INSIGHT INTO WORK OF CONGRESS GIVEN BY 'PAT' MCARTHUR

Representative Explains At Assembly How House Is Organized

COMMITTEE DUTIES TOLD

Speaker Member of Class of 1901; Took Part in Many Activities

An insight into the work of congress was given the University students and faculty at the assembly in Villard hall yesterday morning when Hon. C. N. (Pat) McArthur, representative from the third district of Oregon, and well-known on the campus as a member of the class of 1901, gave an address, using this subject as his theme.

"Organization and rules are absolutely necessary if legislation is going to succeed," he said placing particular emphasis on this point. "Somebody has to be boss; there must be teamwork in legislation as well as in anything else." He then proceeded to explain how the actual work of Congress is done by committees, and how this is the most efficient way of accomplishing the various tasks that come before it. Representative McArthur had with him a book of rules of the house of representatives, and showed it to the students while he pointed out that one must hear the matters discussed in order to absorb them. "You can't sit down and learn these rules from the book but you get them just as a lawyer learns law at his client's expense."

Duties are Outlined

The duties of the most important committees of the house were outlined by the congressman, who placed the ways and means committee first on the list. On this committee, which provides the necessary methods of taxation to meet the government expenses, are 25 members, one of whom is Congressman Hawley, of Oregon, who Mr. McArthur says, is a most valuable member. The steering committee, which is not an official committee in the house, outlines what shall be taken up, and what matters shall find their way to the legislative scrap heap, and consequently, according to the speaker, determination is one of the necessary qualifications of the committee members.

Idaho is the only state west of the Rocky mountains which is represented on the appropriations committee, the duty of whose members it is to handle the "purse strings" of the government. Mr. McArthur said that the qualifications for membership on this committee are very rigid. The men must be successful in a business way and have the courage to say "No" to entreaties for money. Mr. McArthur is a member of the committee on naval affairs.

Was Former Oregon Student

"Pat" McArthur entered the University of Oregon in 1896, and during his college career here was president of the student body, manager of the football team, and editor of the Oregon Weekly.

Preceding the speech Madame Rose McGrew, of the school of music, sang two solos. The new members of the men's and women's glee clubs made their first appearance yesterday morning and assisted the students in singing the opening hymn.

MORE ATTENDING MINNESOTA

The registration figures for the fall quarter show 7,270 in attendance at the University of Minnesota. This is 251 greater than on the opening of the second week a year ago.

Frosh Who Vanished in '19 Back After Look at World

Back in the spring of 1919 a wearer of the verdant derby mysteriously disappeared from the campus. Rumor had it that he had last been seen headed toward the mill race with the expressed intention of going canoeing. Several months later the Emerald solved the mystery of the freshman's disappearance by printing the information that the missing man not only was alive but was serving his country as a rook in the regular army.

Late Wednesday evening there breezed into the journalism shack a chap with a sea-going air and a salty expression. Ernest Richter was his name. The frosh who left suddenly in 1919 was also Ernest Richter. E. A. Richter, student journalist, soldier, and

One Thousand Seats at Game Await Rooters

"There are one thousand seats waiting for us, are we going to fill them?" is the question asked by Yell King "Obie."

One thousand seats in the center section of the bleachers, on Multnomah field, have been reserved by Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, for Oregon rooters. Tickets for admission to the game can now be purchased at the Co-Op for fifty cents provided you present your student body ticket at the time of the purchase.

The old grads, says Benefiel, will be there about two thousand strong and will have a reserved section in the grand stand. Lyle Brown, ex '12 baseball man and yell leader, will be there to take charge of the grads lung exercise.

"Assembly will be sounded for Oregon's rooting forces at one o'clock sharp at the Imperial hotel," says "Obie," after which everybody will fall in and parade up to Multnomah field. "Obie" and Fred Woods, another of Oregon's noise specialists, will be there in uniform to lead their forces.

PUNCH CAMPAIGN IS OVER

AUDREY ROBERTS WINS TRIP TO OREGON-IDAHO GAME

Velma Farnham and Jean Bailey to Get Bound Copies; Contributions for Next Issue Pouring In

The Lemon Punch subscription campaign closed yesterday evening with an approximate total of 1000 subscriptions. The trip to the Oregon-Idaho game was won by Audrey Roberts, Pi Beta Phi, who sold 55 subscriptions during the day.

Velma Farnham, Hendricks hall and Jean Bailey Alpha Phi followed a close second with 48 and 47 subscriptions respectively. Miss Farnham adding her hall subscriptions secured 85 in all, while Miss Bailey with her Alpha Phi subscriptions of the day before secured a grand total of 82. Both Miss Bailey and Miss Farnham will receive bound copies of Lemon Punch.

