

FOUR-HOLE GOLF LINKS TO BE COMPLETED SOON

New Tennis Courts Expected for Summer School

A four-hole practice golf course will be constructed south of the R. O. T. C. building immediately, and additional permanent tennis courts as soon as funds can be secured, according to a statement made by Professor E. E. De Cou, chairman of the Intramural Sports committee, yesterday afternoon.

"It is expected that the golf course will be completed some time next week and if possible the additional permanent tennis courts will be completed in time to be used by the students during the summer term.

Professor De Cou's statement is as follows: "The president of the student body, the chairman of the intramural sports committee, the dean of the school of physical education and President Campbell have gone very carefully and sympathetically into the request of the student body for additional facilities for intramural sports, especially in golf and tennis; the request for additional tennis courts having the unanimous support of the student council, backed by the signatures of approximately 1000 students.

"President Campbell has authorized the immediate construction of a four-hole practice golf course south of the B. O. T. C. building under the direction of Registrar Carlton Spencer, chairman of the golf committee, and Dean Bovard of the school of physical education.

"The matter of the additional permanent tennis courts will involve the expenditure of a considerable sum of money. Since the need of economy has forced the University to make drastic cuts in the estimates for many necessary departments of its work, and since political agitation makes uncertain a portion of its normal revenues, it may be necessary to defer action for a time.

"However, we are hopeful that within a short time funds from other sources may be secured that will permit the construction, this season, of one or both of the permanent courts so urgently needed.

"The united desire of the students for the courts and their willingness to aid in their construction are deeply appreciated and those in charge are doing everything in their power to carry out the wishes of the student body."

Professor DeCou emphasized the fact that the matter had not been dropped and that the courts will be constructed as soon as possible.

BASEBALL SWEATERS MAY REPLACE HOCKEY

Girls Show More Interest in National Game; Order of O in Favor of Proposed Amendment

The purpose of the amendment substituting baseball for hockey in the article regarding the basis for sweater awards in women's athletics is not to increase the number of awards, according to Margaret Russell, president of the Women's Athletic association, but merely to shift them to an activity in which there has been more interest.

"In fact," said Miss Russell, "the actual number of sweaters awarded would be less, as fewer girls are on the varsity baseball team than on the hockey team."

Under the present ruling a girl must play a full varsity game of nine innings before she is entitled to the award.

This year greater interest has been shown in baseball than in hockey, although there was much activity in the class teams of the latter sport. "Should the change in the constitution be effected," Miss Russell declared, "we feel that the sweaters will go to the most representative women in athletics."

The proposed amendment has been endorsed by the members of the men's Order of the O, according to Glenn Walkley.

FEW ESSAYS ENTERED IN BENNETT PRIZE CONTEST

Prize of $20 Given Each year for Best Paper on Principles of Free Government

The final day upon which contestants for the Bennett prize, for the best essay on the principles of free government, may hand their manuscripts in to the chairman of the contest committee, Professor Justin Miller of the school of law, has been set for May 15. Only one essay has been submitted so far, but four or five are expected by Professor Miller before the contest closes.

Dean William G. Hale of the school of law of the University; Charles McKinley of the department of politics at Reed college, and A. C. Magruder of the economics department at the Oregon Agricultural college, will be the judges this year and will make the award some time before the end of the term. The committee in charge of the contest consists of George Turnbull, professor of journalism, and Clarence D. Thorpe, professor of public speaking, in addition to chairman Miller.

The Bennett prize is the income from a gift of $400 made to the University by Hon. Philo Sherman Bennett of New Haven, Connecticut. It is given for the best student paper on the principles of free government. The prize will amount to about $20. The length of the paper has been fixed at approximately 5000 words, by the committee.

Plans are now under consideration for making the contest of an oratorical nature next year. It is probable that contestants will then be required to read their papers before the public in addition to sending copies to the judges before the award is made.

ROOM BEING PREPARED FOR WARNER COLLECTION

Walls Already Painted, and Work of Assembling Cases is Well Under Way

Work in preparing the room on the third floor of the Woman's building for the reception of the Mrs. Murray Warner collection of Japanese art is progressing rapidly. Under the direction of John L. Hanna, superintendent of buildings, the walls of the room have been painted black and the cases in which the collection will be exhibited are rapidly being assembled.

The room in which the collection is to be displayed is 20x70 feet in size. A tier of show cases six feet in height will be placed on each side of the room. On top of these will be placed another tier of cases about three feet high. Mr. Hanna estimates about 1000 square feet of glass is contained in the show cases. About 200 of the pictures in the collection will be hung in the club room of the Woman's building.

The ceiling of the room in which the collection is to be displayed has not been painted. Mr. Hanna states that this will not be done until after the collection has been installed and the proper tone determined.

STUDENT'S STORY PRINTED

Article by Lillian Auld Appears in Leslie's This Week

In the last number of Leslie's Weekly magazine there appears a story, "Standing By" written by Lillian Auld, a senior in the rhetoric department.

Miss Auld had received no word from her agent as to whether he had placed the story and knew nothing about it until it appeared in the magazine. She has not received any check as yet.

The story is taken from the notes of a country court reporter and is told for the most part in the words of a small boy who has killed the man who was persecuting his father. The story is written in a repressed realistic style which lends to its tensesness and finish.

52 TAKE WORK BY MAIL

Correspondence Study Courses Have 34 New Names on List

The April reports for the correspondence study courses show a total enrollment of 52 students in the 62 courses offered, 34 of these being new students and 18 having enrolled in courses before. Fifteen students completed courses during the month. About 775 lesson papers were corrected, says the report.

