

TESTS FOR PENTATHLON TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Plaque with Winners' Names to Be Installed

The last tests to be given this year in the physical ability pentathlon are to be run off Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week during the noon hour.

The school of physical education has ordered a large plaque which will be placed in some conspicuous part of the gymnasium, on which will be engraved the names of the high point winner, and the five highest men from each class. Haddon Rockhey, a junior, leads the list at present and unless some man can beat his record of 131 points in the trials next week, Rockhey's name will be engraved on the silver plate of the plaque.

The juniors have a total of 521 points while their closest competitors, the sophomores, have 518. There is still a chance for the sophomores to come out ahead as in the tests next week some man may add three or four points to the present record, and thus put the sophomores in the lead.

Seniors at Bottom

The seniors at present rate lower than any other class, since only one man, Floyd Bowles, has been able to exceed 75 points. It is requested that all seniors who can spare the time try out for the Pentathlon next week. If no others enter some of the senior names may be left blank on account of the poor scores made by members of this class. The second highest score is 115 points, which was made by both Alfred Krohn and Lyle Palmer. Krohn is a junior while Palmer's points count for the sophomores.

The men who wish to take the tests next week will have to sign up in the gym before 11 o'clock of the day on which they are to try out in the Pentathlon, and the tryouts will be held during the noon hour of all three days.

How They Stand Now

The plaque idea is new, but is to be carried out every year in the future, the purpose being to find out the best all-around men in school.

The men who will have their names on the plaque, according to present standing, and the number of their points are as follows:

Haddon Rockhey, 131, high point man.

Seniors: Floyd Bowles, 78. No more seniors over 75.

Juniors: Alfred Krohn, 115; Lawrence Kays, 113; Clayton Ingle, 105; Austin Hazard, 97; D. Obertouffer, 91; total, 521.

Sophomores: Lyle Palmer, 115; Philip Ringle, 109; Verden Hockett, 101; Howard Young, 100; Ben Virden, 93. Total, 518.

TICKET SALE FOR POMONA COLLEGE GLEE IS STARTED

Organization Said to Be One of Best on Coast; Director Once Music Head at University

Tickets went on sale yesterday for the Pomona College glee club concert, which will be held in the Woman's building at 8:15 next Tuesday night, under the auspices of the men's glee club of the University.

The Pomona College Glee club comes from what has been termed "the biggest little college in the West." The glee club fittingly represents the college.

Professor Ralph H. Lyman, head of the department of music at Pomona college and formerly dean of music at the University of Oregon, is director of the club. He is a musician in the best sense of the word, combining high technical skill with rare interpretative ability. Under his leadership the club has reached a degree of perfection that few college organizations attain.

The Pomona College Glee club is not the usual amateurish college group, but a trained and experienced unit of blended voices. It is a perfectly balanced chorus of 22 men who sing with beautiful harmony, strength and control.

speeches will be given, ending the evening in a roaring avalanche of Oregon fight.

The sum of 25 cents is being charged to defray some of the expenses of the "high school week-end." Townspeople as well as students and preppers are invited to enjoy the gigantic mixture of classic music and college spirit.

The program will start at 8 o'clock sharp and will probably end about 10:30. Through the cooperation of the dean of women and student body officials all other college affairs, either on the campus or in town, have been canceled.

DR. SPAETH IN N. Y. POST

Picture Printed of Oregon Summer Term Instructor, Rowing Coach

The Saturday Graphic of the New York Evening Post of March 25 has a picture of J. Duncan Spaeth, professor of English literature at Princeton, who will teach in the Portland summer term of the University. Dr. Spaeth's picture appears not in the literary section but on the sporting page, where he is shown in the coaching launch directing the Princeton varsity crews.

Dr. Spaeth, who has been three times a member of the faculty of the summer term of the University of Oregon, is an authority on English literature and old English and has also been most successful in his coaching, on a strictly amateur basis, of the Princeton varsity crews.

BUNGALOW TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The Bungalow will be open from 3:30 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the visiting high school students who will be on the campus over the week-end. The purpose of the open house will be to give the visitors an insight into the work being done by the "Y" on the campus, and all University women and their guests are invited to attend.

SUMMER FACULTY MEN FROM MANY COLLEGES

Catalogue Containing Lists for Both Eugene and Portland Sessions to Be Out This Week

The summer session catalogue, which will be off the press today or tomorrow, contains the faculty list both for the Eugene and Portland centers.

Among those of the faculty coming from other universities to teach in Eugene during the term, which will be held from June 21 to July 29, are Superintendent O. C. Pratt, from Spokane, who will teach school administration and high school problems; Dr. Samuel B. Harding, professor of history in the University of Minnesota; Professor Otis Richardson, of the department of English in the University of Idaho, and Dr. Ben H. Williams, of the department of political science in the University of Pennsylvania.

The Portland summer term will open on June 19 and close on July 28. The faculty will include Dr. Edward T. Devine, associate editor of "The Survey" and formerly professor of sociology at Columbia University; Professor Clyde Eagleton, professor of history in the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas; Dr. Emilio Goggio, of the romance language department in the University of Toronto; Dr. Edward Schaub, of the education department of Northwestern University; Dr. R. M. Wenley, from the department of philosophy in the University of Michigan, and Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, professor of English literature at Princeton University.

Y. W. TO GIVE SILVER TEA

Advisory Board Officers to Entertain at Bungalow Wednesday

The advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. will give a silver tea at the Bungalow on Wednesday, April 19, the proceeds of which will be used to pay for repairs and minor re-furnishings for the association rooms. Novel decorations in the form of an April shower will be used and a feature program is being arranged. The affair will be under the direction of Mrs. George Bohler, who was elected president of the advisory board at a meeting held Monday afternoon. Mrs. Omar Gullion was elected vice-president and Miss Barbara Booth and Mrs. G. E. Lehman were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively.