The close of the Lemon Punch campaign marks the beginning of Lemmy's second year. Staff members are bending every effort to make the Homecoming issue a big success, according to the editor. Contributions of all kinds, from jokes to editorials to cartoons, are urged that the maximum amount of talent may be represented. All material must be in not later than October 25.

Anyone wishing to subscribe before the Homecoming edition are asked to see Wilbur Hoyt, circulation manager or turn in their subscription by mail, care Lemon Punch, campus.

CHICAGO MAN VISITS CAMPUS

Mr. Broeksmit was on his way back to Chicago where he is treasurer of the Harris Banking and Trust company. He has been attending a bankers association meeting in Los Angeles.

FIVE REPORTERS NAMED

First Freshmen of Year Appointed to Staff of Oregon Daily Emerald

Five more names have been added to those appointed to the news staff of the Emerald. Those whose names appear in the masthead this morning for the first time are Herbert Larson, Mildred Weeks, Edwin Fraser, Margaret Powers and Doris Holeman.

This is accordance with the policy of appointing a few at a time as they prove their merit. Freshmen are appointed to the staff this morning for the first time this year. There are a great many trying out for the staff and the competition insures the best possible material.

WOMEN'S SPORTS TO START REGULAR SCHEDULE MONDAY

Gymnasium Instruction to Take Last Six Weeks of Fall Quarter

VOLLEYBALL IS POPULAR

Miss Manchester in Charge of Classes; Hockey Series Will be Played

With the physical examinations, which have been keeping the instructors in the physical education department busy since the opening of school, practically over, the classes in sports will begin their regular schedule Monday. Hockey, volleyball, swimming, canoeing, archery and folk dancing will take up the first six weeks of the fall term and the rest of the time will be devoted to gymnasium work.

Volleyball is being introduced into the University as a girl's sport this year and according to the number enrolled in the classes it bids fair to become as popular a fall sport as hockey. The department hopes to put on a number of competitive games to increase the interest. Miss Gertrude Manchester, who was an instructor in the Y. W. C. A. college in New York City, will have charge of the classes.

A suitable field for the hockey games has been a problem for the past few years but this year the girls will play back of the Woman's building and south of the men's baseball diamond, on the field which was originally theirs, and where several years ago they defeated O. A. C. Under the direction of Miss Waterman the usual series of interclass games will be played if the weather permits.

Swimming and folk dancing will be under the direction of Miss Winslow, and the girls have their choice of three hours of swimming or two hours of folk dancing and one of swimming. The archery classes are full according to Miss Thompson who will have charge of them, assisted by Miss Manchester. Canoeing under the direction of Miss Waterman is being reserved for majors as there are only three canoes for the use of the department.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY CUT

ONLY ONE DAY OFF, WORK ON FRIDAY, SAYS FACULTY

November Study Too Much Broken Up In Opinion of Members of Teaching Staff

There will be but one day vacation for Thanksgiving this year. This action on the part of the faculty was taken February 3, 1921, in connection with legislation on the opening and closing dates of the Fall term. At that time the faculty voted that "Thanksgiving vacation be abolished with the exception of Thanksgiving Day itself."

The vote of the faculty was the result of experience in the fall term of 1920. At the beginning of that term the faculty raised the University standards materially in most departments. All went well until November, when a series of interruptions occurred. Armistice day, Homecoming Week-end, the week-end of the O. A. C. game and Thanksgiving week-end caused such a break that the scholastic momentum of the fall term was much reduced.

This year the same series of breaks would occur if the Friday holiday existed. Homecoming week-end begins the 19th and Thanksgiving is the following Thursday. After Homecoming the students, according to some members of the faculty, would not accomplish much the first of the week, if looking forward to vacation Thursday, and Friday.

Final examinations, only three weeks distant from this Thanksgiving holiday is another reason for the decision of the faculty against an open Friday.

Huge Reward Offered at Y.M.-Y. W. Mix Tonight

By LEITH ABBOTT

Campusdom has grown tired of reading the words "biggest and best" which for the past many years have been applied by ambitious press agents to every sort of student enterprise under the sun. Henceforth the committee members in charge of the Y. M.-Y. W. mix at the new armory tonight, while they are confident that the function is to be the "biggest and . . .", have adopted a new method of advertising the fact. They will give 150,000 yen, truly a handsome prize, to any student who, after attending tonight's big function does not acclaim it "the best time I have had in college." Anyone desiring to claim the prize may do so by notifying the chairman who will be in front of the library between the hours of 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. tomorrow morning to receive applicants.

Originality and snap have guided the committee in arranging tonight's festivity. New features will be announced every five minutes for the enjoyment of the thousand or more students who will attend. A program of stunts that will please will be one of the main attractions and in staging these there will be no delay between acts.

