

HEADS OF SCHOOLS DIFFER IN OPINION OF 6-DAY SCHEDULE

Dean Hale Strongly in Favor of Saturday Classes; Time Precious, Is Plea

DEAN ALLEN OPPOSES IDEA

Journalism Director Says Research Would Suffer; Faculty too Small

"We should make the most efficient use of the state's investment," said Dean Hale of the law school, yesterday, in speaking of the proposed six-day week plan for the University. Dean Hale favors utilizing all possible time for prodigious pursuit of the studies for which students are in the school. He heartily favors the curriculum being managed so that the most may be secured for the time invested. He said that no business man would think of closing down his business on Saturday which would mean losing a good percent of the calculated interest on the capital which he had invested.

"It is a mystery to me," continued the Dean, "where we ever got the idea of a five-day week. I do not know whether it was handed down to us by an omnipotent, world powerful Jehovah or whether it is man's own invention.

Success in Law School
"We have introduced the Saturday morning class into our school already. The change worked fairly, but is probably not so satisfactory as it might have been if, substantially the entire university had adopted the plan. From talks with the students I have found in most instances they felt that they were discriminated against. It has not been so much a question of classroom space in the law school, but we found that we either had to use the Saturday morning class or utilize to a greater extent the student's afternoon. When the question arose as to whether we would conduct classes on Saturday, I spoke to a few of the students who were working to find whether it would be more disadvantageous to them to schedule Saturday classes or whether to have more afternoon classes. Most of them desire to have their afternoons uniformly free.

"Another reason appeals to us, independence of the mere necessity of such classes. We believe that better work will be done if the student has his work more evenly distributed over the entire week. Putting a complete Saturday and Sunday into the week is just like injecting that many holidays. There is a loss of momentum when the period of intermission is so great. Distribution brings about a better working schedule.

Taking it as a whole, we are reaching a point where classrooms are crowded and buildings are congested. The feeling is developing that we need more space. Under these circumstances it is perfectly illogical to shut down our plant on a perfectly good day like Saturday.

Dean Allen Opposed
Diametrically opposed to the idea of Dean Hale is that of Dean Allen of the school of journalism. Dean Allen thinks that the University would suffer through the inauguration of a Saturday class schedule. "It means the destruction of the University spirit," stated Dean Allen. "Most of us are on a six-day week now. The immediate effect of a change will be the secularization of Sunday. I do not think it possible under University conditions

Undated Student Lawyer Sues Senior Woman For Failing Him

Charging that he has been cruelly lacerated in his feelings and has been unable to successfully prosecute his avocation as an attorney, Gordon S. Wells, Lane county lawyer and student of the University of Oregon, has filed a complaint against Dorothy Dickey, saying that she has wholly failed, declined and refused to make a date with him during the past week as she was obliged to do under the rules governing senior co-eds.

Mr. Wells, in his formal complaint, avers that Miss Dickey refused to make a date with him on the grounds that she was not a senior in the University. Mr. Wells complains that this allegation is false, fraudulent, and frivolous

AT HOME WILL BE HELD SUNDAY IN ALUMNI HALL

Woman's League Sponsors; Students Urged to Make Greater Use of Building

Woman's League will be at home in Alumni hall of the Woman's building Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5:30. Everyone is invited to drop in during the afternoon to enjoy the music and the davenport and the fires and the company of other campus folk.

Woman's League plans to have the Woman's building open every Sunday afternoon so that people may feel that they can come in and enjoy the quiet beauty of Alumni hall. So far not many students have seemed to realize that they are quite welcome in Alumni hall, and really expected to make some use of it to justify its existence. Especially is it true of the men; who seem to believe that the Woman's building is solely and exclusively for the use of the women.

There will be vocal music beside that furnished by violin, piano, 'ello and harp, Sunday afternoon. Everyone is invited.

DATES FIXED FOR ZIMMERN

SCHOLAR TO ADDRESS STUDENT MEETINGS MARCH 15, 16, 17

Leading Hellenist's Schedule is in Hands of Reed President; No Assembly Talk Arranged

Alfred E. Zimmern, British scholar, is to be brought to the University of Oregon campus on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 15, 16, and 17, which dates are subject to the confirmation of President Richard F. Scholz of Reed College, where Dr. Zimmern is to offer six weeks of work this spring.

