

PERSONNEL OF GLEE CLUBS ANNOUNCED; MANY ELIMINATED

Seventeen Out of Eighty Are Selected by Women in Three Tryouts

TRIPS FOR BOTH PLANNED

Men Choose Twenty-one; Good Material Said to Have Been Secured

After days of strenuous try-outs, in which scores of ambitious singers were eliminated, the announcements of the personnel of the University of Oregon's glee clubs have been made.

Seventeen places in the women's glee club were filled last evening, when Director Leland A. Coon announced the names of those winning positions in the organization. Eighty University women tried-out for positions in the glee club, two preliminaries being held. Finals were held yesterday afternoon, and the results were announced last evening.

Seventeen Are Selected

The girls winning positions are Joanna James, Hildred Hall, Vera Price, Margaret Powers, Bess Huss, Rita Ridings, Maxine Buren, Alice Baker, Romona Rowe, Allerga Ragsdale, Maud Lageson, Kathleen Kem, Viola Powell, Dorothy Poill, Ruth Akers, Leona Gregory, and Margaret Phillips.

Members of the glee club who were here last year are Florence Garrett, Bernice Altstock, Gwladys Keeney, Betty Kessi, Muriel Myers, Marvel Skeels, Belle Chatburn, Eloise McPherson, Marion Linn, and Constance Miller.

Two trips are planned for this year, one to the Marshfield district, and one north. The work of the girls has always been classed as a big asset in bringing new students to the campus. Eleven girls have tried out for accompanist, and results for this position will be announced the last of the week.

Men's Results Are Out

Results for the men's glee club were also announced. Competition for positions was unusually keen and some excellent material has been secured. Those who will make up the club this year are: first tenor, Carol Akers, Ralph Poston, Wallace Cannon, Curtiss Phillips, Alan Smith; second tenor, Arthur Johnson, Crescencio Farris, Nelson English, Willis Kays, Roy Bryson; baritone, Glen Morrow, French Moore, John Gavin, George Stearns, Ronald Reid, Harris Ellsworth; bass, Maurice Eben, Herbert Pate, Carl Newbury, Aubrey Furry, "Cy" Valentyne.

Both the men's and women's clubs will take one or more trips during the coming season. Maurice Eben, president of the men's organization, reports that there is a possibility of a trip into the inland empire and of an extended trip later on. No definite plans for the proposed trip East have been made.

Arthur Rudd, manager of the club, is corresponding with glee clubs of the Northwest with the idea of obtaining information concerning trips which they have taken. This information will be used in formulating more definite plans.

Prehistoric Monster Has Tooth 'Fixed' on Campus

who would place a limit to the giant's unchained strength?

So sang the poet; and as one watches Miss Rachel-Husband, assistant in the department of geology, carefully doing some extensive dental work on the tooth of a mastodon, that long-haired, ringed-trunk gigantic beast which crashed through the jungles far back in the pleistocene, there is a potent feeling that an unchained mastodon would be a poor subject for dentistry work.

Before the reader is given the impression that a reincarnated mastodon Americanus has sauntered into the geology museum in Johnson hall for dental services, let it again be explained that this mastodon which Miss Husband has in drydock was a very disconcerting part of the movable scenery which was when man was not. Also, to avoid any disappointment to curious persons who might visit the museum, it must be mentioned that Miss Husband's pet is nicely fossil-

"PAT" McARTHUR, '01, WILL GIVE ASSEMBLY ADDRESS

A. S. U. O. officers have requested that all students turn out for assembly this morning to hear "Pat" McArthur, '01, now a member of Congress from Oregon. "Pat" was editor of the college paper while in the University and prominent in athletics. He has not addressed the student body for a number of years and it is announced that his subject will be of interest to all college men and women.

UNDERCLASS MIX WILL BE SQUAREST ON RECORD

"No Ruff Stuff" Say Senior Cops, Who Will See That Justice is Done; Five Contests on Big Card

"This is a square mix, is the way the juniors explain the underclass mix which is to be held on Kinead field next Saturday.

"All jokes aside, if there ever was a square mix this one will be square," they go on to say.

So evidently the first year men are going to have a real chance to show their superiors just what they are made of. They hope so, for they contend that it never has been done before.

"Hap" Hazard and "Doc" Braddock, the two wizards of '23 who were entrusted with the framing of this year's program, have announced the following list of events: One yelling contest between the sophomore men and the freshmen; one singing contest for the ladies; a 50-man tug o' war; a 30 man cane rush; a tie up exhibition and one flag rush.

