

STUDENT NEED GREAT SAYS WORLD WORKER

European College Conditions Cited by Mlle. Bidgrain

The famous European universities, ever the Mecca of education and progress in the civilized world, are at the mercies of terrific economic need, according to Saturday afternoon. Mlle. Bidgrain, secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, who spoke to an assembly of students and faculty in Villard Hall, Saturday afternoon. Mlle. Bidgrain spoke from first-hand knowledge for she has just come from Europe, being now on her way to the International Conference of the Federation in China.

"Starvation and nakedness, taken literally, express the condition of students in Europe," Mlle. Bidgrain said, referring to several incidents that had come under her own observation. Two students were reported dead from starvation in Austria and upon investigation it was found that one meal a day was all that any of the students were getting, while the men had to go to their classes with their coats closely buttoned because they had no shirts. One hundred students, in one place, lived in one room, and in another six men went to classes, two at a time because they had only two pairs of boots.

Mlle. Bidgrain said that there are 30,000 students in Austria, of whom 6,000 or more are on the sick list; 13,000 need help in one way or another. In Germany there are 15,000 students who have no place to stay, and many of them must be fed even their one meal a day. In Czechoslovakia the students were able to build houses for themselves through the American aid, doing the work gladly by themselves. This interested the town people so much that they came out to see the students work, she said, and an admission fee was charged by the enterprising students, to make possible another meal or two.

The aid that came from the students of America, the speaker stated, was accepted with the utmost gratitude because they felt it was given in a brotherly spirit, and not merely as charity. The $685,000 which was contributed by students from all over the world in more favorable conditions last year, kept 70,000 of the most needy European students and professors at school, or even from starvation in many instances, for no work is available of any sort.

President P. L. Campbell, who presided at the meeting, expressed his hearty approval of American students helping their European brothers. He said that one of the largest contributions on the coast to this worthy cause last year was made by the University of Oregon students and faculty, amounting to about $2,000.

"If you can give $10.00, do so, if not give $5.00, or if you're not able to do that, $1.00, or fifty cents, or even a nickel," said President Campbell.

There is a booth in front of the library today, where cash contributions or pledges will be received. There will be no organized campaign of any kind upon the campus, but it is hoped that every student will feel the power of this appeal from Europe and give every bit of aid that he possibly can.

"INEVITABLE" NUMBER OF LEMON PUNCH COMING

Campus Humorists Write Messages to Fatalists; Magazine Will Contain New Art Features

"What's to be is apt to be," is the theory expounded by contributors to the "Inevitable" number of the Lemon Punch, which will be off the press between the first and fifth of February. It promises to be a guide-book to fatalists, and a revelation to those who consider themselves pursued by a jinx. Much good material has been handed in, with several special articles by such notable campus scribes as Haycox, Carneross, and Dierdorff. One satirical article promises to be of especial interest to members of the faculty.

The magazine will contain 25 pages, with two full page cartoons and five half-page illustrations. A special design has been drawn for the caption at the top of each page. This feature will appear for the first time in the coming number, and will be used hereafter. The two-color cover was drawn by Ray Bethers.

CHEMAWA EASY VICTIM OF FRESHMAN HOOPERS

Frosh Score 56 to Indians' 12; Chappy King High With 26; Downie Stars for Losers

The Frosh took the Chemawa Indians down the line for another game Saturday afternoon, the game ending 56 to 12 for the Frosh. The yearling squad was working well and time after time the forwards eluded the Chemawa guards and went in for easy baskets. "Chappy" King, at forward, apparently has found his eye as he made 26 of the 56 points. Alm played a fast game at guard, going down frequently for baskets. Downie for the Redskins made six of their points and was the only man that was effective against the Frosh guards.

The lineup:
Freshmen Chemawa
Crandell, 6 Downie, 6
King, 26 Bettles
Poulson, 4 Bucke
Haynes, 8 Colby, 4
Alm, 12 Duncan

SOCIAL HYGIENE TAUGHT

Oregon Graduates in Biology Assist Government in Work

Dr. H. B. Torrey of the zoology department, presided at a meeting of the social hygiene society held in Portland Friday. The society is composed of leaders in education and philanthropic work. Miss Vesta Holt, an Oregon alumna, addressed the society on the subject of social hygiene, discussing the work as it is carried out in the schools of The Dalles under her supervision. Biology and sex instruction are given in the fourth grade and continued through the next four grades, according to Miss Holt. This plan is also followed in Newberg and Ashland. Miss Geraldine Ruch, a graduate of the University, is conducting the work at the latter place.

Federal appropriations are received for this instruction. It is practically the first time that science as such has been taught in the state to children of this age, according to H. D. Sheldon, dean of education.

BARNETT TO GIVE ADVICE ON OREGON CITY CHARTER

Commission Government May Replace Existing Form

Oregon City, Or., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Professor J. D. Barnett, head of the department of political science of the University of Oregon, will sit in judgment as an expert upon the revision of the Oregon City charter. A movement to give the city a modern, workable form of government has been started and the committee which has the drafting of the new municipal code in charge has called on Professor Barnett through the extension division of the University.

According to present indications, the revision will take the shape of a commission form of government, although there has been some agitation for a business manager system. Feeling that time and effort would be saved through the consultation of someone who has made a special study of city government, and who is acquainted with the various forms and their application to special conditions, the committee at their meeting here Friday night (January 20) decided to employ the best authority available. Professor Barnett was decided upon as the logical man.

It is probable that Professor Barnett will be called upon to address the mass meeting of the voters here in about two months, at which the details of the change are to be presented.

In the period during which the actual provisions of the new charter are being framed, Professor Barnett is to make a study of the conditions here with a view to outlining the most feasible methods of administration. His conclusions are to be presented to the committee before their first draft of the new code is definitely completed.

LAB FEES ARE PAYABLE

Students Urged to Attend to Matter Before Last of Month

Students are requested by E. P. Lyon, of the registrar's office, to pay their lab and music fees as quickly as possible. So far, only a few have paid, and unless a large number wake up and "avoid the rush," states Mr. Lyon, the thirtieth of the month will find the registrar's office crowded and much time will be wasted.

Non-payment after this date means suspension from classes for those failing to pay, and readmission may be gained only by petition to a committee.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.
