

WORLD WORKER TO SPEAK AT SATURDAY ASSEMBLY

Suzanne Bidgrain, of Paris, Will be Campus Guest

Suzanne Bidgrain, of Paris, secretary of the World Christian Student Federation, will be a guest of Dean Elizabeth Fox for a few hours Saturday and during her short stay will speak to the students of the University at a special assembly in Villard hall at 1:30. At the present time the invitation to the faculty and students to hear the world famous worker comes from Dean Fox, personally, but is expected that a student committee will also cooperate in the arrangements.

Mademoiselle Suzanne Bidgrain, who until recently was secretary of women's work in the French student movement, has come to America in the interest of the World Christian Federation. As she is stopping only at the larger cities, her visit to the Oregon campus may be due to the fact that she and Dean Fox were personally associating during the war. It was with her that Dean Fox visited several French universities after the armistice. Suzanne Bidgrain's visit to the campus will be made on her way from Vancouver, B. C., to San Francisco. She will leave from there for the Orient.

Mademoiselle Gouy, instructor in French on the campus, met Suzanne Bidgrain while attending a French university and she regards Miss Bidgrain as the most wonderful woman she ever met. In she regards Miss Bidgrain as the most wonderful woman she ever met. In France she is admired by both the men and the women above all other student leaders. In speaking of the French student leader Miss Fox said:

"I have known Suzanne Bidgrain for eight years and place her with two or three other women as the foremost student leaders in the world. I am overjoyed that she is to be my guest and I am happy to share her with the students of the University for I feel it is an unusual opportunity for them to meet a truly remarkable woman.

Mademoiselle Bidgrain will come to Eugene early Saturday morning and will have breakfast with Dean Fox and Miss Guoy after which a number of persons who speak French or have been in France will be invited to meet her. She will have luncheon at Hendricks hall and at 1:30 she will speak to the students on student life in Europe.

FROSH TAKE GAME FROM EUGENE HIGH, 26-21

King and Alm, for Babes, Show up Well; Chemawa to be Met Here Friday and Saturday

The frosh basketball team started the season off right Monday night by winning their first game from Eugene high school 26 to 21. The frosh were out-passed in the first half which ended 14 to 12 in favor of the high school, but in the second part of the game they came back strong, out-passing and out-shooting the high school.

King, for the frosh, played the floor well and dropped in several neat baskets. Alm, at guard, showed lots of speed, but missed many easy shots which he should have had. Murry, for the high school played the best game, making most of their points.

The frosh meet Chemawa here in a two game series on Friday and Saturday as preliminaries to the varsity games with Washington.

work on it is progressing rapidly." The need for new buildings such as a library, auditorium, science building, and gymnasium was presented to the board, the President suggesting in his report that funds for these buildings be solicited in the form of gifts.

The work of the deans was commended very highly, both for maintaining close personal relationship with the instructors and students, and for retaining the inspiration value which has been in existence since Oregon was a small college. This personal contact, said President Campbell, was largely responsible in the raising of scholarship standards at Oregon without injuring the student morale.

Special attention was also called to the Extension Division, and the admirable quality of work being done by students in that department. Audiences for the year 1921, in the lecture and educational film service, totaled over 340,000 people.

The regular routine business of the meeting was transacted at this time. Members of the Board who were present were: Judge J. W. Hamilton, of Roseburg; A. C. Dixon, of Eugene; Charles H. Fisher, of Eugene; C. C. Colt, of Portland; Herbert Gordon, of Portland; Major W. S. Gilbert, of Astoria; C. E. Woodson, of Heppner; Mrs. Geo. T. Gerlinger, of Portland; Sam A. Kozar, of Salem, and Superintendent of Schools J. A. Churchill, of Salem.

THANKS EXPRESSED FOR CAMPUS HOSPITALITY

Editor of Eastern Clackamas News Pleased With His First Meeting With State Newspapermen

Appreciation of the hospitality extended the newspapermen of the state during the recent conference was expressed in a letter received yesterday by Dean Allen from Upton H. Gibbs, editor of the Eastern Clackamas News. Mr. Gibbs says:

"Permit me, on behalf of Mrs. Gibbs and myself, to express to you and through you to the members of the University faculty, and the students of the school of journalism, our sincere thanks for the delightful hospitality and entertainment we enjoyed during the conference. Everything was done to make our stay pleasant and memorable. I was quite struck with the personnel of the conference, and felt elated in belonging to such a fine body of men. It was my first appearance at a gathering of the members of the Fourth State, and I was gratified by feeling definitely located under some classification. For as a clergyman I often wondered how I was regarded by the laity, as so many gave the impression that I was neither male nor female, but some indefinable tertium quid, as Kipling might say."

While attending the conference, Mr. Gibbs addressed that body on "The Small Weekly as I have Found It."

NATIONWIDE DEMAND FOR "PAUL BUNYAN" STORIES

Second Edition of Ganglore Tales May Appear Soon

With letters of inquiry coming from various parts of the country and from prominent publishers the last word has by no means been heard of "Paul Bunyan," the famous hero of the chapbook produced by Miss Ida V. Turney, of the English department, with the help of the class in narration and the class in normal arts under Miss Helen Rhodes.

Miss Turney says that all available copies of the book were gobbled up long ago and there are demands from publishing house in New York has sent out advertising circulars and is asking for 500 copies. Editors of magazines are writing for information and are seeking copies. An interesting fact in this connection is that many inquiries have come from men in the lumber camps who are decidedly interested and who say that the book is of the very spirit of their camps and the stories that spring up around them. "Paul Bunyan Comes West" has been favorably reviewed in the "Spectator," the "Dial" and the "Nation."

Miss Turney is well pleased with comments received by her through personal letters. "I have not heard the type of dialect used in this story since I was five years old," she says, "but all the critics say it is correct in every way and fits the lumber camps exactly." The next step will be to get the book copyrighted which will be petitioned for as soon as possible. If plans can be satisfactorily arranged a second edition may be printed. Miss Turney says that material is at hand for another book of a somewhat similar nature and further efforts along this line will be attempted in the future.

ANTIQUÉ COLLECTION GIVEN TO UNIVERSITY

Mrs. Murray Warner of Eugene Presents Art Gift

The announcement has just been made of the gift of a large collection of valuable art objects to the University by Mrs. Murray Warner of Eugene. The collection contains a number of antiques and some more modern examples of the best of Chinese, Japanese and European art. Two hundred Japanese prints, 25 Mandarin coats and skirts and a valuable collection of porcelain and china make up the greater part of the gift which will soon be placed in display cases in the club rooms of the Woman's building.

Mrs. Warner stated, in offering her collection to the University, that when she found that there was a need for an artistic background on the campus to further the interest in art she was glad to give her collection and she hopes that this gift will be of benefit to all the state as well as the students. Mrs. Warner formerly lived in New England and has traveled extensively, particularly in the Orient where she found most of the things which she has collected.

A large number of embroideries, several tapestries and panels, numerous pieces of porcelain and china, 200 prints, many of which are very old and rare, a set of Japanese armor and a number of antique war implements and helmets are all of interest to a student of art and will be of value to the school of architecture and allied arts especially. The collection contains objects of art from China, Japan, Italy, France, Switzerland, Turkey and India, and have been collected by Mrs. Warner during her travels in the Orient and in Europe.