Art Kuhnhausen, chief of the senior cops, will lead the purity squad of upper classmen. Art says that this will be a square mix and to leave all your "tuff stuff" at home.

Besides his police duties Chief Kuhnhausen will judge the start of the annual senior "mustache raising race." It is his intention to see that no one gets an unfair start in so important an event in the college year.

THREE DEBATE TROPHIES UP

REWARDS FOR MEN'S, WOMEN'S AND MIXED CHAMPIONSHIP

First Contest Set for November 8; No Faculty Members Allowed to Coach, This Year

Three trophies will be offered this year to the doughnut debate teams, according to Paul Patterson, forensic manager. One for the winner from the girl's organizations, one for the men, and a third trophy to be awarded to the winner in the final debate between the winning teams. The question will be on some national or international topic and will be announced by Saturday.

The schedule has not been arranged, but the first debate of the year has been set for November 8. Contrary to custom heretofore, the teams will not be allowed to have a faculty member for a coach. Professors may be asked for advice, but the same privilege will be open to all of the house teams. The names of the entries from the different organizations should be handed in to the debate coach, Professor C. D. Thorpe, or Paul Patterson by October 19.

WASHINGTON FROSH IS 14

Washington university's youngest freshman is fourteen years old. He is enrolled in the college of liberal arts, but intends later to take up engineering. Ernest Falakoff, for that is his name, is interested in school activities. He is turning out for coxswain on the rowing crew and will take up debating.

NEW BLEACHERS TO INCREASE CAPACITY OF HAYWARD 6,000

Athletic Field Will Hold 15,000 When Addition is Completed

ANOTHER UNIT PROBABLE

Benefiel Expects Maximum Crowd For Game With O. A. C.

Hayward field is to seat approximately 15,000 people at the annual Oregon-O. A. C. game this year. Jack Benefiel, A. S. U. O. graduate manager, will let the contract this week for the construction of permanent bleachers to seat 6000 on the north end of the field. Hayward field will then have a seating capacity second only to that of the University of Washington stadium in the northwest.

Work on the new bleachers, which will be under the general supervision of W. K. Newell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, will be started as soon as Benefiel lets the contract. The new structure will be financed by the Associated students.

The new bleachers will be a unit of the permanent field. It will be semi-circular in shape, with twenty rows of seats, extending the full width of the field. Before deciding on the construction of the new bleachers, a preliminary outline of the Hayward field of the future was made, with the result that the new structure was planned to fit in with future additions. The next unit to be built will be a huge grandstand opposite the present grandstand. A bleacher unit similar to that which will be built on the north end may be added later to the south end. Such a program would increase the seating capacity of Hayward field to such a point that it could easily accommodate a crowd as large as that which would desire to see any coast football game for several years to come. The new bleachers to be built this year will stand outside the track so that it may be used in case any important track meets are held here in the future. The track will be protected by guard fences.

Since 13,000 people saw the Oregon-O. A. C. battle at Corvallis last year, Benefiel feels confident that the annual Homecoming battle here will draw fully 15,000 and will fill all the seats which will be provided by the new addition. The Oregon-O. A. C. game here two years ago at the time when Hayward field was dedicated drew 12,000 spectators, indicating a yearly growth in attendance at the big state championship game which normally would make Benefiel's estimate likely to be fulfilled.

CYNIC IS SCHEDULED TO ADDRESS LIBRARY CROWD

"Faculty Members I Have Slept Under" Will Be Subject of Discourse By Famous Critic; No Admission

Unannounced and in behalf of no particular Greek Letter society comes the Campus Cynic to make his second annual bow for the first time to the multitude today in front of the library. Promptly at the close of the ten o'clock period the grizzled veteran of many a press fight will mount the stone steps of the hall of Knowledge to discourse wisely and fluently on the faults of present day education.

Rumor has it that the subject of his "30-30" discourse will be "Faculty Members I have Slept Under." The Cynic has steadfastly refused to comment upon the nature of his attacks it being the understanding that they will be withheld until the open-air hearing. No admission will be charged nor will any collection be taken. It has been suggested that pictures of the festival will be taken provided the crowd will hold still for one moment.

MAIL IS NOT CALLED FOR

Cubby-hole Postoffice is Crowded With Notices for Students

An unusual number of notices for students from the administration office have accumulated and are waiting distribution in the cubby-hole postoffice in the basement of the Administration building, says H. M. Fisher, University postmaster.

