

CONDON CLUB SCHEDULE OUTLINED FOR SPRING

Activities to Include Lectures, Hikes and Meetings

Replete with hikes, lectures and meetings, the schedule of spring term activities announced yesterday by the Condon club outlines a program which will last until June 8. Four more University hikes will be held this term. Information concerning these jaunts into the timbered hills and nearby places of interest will be announced later.

The first program meeting of the term will be held in the club rooms of the Woman's building tomorrow evening with Senator John Gill of Portland speaking on "Oregon Indian Lore." Mr. Gill's lecture will be illustrated with sketches. Another program meeting will be held on April 26, and this session, according to members of the Condon club, will be one of the most interesting of the year. The feature of this meeting will be an illustrated lecture by F. I. Jones of Portland, on "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes." Mr. Jones was the official photographer for the American Geographical Society, which a few years ago investigated volcanic phenomena in Alaska.

The next all-University hike will be held on April 22. Others are scheduled for May 13, May 27, and June 3. On May 26 the Condon club members will hold their annual campfire in some appropriate place not yet decided on. The annual installation of officers and banquet is dated for June 8.

W. M. H. Woodruff, mineral examiner for the United States forest service, will talk to the Condon club and others of the University who are interested, some time in May, probably on May 17, it is announced in the program of spring activities. Rachel Husband, major in the geology department, will speak on "Mesozoic Reptiles" at the program meeting to be held on June 1. A journal review by A. Campbell will be given on the same evening.

CO-ED'S CONTROL IS POOR

Bottle of Fluid Hurlled Through Phi Delta Window at Idaho Christening

University of Idaho, April 10—(P. I. N. S.)—The big feature of the opening of the new Phi Delta Theta house here recently was the hurling of the bottle of christening solution through a big plate glass window instead of against the side of the building. Miss Lucy Davis, a popular member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, demonstrated the inaccuracy of a woman's throwing when she missed the brick work at a short range and smashed the window to bits.

REGISTRATION OF 1800 PREDICTED BY SPENCER

Present Total of 1726 Shows Lead of 210 Over Figures for Last Spring Term

Registration this term already shows an increase of 210 over last spring term, although the final figures will not be known until after April 17, the last day of registration. The temporary figure of 1726 will approach the 1800 mark at the present rate, according to Carlton E. Spencer, registrar. The usual decrease from winter to spring terms was greater among men than women, being 12 and 8 per cent respectively.

"Many of the students stay out of college to work during the spring term," said Mr. Spencer in accounting for the spring decrease.

Up to the present, the registration among the men is 21 graduate students and 878 undergraduates; among women there are 11 graduates and 816 undergraduates. However, the graduate school has until Friday, April 14, before being charged an extra fee for late registration. The total of 1726 shows an increase of 12 per cent over the 1516 of last spring term.

If the number registered reaches the expected 1800 mark the decrease from the winter sum of 1932 will yet be one per cent smaller than last year's decrease from 1655 to 1516.

BULLETIN ISSUED FOR PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

Conditions and Courses at University Described

"The Next Step" is the name of a new bulletin issued by the promotion department of the University, under the direction of Prof. F. L. Stetson, of the education department, to all high school seniors and prospective college students in the state. The bulletin is for the general information of the high school student in helping him decide his future course in college, and presents material of a valuable nature in defining to him the exact content of the courses presented by the University.

Written on the general assumption that the average high school student has a very vague idea of the opportunities open to him through the professional schools and departments of the University, and of the line of employment he wishes to follow when through college, the bulletin presents the desired information in a manner that is designed to arouse interest and inquiries from the prospective student.

The bulletin opens with a personal letter to the student which sets forth the value of preparation in one's life work. The exact nature of expenses while at the University is set forth and the sources of employment for students who wish to earn their way partially or wholly while in college, are defined.

The courses of the 22 departments of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts are described, and a list of some of the professional, semi-professional and cultural opportunities resulting from the courses in this school are explained in detail.

The professional schools of business, journalism, law, medicine, architecture, music, physical education and social service are outlined with a list of the vocational opportunities included.

"The Next Step" is one of the University of Oregon leaflet series issued monthly by each department of the University, but this issue was designed as a combined bulletin on the vocational advantages of the University courses.

OREGON KNIGHTS TO ASSIST

Entertainment of High School Leaders Will Be Next Act

At a special meeting held by the Oregon Knights last night, plans were discussed for the handling of work to be carried out this term. The Knights will meet trains and generally assist in the entertaining of the high school leaders who will be on the campus the end of this week. Arrangements were also made for selling the "town-people" athletic tickets, Jack Myers and Johnny Palmer being appointed chairmen of two committees to contest for the honor of selling the most tickets. Three Knight pins will be given as prizes to the winners.

A bronze pin in the form of a knight's helmet was approved by the members for the official organization insignia.

NEOPHYTES WILL PERFORM

An entertainment will be given for members of the student body who might be gathered near the Library might be near the Library steps today, by Bill Silverthorn and Don McDonald, neophytes of Ye Tabard Inn. The program to be at 11 o'clock is promised to be of much interest to the spectators, as the two principals are known to possess unusual talent along the line of "comedy acting."

F. L. STETSON BACK

Prof. F. L. Stetson has returned from Spokane where he attended the meeting of the Inland Empire Teachers' association.

PROF. F. S. DUNN WRITING NOVEL OF CAESAR'S TIME

Story Begun 19 Years Ago Occupies New Field

Frederic S. Dunn, head of the Latin department, has been reading to his Roman history class an uncompleted historical novel of which he himself is author, based on the life of Caesar during his Gallic wars. The book, on which Professor Dunn has been working for 19 years, is now about one-third finished.

The characters are all historical with the exception of the heroine, Calidia, whose name Professor Dunn finally decided upon after choosing and discarding several others. Calidia in the story is the niece of Milo, a Roman, who assassinated the emperor Claudius and whose defense Cicero delivered one of his greatest orations.

Trebatius, the hero, to whom some of Cicero's extant letters were written, was a real historical character sent to Caesar in Gaul by Cicero with a letter of introduction. Trebatius was in Gaul at the time of the insurrection there in the year 54 during Caesar's second expedition to Britain. Other real characters in the novel are Caesar, Claudius, Milo and Claudia.

The name of the book has not been definitely selected but will be either "The Man in the Scarlet Cloak," or "Ave Caesar Imperator."

Professor Dunn started his novel when he was kept up at nights during the illness of his daughter at the time of the typhoid epidemic in 1903, and has worked at intervals on it since that time. Other chapters were written when he himself was ill in the hospital and while he was aboard the Megantic, sailing for Europe. The chapter originally written for the opening chapter is now over in the middle of the book. A good many of the pages of the manuscript are written on the backs of old blue books.

The novel was started, Professor Dunn said, because virtually no good novels based on Caesar's life during the Gallic wars have ever been written.

DEBATERS WILL BATTLE

Roseburg and North Bend High Schools to Meet in Eugene Friday

The Roseburg and North Bend high schools will debate on the Oregon campus on Friday evening in the inter-district debates of the state high school debate league, the finals of which will be held here during Junior Week-end. Eugene was chosen as the place to hold an inter-district debate because of its being the intermediate point between North Bend and Roseburg.

The question which the high schools have chosen is, Resolved: That a graduated income tax should become a feature of the state system of taxation.
