OREGANA TO BE OUT TODAY; WHOLE WEEK AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Annual to Be Delivered to Houses This Afternoon, Says Manager

THIS YEAR'S PRICE CUT

Inez King, Editor, Expresses Appreciation of Help of Co-workers

The 1922 Oregana is no longer a thing of the distant future. This afternoon practically the entire edition will be distributed among the thousand some subscribers on the campus. This event is usually a part of the Junior Week-end program, but in accordance with the general simplifying policy, the staff decided to release them a week earlier than usual.

Trucks will be employed this afternoon, under the supervision of George McIntyre, business manager, and John MacGregor, circulation manager, and the exact number ordered by the members of each house will be delivered to the person in charge of subscriptions. "We are very anxious to deliver all the copies at each house this afternoon," said Mr. McIntyre, "in order that we may avoid making two deliveries."

Price Is Cut

The total subscription price of the Oregana this year is $4.75, of which $2.50 was collected as the first installment. Students not living in organized groups will be able to get their copies at the Oregana office in the Journalism shack this afternoon. They are asked to bring exact change—$2.25—in order that delivery may be made as speedily as possible.

The price is 25 cents less than was charged last year, although the size of the book has not been decreased, nor has the number of pictures. An average of one picture for each of the 448 pages has been used. A saving was effected by cutting the size of the type page a fraction of an inch, thus reducing the cost of the photo-engraving work quite materially.

Cooperation Splendid

"We have had wonderful cooperation this year—not only with the work of the staff, but with the printer and engraver as well," said Inez King, editor, "and have been able for the first time in several years to get the copies entirely completed ahead of schedule time."

The photo-engraving has been done by the Hicks-Chatten Engraving company, of Portland, and the printing done by local printers, Koke-Tiffany company. Following is the editorial and business staff and their respective duties in the publication of the book: Inez King, editor; John Dierdorff, Margaret Scott, associate editors; Jessie Thompson, administration; Emily Veazie, literary; Ruth Austin, Margaret Jackson, Luella Hausler, classes; Lenore Cram, Kenneth Youel, organizations; Ray Bethers, art; Margaret Dunaway, Rosalia Keber, honorary organizations; Ethel Perry, Eugene Kelly, athletics; Florence Skinner, activities; Phil Brogan, events; Ernest Haycox, feature; Richard Thompson, medical school.

New Plan Adopted By School of Education to Insure Competency

"The aim of the school of education is to train the educational leaders of the state," said Dean Sheldon, head of the school, in an interview yesterday about the activities of that department of the University. "And that this aim has been accomplished is proved by the fact that more than half of the leading superintendents of the state have received their training here."

There are about 350 graduates of the University now serving as high school teachers in Oregon, according to Dean Sheldon, and about 60 more in Idaho and Washington.

"The aim of the school of education is accomplished through advanced courses of school administration and psychology, and especially through the summer school sessions," said Dean Sheldon. "The fundamental thing in preparing for teaching in any field, however, is to thoroughly know the subject matter, and to have an en-

POT AND QUILL MAGAZINE TO BE NAMED 'GREEN INK'

First Attempt of Students in Literary Magazine Lines to Be Put Out Before June

Material for the magazine to be issued by Pot and Quill will go to press within a few days. The magazine will be called "Green Ink," which suggests whimsically the Oregon color of the ink which is spilled on the campus. This is the first so-called literary magazine produced by University of Oregon students.

Although this first issue contains only the work of Pot and Quill members, it is not the intention of the organization to have this the case with later numbers. If students interested in writing are able to put out other issues of such a magazine, they will be open to the campus in general. The only interest of Pot and Quill in the publication lies in getting an idea started.

The magazine will have about 60 pages, and will contain four or five short stories, two plays, and several poems. It is to have a cover of attractive green stock, with a clever cover design. It will sell on the campus for 25 cents a copy. Date for its publication has not been set, but it will appear before the first of June.

OREGON CLUB WINS AGAIN

CLUBMEN TIED WITH KAPPA SIG AT TOP OF LEAGUE

Phi Delta Theta Chi, A. T. O. Winners in Doughnut Contests; Deltas Lose by One Point

Phi Delta Theta beat Bachelordon 7 to 1 in a well played game yesterday afternoon, while the Fijis were taking the short end of a 14 to 4 score in their game with the Oregon club. Kappa Theta Chi took Delta Tau Delta into camp in a fast game, ending 7 to 6, and Alpha Tau Omega walloped Kappa Delta Phi in a loosely played game 12 to 1.

