

FRESHMEN TO VIE WITH PREP STARS ON TRACK TODAY

Eugene and Franklin High to Furnish Competition on Hayward Field

MEN NOT YET SELECTED

Athletes Please Foster with Improvement; May Be Ready for Rooks

This afternoon at 2:30, freshman tracksters will vie for honors with Eugene high and Franklin high athletes on Hayward field. It is not known how many of the Portlanders are coming, but with the combination of the two high schools there will be enough to give the frosh some good experience for their future meets.

Coach "Hank" Foster considers that his proteges have bloomed out well considering their small acquaintance with track activities at the beginning of the year, and says that he will have a pretty evenly balanced aggregation before the big meet with the O. A. C. rooks.

Teams Are Equal

All three schools will enter on an equal footing today, and the competition should be keen in most of the contests. Foster does not know exactly the men he will use in today's meet in each event, because he does not know how many will be on deck. The exact list will be posted on the gym bulletin board so that the men concerned may find out for themselves what will be expected of them. The tentative list follows:

100-yard dash: Brackey, Hunt, and Virden. One mile: Carruthers and Ellis. High hurdles: Hunt and Brackey. 440-yard dash: Hardenberg and Curry. Half mile: Bill Peek and Shultz. Low hurdles: Virden and Hunt. Half mile relay: Carruthers, Brackey, Brackey and Hardenberg.

In the field events—Shot put: Spear, Virden and Brackey. Pole vault: Worthen. Discus: Terjeson, Spear and Shultz. Broad jump: Virden and Spear. High jump: Crandall, Virden and Guldager. Javelin: Virden and Spear.

Seattle Relays Today

According to report the relay carnival at Seattle today will be the biggest track event in the history of the Pacific coast. Eleven colleges and universities will be represented by 175 athletes. Coach Edmundson of Washington considers the Aggie his most formidable competitors. Aggie's Butler of O. A. C. is taking eight men who ran in the carnival last year, namely, Snook, Kellogg, Richart, Swan, Sims, Connett, Walker and Graves.

The mile relay team that will represent Oregon there today, composed of Sundeleaf, Wyatt, Rosebraugh and Riskey, is probably the best that could be picked from the field, and it is expected that they will make a creditable showing for the Lemon-Yellow. However, they are up against a pretty tough proposition, as some of the best in the country will be there.

ADVOCATE PRACTICAL SUBJECTS

Oregon Agricultural College, April 28 (P. I. N. S.)—Oregon girls were urged to work hard to see that practical subjects are not wiped out of the courses of study in the state schools. This was emphasized in a talk by Mrs. H. Calvin, specialist in home economics with the Bureau of Education from Washington, D. C. Mrs. Calvin was former dean of home economics at the Oregon Agricultural college.

Snap and Power of Musicians Praised in Home Appearance

By E. J. H.

Under the liberal stimulus of a large and appreciative audience, the University Orchestra gave the best concert heard in many seasons at the Armory last night. The organization displayed a genuinely workmanlike finish in its various numbers, approaching the professional. Perhaps "professional" is not the right word because of its connotation. But there was a snap and a power, a picking up of the motifs by the various parts of the orchestra, and a certain sureness in touch, that distinctly reminds one of the larger symphony orchestras.

With a great deal to do and with small means to do it, Rex Underwood has managed to wield the instruments and personalities under him into a supple and distinctly balanced unit. It has not been the work of one season;

Six Rattlers Killed on Top Of Old Baldy

Six snakes basking in the vernal sun which flooded the summit of Old Baldy last Sunday were too lethargic after their long winter snooze to seek cover, and as a result they are now a source of much attraction and student investigation in the zoology laboratory of the University. The half dozen reptiles speedily uncoupled from their mortal coil when Hubert Prescott, assistant in the zoology laboratory, got their range with rocks and sticks last Sunday when on a hike to Baldy, and are the alarm clock variety, the kind which shake a wicked tall when disturbed by animal or man.

There were nine snakes in the colony, according to Prescott, but three of them shook the winter sleep from their eyes speedily enough to find shelter in holes. One of the rattlers, perhaps the guardian of the group, had 11 bells and a button on its nose maker, while the others were quite small.

Some of the specimens killed by Prescott were badly battered and it was impossible to stuff them. It is reported that when the deceased snakes were taken into the laboratory several of the girl zoologists hastily departed, leaving behind them only the echoes of feminine shrieks.

Several of the snakes have been put into a preserving fluid and are being used in the laboratory for study purposes.

