

GRADE SHEET

In Need of Radical Changes and Live News Features, Says

EDITOR-TO-BE

And in an Attempt to Defeat Carny and E. J. H. He Says He

WOULD GIVE I'S

By Jay Dee

Both E. J. H. and Carny too, in politics make their debut, and so I says to me, says I, "Why don't you run? They don't bat high. The field is split, I'll vote for me, we'll be the high man of the three." That being settled I began to wonder where I'd run my man. At first we thought frosh president, but failed to get Dean Straub's consent. Then after many hours of thought a brilliant hunch I sudden got. "As editor I can't be best. I'll run me for the old grade sheet."

So here I run, and rivals note that I've been pledged the labor vote. The hoboes, too, are backing me and several students, maybe three. Old Pioneer Pete runs my campaign and he'll be steadfast, wind or rain. The registrar, I must confess, is out agin' me, more or less, but what's the odds, the working man will vote for me with all his clan.

My platform is "Ain't we got fun?" and "All we give for grades is one." For features, "Polly and Her Pals" and full page cuts of bathing gals. We'll advertise good copper stills along with Binkum's liver pills. We'll print the sheet on paper pink and smear it up with scarlet ink. No more will students have to gaze on faded blacks and dirty grays because as editor I'll see this grade sheet's bright as bright can be.

A charter member, so I be, A. S. U. O. and T. O. C. I have been rushed by Ku Klux Klan and am an ardent handball fan. What more, I ask, was ever done by any man who ever run? And then I've written blue books full of unadulterated bull. Oh, I'm a letter man of note, I know my A B C's by rote.

So listen, Carny, listen here, you and your friend are deemed this year. The dark horse now is in the race and he will set an awful pace. So you and E. J. H. key down, a wooden horse has stormed your town. Go on about your peaceful ways and may the Lord prolong your days. For he who runneth last runs best, in politics as well as jest.

STUDENTS HAVE PARTS IN SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

Audience Fails to Recognize Two University Men Appearing as Spearmen in Hamlet

Thousands of lines have been written praising the vaulted heavens the superb acting of Walter Hampden in Hamlet, but not a line has yet been typed in tribute to the acting of two University students who assisted the great work of the master actor. Edwin Keech and Ted Baker, members of the dramatic department, had a role in Hamlet, presented in the Eugene theatre Tuesday night, and believing that merit should not go unrewarded, a paean of praise is about to be recorded.

Brave spearmen were these two lads—armored actors who stood staid and straight and staunch as notable figures moved across the Shakespearean stage. Their enunciation was perfect—for they spoke not a word. They moved with grace and in a lithesome manner, and they moved but twice—once coming on the stage and once going off.

Perhaps Keech and Baker were not recognized by University students and members of the faculty in the audience, but it is a fact that they played with Walter Hampden in Hamlet. Encased in their snug-fitting tin suits, standing at attention as prescribed in the knightly manual of arms, the two University students achieved the honor of having appeared on the stage with the greatest of all Shakespearean actors, Walter Hampden.

"Beau of Bath" an Enchanting, Cynical, Unique Bit, Says Reddie

"Beau of Bath" is a most enchanting little drama, unique, a bit cynical, which, with the excellent cast, the unusually effective lighting arrangements and especially selected costumes, will be an act that will be pleasing and appreciated from every point of view," said Prof. Ferguson Reddie, head of the dramatic department, in speaking of this skit, a special feature of the Junior Vaudeville at the Eugene theatre Saturday night.

Claire Keeney, who is directing the act, will play the part of the Beau; Irene Stewart will take the part of Rosamund, an old love, and Darrell Larsen will be the servant. All three are prominent campus dramatic stars, and are especially known for their excellent character work.

The scene of the playlet is in a quaint town of Bath, in northern France, and the entire act is in rhyme, part of which is set to music. Costumes have

FRESHMAN COACH FOR ALL SPORTS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Council Appoints Committee to Probe Advisability of All-year Mentor

PROPOSALS ARE FAVORED

Sweaters Voted to Members of Women's Swimming, Basketball Teams

An investigation committee to present a report as to the advisability of employing an all-year coach for freshman sports to the next meeting was the most important act of the Executive Council which met in regular session last night. The plan for a year-round coach has been discussed in the council and the athletic circles on the campus for some time, but this is the first official action which has been taken in the matter.

The committee appointed by President Bartholomew is composed of Dean J. F. Bovard, of the school of physical education; Jack Benefield, graduate manager, and Marc Latham, senior student representative. They will investigate the entire scope of the plan and recommend whatever action is necessary, with a view to presenting also the salary arrangement necessary for such a plan.

