U. OF C. INTRODUCES NEW AMUSEMENT FOR STUDENTS

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 27.—(P. I. N. S.)—"College Nights" given every Saturday evening by the University of California has served as a means of entertainment for over twenty-five hundred students. The object of these weekly entertainments is to offer the campus a means of good amusement at a low cost and to foster a feeling of good fellowship throughout the University's large student body. Every other week a campus play is to be given. The other nights some form of amusement is to be followed by dancing. The first play of the semester will be given Saturday night.

STUDENTS IN VESPERS

Campus Musicians Appear in Sunday Afternoon Program

The second of a series of vesper services will be given by Congregational church tomorrow afternoon at 4:30. A number of university people will appear on the program in musical numbers.

Mrs. Louis Whitton, an Oregon alumna, will give a solo. Ralph Hoerber, Reuben Goffreire, Helen Harper, Johanna James, Arthur Johnson, Cyril Vallentyne are the university students who will appear in musical numbers.

Music Sent by Radio Heard First Time on Oregon Campas

Strains of jazz and southern melody floated through the journalism "shack" last night.

The Emerald staff was not giving a dance, for dances are taboo just now. There was not a musical instrument in the house.

Explanation: Members of the University wireless club, who are establishing a coast wireless news service for the Emerald, were listening on radio concerts being given in California. Emerald staff members and journalism faculty men who happened to be around were invited to listen, and they enjoyed their first long-distance concert, even though the ahrs were "Alabama Moon," and "Oh, by Jingo," for the piano and orchestra strains had traveled all the way from Los Angeles and Stockton, Cal.

"That music is coming all the way with less expenditure of power than that light uses," said Garrett Lewis, who was

JUNIOR WEEK-END PLAN OPPOSED BY HOUSE PRESIDENTS

Opinion Favors Limitation of Guests; Some Change in Program Desired

PREPPERS TO BE SELECTED

Second Meeting to be Held; Organizations Will Discuss Matter

Opinion that the number of Junior week-end guests should be limited and that some changes should be made in the old plan, was expressed in a meeting of the executive committee of the Greater Oregon committee and the heads of the living organizations. An almost unanimous disapproval of the proposed new plan for the conduct of the spring event was apparent. The meeting was called to try to solve the Junior week-end problem.

Paul Patterson a member of the Greater Oregon committee, offered the plan drawn up by Jeannette Calkins, Raymond Lawrence, Roy Veatch and himself. Guests for the week-end, said Patterson, should be chosen according to their scholastic records, athletic ability, and personality, and should be chosen by the Oregon Alumni on the faculty of the high school or by the faculty itself. Since only 300 of the 3000 high school seniors can be accommodated, each high school should have a proportionate number of representatives. Patterson also recommended that the week-end be shortened to include only Friday, Saturday, and part of Sunday.

Canoe Fete Opposed
The canoe fete, he stated, should be abolished, since it has grown to be a competitive affair and therefore very expensive. In its place it was suggested that the University as a whole put on something similar.

Campus luncheon, according to Carl Onthank, could be better handled as an all-University affair.

Competitive rushing, according to Roy Veatch, a member of the committee, has been one of the outstanding evils in the past, and the new plan was designed to overcome this. Maurice Eben submitted a plan whereby the guests would be entirely eliminated, but that Junior week-end be held the same as in the past.

Dean Fox spoke in favor of the plan as submitted, but proposed that the living organizations be allowed to use any additional room for invitational guests. Would Show True University . . . . SUB

In the discussion that followed the submitting of the plan the chief objection voiced was that members of organizations would not feel inclined to devote their time to entertaining guests that they were not acquainted with, and that none of the usual routine, such as escorting the preppers to games, shows, and various social functions, would be eliminated.

