Fit, and Full of Fight.

No, we are not winning as many basketball games this year as we would like to; but we are a victim of circumstances. The fact that there are only two letter men on the squad has a great deal to do with this, and the fact that practically every other team in the conference has a full array of experienced players on the floor this year is another reason.

We can't expect to win every year, but there is no one who can say that our basketball teams do not have the old fight and the old spirit. There never was a better exhibition of this fight than that which has shown against great odds in the University of Washington games here last week-end. And it was great to hear that wholesome, clean applause which greeted the players of both teams when they were deserving of applause.

It didn't take much to get that old sportsmanship reputation back, did it? But by all means let us keep it. We may not win any conference honors this year on the floor; but we are not suffering any disgrace by that, for our basketball team does not quit! Now, how about the rooting section?

Stop Thief!

Reports of the losses of caps and overcoats from the library and from cloak rooms where student body functions are in progress have become so numerous that we cannot longer attribute it to "taking by mistake." Petty thieves are at work on our own campus, and the property losses to students from the complaints that have been made would approximate a thousand dollars.

This is pretty serious in a university where democracy and friendliness have always held full sway and where our belief and trust in our fellow classmates have been the contributing factor to this friendly spirit. It should not be necessary to install check rooms at the library for wraps and at the Woman's building and other campus gathering places. Yet these measures must be taken if this practice of petty thievery continues.

Don't Abuse the Privilege.

Complaint has been made by the physical education staff that a number of the campus "smokers" are abusing their privilege of smoking in the Woman's building. After each student function in the building cigarette stubs are found in all sorts of out-of-the-way places. The staff wishes to convey to these "users of the weed" that a room has been arranged for them to do their smoking in and that they expected to confine themselves to this room when they wish to indulge.

This rule should be observed by the students. Those who think they must smoke in the building should by all means use the "smoking room."

MAZAMAS HEAR HODGE

Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, professor of economic geology and ore deposits, is giving a series of lectures on the origin of the topographical features of Oregon before the Mazamas, Oregon mountain climbing organization, in their club rooms. The lectures are of two hours duration each Tuesday evening and are as well attended as the freshman geology classes on the campus, according to Dr. Hodge.

WOMEN'S LOAN FUND GETS $40 FROM BOOK CLUB TEA

Miss Suzanne Bidgrain Gives Address on French Student Life; Girls Feature With Music

The Monday Book Club of Eugene entertained with a tea on Saturday afternoon in the Women's building for the benefit of the University women's scholarship fund. Approximately $40 was taken in which will be turned over to the fund.

During the afternoon a musical program was given by a number of University girls including harp numbers by Elcena Greene, a 'cello solo by Agnes Kennedy and vocal selections by Miss Charlotte Banfield and Leona Gregory. Helen Harper played several pleasing violin numbers and Mrs. S. I. Collins and Gertrude Andrae gave piano solos.

One of the interesting features of the program was the address given by Miss Suzanne Bidgrain, the noted French philanthropic and religious worker who was visiting on the campus as the guest of Dean Elizabeth Fox. Miss Bidgrain spoke chiefly on French student life.

Tea was served by a group of girls representing the women's organizations on the campus. Much of the success of the tea was due to the efforts of Mrs. A. L. Barker, chairman of the committee in charge, and to Mrs. M. F. Chatfield, who arranged the musical program.

Officers of the Monday Book Club are: Mrs. W. W. Calkins, president; Mrs. A. L. Ingalls, vice-president; and Mrs. S. A. Roberts, secretary-treasurer.

LEAGUE HAS "AT HOME"

Representative Campus Students Invited for Sunday Afternoon

Woman's League held the first in a series of "at homes" Sunday afternoon in Alumni hall of the Woman's building. To introduce these Sunday afternoon affairs among the students, representative campus men and women were invited to attend. Cheerful fires, soft lights and soft music helped create an homelike atmosphere. During the afternoon John B. Siefert, tenor, of the University of Oregon music faculty, sang several songs. Bernice Altstock and Naomi Wilson sang a duet, Vio Powell and Eloise McPherson gave solos.

CLASS BASKETBALL FOR GIRLS TO START MONDAY

Seniors to Meet Juniors; Sophomores Will Battle Freshmen, at First Game

The Women's class basketball season will open Monday with games between the seniors and juniors, and the sophomores and freshmen. Every class will have a strong first team to compete for the cup, which is now held by the class of '25, and all except the juniors will have a second team, for which a regular schedule of games has been arranged.

The teams were chosen yesterday afternoon, and captains elected as follows: seniors, Oletta Pedersen; juniors, Pearl Lewis; sophomores, Helen King; freshmen, Alberta McMonies.

General practice will be held every night this week with special emphasis laid on development of team work. The preliminary contests will be played next week, the finals the following week.