The matter of the proposed amendments to the constitution to be presented to the students was also discussed by the Council and all were passed upon. The proposed amendment of the music activities committee was changed slightly and with the approval of the committee it will be presented in this slightly modified form to the students today.

Awards Are Voted
Further business of the meeting consisted in the passing upon awards to women who have won their letters and sweaters in recent intercollegiate competition. Sweaters to the following members of the swimming team were voted: Maude Schroeder, Muriel Meyers, Helen Hofer, Helen Atkinson, Agnes Schultz and Winifred Hopson. Miss Hopson has completed her second year on the varsity team.

Members of the basketball teams who were awarded sweaters are: Pearl Lewis, Helen King, Oletta Pederson, Dorothy McKee and Charlotte Howells.

E. T. MISCHE TALKS TODAY

Prominent Portland Architect to Tell of City Planning

The address of E. T. Mische, superintendent of parks in Portland, to the students in the school of architecture, has been postponed until 2:15 this afternoon when Mr. Mische will speak on the subject of city planning. He will also criticize the work of the advanced students in this subject.

Ellis F. Lazell of Portland addressed the students in the school yesterday afternoon on the subject of chemistry in building and construction materials.

DANCE TO BE AT ARMORY

Music for Last of Year to Be Furnished by University Troubadours

The student body dance which is to be given Friday night will be at the Armory instead of at the Woman's building, as previously announced, according to Art Campbell, chairman of the student body dance committee. An admission price of 50 cents will be charged.

The music will be furnished by the University Troubadours, who have been highly commended wherever they have appeared as producers of real dance music. The orchestra will consist of five or six pieces. The dance tomorrow night is to be the last of the term, and will take the place of the one which was scheduled for a week ago Saturday night.

The decision to hold the dance at the Armory instead of the Woman's building was made because of the larger number of couples which it will accommodate. "The dance Friday night will be the best of the year," said Art Campbell.

Port Wine, in Cache 15 Years Is Discovered

Academic life in the University may not have been so dry in "the good old days" after all, at least not if four bottles of what is said by competent authority to be port wine, which were unearthed by workmen digging a trench in front of Mary Spiller hall yesterday, is to be taken as an indication.

In uncovering an old pipe line about 40 feet directly in front of the steps of Mary Spiller hall, four brown pint bottles nearly full of an almost forgotten fluid were discovered by the workmen. They were lying along the pipe about two feet below the surface of the ground.

The contents were carefully sampled by some of the men and by investigators of the find and it was agreed that it was a species of port wine. The bottles must have been buried for at least 15 years, according to H. M. Fisher, former superintendent of grounds, as Mary Spiller hall was just being completed when he came to the University in 1908 and the pipe had already been laid at that time.

How the bottles happened to be placed there is a mystery, unless some far-sighted student placed them there in anticipation of a long distant reunion of his class. They are now in the custody of John Hanna, present superintendent of grounds.

TENNIS MATCHES TODAY

W. S. C. RACQUET WIELDERS TO PLAY ON CAMPUS COURTS

Games with Reed and Multnomah Set for Friday and Saturday; Four Men Going to Portland

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the varsity tennis team will take on the racquet wielders from Washington State college on the cement courts. It was uncertain last night, according to Captain Smith of the Oregon team, just how many men the Cougars will bring. In the event that only two men make the trip to represent the Pullman school, Captain Ken Smith and Steve Williams will represent the University, while Cub Culbertson and George Hayden will be used should the invaders bring more men.

Immediately after the matches with Washington State, a team composed of four men will journey to Portland, where they will take on Reed college Friday afternoon and Multnomah Saturday.

The meets in Portland will consist of four singles matches and two doubles. Williams and Smith will form one doubles team, while Culbertson and Hayden will form the other. Each of the four men will play in the singles.

The team will return from Portland Sunday and on Monday a two-man team which will probably be composed of Ken Smith and Steve Williams, will leave for Berkeley to participate in the Pacific Coast Conference meet which will commence next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

In spite of the fact that the Lemon Yellow racquet wielders lost the season opener to Willamette last Saturday, they should be able to put up some stiff competition for the Washington State crew, Reed college and the Multnomah club.

Nominations to Take Place This Morning at Student Assembly

Strong Competition Is Assured for Nearly All Positions with the Announcement of Beatrice Morrow, Hayslip, Larson, Zimmerman, Sullivan for Council; Rosebraugh Out for Yell King

Nominations for all A. S. U. O. offices will take place at the regular student assembly in Villard hall this morning, and will mark the end of a busy political campaign in which more candidates have announced their intentions of entering the race prior to the day of nominations than ever before in the history of the University. Although there is a provision in the constitution which provides that further nominations may be made by petition, signed by fifty students and filed with the secretary before two days after nominations have elapsed, it is not probable that this privilege will be used to any great extent.