Co-eds are reminded that an exhibition of especial interest has been arranged for them in the shape of a fast boxing bout between two of the best mit men on the campus and while there has been a ban placed on betting the opportunity of seeing an "honest-to-goodness" fistic encounter has its enticements.

All will take part in a new stunt the characteristics of which are being closely guarded until tonight. A mask, homemade or a handkerchief, will be the only necessary paraphernalia. A serpentine will leave the library at 8 o'clock this evening and wend its way to the armory passing all organizations en route. Men with band instruments are requested to meet at the library at 7:30.

Order of the O men and committee chairmen will meet at the armory at 7:45 to get everything in readiness for the marching hordes when they reach the fun palace.

Attired in old clothes or costumes any University student may gain entrance at the armory for the nominal sum of ten cents. One nickel will be necessary to acquire a copy of Sigma Delta Chi's "Fizzbang," declared to be the snappiest thing in the way of newspapers to have gladdened the campus since 1919. For another nickel elephant fruit, alias peanuts, may be procured. Doughnuts and cider in unlimited quantities will be served free during the evening.

Harkening back to the "biggest and . . ." etc. realm this is the one all University function of its kind during the year.

MEN OUT FOR BASKETBALL

DOUGHNUT PRACTICE BEGINS AND WILL LAST UNTIL 24TH

Day Divided Into Periods For Those Who Know Game and Beginners; Hour a Week for Each Team

Doughnut basketball is definitely under way. Practice started Wednesday evening, and will continue until the games begin on October 24. According to an announcement by Assistant Coach Edwin Durno yesterday, the time from 4 o'clock until 4:45 will be devoted to the men who know absolutely nothing about the game, but wish to play it. The time from 4:45 o'clock until 5:30 is for men who know something about the fundamentals of the game, but are not experienced. Experienced men are not wanted on the floor during these hours, and are urged to do their practicing during the day. "It is our aim to develop new material during these hours" said Mr. Durno, "and we do not wish to be bothered by men who already know the game, for they can do their practicing at other times."

The time from 7 o'clock until 10 in the evening is to be reserved for the different doughnut teams to practice, according to Mr. Durno. One hour will be allowed a team each week, and the teams will have to sign up ahead of time, at Coach Bohler's office for the hour that they want. As each team is to be allowed only one hour each week, Coach Bohler should be seen as soon as possible, for the doughnut games start on the 24th and as the

Another man will be taken on the trip but he was not decided upon last night.

At 7:25 this morning, on the north-bound Oregon Electric, the varsity football squad of 20 men with Head Coach Huntington, his two assistants, Bill and Bart, with Trainer Bill Hayward, and Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel, departed for Portland, where tomorrow on historic Multnomah field the Lemon-Yellow will do battle with the fighting Gemstaters from Moscow.

The team will stay at the Imperial Hotel while in the metropolis and this afternoon will work out on the Multnomah club field between 2:00 and 3:00 preceding the game between Hill Military Academy and the eleven from Forest Grove high school. The workout will be mainly confined to signal practice and kicking.

Idaho Strength Feared

With Idaho at the top of its form and with its strong last year's team practically intact, Head Coach Huntington is not especially optimistic over the outcome, but is convinced that if the varsity can take this game with few injuries the Lemon-Yellow will present a strong front against the other coast teams with whom games are scheduled. However, Idaho has such a strong team in the field this fall that a defeat at their hands will be a long way from a sign of Oregon weakness.

Idaho will take the field Saturday with probably, Goff, at center, Brown Evans or Neal in the guard positions, Glindeman and Stone at tackle, S. Breshears, and Cobby in the wing positions, with "Beany" Breshears at quarter, "Huck" Breshears at fullback, Whitecomb at right half and Irving at left.

New Men Strong

The Gemstate team lost but two of its last year's eleven, Perrin at right tackle and Plastino at center. Perrine, though famous as an Olympic athlete, was not rated very highly as a tackle and Stone from last year's freshman eleven is playing the first year on the varsity line is expected to strengthen the team considerably. Goff, who takes the great Plastino's place at center, played with the Idaho yearlings last year and is looked upon as a corner.

Idaho made its scores against the strong Camp Lewis team on placements and possessing an experienced booter in the backfield, is conceded a slight advantage over Oregon in this department. For though Parsons, and Chapman have been showing excellent stuff in practice in the way of placements and dropkicks have not yet been tried under fire.

Leslie To Punt

"Spike" Leslie, will do the booting for Oregon and has been getting away some long punts in practice. With the development of the secondary defense and the strengthening of the line it will be practically impossible for the Idaho aggregation to duplicate Wilmette's feat in blocking the big tackle's kicks.
