, since they plan on spending their four years of college in this picturesque home on the millrace.

A jointed stove-pipe protruding from the south side of the tent and a split pile of wood in the shelter of the sandstone formation bear witness that the men are standing by for the chilly day. They have already tested out their tent and do not fear the rain. Electric lights will soon be installed. Rossell, a son of a minister in The Dalles, declares he and his partner have a nifty nomadic frat. At present the two men are eating at the Friendly hall cafeteria.

SEVERAL ACES TO BE MISSING FROM FIRST HOME TILT

The officials for the game were announced as follows: referee, Ralph Coleman, O. A. C.; umpire, Clyde Johnson,

Special Harness Made

A bright ray of hope was shed on the football situation this afternoon when Trainer Bill Hayward announced that he would have Reinhart back in a suit next week with a possible chance of using him in the Idaho game, if he is needed. Bill has invented a special harness for the speedy little quarter, which will prevent any further injury to his injured shoulder.

Reinhart's collarbone was not broken as was at first supposed but a ligament was torn in his shoulder. His return to the squad strengthens it immeasurably as Bill is not only one of the fastest men in the backfield but has had a world of experience in the grid game, before the war he played a year with Missouri Wesleyan and was rated as one of the best quarters in the Missouri Valley conference. Bill played on service elevens during the war and was on last year's varsity.
