WOMEN YELL LEADERS RAISE OSKIES AT DANCE

Girls at Sponsor-Sponsee Affair Have Peppy Time and Barrels of Doughnuts and Cider

With cider 'n' doughnuts, Oskies, serpentine and syncopation the annual Sponsor-Sponsee dance, held Saturday afternoon in the Woman's building will long be remembered for its novelty.

The affair was in the nature of a rally dance, and the three yell leaders, Emily Perry, "Boom" Cannon and Florence Riddle, demonstrated not only Oregon spirit but the ability of university women to produce reverberations and echoes almost equal in volume to those of the men.

In spite of the mud and the rain, couriers splashed bravely back and forth bringing news of the California-Oregon game from the wire in Villard to the Woman's building. A score board at the end of the dance hall indicated the progress of the game. Between the halves the Oregon chant was given, and those many girls who have often envied the men their last rousing "r-r-rah" found themselves springing up from the floor with that grousing cheer bursting from their throats.

The inroads made on the doughnuts and the cider presented a doubt for a while as to whether the refreshments would hold out; but until the last dance was played and the last cheer given, there was no indication of any decline in pep.

COMMERCE FROSH MEET

Courses of Study Advisable During College Years to be Outlined

Every freshman registered in the school of business administration must be present at the lecture given by Dean Robbins this evening at 7:00 o'clock in Dr. Howe's room in Villard hall. The meeting will be over by 7:45, thus giving all those who wish to attend the concert time to get there, and leaving the evening free for those who have other plans.

It is very important that every frosh be on hand. Special advice will be given to them, and an outline of what courses of study they may pursue during the coming four years, in this way giving the members of the '25 class a chance to line up their work with a definite aim in view, a thing heretofore poorly worked out.

RALLY IN RAIN, DUD; SLEEP DEFEATS IDEA

Students Let Players Rest After Struggle

Tints of gray dawn in the east! Buckets of drenching, honest to gosh, Oregon rain saturating the landscape! A small but fast growing group of sleepy-eyed, shivering students huddled about a Pullman car a short distance from the S. P. depot! Echoes of an "Oskey" rent the clear air! Silence!

Such was the scene at the hour of 6:30 yesterday morning when many loyal supporters of Oregon's fighting football team forsook the comfort of a chilling rainstorm to welcome the defeated warriors from California. Enthusiasm was rampant and the outlook for another rousing rally was bright with the continual arrival of more "early birds."

Yell King Oberteuffer led off by ordering an "Oskey." But alas—the strain of the long, the tiring effects of Saturday's grilling battle with the mighty "Bears," numerous bruises and aches from the hard tussle—all this was evidently too much for the sleeping gridiron heroes and the shouts of their supporters failed to arouse them. Thereupon the rallying students held a consultation. Deciding that "for the ultimate good of the University" it would be better to permit the players to slumber another hour than to wake them up, they hastened home to belated breakfasts. Oregon spirit is manifest in more ways than one.

600 STUDENTS AT DANCE

First Big Affair of Season Social and Financial Success

The first student body dance of the year was held Saturday night in the gym of the Woman's building, with 300 couples attending. From the very first dance to the last strains of the six-piece orchestra, the affair was a decided success. During the evening an ice cream sale was conducted by Mu Phi Epsilon, national music fraternity.

"It was as good a success from a financial standpoint as one could wish for or expect," said Arthur Campbell in speaking of the financial end of the dance. Approximately $225 was made. There is a possibility that there will be a student body dance Friday night, as it is doubtful whether another student body dance can be held this term on account of the full schedule of the week-end nights.

Miss Mary Rolfe, dean of women at O. A. C., was a guest. Patrons and patronesses were President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. Colin V. Dymont, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Elizabeth Fox, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McClain.

READING

Often proves to you the imperfections of your sight.

When it becomes necessary to hold the book nearer to or farther away from the eyes—depend upon it—something is wrong.

When letters run into one another, or the eyes ache, when fatigue follows reading, the condition of the eyes should be investigated.

This is advisable, not only that your capability for reading may remain good, but also straining eyes are a direct tax upon the health.

We have an equipment which, together with our experience, enables us to determine exactly the state and needs of your eyes.
