

"Y" CABINET WILL HOLD MEETING IN HUT TONIGHT

Retrospect of Work of Past Term Will be Made

SPEAKERS ARE SIGNED UP

Dr. Eaton, Astronomer, Booked For Address at Assembly

The "Y" cabinet, composed of 16 students who are administrative officers and heads of departments in the Y. M. C. A. will meet this evening to review the work of the past term and discuss future plans.

The association has obtained good results from the work done during the last quarter. A large number of students are earning their way through the University from jobs received by the "Y" employment bureau.

Three parties have been given on the same nights as student-body dances and have been well attended. This new policy on the campus will be continued during the year as it fills a need in the social life of the campus.

Foreign Students Helped
The foreign student work, in charge of Glen Morrow, has done much in making men from other countries feel at home, they now have a permanent organization composed of representatives from the various countries.

The "Y" will continue to bring prominent men as speakers to the University, to address the student body, and to meet with men in personal conferences. Two men have been booked for this term up to date. Mr. A. E. Roberts, head of the county work department of the international committee, will speak in assembly February 9, and Dr. E. L. Eaton, of the University of Wisconsin, who is a noted astronomer.

The "Y" was an important agent in getting the Older Boys conference to come to Eugene for the 1922 session. Plans are under way to work up some propaganda during this term, and send University men out with it during the spring vacation. They will urge the high school boys of the state to come to the conference here next year. This work will be in charge of the deputation department of the "Y," and the boys will be urged to come, both from the viewpoint of the conference, and as prospective Oregon students.

Co-operate With Church
The work of the church-cooperation committee, under the leadership of Bill Purdy, secretary of the "Y," is assuming considerable importance. This is one of the most important phases of the activity of the Y. M. C. A. Final organization of the committee was effected Tuesday at a meeting held in the Anchorage.

The work of raising Oregon's delegation for the Seabeck-northwest student conference will start soon. The University was well represented last June, and more men are wanted to make the trip this year. The 10 days will be devoted entirely to training men for service to their fellow students.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. has been greatly facilitated through the Friendship Council, composed of representatives from all organizations, which meets monthly in the Hut.

SHORT NOTES OF SPORT

By EP HOYT

While Coach Bohler is, naturally enough, disappointed at losing the two games to Whitman on Monday and Tuesday nights he is impressed with the native ability of his players and expects them to develop into real stars. At present the coach does not intend using either "Hunk" Latham or Bill Reinhart, basketball lettermen, when they return from their football junket, according to a statement made yesterday morning. Bohler said that it would not be fair to the men to expect them to go through a hard basketball season after completing such a strenuous period of activity on the gridiron, and said that he would not take them on the California trip.

The Ninth Corps quintet, with whom the varsity is billed to tangle tonight, is reputed to be a fast outfit and is led by Lieutenant Cecil Jamieson former University of Washington center and captain. Coach Bohler said before leaving that he did not expect his proteges to give the soldiers a hard battle, but the game would be valuable as a practice set-to.

"Hec" Edmondson's Sundodgers are going a million this year and so far look like the class of the conference. The Sundodgers are using Evan Lewis and Nicholson, former guard at forwards, Sielk at center and Crawford and Bryan guards, constituting a speedy and well balanced aggregation. Bohler regards them as the potential champions of both conferences and expects the Lemon-Yellow to be badly beaten. The Oregon mentor went on to say that Seattle was plastered with advertising on the game and that the Sundodgers expected to see a great game, thinking that the varsity quintet was as strong as the 1921 Northwest champions.

The Oregon Aggies are away to a nice start and if they can hold the pace should finish well up in the standings of both conferences. Hjelte seems to be a find with his six feet of altitude coupled with an uncanny skill in slipping the ball through the basket. Sielk of Washington, who measures about 76 inches himself, and Hjelte should put up an interesting struggle when they come together. Three of the Aggies so impressed the Corvallis correspondent of a Portland newspaper recently that he recommended them for J. Fred Bohler's consideration as Pacific All-Stars. The three men who have got away to such a flying start are Hjelte, Stinson and Richards.

Assistant Coach Hank Foster who is directing the destinies of the varsity cinder artists during the absence of Bill Hayward reports a small turnout for the workouts. Foster attributes it to the fact that men who have not passed the physical ability tests are required to take three hours of regular gymnasium before they are allowed to go out for varsity track. In other words the department believes that if a man can't swim he can't run, as a man is required to swim rather efficiently before he elects his sport.

VARSIY SOCCERITES REPORT FOR PRACTICE

Veterans Will Back Team; Coach Declares Outlook Bright

With a hard schedule in view the varsity soccer squad has resumed practice for the winter term. More men have reported to Coach Barnes than did last term and the outlook for a strong team seems bright.

The team has been strengthened by the return of "Scotty" McPherson, veteran lineman of the 1920 team. McPherson is a sure kicker and handles the ball well. The center of the rush line is materially weakened by the absence of "Jimmy" King. He was the most aggressive player on the squad and was always on the ball. Price, formerly with Mt. Angel College, is being groomed to fill the center position.

The heavy toe of "Tubby" Ingle will be missed at fullback. "Tubby" injured his knee in a game with the "Aggies" and he is taking no chances with its hampering his track work. Jacobs will undoubtedly hold down the other fullback position.

Morgan Staton will be back at his old halfback position with Burton as a running mate. Gowans is holding down the goal area again. In the games last term he showed up well and saved many a goal from being scored. The rush line will be selected from the following men: Vester, Brogan, Lau, Captain Byers, Price, Brekey and McPherson.

There are several new men out and the competition for berths on the team should prove keen despite the list of veterans out.

Games will probably be scheduled with the Aggies, teams from Portland, and if Stanford comes north a game will be arranged. Practice is being held nightly on cemetery ridge.

