

SECRETARIAL COURSE TO BE GIVEN IN MARCH

Eugene Chamber of Commerce
Makes Request

BENEFITS ARE PROMISED

President Campbell Tells of Excellent Results

A short course for commercial club secretaries will be offered here by the University during Easter vacation from March 27 to April 1, according to an announcement made at the office of the school of business administration. The course was given for the first time last year and met with such success that the visiting secretaries passed resolutions requesting the University to make it an annual affair. At a recent meeting of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, also, it was asked of President Campbell that the course be given again.

Although the program will not be out for about a month, the courses offered will be similar to those given last year, according to the announcement. Besides classes in public speaking, commerce, journalism, sociology, and physical education, there will be a number of round table discussions on topics of interest and of value to the visiting secretaries.

President Campbell, when he spoke yesterday before the members of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular Thursday luncheon, announced the intention to give the course again, pointing out the benefit derived from it by the secretaries last year. He also emphasized the value of commercial clubs, and told of the number of men studying in the University school of business administration for that sort of work. He mentioned Barney Garret, of the class of '21, as one of those trained in the University, for a secretarial position and his success as the present secretary of the McMinnville Chamber of Commerce.

About 15 secretaries were enrolled last year and it is expected that even a larger number will take advantage of the course this March.

Y. W. HAS BIBLE COURSE

Houses to State Preference of Time and Type of Study

Beginning next week, the Y. W. C. A. will give its annual six weeks Bible course for University women. Plans for the course were discussed at Y. W. Cabinet meeting on Wednesday and a Bible study committee, of which Mary Evans is chairman, was appointed.

The committee will secure from each of the women's organizations on the campus, their preference as to the time of meeting, type of study and leader and these preferences will be followed as nearly as possible. Leaders are usually faculty members or wives of faculty members.

HAMMER AND COFFIN ELECT

Beatrice Morrow is Honorary Member;
Ray Bethers Also Honored

The Lemon Punch chapter of Hammer and Coffin last night elected Ray Bethers to membership, and Beatrice Morrow to honorary membership of the society. One girl who does exceptionally good work on the Punch is each year elected as an honorary member of the organization. Bee Morrow has been doing good art work for the publication during the preceding issues.

Bethers, who entered from O. A. C. has been one of the Punch's leading artists this year, doing much work on covers.

The next issue of the magazine will appear early in February and will be called the "Inevitable Number."

TELLS OF SCHOOLS IN EAST

Mrs. Frame Pays Tribute to Excellent
Work of Chinese University Girls

"Although Oriental college women speak with a different accent than that of American college girls, they talk the same language for they have the same ideals and in the end accomplish the same thing," said Mrs. Alice Brown Frame, in telling of the great amount of good that college girls of the Far East, without any intellectual background, have already accomplished. She spoke in Villard hall at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Frame told of the three colleges for women in India, the Madras College in Madras, the Isabella Thoburn College in Lucknow, and Vellore College, which is a women's medical college founded by Ida Scudder, daughter of an English missionary in India.

"Japanese women have only very recently had the opportunity to grow and develop," Mrs. Frame said in describing the work of the Christian College in Tokyo.

Telling of the sincerity and eagerness of the comparatively few women in China who receive a higher education, Mrs. Frame characterized them as being filled with "passionate nationalism." "All is for China, and daughters of the wealthy families are preparing to be physicians, teachers, social workers and Y. W. secretaries.

Mrs. Frame's lecture was filled with vivid pictures of the life of an Oriental college girl, the community, playground and social service work the girls accomplish while they are yet in college and the enormous opportunities that are open to them.

Mrs. Frame has spent 14 years in China and was acting president of Yenching College in Peking. She came to Eugene under the auspices of the American Association of College Women.

Y. M. PLANS RUSTIC FROLIC

Event to Take Place On Same Evening
As Student-Body Dance

A "Rustic Frolic" to be staged Saturday evening is being planned by the Y. M. C. A. as a Y. M.-Y. W. affair for the students who do not attend the student-body dance on that date. A hard times party with all the fixings is promised, and the dope on costumes will be disclosed on Friday afternoon.

Eight o'clock is the time set for the frolic, which will not be in competition with the student-body affair, according

"THE WEDDING GUEST" NEW DRAMATIC EFFORT

Professor Reddie Praises
Barrie Production

The dramatic department has started work on three plays. The first one, Barrie's "The Wedding Guest," will be seen on the campus the 25 and 26 of January. This play is considered by Professor Reddie to be the best play Barrie has written. It is unknown to a great many people as it has never been published in book form and has been produced very little. It is, however, a tense problem play and is likely one of the best plays of the kind that has ever been produced by the department. The second play produced during the winter term will be "Belinda" a light comedy by A. A. Milne. George B. Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" will be given sometime in March. In April the campus will have the opportunity of seeing "The Great Galeoto" by Jose Echegaray Eizaguirre and the commencement play this year will likely be "Othello."

During the fall term the dramatic department produced two plays: "Why Marry" which was the work of the senior company and "Swanwhite," a fairy fantasy written by Strindberg given just before the Christmas holidays. This play was a little out of the ordinary and was well received on the campus. Besides the two company plays the department repeated Shaw's "Pygmalion" in the Eugene theatre. "Pygmalion" had been given a year ago and with a slight change of cast was produced under the auspices of the Elks to help fill their Christmas cheer fund.