The Bachelordon-Phi Delt game showed flashes of good baseball but the pitching of Marc Latham held the Bachelors to one run, while the Phi Deltas ran up seven runs from Hal Kelly's offerings. The game was nearly even up till the fourth inning, when Latham's gang got their bats busy and laid away the game. Gene Wright of the Phi Deltas got two three-baggers and Cappel of the Bachelors also secured a three-ply swat.

The batteries: Bachelordon, Kelly and Garner; Phi Delta Theta, Latham and Murphy. The Fijis went down before the Oregon club onslaught to the tune of 14 to 4 and as a result the Oregon club moved up even with the Kappa Sigs in the percentage column. The club's heavy hitters found Altstock frequently and, helped by Fiji errors, rolled up 14 runs.

The batteries: Oregon club, Galbraith and Anthony; Phi Gamma Delta, Altstock and Furry.

The Kappa Theta Chi team defeated the Delta Tau boys 7-6 in an exciting game played on the R. O. T. C. field. Up to the seventh inning the Deltas were held down to two runs but in a last minute rally staged by the Deltas four more runs were added to their tally.

Batteries: Kappa Theta Chi, Say and Bell; Delta Tau, Beaver and Gowans.

In the game between the A. T. O.'s and Kappa Delta Phi, played on the University high grounds, the former team scored the long end of a 12-1 tally. The game was called in the fifth inning on account of rain. Robertson of the Kappa Delt team made the lone run for the losers and Hempy

VARSITY AND O.A.C. NINES BEGIN TWO GAME SERIES TODAY

Fourteen Men Go to Corvallis; Ringle, Wright, Gray, Baldwin to Pitch

LESLIE, WATSON, TO CATCH

Both Teams Have Long List of Defeats; Captain Babb to Hurl for Aggies

Oregon's baseball squad, 14 strong, accompanied by Coach George M. Bohler, will leave this morning at 11:15 to do battle with the Aggie tossers in the first two sessions of their annual four-game series. The following men will make the trip: Pitchers, Ringle, Wright, Baldwin and Gray; catchers, Leslie and Watson; infielders, Ross, T. Johnson, Moore and Latham; outfielders, Zimmerman, Sorsby, Collins and Roycroft.

It should prove an interesting series for both teams, with a long string of defeats in their wake, are out to gain back some shreds of their reputations as ball players. The Aggies are weaker this year than last but they still have three fairly dependable twirlers in Captain Bert Babb, Taggart and Mendenhall. Babb especially has been twirling good ball and recently won a 7-6 game from the speedy University of Washington nine, letting them down with only five hits.

Taggart, Mendenhall, Hard Hit Taggart, a southpaw, and Mendenhall, who have been used most among the Ag twirlers, have pitched some good ball at times, though for the most part they have been hit hard.

Though Bohler refuses to divulge his lineup, Wright or Baldwin will probably start the opener this afternoon, with Ringle or Gray mounting the slab tomorrow. Leslie will likely don the shin-guards in the first game, while Johnny Watson should have an opportunity to show his wares in the final game. The rest of the team will probably line up with Terry Johnson on first, Ross on second, Dinty Moore at shortstop and Hunk Latham at third. Ringle who has been used some in the infield, may be called on to hold down the second sack. In the outfield Zimmerman in left, Collins in center, and Sorsby in right will likely start, with Roycroft held in reserve.

Return Series Next Week

The Aggies will play a return series with the Lemon-Yellow next Friday and Saturday as a part of the Junior Week-end program.

REGIME OF BRITISH IN INDIA LAUDED BY W. D. WHEELWRIGHT

Prominent Lumber Merchant Tells of Conditions in Troubled Land

ENGLISH RULE A SUCCESS

State Held to Be Steadily Improving in Country at Present Time

Great praise of the British regime in India was the main theme of the address of William D. Wheelwright, prominent Pacific coast lumber merchant, who addressed the student assembly in Villard yesterday morning. Mr. Wheelwright dwelt with particular emphasis upon the fact that if conditions in India are bad today under the British rule, the state of the country is at least constantly improving, and at the present time is so much better under white rule than under Mongol or Moslem domination, that the outlook is decidedly optimistic.