The plan most generally accepted was that Junior week-end be carried on as social functions, the high school students be given a chance to observe the work of the University students, and that

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING CERTIFICATES OFFERED

Passing of Hard Test Will Bring Credentials; Instruction Given by Barnes

Opportunity to win a Red Cross life saving certificate is presented by the department of physical education in the course being given by Gerald Barnes. Methods of breaking away from a drowning person, carrying, and resuscitation are included in the course. Tests will be given at the conclusion of the course; those passing the tests being awarded certificates. Mr. Barnes states that anyone that wishes to may take the course, but only those that pass a strict test will be granted the certificates. The judges of the tests will be Eddie Durno, and Gerald Barnes, both of whom are licensed Red Cross examiners of Life savers. The tests, says the instructor, will be very hard to pass as they are to be given in the tank, and the instructors intend to hang on very tight, so that to pass the tests a person will have to be able to break any hold that drowning men might happen to grasp him with.

The classes are to be given three times a week, Tuesdays 11 to 12, and 4 to 5, and Thursdays from 4 to 5. So far very few men have turned out, but as this is a very important course and one that every person should have Mr. Barnes expects a larger turnout in the future.

COLD EPIDEMIC IN CHECK

RULES FOR FIGHTING GRIPPE GIVEN BY INFIRMARY

Students Asked not to Attend Shows and Town Dances; Classroom Ventilation Watched

Isolate all colds immediately. Appoint some one person to care for the sick, and keep others away.

Attend no classes until you have visited the infirmary. All cuts will be excused if you are under the care of the health service.

Guard against coughing and sneezing.

Get plenty of fresh air, and drink plenty of water, and above all, report at the infirmary at once when you feel a cold coming on.

The prevailing la grippe epidemic is well in check, according to a statement issued last night at the University health service. Fewer cases were reported yesterday than for several days, although precautions are still necessary, it was stated.

Following the bulletin prohibiting student body dances until the epidemic of grip subsides, a request was issued that classrooms be kept properly ventilated, and heated. Dr. John F. Boward, director of the University health service, states that no serious cases of la grippe have been reported, but that every preventative precaution should be taken.

All house dances scheduled for this week-end have been postponed, as has the glee club dance Saturday night. The Health board also requests the students not to attend down town dances or shows till the epidemic has abated.

It is also urged that students report to the infirmary all colds as soon as possible, in order that they may be checked. "Please urge upon each student the advisability of calling at the University Health Service to receive medical treatment for that 'bad cold,'" said Dean Boward in the bulletin issued yesterday.

HONOR SOCIETY INSTALS

Women Medical Students Organize Into National Fraternity

A chapter of Alpha Iota, national women's medical fraternity, was installed in Portland last week-end in view of the fact that there are now a number of women students in the University of Oregon Medical School. Eight women medical students were initiated and later organized into a chapter. The initiation and installation was done by Dr. Bertha Stewart, of the health department, who was probably, prior to the installation Saturday, the only member of the fraternity in the state. Dr. Stewart is from the chapter at the University of Michigan. The new members of the fraternity are as follows: Dr. Jessie Farrior (graduate), Grace Young, Mildred McBride and Zilpha Galloway, seniors; Rita Hough, junior; Ruth Watkins, Lerna Wilkes and Wilmath Osborne, sophomores.

LAB FEES NOW DUE

Monday, January 30, is the last day for the payment for laboratory fees, according to the announcement of the business office yesterday. If the fees are not paid by that time a late payment fee of $1 will be collected. After Wednesday students are automatically dropped from the University and must petition for readmittance.

INTERCLASS RELAYS ADDED TO OREGON'S LONG LIST OF SPORT

First Meet of Kind to be Held Here on Saturday, February 28

VARSITY TURNOUTS POOR

More Interest Essential if Hayward is to Take Team to Penn Relay

Interclass relays are the latest thing in track sports to be tried at Oregon. Beginning on Saturday, February 18, every class will have a chance to show its athletes to the best advantage in every track contest listed in the conference meets. From this date henceforward these meets will be held every Saturday on Hayward field until April 22, the date of the Northwest relay carnival to be held in Seattle. The final class tryouts to determine who shall represent the various classes will be held February 11. According to Coach Bill Hayward this method is to be used as a means to get the teams in condition and finally working toward the first contest of the season in Seattle.