In his three days on the campus Dr. Zimmern will address student meetings in the nature of groups, classes and organizations, but will not appear before assembly.

A serious effort is to be made by the university to make Dr. Zimmern's visit here a positive success by bringing him into contact with the people who will receive the most benefit from him. He is an authority on government and politics and on all matters pertaining to early Greece and in this later field has been ranked among the leading Hellenists.

He will, however, be available to outsiders through open meetings which will be held at convenient afternoon or evening hours. Dr. Zimmern's coming, many on the campus believe, heralds a new departure in university life here. In many educational centers in the east and a few in the west the practice of bringing in outside scholars for the intellectual stimulus they make possible is being followed in increasing extent. It is probable that several other excellent men of prominence in their fields will be brought here later in the spring.

The exhibit which has recently been at the Seattle Fine Arts Society and has received much praise from art critics in that city will be in charge of W. K. Newell, University superintendent of properties.

ALL-OREGON RELAY MEET DETAILS TO BE SETTLED TODAY

Hayward and Benefiel go to Portland to Meet Other College Delegates

SEVEN INSTITUTIONS JOIN

Eugene, April 14 and 15, Time and Place Proposed for Big Competition

Latest advices to Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, indicate that Oregon Agricultural College, Pacific University, Reed College, Linfield College, Willamette University, Mt. Angel College and the University of Oregon will be represented at a meeting to be held today in Portland of the official athletic representatives of the colleges and universities of Oregon to arrange for the all-state relay carnival.

Invitations for the meeting were sent out by the University of Oregon, and all heard from so far have accepted except Pacific College, which institution held that it did not have enough men to warrant entering a team.

Rules to be Made
The purpose of the meeting will be to determine rules and classifications for the all-state meet at Eugene on April 14 and 15. The University of Oregon will be host at the meet as proposed and with the finest track in the northwest can offer a suitable place for the holding of the first track meet for all the institutions of higher learning in this state.

The affair is to be a relay carnival and will include events ranging from the 220, which provides for the short distance artists up to the 4-mile, where in the endurance men will have a chance to prove their worth. The carnival may include a few field events and possibly a pentathlon.

Idea is Hayward's
Bill Hayward, veteran track coach and varsity trainer, is responsible, directly, for the calling of the Portland meeting, and the idea of the state relay carnival. The purpose of the relay is, essentially, to foster the development of track throughout the entire state.

The meeting in Portland today is called primarily, for the purpose of arranging classifications which will permit of the teams of the various institutions being pitted against each other with some show of equality. While Oregon and O. A. C. will probably find themselves pitted against each other in practically all of the events, both of the state schools will enter their freshman teams and they will compete against the teams of other schools entered, in some of the events at least.

Both Jack Benefiel and Bill Hayward are making the trip to Portland to represent Oregon at the meeting.

OPENING DOUGHNUT CONTESTS HELD ON MAT AND IN RING

Houston, Branstetter, Ferry, Roycroft Winners in Boxing Tilts

COMPETITION TO BE KEEN

Losers May Challenge Winners For New Chance; Semi-finals to be Tuesday

The first round of the doughnut boxing and wrestling matches, which were run off yesterday afternoon, proved that the competition for places in the tournament is to be keen. Several of the boxing bouts especially brought out some good material, and the contestants went after one another as if the bouts were titular ones instead of in the doughnut series.

In the 135-pound boxing contests Houston scored a close decision over Blackman; and Branstetter beat Doddridge. There was only one bout yesterday in the 145-pound class in which Ferry succeeded in winning from Virden. The 158-pound class had no contestants present so no wins were scored. Roycroft won from Hockett in the only fight put on in the heavyweight division, which in general opinion was the best bout of the day.

Eight Mat Bouts Held
Only four boxing bouts were run off yesterday, but the wrestlers fared better, as there were eight events put on in that sport. In the 135-pound class Fish flopped Strane in a hot contest. The 145-pounders claimed four of the eight wrestling contests. Wyatt took a decision from Martin after five minutes of hot work; Moores tossed Brennan on his shoulders; Winnard put Vester out; and Paterson scored a decision over Lee.

