Come Out of the Shell.

The yell staff declares that Oregon students are not this year living up to their fine reputation for sportsmanship. What's wrong? Apparently we are suffering from a lapse of real sportsmanship.

The students in the bleachers who take up and "rag" the efforts of the players on the floor whether they are members of the Oregon team or of the opposing team are certainly lacking in the qualities which make up Oregon Spirit. We pride ourselves on our spirit, yet here we are allowing it to deteriorate in a manner which if not checked would soon spell disaster.

If it is the underclassmen who are making this great mistake then there must be something wrong with the manner in which we are "bringing them up." If it is an upperclassman then he should go back to the days of the "frosch bible."

We are not a narrow group of men and women who cannot concede victory to the enemy without detailing a long list of alibis. If the opposing team is superior, then to them should go the credit. That does not mean that we are lacking in spirit; it merely means that we are good sports, and that is a reputation which we have held in the past and one which we must hold now.

Are we good sports? Or are we allowing the players on teams which come here to go back to their respective colleges and universities and declare that we can't see beyond the end of our noses. How about it?

Sixty Minutes of Music.

The sixty minutes of musical treat which the members Mu Phi Epsilon presented to the campus at the assembly yesterday is deserving of high tribute. Here was a musical program, void of all semblance of jazz and cymbals, and yet it drew the largest number of students to old Villard that have been present at an assembly this year. Which probably disproves the theory that some of our critics have been expounding for several years, that college students do not appreciate a program of classical musical selections.

The women members of Mu Phi Epsilon who took part in the program are artists and each number was enjoyed to the utmost by the students present. Let us hope that some of our other organizations will take unto themselves a task similar to that of Mu Phi, and that they will be able to acquit themselves as creditably. And above all things, lets have a little more of the classical in our musical programs and a little less of the "jazz." Mu Phi Epsilon is showing the way.

Woman's Athletics

What is your mentality? Is it medium, high or low? If you are doubtful about it you had better keep away from the Woman's building for the physical education department has found a way to test it for you. Miss Alden will tell you that authorities say that the strength of the grip is directly connected with strength of character and mentality. High grip, high mentality; low grip, low mentality. As the grip of all freshmen and sophomores is recorded on the department information cards they are beginning to wonder if these figures will effect their grades the first of April.

The faculty women have a basketball team and they are anxious to show the students what they can do when they meet them on their own ground. Despite the fact that a short time ago the Hendricks Hall team defeated them by a score of— but that isn't necessary—they invite any team that wishes to meet them to name the time and place. The personnel on the team is Miss Alden and Miss Perkins, forwards; Miss Winslow, jumping center; Miss Manchester, running center; and Miss Waterman and Miss Thompson, guards.

The Women's Athletic Association will hold their first meeting of this term Tuesday afternoon in the Women's League rooms of the Woman's building. The question of whether or not the association will continue giving awards such as canoe paddles, tennis rackets and sweaters for track and walking will be discussed. The new constitution has been completed and each member will be given a copy.

The members of the gymnasium classes perhaps more than anyone else are praying for warmer weather, especially those who are consigned to the outdoor gym. Jackets, scarfs, and even fur coats have become a part of the regulation attire.

Mr. C. W. Wheeler, of Portland, head of the Red Cross Life saving work in Oregon will be on the campus February 4, according to an announcement from the physical education department. He has arranged to give a swimming and life saving demonstration in the Woman's building.

NEW FRATERNITY SOUGHT

Six Girls Petition Sigma Delta Pi; Scholarship Required

A local group of six girls is petitioning for the honorary Sigma Delta Pi fraternity. The group was organized at the end of last term.

The chapter requires a high scholarship, but all of the girls have an average of 11 so they expect to have their petition granted soon. They received a favorable reply from the Alpha chapter at the University of California before Christmas.

The members of the organization are: Elaine West, Helen Hofer, Marian Gillis, Emily Perry, Frances Morgan, and Helen Addison, all of whom are members of the Spanish club.

FILIPINOS ORGANIZE

Students from the Philippine Islands at the State College of Washington have organized an association to foster the spirit of co-operation, improve the social, mental, and physical status of Filipinos here, and to spread on the campus a better understanding of their island homes.

NEWMAN CLUB TO BE HOST

Archbishop Christie Will be Guest At Sunday Breakfast

Honoring Archbishop Christie, of Portland, the Newman Club will give a breakfast at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, at their club house. Under the direction of Jack Hilary, president, a program, which includes a solo by Bernice Altstock, and piano solos by Annabelle Denn, and Mrs. W. Collins, has been prepared for the occasion. An address by Archbishop Christie will also be an important feature of the meeting. About 80 members of the club, and Dean Fox, will be present. Bishop Christie, who is Archbishop of the state of Oregon, will spend the week-end as guest of the Newman Club on this campus.

GRADUATE NOW IN SIDON

Paul Weidenheimer, Former Assistant In English Department, Teaches

Paul Weidenheimer, last year a graduate assistant in the English department, is teaching in a missionary college in Sidon, Asia Minor. It was at first reported that he was teaching at Bangkok, but his last letter, which took six months to reach Eugene, explains the change. He is the only American in the city, and complains that his students speak English only "after a fashion." He warns his friends not to send him anything valuable in the mail as the French open all the mail, and sometimes play the gleaner.

Weidenheimer's 175,000 word novel "The Grey Boulder" has been accepted for publication by the Knopf Publishing Company of New York.