Work Now Counts Most
Hayward says that the strength of the varsity depends on the work done now and not in the Spring, and it depends upon the students whether or not these interclass meets are to be a success in themselves and accomplish the desired results. He wants the men to get behind the proposition and see that it succeeds.

As to Oregon's chances in the conference meets Bill says that he has only two or three men who can really do things, and it is essential to the success of Lemon-Yellow track aspirations that more men turn out for this sport. Especially is this lack of interest manifest among the ranks of the freshmen class. The cutting out of interclass meets has been disastrous and widespread in its effects. To this the coaches lay the blame primarily, because there was no incentive to train in high school and the majority of the men have never participated in a meet.

More Frosh Spirit Needed

Assistant coach "Hank" Foster is extremely anxious to see more spirit shown by the class of 1925. Hank says that many of the big track stars of today are men who never saw a track before coming to college, and most men can do something well if they turn out and keep coming out until they have a chance to develop.

Meets are being arranged for the first year men by Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel with O. A. C., Chemawa, Washington, and Willamette, but according to the coach's viewpoint more men will have to start turning out right away if any honors are to be won.

Wants to Send Team East

Hayward is very desirous of sending a team to the Penn Relays to take place April 27, 28 and 29. This year marks the twenty-eighth annual meet held at the University of Pennsylvania. Schools and colleges from all over the United States are represented at these gatherings, and even teams from across the water participate. This year, it is reported, a team is coming from Italy. Bill says that it will be a great advertisement for the University, along with other obvious advantages.

BODY WILLED TO SCHOOL

Joseph Lewis Aids Medical Students To Study Cancer

News of the willing of the body of Joseph Springer Lewis of Portland to the University of Oregon Medical School draws attention anew to the request the department of medicine has made that anatomy be established as a campus course. The department believes also that dissection would be of advantage in later work in medicine. The University has as yet taken no steps to establish work in human anatomy.

Mr. Lewis died recently of cancer and before his death he made the request that his body be sent to the medical college in order that students might benefit by the study of the disease that caused his death.

WEATHER FORECAST
Rain; colder; moderate northwesterly winds.

HANDBALL SEMI-FINALS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Sigma Chi and Fiji Take Easy Games From the Two Oregon Clubs; Finals Come Soon

Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi walloped the two Oregon Club teams in the semi finals yesterday afternoon. The Fijis took a match from the Oregon Club No. 1 by the score of 21-2 and 21-5. "Spike" Leslie, for Sigma Chi, proved too much for the Oregon Club No. 2 representative and won his game 21-12, 21-15.

This afternoon the Kappa Sigs and the Fijis tangle and A. T. O. is scheduled to meet Sigma Chi. The winners of these two contests will battle for the championship of the second division.

TWO ARTISTS WILL APPEAR IN MUSICAL PROGRAM TUESDAY

Jane Thacher, Rex Underwood Will Give Concert in Eugene Church

A concert of unusual interest to musicians and music lovers will be given on Tuesday evening, January 31, at the Central Presbyterian church when Jane Thacher, pianist, Rex Underwood, violinist and Lora Teschner, cellist, will appear. The program will be given under the auspices of Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity, the proceeds to be used in furnishing the newly completed club room of the fraternities at the University school of music.

As a pianist, Jane Thacher needs no introduction to the people of Eugene or to the students of the University. Her sure touch, brilliancy of execution and remarkable power of interpretation are well known. Mrs. Thacher has been recognized as one of Oregon's ablest pianists. At a recent appearance before the MacDowell Club of Portland, she was enthusiastically received. While at the University she has proven herself an excellent pianist as well as a most sympathetic accompanist.

Ability is Recognized

Rex Underwood is recognized both in Europe and America as a violinist of the most pronounced attainments and ability. His playing is characterized by a sympathy and purity of tone and he never fails to delight even the most critical audience.