R. O. T. C. ABSENCES ALARM

MAJOR BAIRD SEEKS ACTION ON OUTS IN MILITARY DRILL

Proposal to Suspend Students from University for Non-attendance; Minor Motions Considered

On account of the excessive number of absences that have occurred in the ranks of the R. O. T. C., Major R. C. Baird of the military department will seek faculty action on the matter at the next regular meeting in June. Major Baird gave notice at the meeting of the faculty yesterday of his intention to present a motion which he hopes will effectively cope with the situation. His motion provides that five unexcused absences of any student in the military department will automatically cause him to be dropped from registration in the University, and that he may be reinstated only after petition to the faculty and additional payment of a two dollar fee. The faculty will take action on the matter at its next meeting.

Dr. James D. Barnett of the department of political science presented a motion prohibiting instructors from permitting students to go into courses for which they cannot receive credit. After being amended to make the same condition for visitors, the motion was passed.

The motion whose passage was sought by Dr. Bovard of the department of physical education, authorizing the increasing of the physical education requirement for men in the lower division from two to three hours a week, was laid aside for consideration at the next meeting. The reason given for delaying the action, which is merely a technicality, is that it is desired that Dr. Bovard present in combination with his motion a general report of the state of affairs in the department of physical education. Since the beginning of the year the department has placed its requirements at three hours under the assumption that it had received faculty sanction. Upon discovering the error, correction was sought. No opposition is expected.

The motion presented by Dean Sheldon of the school of education at the faculty meeting in April and referred to a special committee for investigation, was passed. The motion requires certain courses of study to be pursued before a recommendation for a teacher's certificate will be issued.

NEW UNIFORMS WILL FIT

Advanced R. O. T. C. Students' Outfits to Be Individually Tailored

Tailored uniforms, from individual measurements, will be worn by advanced course students in the military department next year instead of the ready-made ones now allotted at the beginning of each year, according to Major R. C. Baird, head of the military department. The department is now considering contracts for the tailoring of the uniforms.

Previously the government has supplied the University R. O. T. C. unit with ready-made uniforms for both basic and advanced course students, but under the new system money will be allowed the military department to have the uniforms tailored to the advance course students' measurement.

Freshmen and sophomores taking military work will be allotted uniforms by the quartermaster as was done this year.

BOHLER EXPECTS TO GIVE COUGAR TEAM REAL BATTLE HERE

Several Changes in Lineup Promise to Strengthen for Home Debut

SQUAD TO BE CUT DOWN

Varsity and Frosh Practice Together; Visitors Hold Good Record

Local baseball fans will have a chance to see the varsity tossers in action on the Cemetery Ridge diamond when they join battle with the speedy nine from Washington State college in a two-game series Friday and Saturday. In spite of the fact that the Cougars trimmed the Lemon Yellow handily in the series played at Pullman last week, Coach Bohler expects to stage a comeback and play the visitors two close games.

According to the coach, several changes may be made in the varsity lineup for the opening home series, and it is likely that some of the men who were not taken on the trip will have a chance to break into the games against the invading aggregation.

Two Coaches on Job

In order to facilitate practice during the remainder of the season and because of a shortage in equipment, Coach Bohler intends cutting the squad to 18 or 20 men. Under the present plan the varsity and freshmen will use the varsity diamond for joint practice under the direction of Coaches Bohler and Huntington. Under this arrangement, which is made possible by the number of batting cages available, the varsity and yearling squads will lock horns in nightly practice games.

Washington State, last year's conference champion, has a good team this year with all of last year's stars back and of luminaries in Zeipel at short and Cook at third, both men being under contract with Pacific Coast league teams when they are ready to play professional ball.

W. S. C. Strong in Box

With Ruley, Friel and Skadan pitching and Sandberg and Bray receiving, Coach Barber of the Cougars is well fixed for battery men. Both Friel and Skadan worked against the varsity on the local diamond last year, winning their games 4-3 and 7-1.

So far this season Washington State has won two games from Oregon, broke even with the Aggies, and won two out of three from Idaho, Martineau, the veteran Gem State southpaw, holding the slugging Cougars to two lone bingles and winning his game 2-1.

The game Friday, which ushers in the local conference season, will commence at 4 o'clock on the Cemetery Ridge field.