NON-DANCERS HAVE PARTY

Affair at Y Hut Saturday Night Meets With Success

Parties for non-dancers given jointly by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. on nights of the student body dances are steadily gaining in popularity. More than 200 students attended the party in the Y. M. C. A. Hut last Saturday night. These entertainments were first introduced last term as a convenience for non-dancers, and are given on the same night as the student body dances and as supplements to them. This was the third such gathering this year.

Plenty of action featured the party Saturday night. Clowns and masqueraders circulated through the crowd, leaving merriment in their wake. High lights of the program were a clown dance by Helen Hoefler, a hula dance by a native Filipino, Avilo, and a recitation in Indian by Kanshi Ram, who also gave an Indian war dance. Hot dogs and cider were served.

Previous to that time he was President of West Virginia Wesleyan college. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholarship fraternity, Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

During the late war President Doney did war work in France with the Y. M. C. A.

A permanent feature of the Vesper services will be the collection of offering. The money received will be used to meet the incidental expenses, such as the printing of programs, and music. The remainder will be used to buy academic robes for the choir.

CRITICISM DRAWS NOTICE

dents this year. Chairman Raymond Lawrence of the committee was present at the council meeting and declared that a new plan would be brought up at the next meeting of the committee which it was hoped would be a satisfactory solution.

On request from the interfraternity council the student council considered the matter of a limitation on the size and expense of the annual freshmen bonfire. A committee consisting of Norton Winnard and Imogene Letcher was appointed by President Bartholomew to investigate the plan and make recommendations at the next meeting.

Del Oberteuffer appeared before the council and requested a dance and rally for the football team when they arrived Thursday night. The request was granted by both the student council and the student affairs committee of the faculty. Arthur Rudd, announced the men's glee club concert and dance for January 28 and requested that the council keep this date open. The council took action to prevent any activity on the night of January 28 which would interfere with the plans of the glee club affair.

Clubs Wish to Sell Candy

Two organizations requested the privilege of selling candy and doughnuts at the basketball games and requests were referred to a committee for action. James Say and Ella Rawlings are the members of this committee.

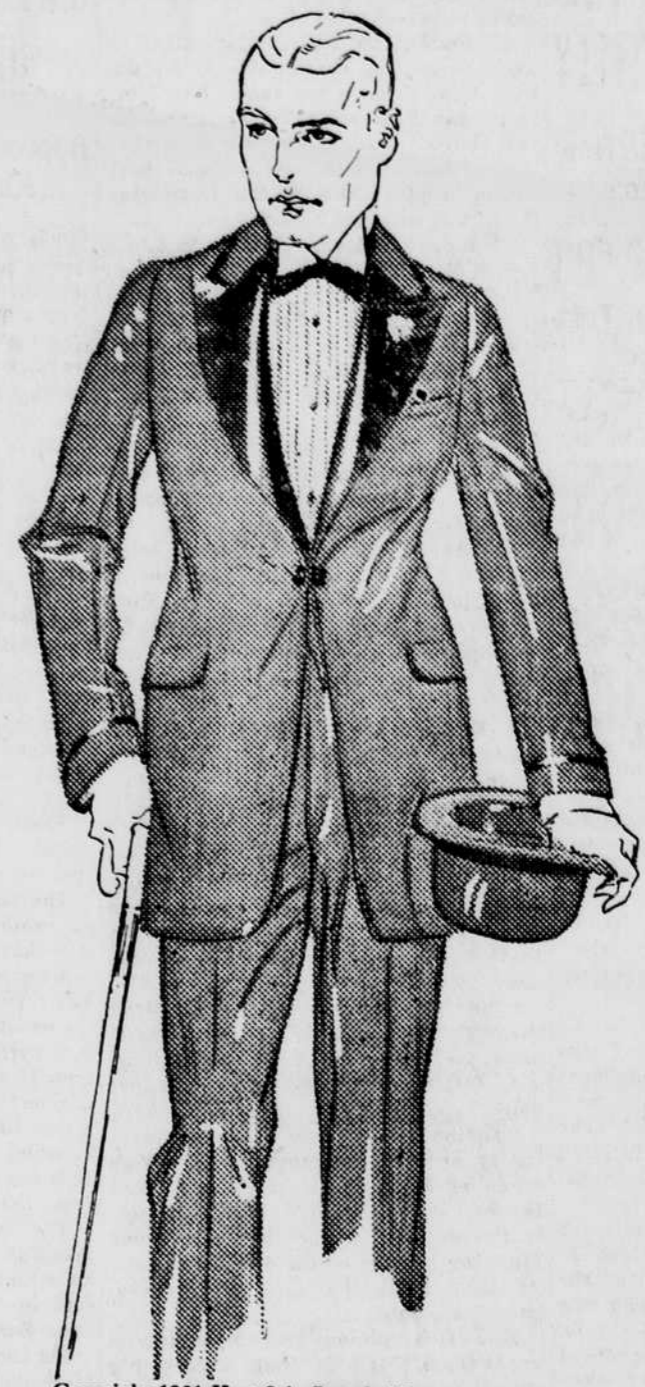

The council took cognizance of the following communication and requested the students to use more discretion in matters of this sort hereafter:

"Student Council: On the evening of December 12th after the rally which was held at the S. P. depot for the foot ball team, about 45 students boarded street car No. 850 and from the S. P. depot to the University the students removed fourteen electric light globes from the inside of street car. It not only made the car dark but compelled the motorman to run from the S. P. Depot to car barn without any headlight, which was very dangerous. This is the second offense during the winter.

"Would it be possible for you to take up with the students and avoid actions of this kind in the future. We feel very kindly toward the students and are glad to accommodate them and do anything within our power but feel that such action as this is unwarranted."

"Yours very truly,