Mrs. Thacher and Mr. Underwood will be assisted in one number by Miss Lora Teschner, instructor in cello at the school of music. Miss Teschner has become a favorite with local music lovers. She was formerly a cellist with the Lieurance Little Symphony Orchestra and gained wide recognition for her musical artistry.

Program is Given

Following is the program as it will be given on Tuesday evening:

- Sonata in C Minor: Piano and violin . . . . . Edward Grieg
- Allegro molto ed appassionato
- Allegretto espressivo alla Romanza
- Allegro animato
- Rigaudon . . . . . Joachim Roff
- Barcarolle . . . . . Rubinstein
- Reflections in the Waters . . . . . Claude Debussy
- American Polonaise . . . . . John Alden Carpenter
- Mrs. Thacher
- Chanson Meditation . . . . . Cottinet
- Gypsy Serenade . . . . . Valdez
- Concerto . . . . . Mendelssohn
- Andante
- Allegro
- Mr. Underwood
- Trio Op. 27 . . . . . Edward Schutt
- Allegro maestoso
- Scherzo
- Mrs. Thacher, Miss Teschner, Mr. Underwood

It is not often that an opportunity is given to hear three such musical artists at one time and the concert on Tuesday promises to be one of the features of the musical season. Tickets may be secured from members of Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha or from Laraway's music store.

CHAMBER WILL CELEBRATE

Banquet to be Feature of Large Affair; Department After Noted Speaker

The University Chamber of Commerce is planning a celebration for the near future that they confidently state will surpass anything of that nature that has been held on the campus for some time. The banquet that is to feature the celebration is expected to be the largest affair of its kind ever put on at the Oregon campus, and a dance exclusively for Commerce students will follow. A noted speaker is to be imported for the occasion.

GLEE CLUB TICKET SALE PROMISES BIG AUDIENCE TONIGHT

Program Ranges From Grand Opera Features to Light Comedy Readings

SEVERAL NUMBERS ADDED

Dance Called Off; Cut in Price Attracting Students to Purchase Seats

With hundreds of tickets already sold and scores of others being purchased every hour, present indications are that more than a thousand Oregon students and Eugene people will hear the University men's glee club at 8:15 in the Woman's building. This will be the largest crowd to attend the home concert in the history of the University, according to those in charge.

Starting with the famous "Oregon Pledge" the program will include everything from Grand opera to light comedy readings. Those who saw the final practice in the Woman's building last night say that "The Grass Hopper" is going to be one of the cleverest stunts seen here in years.

Much Practice Done
The men have been spending several hours each week since early in the Fall term and the result of their efforts will be seen tonight. Oregon spirit will predominate, according to the director.

Because of the health service ban on dancing, several numbers have been added to the program to take the place of the complementary dance which was to have been given. However, as all social events have been called off for the week-end the concert is the only attraction left and has an open field in drawing the usual week-end crowd of pleasure-seekers.

Ticket Rush Expected

"We expect a rush to obtain tickets today and it is probable that all the seats will be sold before the doors open tonight," said Art Rudd, the manager, yesterday. The fact that the usual price of $1 has been cut to 75 cents is attracting a great many students who might not have bought otherwise, due to a general slowness of the student pocketbook. Kuykendall's Drug Store and the Co-op have about the same number of tickets left, according to those in charge.

The Program

- Part I

ENGINEER TO GIVE TALK ON VOICE TRANSMISSION

John Mills, of Western Electric, and H. M. Durston, Telephone Head, to be on Campus

John Mills, of the engineering department of the Western Electric company and H. M. Durston, superintendent of methods of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company will be on the campus to speak to the pre-engineering students at 3:30 Friday afternoon. "The Vacuum Tube and Its Applications," and Mr. Durston will interview seniors in commerce, probably with the object of offering them positions with the telephone and telegraph company.

Mr. Durston was on the campus for a short time a year ago and secured several men for positions who are still with the company.

In addition to the afternoon lecture, Mr. Mills, if it is possible for him to remain on the campus for an evening meeting, will address the Science club, The Technical club and the employees of the Telephone company in Eugene, on "The Human Voice and Its Electrical Transmission."
