Portland Chamber of Commerce Hears President Campbell and Dean Hale

University Day, December 5, was celebrated with a luncheon at the Portland chamber of commerce. President Campbell and Dean Hale were the main speakers. President Campbell spoke on the work of the University, the increase in attendance, and to what use the millage money is being put. Dean Hale spoke on the "Better Bar" which dealt with legal education. It is his belief that a student should have two years of regular college work before entering the school of law.

The luncheon was very well attended as the room was filled to capacity. A special invitation to attend was extended to alumni and members of the bar.

OLD LADIES INVADE HOP

Delta Gamma Upper-classmen Close Unassigned Dance Partners to Unknown

Toothless hags with trailing feathers, freckled dames in elongated skirts, and gangling ladies topped with Merry Widow hats burst into the Delta Gamma upper-class dance last week-end. Mid the horrified exclamations of the dancers, each intruder grabbed the man of her choice with whom to flit the rest of the dance. The upper-class girls, left on the side lines, watched open-mouthed while the ancient contingent slipped into the latest steps with remarkable adaptability, considering their evident generation. As usual, suspicion points in the under-class direction.