Pointing to the contented state of the natives in India, Mr. Wheelwright said: "I was in India from December 25, 1921, until February 1, 1922, and I heard never a whisper of a republic. You can travel through the whole of India today and never see a white man; but the white man is there. Everywhere throughout India are evidences of his presence."

Whites Stationed at Railways

At every railroad station in the country, according to Mr. Wheelwright, a white man is stationed, whose duty it is to keep check upon the natives, act as advisor and general director to see that the work is done according to schedule.

Commenting on the conquest and past rule of India by the British, the speaker said that the country at the time of the white entrance was in a state of subjection and anarchy. First, the Mongols from China, and then the Mohammedans from the west swept over the unfortunate country, bringing ruin and desolation in their trail. "Into this confusion came the British," declared Mr. Wheelwright. "I challenge anyone to point to any conquest in the history of the world which was equal in benevolence to the British conquest of India."

"If the Mohammedans should gain control of India today, they would annihilate (I use their own word) all of the Christian elements in India."

Comparison Drawn

Mr. Wheelwright drew a comparison of the present state of India with that of Australia, 30 years ago, and pointed out that India is on the way to become another Australia in another half century or more. "The issue in India today is not that of native against British," he averred, "but Moslem against Christendom, a civilization of which the United States is a component part. Britain fights the battle in India and the question is, shall she stand alone." The speaker closed by declaring that the great Anglo-Saxon nations of the world must stand together.

Mr. Wheelwright's address was preceded by a selection and encore rendered by the Royal Filipino string orchestra, a troupe of native islanders, playing steel guitar, mandolin, ukulele, guitar and violin. The orchestra was presented under the auspices of the campus Filipino club, and was heartily received by the students. The Rev. Bruce J. Giffen, student pastor of the Presbyterian church, offered the invocation.

BICYCLES FOUND ON CAMPUS

Two bicycles were found on the campus this morning by John L. Hanna, superintendent of properties. The machines were concealed under the large cottonwood trees below Villard and had evidently been placed there sometime the day before. Three other bicycles were also found hidden among the campus foliage last Monday. In both cases the machines were turned over to the police. During the last two years Mr. Hanna says that he has found nine bicycles on the campus.

ALFRED POWERS TO JUDGE

Alfred Powers, of the extension division, has been asked to judge a contest put on by the Woodburn Wireless, Woodburn high school paper, in which each of the four classes in the high school has published one issue of the paper. They have asked Mr. Powers to decide which class put out the best paper.

FROSH TRACK TEAM TO MEET WASHINGTON HIGH

Chemawa Indians Also to Compete Here on Saturday; Foster Has Not Yet Picked Men

Oregon's frosh track team will go up against the strong track delegations from Washington high school, in Portland, and Chemawa Indian school on Hayward field either Saturday morning or afternoon. The exact time has not yet been set, though Saturday morning seems to be favored, as it will enable the freshmen to take in the Varsity meet at O. A. C. in the afternoon.

Coach Foster has not yet picked his men, but the men who took part in the last frosh dual meet, and those on the regular squad will be the material from which the entries for Oregon will be selected.

Foster expects that the Washington high team will put up a real scrap. The Chemawa Indians, though they have been beaten several times already and are not rated so high in the percentage column, have not lost this season without a game fight.

The officials will as usual be picked from the student body. So far Bill Hayward has not made any final selections.

PROGRAM TO BE CHANGED

RAIN CAUSES ALTERATION OF MOTHERS' ENTERTAINMENT

All Trains to Be Met; Vesper Service Sunday Afternoon; Choir to Wear New Vestments

On account of several obstacles which have presented themselves, the committee in charge of Mothers' week-end has found it necessary to make alterations in the program for the two days' entertainment which is to be put on. One possible change is that the campus luncheon which was to have been held Saturday noon may have to be held in the men's gymnasium instead of on the campus in front of Dady hall, as had been planned. The prevailing rains of the week indicate that the outdoor program will have to be given up. However, if there is the least bit of good weather at the time, Fred Lorenz, chairman of the luncheon committee, promises that the luncheon will be on the campus and that the orchestra will be on hand to furnish the musical program.

It was the intention of the transportation committee to have autos ready to take the mothers on a tour of the city as soon as they stepped from the trains; but it has been decided wiser to put this off until 2:30 in the afternoon, when the mothers will have rested and will be ready to see all the sights.

