

WORK ON BLEACHERS TO START TOMORROW

All Junior Men Will Help in Building; University Carpenters Also to Assist

Active work on the new permanent bleachers to be erected along the mill race just above the Anchorage on the property belonging to the City of Eugene will begin Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, according to Chuck Lamb, chairman of the Junior Week-end committee. The bleachers will be of strong foundation and will accommodate 1200 people if the present plans are followed in detail.

W. K. Newell, superintendent of University property, will have charge of the construction work and will use a force of men in addition to the men of the junior class who are requested to come out and assist in the work which begins tomorrow.

"We want every able-bodied man in the University to come out Saturday morning and bring saws, hammers, and all sorts of tools and get a spirit of a real campus day," said Lamb yesterday. "The success of Junior Week-end depends upon the amount of individual effort which every man in the class will be willing to put forth, and the class cannot fail."

The work for Saturday as it has been outlined will include clearing of the brush and laying the foundations for the bleachers. The lumber which the carpenters under the direction of Mr. Newell will use in the construction of the stands will be delivered Monday and the land must be ready for the active work to begin on the stands proper by that time.

SOPHOMORE LOTTERY COMES NEXT FRIDAY

Committees Attempting to Make Affair Most Novel of Kind Ever Held; Secrecy Prevails

The annual sophomore lottery, scheduled for Friday night, April 21, has been advertised with "Chinese" signs, and the Chinese lottery effect will carry through the whole affair, according to Jimmie Meek, who is in charge.

The plan of drawing is something entirely new in the way of campus "luck affairs" and those in charge contend that it will be the "squarest of the square" mixes.

The committee declares that the lottery announcement will be one of the biggest surprises that the campus has received for years. The drawing was conducted in front of the whole committee and was done in such a novel manner that the class of '24 will be kept guessing until the very night of the dance.

An effective decorative scheme has been hit upon and the features will be along the line of the decorations. The whole affair is being kept a secret and promises to be one of the rare social events of the term.

Jean Bailey, Jack Myers, and Carmel Sheasgreen are the feature committee, while Eddie Edlund and Margaret Alexander are to choose the music. Hildergarde Repinen and James Meek will arrange decorations.

A five-piece orchestra, composed of "Bill" McBride, "Dizzy" Luper, Ray Graham, Ted Osburn, and Prentice Gross, has been engaged.

the Jury Day displays and other special pieces. In the departments of normal and fine arts the studios will be open to visitors and special displays will be exhibited.

An informal tea by the Women's league will be a part of the program for this afternoon, when the campus visitors will meet the University women in Alumni hall. A musical program and several short talks will be on the program.

Y. W. to Have Open House
On Saturday, immediately following the style show, the Y. W. C. A. will hold "open house" and the delegates are invited to the hut to rest and have tea while Grace Tigard, retiring president of the Y. W. C. A., gives a short talk. The women's employment bureau will also give information at this time for the benefit of the visitors.

This evening a banquet will be held at Hendricks hall for the visiting delegates, members of the student council and faculty. The speakers will be President Campbell, Dean Straub, Dean Fox, Dean Allen and Arthur Montgomery of Salem.
