Coordination in System

If it is true that the Executive Council has definitely decided at last to employ an able coach to handle the freshman athletes in year-round sports then there are many things to be considered in such a plan. Here at Oregon we have the graduate coach system, a system which is not conceded to be the best, but which exists nevertheless. And its existence brings to the fore the question of the best results to be obtained if a freshman year-round coach is to be engaged.

Oregon wants no inharmonious arrangement in its department of intercollegiate athletics, or in any other department for that matter, and the necessity of coordination between the coaching system on a freshman squad and that of the Varsity cannot be overemphasized. A change of playing methods cannot be productive of the best results, and especially if that change must mean the complete remodeling of system from the freshman to the Varsity.

The merits and demerits of the present coaching system are a closed question, for Oregon's coaches have been employed for another year, and the merits and demerits of a plan such as that proposed for year-round coaches for the freshman athletes depend greatly upon the details of the plan. Complete coordination and efficiency must be maintained at all costs and one coaching system must be in operation in the athletic department if the utmost in efficiency and success is sought.

Stanford has gone farther than signing "Pop" Warner up for Varsity coach. They have likewise signed up the Warner system, for the new freshman coach at Stanford is a former pupil of Warner's who afterwards made good in coaching California prep schools. Oregon must take these things into consideration in employing any coaches who are vital to the future success of Varsity teams. If the present system is to remain in vogue then every effort must be expended to make it successful, that the University may profit.

The Emerald, reaffirming its objection on principle to the R. O. T. C. at the University of Oregon, wishes to state and state briefly at this time that it considers the proposal of Major R. C. Baird as stated in The Emerald of May 4, highly unfair, enormously out of proportion, and utterly unwarranted. One doesn't kill ants with mallets.

MORE APPOINTMENTS TO Y. W. CABINET MADE

Annual Breakfast Given to Senior Women by Y. W. to Be Held in Woman's Building May 13

A number of additional appointments to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet were made yesterday by LeLaine West, president of the association. Marian Lay and Alice Tompkins were named heads of the social department and Mabel Green is in charge of teas and visitations. Helen King was placed in charge of the publicity work, distribution of posters, etc. A number of cabinet appointments still remain to be made.

The annual senior breakfast for which the Y. W. C. A. is sponsor, for the senior women of the University, will be held in the Woman's building on May 13 and is under the general direction of Marian Lay and Alice Tompkins. Assisting committees will be named at an early date.

Emily Veazie, Marjorie Flegal and Edna Largent were named to make arrangements for the O. A. C. Oregon cabinet house-party to be held up the McKenzie May 26, 27 and 28.

35 CANDIDATES UP

creation of a music fund, distribution of the Emerald profits, creation of a traditions committee, new duties of the vice-president, and changes in the rules for awards to co-eds in athletics were read and filed with the secretary to be placed upon the ballot at the election, as an opening ceremony.

Condolence Is Expressed
The resolution of condolence for William Poteet, which was adopted by unanimous vote, cast an impressive silence over the assemblage. A copy of this was ordered sent to the parents of the deceased student, a copy spread on the minutes and a copy to the Emerald for publication.
President Bartholomew proceeded to the real business of the meeting after making a short and impressive plea to the students for a clean political campaign, pointing out the desirability of eliminating all bitterness and keeping political matters above board. The nominations for student body president ran true to form, and resulted in the three candidates previously announced in the Emerald entering the race.

Orators in Competition

George King was nominated by Ogden Johnson; Chuck Lamb by Francis Wade, and John MacGregor by Carl Newbury. Then the candidates for the lesser offices were placed before the students with the surprises noted and from now on the busy days of vote gathering will be the chief form of campus activity.

The following candidates were nominated:

For president: George King, Chuck Lamb, John MacGregor.

For vice-president: Owen Callaway, Dick Sundeleaf.

For secretary: Margaret Jackson.

For editor of the Emerald: Ep Hoyt, Curly Lawrence, Ken Youel.

For editor of the Oregana: Velma Farnham, Dorris Sikes.

For senior woman on the Executive Council: Inez King, Beatrice Morrow.
For junior man on the Executive Council: Dutch Gram.

For senior women on the Student Council (two to be elected): Dorothy Cash, Ellen McVeigh, Mary Parkinson, Hallie Smith.

For senior men on the Student Council (three to be elected): George Adler, Sid Hayship, Ole Larson, Bill Purdy, Hadden Rockhey, Don Zimmerman.

For junior woman on the Student Council (one to be elected): Henryetta Lawrence, Betty Pride.

For junior men on the Student Council (two to be elected): Hal Berry, Alfred Erickson, Pat Ireland, Jack Myers.

For sophomore man on the Student Council (one to be elected): Joyle Dahl, Chappy King, Price Sullivan, Don Woodward.

For yell king: Art Rosebraugh.

Tack an M. Sh. After Your Name

IMAGINE a course without profs; without study; without examinations, but with a degree awarded after the first lesson.

That's the Williams' Course in Shaveology. One trial of Williams' Luxury Shaving Cream and you are an M. Sh.—a Master of Shaveology.

No rules to follow. Rub it in or don't rub it in; use lots or little; cold water or hot—it doesn't matter. If your razor is decently sharp and you have Williams' within reach you'll get a shave that you didn't know was possible.

A rich lather—a thick lather—a refreshing lather. And Williams' gives instantly a feeling of health and vigor to your skin that no complexion soap can surpass.

Try it—tomorrow before chapel.