Mr. Fisher wishes that students would call for their mail, and suggests that a daily trip to the postoffice for their organizations' mail would be a good job for the freshmen.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR SPEAKER TO URGE CUT IN ARMAMENT

Vespers to be Held Downtown; Musical Programs Will Be Made Feature

HISTORIAN WILL BE NAMED

Proposition of University Band Is Discussed; R. O. T. C. Offers Assistance

By FLOYD MAXWELL

That an effort will be made to bring a speaker to the Oregon campus in the near future to discuss the coming conference for the limitation of armaments and that the proposition of student action in the matter be considered after such an address, was the unanimous opinion of the student council which met last night. The suggestion of united action on the part of students throughout the country came from Pennsylvania State College in the form of a message to the Emerald and the president of the Associated Students a few days ago.

The advisability of immediate student action in the matter was discussed and the plan to bring the full import of the coming conference squarely before the students for their discussion and decision was reached as a solution, as the result of careful consideration of the matter by the Student Council. The committee on assembly will be urged to secure such a speaker as soon as possible.

Vespers to Be in Churches

Hereafter, student vesper services will be held in one of the churches downtown as a result of action taken by the Student Council last night. The question was brought up at the suggestion that better musical facilities could be obtained. It was pointed out in the discussion that a pipe organ would be available for the Vespers if held in one of the churches and that the musical program was always a feature of the Vesper services. The combined glee clubs singing with the accompaniment of a pipe organ was declared to have been very successful when tried during commencement last spring.

The matter of the immediate appointment of the historian was brought to the attention of the council. The historian position is one to which a great deal of responsibility is attached, declared President Bartholomew in discussing the appointment, "and we must be very careful in our selection."

A committee consisting of Mildred Ferguson, Ella Rawlings and Floyd Maxwell was appointed to select the candidates for the position. These will be voted upon and the appointment of the historian made at the next meeting of the council.

University Band Discussed

The matter of the immediate organization of the University band was taken up by the council and a committee of three members was appointed to investigate the matter. It was brought out in a discussion of the matter that Major Baird, commanding officer of the R. O. T. C., desired the student body to take some action in the

LIFE OF JANITOR NOT ALL "BEER AND SKITTLES"

Library Attracts Peanut Lovers and Paper-wad Sharpshooters; Other Buildings Are Cleaner

If "cleanliness is next to godliness," some of the University students are rather far from attaining that virtue, according to several of the campus janitors, interviewed on the subject of the tidiness of the college buildings. H. A. White, janitor of the Library, states that "the gum, peanut shells, and chocolate papers couldn't be worse."

L. L. Constance, who takes care of Deady hall, is slightly more encouraging, but believes that the neatness of the college people has not reached "99 44-100 per cent." He states that, although the papers and wrappers are less in evidence in his building than in the high school where he last worked, there is still opportunity for improvement.

The Administration building, however, is treated with more consideration. W. H. Ledward, who is in charge of the janitor work there, praises the students for the way they refrain from throwing paper around the halls and class rooms. "The students couldn't be neater," was his comment. "They are certainly fine."

Scandal Sheet to Be Feature of All U. Mix

A rampant scandal sheet printed in red hot ink on cast iron paper will be but one of the milder features of the Y. M.-Y. W. Mix tomorrow night, it is said. Sigma Delta Chi, fearless and fair, promises to make some of the most astounding revelations of fact, near fact and fiction heard of since shortly after the war.

A capable and irresponsible staff is now at work on the publication and the very hedges are being combed for material with which to fill its pages. A nominal charge will be made for the paper, all proceeds to go for printing expenses and attorney's fees.

As there will be a rally Friday morning to see the team off for Portland there will be none Friday in the evening but starting from the library a serpentine will wind its way way via the fraternities and sororities down to the new armory, where the bust is to be held. This is to be an anti-calendar affair, i. e., no dates. Old clothes will be a la mode and everyone is asked to bring a mask but to leave any intensions of highway robbery aside. Costumes are desired. Snappy stunts and lively entertainment are, to be combined with edibles. "Fun is what there ain't going to be anything else but," in the classical English of a certain faculty member.

