MUSICIANS OF CAMPUS AID IN EASTER SERVICES

Nearly Every Church in Eugene Has One or More Students or Faculty Members on Its Program

University musicians gave valuable assistance at the Easter services in all of the Eugene churches on Sunday. Every church in the city was aided at both morning and evening services by one or more members of the faculty of the school of music or by music students.

A sacred meditation "The Crucifixion" was given at the Central Presbyterian church with John B. Siefert and Herbert Pate as soloists and Leland A. Coon as organist. At the Methodist church Madame McGrew and George Hopkins were soloists and John Stark Evans was organist. In the afternoon Mr. Evans gave the last of his series of Lenten organ recitals, assisted by John B. Siefert as soloist. Alice Tomkins was organist at the Congregational church, with Ralph Hoerber cellist, Beulah Clark flutist, Helen Harper violinist, Reuben Goffreiere pianist, and Arthur Johnson and Herbert Pate were soloists.

Music is always an important part of any Easter service and those in Eugene were particularly impressive because so many excellent musicians appeared on the programs.

21 Years Ago

News of Early Days of the University Clipped From the Files of the Oregon Weekly, April 18, 1901.

At the meeting of the Willamette Presbytery in Eugene last week, Prof. Straub, of the chair of Greek at the University, was elected as a delegate to the National Presbytery which convenes in Philadelphia some time in June.

Kincaid field was the scene of a lively game of baseball between the Varsity nine and a picked team from downtown. The game was neither during the first two innings, when neither side scored. The Engeneites scored a tally in the first half of the second, but lost "wind" soon after and the Varsity commenced to pile up their score, running it up to 20 at the end of the sixth inning when both sides concluded to quit.

The publishers of the Weekly wish to give notice that they will kill the next man who steals their file copy. Take notice and don't graft.

A new student tennis club has been recently organized, with a restricted membership of 24. The club has taken the name, "The 15-40 Club."

The senior farce "The Houseboat on the Styx" has been "indefinitely" postponed. And thus there has been added to the traditions of "1901" the sad fact that it is the only class who never gave the accustomed senior reception.

Horace McClure, '90, has been appointed managing editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Prof. Burden has arranged golf links around the outer edge of the campus, and a number of students were seen during the week chugging the elusive gutta percha.

The Junior Annual staff is hard at work and we are sure that the production will reflect great credit upon both the class of 1902 and the student body.

FOOLISHWIVES?

SECOND MEETING IN YEAR CALLED BY CONFERENCE

Coast Schedules for Spring Sports to Be Made

The second meeting of the delegates from all Pacific Coast Conference schools for this school year will be held at the University of Washington, Seattle, on May 26 and 27, according to a notification received recently by Jack Benefiel, graduate manager of the associated students. This is the first time that two meetings have been held during one school year. The second meeting was called to arrange schedules for baseball, track and other spring sports for next year, which can be worked out with much greater exactness in the spring than is possible at the fall meeting.

The holding of both a fall and a spring conference each year is an attempt on the part of the conference to provide some remedy for the constant shifting of dates on each year's calendar. Under the old system, only one conference was held each year, immediately after the football season. Thus at the conference which was held last December, the dates were arranged for next fall's football games, and the dates for next year's track meets and baseball games were simply estimated roughly.

This arrangement allowed the publishing of only a tentative calendar for all of next year's activities, with the exception of football, but with the institution of a second conference of the school year, to be held in May, definite dates for the spring sports may be arranged and the University will be able to issue a complete and definite social calendar at the beginning of each school year. According to Benefiel, all student activities as well as concerts of the artist series will be published in the calendar.

JUNIOR GIRLS TO WEAR GINGHAMS AT LOTTERY

No Programs, Plenty of Paul Joneses and Tag Dances Promised for Friday Night

The juniors will cast aside responsibility and enjoy all the fun that goes with a lottery Friday night in the Woman's building. Gingham frocks and school clothes will be "quite the thing," according to the committee in charge. The lottery will be different from those previously held in that the women's list will be posted in the Woman's building, insuring its exclusion from masculine eyes. Women of the class will find out their men from this list, call them up and make the date, with or without the men's knowledge of who they are, as the fair ones may determine.

"Everyone is expecting to have as good a time as that had at the Junior Jazz Jinx," enthusiastically declared Hallie Smith, who is in charge of arrangements for the dance. There will be no programs, but plenty of Paul Joneses, tag dances, and refreshments.

An admission of 50 cents will be charged to pay for the dance. The class decided that with the expenses of erecting bleachers for the canoe fete before the class, no money should be drawn from the treasury to pay for the dance.

"Foolish Wives" Coming

"Foolish Wives," the super-picture to be shown at the Castle theatre beginning April 24, is the first real "million-dollar picture." Its actual cost up to the time of its first showing was $1,103,736. This stupendous sum was expended in the construction of gigantic and costly sets and in the hiring of thousands of "extra" actors and actresses to make up the crowd scenes. Erich von Stroheim, the author, director and principal actor in the picture, prided himself upon producing at Universal City, California, the exact scenes and activities to be found at Monte Carlo.

STETSON

THE best dressed man in a group attired exactly alike except for hats would be the man with a STETSON. The easy curves of the brim and the half-careless shading of the crown give a STETSON something of the individual character of the wearer. And STETSON quality is just as exclusive as STETSON style. Popular Sand-tans at $7.00

Others at $8.50 and $10.00.

THE advertisement appearing above was written by John Dierdorf, who, as the prize-winner, will receive a Stetson hat. Our congratulations are heartily extended. We wish to say, also, that the choice of the best advertisement in the contest was an exceedingly difficult one. All of the copy was good, and there were three or four of the ads that were practically as good as the one finally chosen. The ads considered second and third best will appear in The Emerald for Thursday and Friday. The next contest will be for Vassar Underwear. Copy must be in by Friday noon. The contest is open to all men students of the University.

Face Flora. Whiskers is inelegant

IF a Prof. taught a course in Whisker Crops and their Removal, he'd probably call them Face Flora.

Is there an easier way to remove them—the whiskers, not the profs.?

Razor edges were never keener than they are today. Then why do some shaves still make the tears come? Especially tender upper lips and chin corners?

Here is plain reasoning: Hairs can't pull if they're properly softened by the right lather. Any lather won't do. You know that. Williams' Shaving Cream softens the toughest bristle. Its unusually heavy lather softens the beard down to its very base. Few soaps can do that.

Try it—just once—and you will never be without Williams' Shaving Cream near your razor.