Events; Officials Named

The women's varsity swimming team has been chosen for the meet with O. A. C. today at 2:30 in the Corvallis. Those on the team are: 50 foot free style, Maude Schroeder, Winifred Hopson; 100 foot free style, Helen Hoefler, Muriel Meyers; 50 yard free style, Winifred Hopson, Muriel Meyers; backstroke, Carolyn Cannon, Agnes Schultz; breast, Carolyn Cannon, Agnes Schultz; plunge for distance, Emily Houston, Dorothy Manville; diving, Agnes Christie, Agnes Schultz. Entries have not yet been decided for the relay race for which four out of the five competing will be chosen. Those trying out are Helen Atkinson, Maude Schroeder, Helen Hoefler, Muriel Meyers and Winifred Hopson.

The referee at the meet is to be Larry Wood of Corvallis; the starter, Gerald Barnes of Eugene; the head timekeeper, Fred Howard of Eugene, and the judges will be Mrs. De Boest of the Multnomah club, Miss Milly Schlotth, head of the Portland municipal swimming pools, and Miss Alice Ludgate, formerly head of the Portland Y. W. C. A. swimming pool.

SENIOR CARD ORDERS DUE

Plans for Class Picnic Will Be worked
Out at Meeting Wednesday

A senior meeting was held yesterday afternoon to notify seniors wishing commencement announcements that the number of such desired must be turned in this week-end at the Co-op. The price for each announcement is 11 cents, but after Saturday 50 per cent more will be added. All seniors are urged to make reservations for caps and gowns at the Co-op at once.

Plans for a senior class picnic will be worked out at the next meeting on Wednesday. The class play has been chosen and details will be worked out at this time.

SEVEN OFFICERS REVIEW

Mimic Attack by Sophomore Company Is Feature of Day's Program

With martial music sounding and in clear, brilliant weather, the Oregon unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps was inspected and reviewed yesterday morning at 11 o'clock on the drill grounds south of the barracks by a party made up of Colonel M. N. Falls, head of the R. O. T. C. organization of the 9th Corps area; Colonel Moses and Lieutenant Colonel Partello of the O. A. C. military staff; Majors Budd and Danielson of the Inspecting Board, Washington, D. C.; Majors Baird and Rowland of the University military department, and the University military committee, composed of Prof. F. S. Dunn, Dean C. V. Dymont, Karl W. Onthank, Dean E. C. Robbins, and Dean John Straub. A mimic attack followed the review, in which a company of sophomores approached the reviewing party from the vicinity of Hayward field in the formation they would adopt in case of actual war.

Real Progress Seen

Colonel Falls, who is now touring the 9th Corps area inspecting college R. O. T. C. units, said of the event: "I was much pleased with what I saw. We were all pleased. The unit has made real progress."

Colonel Falls said he believed that a student in the R. O. T. C. would always find the training of value because of the experience in organization it gives. The real aim of the Corps is not wholly military, says the Colonel, but is for the benefit of the students and the nation. He stated that although he had nothing to say about the local policy of a college in supporting an R. O. T. C. unit, unless the training was given, students of the institution, in case of war, would have to be led by officers trained in a unit of another institution.

Likes Scabbard and Blade

Colonel Falls is a hearty believer in the value of Scabbard and Blade, the national military fraternity, which a group of military students now on the campus intend to petition.

Colonel Falls and Majors Budd and Danielson left yesterday afternoon for the University of Washington, where they will inspect the R. O. T. C. unit.

After the review, a luncheon was given in the Hendricks hall dining room to the reviewing party and the following persons: Dean Fox, Mrs. Edna Dutton, Miss Gertrude Talbot, President Langley of the State Normal school, and Superintendent Carleton of the Eugene city schools.

MILITARY FRATERNITY PLANS NEARLY FINISHED

Membership Limited to 15; Very High
Grade Necessary for Admission;
"Oregon Blade" Is Title

Plans for the formation of an honorary military fraternity were nearly perfected at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the "Y" hut. It is planned to admit upperclassmen only, the membership being limited to 15. A higher grade average than is demanded by any organization now on the campus will be required for admission to the society.

The name of "Oregon Blade" has been adopted as the official title of the organization and a constitution which was read at the last meeting will be acted upon next Wednesday. A president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer will be elected also.

After the fraternity is thoroughly organized a petition will be presented to "Scabbard and Blade," national military fraternity, with the intention of establishing a chapter on the campus, according to James Meek, acting chairman.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday in the "Y" hut at 8:30 p. m.

ADVERTISING MAN TO SPEAK

Mr. P. A. MacAuley, advertising manager for Meier and Frank company of Portland, will address the class in advertising next Monday and will probably speak on department store advertising. Mr. MacAuley will also address the Kiwanis club, a down town organization. Mr. MacAuley was in Eugene last year on a similar mission.