LEMMY WILL PAY FARE

GIRL SELLING MOST PUNCHES TODAY WINS TRIP

Expenses to Idaho Game To Be Given; 1500 Subscriptions is Goal; Eleven Houses Over

One of the big features of the Lemon Punch's final drive for subscriptions today will be the presentation of a round trip ticket to Portland with admission to the Oregon-Idaho game Saturday to the girl who obtains the highest number of individual subscriptions between eight o'clock this morning and six this evening. "One girl has been picked from each house organization to enter the contest but any girl not living in an organization is privileged to compete and may do so by turning in her name to Wilbur Hoyt at the Punch booth this morning. All competing are asked to be on hand in front of the booth at ten minutes of eight. Men are welcome to compete if they so desire.

Following is the list of girls who will compete from the various houses: Dorothy Brodie, Alpha Delta Pi; Jean Bailey, Alpha Phi; Lillian Manerud, Chi Omega; Alice Tutthill, Delta Delta Delta; Lenore Cram, Kappa Alpha Theta; Katherine Spall, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Audrey Roberts, Pi Beta Phi; Adah Laraway, Susan Campbell; Velma Farnham, Hendricks hall; Felicia Perkins, Thacher Cottage; Alice Garetson, Gamma Phi Beta; Irene Glavey, Delta Zeta; Freda Goodrich, Alpha Chi Omega; Helen Dougherty, Delta Gamma; and Ruth Tuck, Zeta Rho Epsilon.

All students who have subscribed to the Lemon Punch are asked to wear their tags today on the campus to avoid the necessity of asking them for subscriptions. Thus far eleven houses have reported 100 per cent and complete returns from other organizations have not been received as yet. The following reported 100 per cent at eleven o'clock Tuesday evening, Delta Gamma, Bachelordon, Delta Delta Delta, Phi

"Old Oregon" to be Issued By Theta Sigma Phi Girls

The next issue of "Old Oregon," the University alumni publication, which will come out October 22, will be published by the members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity. Mary Lou Burton will edit the magazine, and the other members of the organization will be on the editorial staff.

This is the opening number of "Old Oregon" for this year, and will contain a complete program and advance outline of the Homecoming events, which will be of particular interest to the graduates. "Home to Meet 'Em—Back to Beat 'Em," the Homecoming slogan will be used in the magazine, to invite every old grad of the University to return, for the week-end.

Besides this, there will be a story by Dean Colin V. Dymont on the new scholastic standards of the University, and Registrar Carlton Spencer will write on the 2000 mark which the registration of the University has reached, and compare this with registration in the past.

Will Oregon be able to take the strong University of Idaho team to another defeat, when they tangl Saturday afternoon when they meet on Multnomah field. Will Oregon, with a green inexperienced team be able to lower the Gemstater's colors, with Coach Kelly boasting one of the strongest teams in years? That is the question that football followers and critics of the northwest are asking.

Idaho has a strong team this year, stronger even than the speedy aggregation that lost to Oregon on Hayward field last year 13-7 on what even the Lemon-Yellow's strongest advocates characterized as a fluke. The Mosew line lost but two men last year, Plastico and Perrin, Plastico at center and Perrine at right tackle, with ample excellent material to take their places. The backfield which worked so smoothly against the varsity line last fall is back entire—the two Breshears, "Huck" and "Beany," Whitecomb and Irving.

The Idaho team is undoubtedly one of the strong teams of the Northwest and they are out to take the varsity's measure, for up there at Mosew they are galling under the long string of crushing defeats that the Lemon-Yellow has inflicted upon them. The varsity is equally determined to bring home another Idaho scalp. The psychology of the situation is decidedly in Oregon's favor, for even in the lean years Oregon has always been able to defeat the fighting aggregation from Mosew.

The first game between the two institutions was played back in 1901 when Warren Smith of the University of California was varsity coach. The game resulted in a nothing to nothing score and was the only tie game to be played between the two institutions.

Games were played yearly between the two universities after a break until 1906, up to 1911 when the death of Virgil Noland, varsity guard, caused

Athletics will occupy a prominent place in this issue, and will tell the old grads just about what to expect this year from the Lemon-Yellow warriors. Up-to-the-minute news of former classes and pithy campus items will make up the rest of the magazine.

Every graduate of the University, whose address is in the alumni secretary's hands, will receive a copy of this issue of "Old Oregon" whether a regular subscriber or not. In addition, every housing organization on the campus, as well as members of the faculty, will receive copies, and additional numbers will be on sale at the co-op. The magazine will be of especial interest this time because it will contain the program and resume of Homecoming events.

The girls of Theta Sigma Phi, besides editing this issue of "Old Oregon," will publish their annual paper, "The Handshake," which comes out in Janu-