The 158-pound men put on some of the best bouts of the afternoon. Campbell won from Bergsvik; French dropped Bliss on the mat for a fall; and Youngs flipped Prescott in a fast five minute period. The heavyweight class was devoid of matches yesterday, but today the following five men will fight it out to find which of them will be in the semi-finals. Horsefall, Tergeon, Jameson, King, and Atkins.

Losers May Challenge

All men defeated yesterday have the privilege of challenging the winner of some other bout in the same weight, and indications are that practically all of the losers are going to use this privilege. All these matches or challenges will have to be run off today in order to eliminate enough men so that the competitors for the semi-finals can be picked before Tuesday.

Coach Barnes, who is conducting the weighing examinations, is calling everyone that is the least bit overweight, and several men had to shift to a higher class for this reason yesterday so try to get into the meet.

Today Last Day to Start

All men who have not fought their first round, and all challengers must get into action today, or they will be eliminated from the race. The hours for the matches will be from nine to 12 in the morning and from three to five in the afternoon, and no matches so every person who is more than one pound overweight need try to get into the meet.

The semi-finals are to be held in the men's gym Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and no admission will be charged. The room in which the bouts were held yesterday was packed to overflowing with students, so indications are that a large crowd will be present at the matches Tuesday.

The finals are to be held in the armory, February 24, according to officials of the school of physical education. Twenty-five cents admission for students, and 50 cents for others is to be charged, to defray the cost of renting the armory, and to pay for the cup or plaque which is to be awarded the winner of the Doughnut series of sports.

"TINY" SHIELDS IMPROVED

Oregon Football Player Nearly Dies From Attack of Pneumonia

Archie ("Tiny") Shields, Oregon football star, nearly died of pneumonia recently, according to a telegram received at the Kappa Sigma house. The telegram, which came from Washougal, Washington, states that he is now on the road to recovery after being in a dangerous condition for some time.

Tiny, who was a star guard on this year's football team, left for home with his brother, Floyd, soon after the return of the football team from Hawaii, with the intention of working the winter term and returning to school in the spring.

CONCERT OF GLEE CLUB IN PORTLAND MAKES HIT

Solo Work, Readings and Feature Please Audience; Men Sing at University Club Also

Characterized by dramatic writers of Portland newspapers as "the finest college musical event heard in Portland in years," the University Men's glee club made a distinct hit with several hundred alumni and friends of the University who attended the concert at the Heilig, Wednesday night.

Arthur Johnson's solo work and the readings by Nelson English and Cyril Valentyne made a distinct impression upon the audience. "The Grasshopper," the main stunt of the evening, received hearty applause, showing as it did the variety of voices in the organization.

The size of the crowd was somewhat smaller than expected, due to a hard rain storm and many opposing attractions. The San Carlos grand opera company is playing at the auditorium all week while David Warfield in "The Return of Peter Grimm," now showing at the Heilig also detracted from the glee club ticket sale.

While in Portland the men sang at the University Club and at Washington High School and received a great ovation at both places. President P. L. Campbell, who was in Portland at the time of the concert, characterized the work of the club in that city as "one of the best advertisements which the University has received for some time."

John Stark Evans, director, was a guest at numerous social events during his stay in the city and his work with the Glee Club was generally praised. Maurice Eben, president, received considerable favorable comment for his efforts in constantly improving the organization of the club.

STUDENT PLAY TO APPEAR

"COUNTRY COUSIN" AT EUGENE THEATRE FEBRUARY 25

Ogden Johnson Leading Man With Marion Taylor Taking Opposite Role; Story Has Clever Plot

The experiences of George Tewkesberry Reynolds (Ogden Johnson), leading man in the student body play, "The Country Cousin," which will be given at the Eugene theatre next Saturday night, will answer the question of what the easterner knows about the West, according to those in charge of the production.

The story is by Booth Tarkington and is full of clever situations and subtle wit. It is modern in every respect having been produced for the first time since war days, with Alexandria Carlyle as the star. It is said to have been a great success wherever shown.

