Our Greatest Homecoming

With most of the important arrangements completed for the greatest Homecoming in the history of Oregon, the success of the undertaking now lies wholly with the students. Announcement comes today that the transportation companies have acceded to the request of the Oregon students that alumni visitors to the campus be allowed a reduced rate for the trip. To those responsible for securing the low rates, rightfully belongs a great deal of credit.

But there is much to be done yet. One of the ways in which the success of Homecoming can be assured is for individual members of each living organization to take it upon himself to send out invitations to the old grads to return for the grand occasion. Start these letters going now; you cannot be too early.

The Emerald believes that Oregon's opportunity to prove her ability as a hostess has come. Both Oregon and O. A. C. alumni will be the guests on the campus. The time to start preparing is now, and we must get off to a running start.

"Biggest send off an Oregon team ever received," declared an old alumnus last night after the rally which escorted the team to the train. Oregon Fight was there, Oregon spirit was there, the team knows what the students are thinking and praying; "Beat California!"

Assembly Day today. Another opportunity to prove that we started right. Go to assembly.

ORDER OF O TO FUNCTION

Big Paddle to be Featured Following 10 O'clock Classes Today

Percolating ominously through subterranean campus news channels comes the rumor that following the 10:00 classes this morning the Order of the O is to function severely and significantly on the library steps. The big paddle has come out of hibernation and will make its appearance at this meeting of the lettermen, over which Glen Walkley will rule supreme.

Further information says that punishment will be meted out on several counts, but the chief charge will be against freshmen who show a paucity of headgear and hellos. It is believed that the 1925 sombrero will cover a greater cranial expanse after the performance this morning.

MAY LENGTHEN HOLIDAY

day after Thanksgiving. When the question came up this fall it was concluded that as nothing had been said about the Friday vacation at the time when the reconsideration was made, classes would be held as usual.

The faculty felt at the time of the decision to abolish the holiday that there were too many breaks in the class work. In the fall term of last year, with the attempt in every department to raise the scholastic standards, there came a series of holidays, which in the opinion of the majority of faculty members was detrimental to higher standards of college work.

This year the O. A. C. game is the Homecoming game which will eliminate one interruption. Last year the students went to Corvallis one week-end, and the big game in Eugene was with Washington.

DYMENT TO BE SPEAKER

I think they're wrong about. In general," he concluded, "this speech will be an explanation of why some things are."

Miss Eleanor Lee, a former instructor in the voice department of the school of music, will sing "Adieu Forests" from the opera "Jeanne d'Arc," by Tehsikovski. Miss Lee, who was on the campus in 1918, has been studying in New York, and is in the West for a