OREGON COLLEGES IN CONFERENCE ON MISSIONARY WORK

Student Volunteers' Session
Opens with 25 Present
as Delegates

DR. J. K. BROWNE SPEAKS

Miss Mary J. Baker, National Secretary, in Charge of One Meeting

The Student Volunteer union conference began yesterday afternoon with about 25 delegates from other colleges and universities of the state in attendance. Dr. Marvin A. Rader, of the Board of Foreign Missions, was the speaker for last evening.

The address for this evening will be given by Rev. K. Browne, who has been a missionary at Harpoot, Turkey, for 38 years. He will speak at the Y. M. C. A. Hut at 8 o'clock.

The churches of Eugene are co-operating with the Student Volunteer Union by holding special missionary meetings Sunday. At the Methodist church the topic of the morning sermon will be "A Call to the Colors," by J. M. Walter, the regular pastor; while Miss Mary Baker of the Student Volunteer Union will have charge of the evening service at 7:30. Music for the morning service will be under the direction of John Stark Evans, and Madame McGrew will sing a solo.

Browne at Vespers

Rev. John K. Browne will give the address at the Congregational vesper services at 4:30. The musical part of the program will include solos by Arthur Johnson and Joanna James; a quartette composed of Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Whitton, Joanna James and Herbert Pate; solo by Mrs. Whitton with violin, organ, cello and piano accompaniment by Albert Douglass, Ralph Hoeber, and Alice Tomkins; and a duet by Mrs. Douglass and Reuben Goffreiere.

At 5 o'clock Thursday a meeting was held for the purpose of making nominations for state officers of the Student Volunteer Union. This meeting was followed by a picnic supper at the Y. M. C. A. and later by a program at the Y. M. hut. The program was composed of several musical numbers by the Eugene Bible University Girls' Chorus. The speakers at this meeting were Rev. Mr. Browne and Miss Marie Corner, president of the Oregon Student Volunteers Union.

Mission Service Stressed

The meeting on Friday afternoon was in charge of Miss Mary J. Baker, National Student Volunteer secretary. Miss Baker is a graduate in medicine of the University of Nebraska and will leave next year to take up missionary work in China. The subjects discussed at the meeting were the best method of informing students of the real need for mission service and world fellowship organization.

The registration of the delegates shows the following to have registered from different parts of the state:

Hazel Buslach and Phillips Jilison, Pacific university; Mary J. Baker, traveling secretary; Marie Corner, Harry Rarey, George Moorehead, Erma Hardin, Esther McCracken, Willamette university; Ruby Allen, Salem; Margaret Phillips, Albany; Percy Bell, H. W. Haybrooke, Florence King, Harold Wilson, Watenpaugh Lillian, O. A. C.; Jane Gumm, and Ruth Jenkins, Monmouth; Margaret Stillings, McMinnville; Hulda Nachgal, Ruth Younkin, Vina Finley, Pedro Cachapero, and Warren Savage Linfield college; Clinton Thiennes, Portland Medical school; Dr. Bryant, East Side Baptist church, Portland.

COURTS BEING REPAIRED

Within the next few days most of the dirt tennis courts, which are now being fixed up by the campus gardeners, will be in first class shape for playing. The court north of the Oregon building has already been hoed and leveled and can be used at any time. By the aid of a drag which has been added to the equipment of the University, the girls' tennis court near the Woman's building will also be leveled and made ready for playing in the near future.

Margaret Jackson Enters Race For A.S.U.O. Secretary

FROSH WIN FROM SALEM

GAME FULL OF ERRORS WITH
FINAL SCORE 11 TO 6

Three Yearling Home Runs Feature;
Today's Contest Scheduled for 1 O'clock

The frosh trampled on the Salem high baseball nine yesterday afternoon in a game filled with errors by both sides and featured by three home runs for the freshmen. Burton figured in the first homer when he stepped up in the second and drove a high fly out for a four base tour. Vester in the fourth frame cracked one over the second baseman's head which the center fielder failed to intercept and by fast work succeeded in circling the bases. Sullivan in the sixth inning met a fast ball and whiffed a wicked bound toward left field, and when the dust cleared up was crossing the home bag.

Burton's clout was nearly featured by a calamity, for King was on first and in rounding second forgot to touch the bag and nearly reached the third plate before he thought of it. He ran from third bag to second in order to touch the bag, thus slowing Burton up, then both romped home not more than a yard apart.