Education is the most popular of the courses offered, and English ranks second. Dr. Dan E. Clark, head of the correspondence division, says there is always a decrease in enrollment in the spring.

SIEFERT-COON CONCERT RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE

Ability of Tenor and Pianist Appreciated by Audience

A successful concert by John B. Siefert and Leland A. Coon was given at the Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary musical fraternities. These two organizations have been the means of giving a large amount of good music to the campus and community.

Mr. Siefert, whose beautiful lyric voice has brought him many admirers and whose personality has made for him many warm friends in Eugene and Portland, as well as in other cities in Oregon in which he has sung, was the vocal soloist of the closing concert of the season. In the wide variety of songs, which he sang most artistically, the perfect control of his tenor voice was a joy to hear. From the difficult simplicity of his Handel through the exquisite Schubert and Brahms' songs (which were greatly appreciated after a long period of retirement of these great composers) to the more modern songs by Cadman and Hageman, Mr. Siefert's voice left in the minds of the audience memories of lovely melodies beautifully sung.

Mr. Coon, pianist, whose excellent accompaniments added greatly to the enjoyment of Mr. Siefert's songs, played as solos Chopin's B flat minor Scherzo, which, for clarity of technique and precision of rhythm, was splendidly done. In the Gavotte and Musette of D'Albert he played with most satisfying comprehension the dynamics of breadth and delicacy. The orchestral effects, so typical of much of Liszt's music were beautifully played in the Cantique d'Armour by that master.

Feux Follet, a very difficult composition by Isador Philipp, was played with ease, accuracy and rapidity that gave evidence of careful technical and intellectual study.

Mr. Coon goes to Paris in June for study with Mons. Philipp and for further theoretical work at L'Ecole Normale.

MANY ACCOUNTANTS VISIT

Honorary Commerce Fraternity Holds Banquet in Osburn Hotel

Topics of importance to those interested in accounting were subjects for discussion at the banquet held by Beta Alpha Psi, accounting fraternity, at the Osburn hotel last Saturday night, and at the public meeting afterwards at the Chamber of Commerce.

It is the plan of Beta Alpha Psi to make this an annual event. The organization wishes to bring students into contact with the foremost practicing accountants in Oregon. A number of well-known accountants of the state, with their wives, were guests at the banquet.

Other guests included President Campbell, Dean W. G. Hale of the law school, Dr. James H. Gilbert of the economics department, and members of the faculty of the school of business administration. Charles Van Zile, president of the Oregon chapter of the fraternity, acted as toastmaster.

At the meeting after the banquet, speeches were given by some of the visiting accountants, and by members of the faculty. The officers of the fraternity also made brief talks.

MYERS GETS HIGH GRADES

Commerce Major Receives High Grades for Winter Term's Work

Beta Gamma Sigma, men's honorary commerce fraternity, has announced the grade average of its members for the winter term. C. Carl Myers has achieved the highest average, 0.44. His nearest competitor is Chester Zumwalt, who has an average of 1.00. The others are: Charles Van Zile, 2.22; Virgil De Lap, 2.20; and Malcolm Hawk, 1.57.

The average for the winter term was higher than that of last fall, which was 1.57. This term's average of the fraternity was 1.42.

Phi Delta Kappa, national educational fraternity, was the nearest competitor for the winter term.

SIX AMENDMENTS

of one alumnus faculty member, another alumnus, the alumni secretary, and three students. The committee will "inaugurate and perpetuate the best traditions of the University and make recommendations concerning their findings to the student council."

The idea has also been conceived of giving more time for publication and consideration of student body amendments before final balloting on them. The constitution now provides that after being read in student body meeting the amendment shall be published the following day in the Emerald and be voted upon within a week. The change which is desired is that the publication in the columns of the Emerald shall occur within a week and that final voting shall take place within two weeks.

By-law Changes Asked

The object of this is to prevent hasty consideration on the part of the student body and prevent possible censure of the Emerald in case publication on the following day cannot take place.

Two other amendments are directed to alter the by-laws. One is submitted by the publications committee of the student body providing for a different distribution of the earnings of the Oregon Emerald. The constitution now provides that the editor and manager of the Emerald shall receive at least $400 each and that surplus earnings above this sum shall be divided one-fourth each between the editor and manager and the remaining half shall go to the student body treasury. The new plan is to divide the surplus one-eighth each to the editor and manager, who shall receive no further compensation, one-fourth to the improvement of the paper, and one-half to the treasury of the associated students.

Y. W. BREAKFAST WILL BE HELD SATURDAY MORNING

Senior and Junior Women Will Join in Supper of Woman's Building for Traditional Meal

The annual breakfast for the senior and junior women of the Y. W. C. A., which has formerly taken place at the home of Mrs. P. L. Campbell, will be held next Saturday morning, May 13, at 8:30, in the Woman's building. Nearly 300 girls are included in the lottery list for the affair and it is traditional that the junior women escort the seniors.

One copy of the list will be posted in front of the Library and another in the Co-op. Juniors are asked to get in touch with the seniors whom they are escorting as soon as possible. Any who are unable to attend are requested to call at the Bungalow before Thursday in order that other arrangements may be made.

The girls will meet in the alumnae hall of the Woman's building and the breakfast will be served in the sunporch.

The heads of the committees in charge of the affair, under the leadership of Marion Lay and Alice Tomkins, are: Menu, Chloe Thompson; tables, Katherine Watson; serving, Edna Largent; program, Mabel Greene; music, Gwladys Keeney; and place-cards, Margaret Rankin.