"The Country Cousin" is the story of an American country girl (Marion Taylor) who "Shows up" the haughty New Englander, George Tewkesberry Reynolds, in love affair. Sam Wilson (Nelson English) and Eleanor Howitt (Doris Pittinger) play opposite one another in what turns out to be a story of equal interest with that played by the leads. Mrs. Howitt number one (Hildegarde Repinen) and Mrs. Howitt number two (Katherine Pinneo) also have important parts in the action.

Claire Keeney in his usual portrayal of a character part, plays Mr. Howitt while Verne Fudge, another Guild hall favorite, is Mr. Gore, rich business man, who is attracted by the flashy ways of Mrs. Howitt, number two. Star Norton, Florence Cartwright, Ray Dunn and Berrian Dunn who also have difficult parts, are all showing unusual talent in the rehearsals, according to campus critics.

The play will be given as the main student body production of the year and is the only social event scheduled for next Saturday night. It will start immediately following the basketball game.

Stack Of Nickles All You Need

For Washington Hardtime Dance

Clean collars aren't necessary! Corduroy and khakis are acceptable! If you can dance in boots you're privileged to. You needn't worry about getting a date; you aren't supposed to have one. All you need for the afternoon is a pocketful of nickels. The girls and the music and will be waiting at the hall. That's the jitney matinee dance the afternoon of the 22nd in the Woman's building!

It is only fitting that the birthday of the Country's Father should be celebrated in some fashion by the University students, and this year, the celebration is to be in the nature of a dateless jitney dance from 2:30 to 5:30 next Wednesday afternoon in the Woman's building.

CARDINALS DEFEAT VARSITY IN OPENING GAME; SCORE 17-12

Davies and DeGroot Play Stellar Roles For Cardinal Team

ROCKHEY HIGH POINT MAN

Lemon Yellow to Clash With Nevada in Armory Monday Night

Stanford University, Feb. 17.—(Special)—Stanford defeated Oregon by a score of 17 to 12, tonight, in the first of a two game basketball series here. The game was closely contested and hard fought throughout. Rockhey starred for the Oregonians while Davies and DeGroot played the stellar roles for the Cardinal basketballs.

Returning from the southern trip Monday night on the Shasta, Oregon's basketball squad will not secure much of a rest, as they take on the University of Nevada quintet in the first of a two game series shortly after they get off the train, the game being scheduled to start at 7 o'clock. In spite of the fact that the varsity five will have barely time to straighten the kinks out of their lower limbs before they take on the "Sagehens" the Lemon-Yellow should have at least an even chance for the Nevadans are not rated as an exceptionally strong five.

The dates with Willamette have been switched and Oregon will play the first series with the Beavers at Salem next Friday and Saturday with the Willamette five journeying to Eugene on the following week-end. From comparative scores with O. A. C. the varsity should have better than an even chance with the Salem collegians.

"Del!" Oberteuffer, varsity yell king, urges every student to meet the Shasta from the south Monday night at 5:30 to meet the basketball squad which will return from the south on that train. Del believes that with the first Nevada game coming up a 7 o'clock on that night a rally and a real reception for the returning warriors will go a long way toward putting them in shape to trim the invading Sagehens. "Everybody out" is Obie's cry, "rain or shine."

CHEMISTRY MEN TO MEET

Illustrated Lecture Will Be Given by Professor Tanner February 25.

Two papers, "Potash and Charcoal from Pacific Coast Kelp," by Professor H. C. Tanner, of the chemistry department, and "Acid Properties of Alcohol and Consideration of Esters as Acid Anhydrides," by Dr. R. J. Williams, also of the chemistry department, will be read at the regular meeting of the Oregon section of the American Chemistry Society at McClure Hall February 25. The meeting will be called to order by Professor Ralph Strong, of Reed College, president of the local society, following a banquet at the Anchorage.

The talk of Professor Tanner will be illustrated with moving pictures of the government kelp plant at Summerland, California. Professor Tanner has devoted a great deal of time to this subject, and his paper will no doubt arouse an interesting discussion.

The meeting will be open to all who are interested and care to attend.

MU PHI PLEDGES

Mu Phi Epsilon announces the pledging of Marion Lawrence, Lucile Elrod, Lucille Murton, and Helen Capues.