All trains will be met Friday evening, Saturday morning, and in the early afternoon. A reception committee will be on hand to welcome the mothers, and the cars will be tagged with Oregon stickers. Anyone owning a car who has not been seen should phone Ila Nichols, 851, Frank Vander Ahe, 5981, or Roy Veatch, 987.

The concert which was to have been given at Villard hall Saturday evening is to be given up in favor of another form of entertainment which will be decided upon today. It was hoped that the mothers could be gathered together at this time to hear some musical selections, but because of some difficulties which have arisen, Wayne Akers is making other plans for the evening entertainment.

The largest feature of the week-end is to be the vesper services at the Methodist church Sunday at 3 o'clock. A special program will be given in their honor which will be especially musical. The Men's and Women's Glee clubs will appear in their new vestry robes for the first time. John Stark Evans, choir director, has arranged a particularly attractive program for the afternoon. Very brief talks will be made by members of the University faculty, students, and ladies on behalf of the mothers.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY; 39 ARRIVE

Visitors to Begin Registering in Woman's Building at 8:45 This Morning

PROGRAM TO BEGIN TODAY

President of Student Body Extends Welcome; Banquet Tonight at Anchorage

Thirty-nine representatives, faculty women and co-eds, arrived yesterday as an advance delegation to the conference of the Western Athletic Association of American college women which will convene on the campus today and tomorrow. Arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the delegates and with the close of registration which will take place at 8:45 o'clock this morning, the regular business sessions of the gathering will be called to order, and will continue until Saturday afternoon when a supper hike will bring the conference to a close.

Program Well Arranged

The last meeting of the association, which convenes every two years, was held at the University of Washington in 1919, and among the other matters of business to be taken up here will be the settlement of a meeting place for the next conference. A well arranged program will take up the various matters of interest to both students and faculty delegates in attendance and much of the discussion will be carried on by the round table method of informal addresses. An open business meeting will be held from 9:30 until 12 o'clock this morning, followed by luncheon at the various living organizations where the delegates are being housed.

To Tour Campus

A tour of the campus after the luncheon hour today has been arranged and during the afternoon the visitors will be entertained by special water stunts in the swimming pool in the Woman's building, and the championship baseball game of the intramural series for the co-eds, which has been scheduled as a special attraction for the visiting delegates at 5 o'clock this afternoon. A banquet at the Anchorage at 6:30 tonight will be attended by all the visitors and officials of the Women's Athletic association here and this will be followed by a program of stunts and dancing in the Woman's building.

The business of the conference will be taken up again Saturday morning in a closed session from 9:30 until 12 o'clock, in the Woman's league room of the Woman's building. At noon the visitors will participate in the campus luncheon and in the afternoon the visiting delegates and the Oregon co-eds will depart on a supper hike, leaving the campus at 2:30 and returning at 7:30.

Delegates Arrive Early

The delegates arriving yesterday and last night came by auto and by train. The University of Washington delegates motored down from Seattle. Thirteen colleges and six states, including Oregon, are represented in the list of delegates which bids fair from the advance delegation to exceed all attendance records at former western conferences.

"We deem it a great privilege to have the women's physical education representatives on the campus this week-end," said Lyle Bartholomew, (Continued on page three)

Cynic Gloats; Believes Concert Gives Him Edge Over Faculty

By E. J. H.
Well, well, I see by the daily sheet of yester morn where the lowly student of this University has, at last, secured a small but satisfying edge over the faculty. It warms the cockles of my heart (whatever they may be) and in some degree restores my faith in the ultimate justice of the universe. It runs in this fashion:

Whereas, the townspeople and the faculty members can afford to take in the concerts of the orchestra as they come along without suffering contusions of the pocketbook, and

Whereas, the eagle shrieks on every quarter the student has to slip into the coffers of old King Moloch Amusement, and

Whereas, there are some students who absolutely cannot afford even a thin, pants worn quarter, and who would at the same time like to imbibe a small portion of ear culture, and

Whereas, Rex Underwood wants everybody to hear his orchestra if they really have a hankering to do so,

He has hereby hatched up this scheme: There is to be a box at the entrance of Villard hall Tuesday evening—the night of the next popular concert of the University Orchestra, of course. Now the strange thing about this rather ordinary, prosaic, and entirely familiar box is that it is going to be entirely unchaperoned. It is going to rest placidly on its little stand and speak out to your individual consciences in this manner: "Here, if you can afford to pay for this session