Burton is without a doubt the hardest hitter on the team, and hardly ever goes to bat without cracking out a hit of some kind. His batting is on the order of Carl Knudson's, who featured for the varsity last year, but with a couple of seasons' practice should even excel in that department. This Burton is also a slick man at first, and is one of the best fielders on the team.

The game was full of errors from the very first, the least number counted being eight for the frosh and 10 for the Salem squad. The frosh outfield as a whole worked like veterans though, with King especially making several difficult catches.

Brannan pitched the entire game for the yearlings and played like a veteran. Orr was behind the bat throughout. Brannan and Skinner are the only two frosh pitchers so far that have shown any sort of pep at all. Skinner will no doubt start the game today and should give a good account of himself, as in the game with Columbia, in which he pitched for several innings, batters went out in one, two, three orders.

Purprie, the Salem catcher, stepped out without chest protector or shin guards and stopped them all. He had hard luck several times in the game, for he was caught on bases a couple of times. Once after making what looked like a home run, he ran so slowly that he was caught by inches in an attempt to slide into third.

Ellis, the prepster who started the game for the frosh outfit, was seemingly hit at will by the frosh, and it was only on account of his good support that he escaped as easily as he did. Moon, who relieved him in the sixth, whiffed over a much better brand of ball than Ellis and suffered very little at the hands of the frosh batters.

The game was extremely long drawn out and lasted from 4 o'clock until nearly 6:30. The crowd was quite large at first, but a cutting wind soon drove most of them away, and the last six innings of the game were played with practically no spectators at all.

The game today is scheduled for 1 o'clock, and with the brand of ball put up by the preppers yesterday afternoon unless the frosh as a whole put more spirit into their fielding. The lineup for the teams will probably be about the same with the exception of Skinner

U. OF W. CANDIDATES HAVE CLUB

University of Washington, April 28—(P. I. N. S.)—"One, Two, Three, Four, if we hadn't got licked we'd have run some more," chanted the Defeated Candidates as they wended their way from each of the open houses the evening of the election. Although Washington cannot boast of having the only Defeated Candidates club, the idea was originated here and the first Defeated club was at Washington. Pledging takes place the evening of every student body election.

HADDEN ROCKHEY GETS INTO FIGHT FOR SENIOR MAN

Ellen McVeigh, Hallie Smith and Mary Parkinson to Run for Council Seats; Deluge
of Candidates Is Expected

With such a large number of candidates in the race nearly a week before the nominations, predictions that this year's election will be one of the most hotly contested in years are being freely made by the staid seniors who have witnessed three such affairs in the past. Competition in the office of senior woman representative on the Student Council is now certain as a result of simultaneous candidacy announcements of three well-known co-eds of the junior class last night. Two women are to be elected to serve on the Council during their senior year.

With the announcement last night of an aspirant for the office of secretary of the A. S. U. O., there are few women's positions which are not being sought by one or more candidates, which is considered exceptional this early in the race. The position of junior woman representative on the Council is the only one for which no candidates have been announced, and rumors are rife as to the possible candidates from among this year's sophomore class who will enter the race for this position.

More Men Out

One additional candidate for the position of senior man on the Student Council and two for sophomore representative were also announced last night, which proves that the co-eds are not entirely alone in their desire to get into the race early. There are three to be elected to the position of senior men representatives on the Student Council, and one for sophomore, according to constitutional provision.

Margaret Jackson late last night decided to enter the race for the secretaryship of the A. S. U. O. Miss Jackson is a member of the junior class and has been prominent in student activities throughout her college career. She is at present the secretary of the Woman's league and a member of the Junior Week-end committee, and has been in charge of the junior class department of this year's Oregana. She is a member of Kwama, Tre Nu and of Alpha Chi Omega.

Girls in Race

Three aspirants for the Student Council among the co-eds are Ellen McVeigh, Mary Parkinson, and Hallie Smith. All three are well-known on the campus.

Ellen McVeigh has been active in student and class activities, having been a member of several class committees during her three years on the campus, and is at present secretary of the junior class. She is a member of Kwama.

Mary Parkinson is at present on the executive council of the Y. W. C. A. and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, commerce fraternity, recently winning the scholarship prize offered by that organization. She is also a member of Pi Lambda Theta, educational honor Society, and of Tre Nu and Alpha Delta Pi.

Hallie Smith has likewise taken an active part in student body and class activities and has served on several committees this year. She is at present vice-president of the junior class and secretary of the pan-hellenic council. She is a member of Kwama and Chi Omega.

Rockey Announces Candidacy
Hadden Rockey, who aspires to the position of senior representative on the Student Council, is well known for his ability along athletic lines. He is a member of the Order of the O and played on the varsity basketball team during the past year, and is at present
