PI BETA PHI AND PHI SIGMA PI AWARDED CANOE FETE TROPHY

"The Jade God," Picturing Temple Shrine of Japan, with Buddha and Incense, Proclaimed as Winner

COMPETITION IS KEEN; ONLY ONE PRIZE GIVEN

Shimmering Colored Light, Reflected in Race, Adds Beauty to Scene; Music Echoes Along Waters

Shimmering colors were reflected from lights of rose and blue and green, and the sound of music echoed along the waters of the old mill race, as canoes slipped along past the crowded bleachers at the canoe fete last night. "The Jade God" was the float that brings a winner's cup to each of the two houses that made it, Pi Beta Phi and Phi Sigma Pi. In a temple shrine from far Japan, with tall jars of glowing incense, a little Japanese lady in a blue kimono knelt on the steps of the shrine before the figure of a Buddha in jade green, as the float passed the rows on onlookers. The winning float was fourteenth on the list. "Madrigal," of Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Chi, was a pretty fableau, with clouds in black and white holding gay yellow lanterns, against a background of blue. Soft violin music added to the loveliness of this first event of the fete.

Sea Nymphs Featured
Three mer-maidens, with their father Neptune, in an iridescent shell of mother-of-pearl, was the float of Alpha Phi and Alpha Tau Omega. The ancient god of the sea, with his nymph-daughters, sat in an ocean grotto with sea-weed that trailed in the water of the mill race. "An Oriental Dream," of Alpha Sigma and Delta Tau Delta, was a barge in effective black and orange, oared by dusky boatmen, where Juanita Jackson made a charming oriental dancer, to the softly-beating music of "Songs of India."

"Adoration," the float of Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was a colorful affair of red and blue and gold, where a turbaned lover of the Far East offered incense to his adored. Another oriental picture was the float of Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Nu, which showed an eastern damsel riding in her curtained howdah upon the back of an elephant, which was guided by a tiny boy in Hindu turban.

Spanish Caballeros Sing
Soft music of "La Paloma" was sung by a quartet of Spanish caballeros to an appreciative senorita, in "Lalita Fuentes," the float of Delta Gamma and Phi Gamma Delta. Color and music made this an effective float. "The Swan," of Delta Zeta and Beta Theta Pi, showed a nymph in a leafy barge drawn by three white swans.

Frosh Go Through Water, But Leave Their Green Caps in Fire

"Heave—all together—p-u-u-ull!" So came the cry from each side of the mill race, accompanied by encouraging shouts from the bystanders, and mighty tugs from the lines of straining figures at each end of the rope. The water surged between, lashed by the rope, which stretched taut, splashed, dipped, and tightened again. This way—that way—back and forth, slackening, tightening, tugging, straining, pulling, heaving, slipping—yes, it slipped. A husky shout from the freshman line: "Hold 'er! Hold 'er!"

From the sophomore ranks came a mighty roar. The line bent back, the rope tightened—something happened. A foot slipped. One pull—all together—and the race was a surging sea of slashing, shouting freshmen. They went in—but they scrambled out on the other side, gasping, dripping. It was a good battle.

Across the fields, pursued by a mass of hoarse-voiced sophs, with the senior cops panting in the rear—streaming shirt tails, brandishing paddles—raced the dripping babes. Routed at last by the wieldy sticks of the senior police, they fell into a long line and serpentine on Kincaid field. The last rites were to be performed—the tiny green caps were to be consigned to the flames—the badge

TRADITION IS ABOLISHED

THETA SIGMA PHI TO PLEDGE WOMEN JOURNALISTS NEXT FALL DURING HOMECOMING

Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalistic fraternity, has abolished one Junior Week-end custom by not pledging upperclass girls in the school of journalism at the campus luncheon. Scroll and Script and Friars alone conferred honors.

Because of a new national ruling, Theta Sigma Phi is unable to pledge any upperclass girls before the opening of school next fall. This will mean the abolishing of one custom and the inauguration of a new one. It is the policy of the organization to take in as members each year those women who have shown the greatest ability in journalism. Pledging will take place at the Homecoming luncheon given during the fall term, and Theta Sigma Phi's and their pledges will then edit the eight-page paper which has been a traditional Junior Week-end event until this year. In order that the active girls might have an opportunity this year to test their journalistic ability, it was decided to take over the regular Emerald for one day.

Girls who have held Emerald staff positions throughout the year assisted in covering campus news and working on the copy desk. Only one man was permitted to retain his position on the staff, and on account of the all-night vigil kept by girls in previous years, the night editor was not only permitted, but asked to keep his regular position.

CAMPUS GOLF COURSE TO BE OPENED TODAY

Links May Be Used without Charge; Clubs Ordered and Expected to Arrive Next Week

The four-hole golf course which has recently been constructed south of the R. O. T. C. barracks has been completed and will be opened for playing this morning to all members of the faculty, students and their guests. The greens have been ready for several days and, according to W. K. Newell, superintendent of properties, the fairways will be finished this morning.

There will be no charge for playing on the course, as it has been constructed as a practice course for those who have only a limited amount of time to spend at the game. Two sets of golf clubs have been ordered by the physical education department and will be for rent there early next week. The rules for the use of the course are in charge of a committee of which Carlton Spencer is chairman, and a copy of these rules will be posted at the first tee. In accordance with the University ruling regarding the use of all athletic facilities on the campus, the course may not be used on Sundays.

ZETA RHO EPSILON IS GIVEN CHAPTER OF ALPHA XI DELTA

National Women's Fraternity Will Install Local Group on University of Oregon Campus Early Next Month

CHARTER IS FOURTH GRANTED ON COAST

Grand Officers, Representatives of Pacific Branches, Will Conduct Initiation; Ethel Sanborn to Assist

News of the granting of a chapter of Alpha Xi Delta, national woman's fraternity, to Zeta Rho Epsilon, local women's organization, was made known on the campus last night. The date of installation has been set early in June, probably June 1 and 2.

Zeta Rho Epsilon was organized in May, 1920, and became a resident group on the campus at the opening of the University in the fall of the same year. Local Alpha Xi Delta representatives, under whom the group was organized, were Ethel Sanborn, instructor in the botany department, and Martha Findahl, instructor in voice in the school of music at that time.

The national fraternity of Alpha Xi Delta was founded April 17, 1893, at Lombard college, Galesburg, Ill. There are at present 29 chapters of Alpha Xi Delta and 23 alumnae chapters. The national officers of Alpha Xi Delta are: Anna Miller Knote, Mansfield, Ohio, president; M. Olive Johnson, San Rafael, Calif., vice-president; Ethel Baldwin, Elmira, N. Y., secretary; Lulu L. Runge, Lincoln, Neb., treasurer; and Myrtle Jones Stevens, Minneapolis, Minn., inspector.

The University of Oregon chapter will be the fourth to be installed in Pacific coast colleges, the other three being Nu chapter at University of Washington, Omicron chapter at University of California, and Alpha Delta chapter at Oregon Agricultural college. There are 26 active members and pledges of Zeta Rho Epsilon. The officers for this year have been: Mary Largent, Silverton, president; Florence Furuset, Eugene, vice-president; Lucile Bramstetter, Eugene, secretary; Pauline Tompkins, Caldwell, Idaho, treasurer. Patrons and patronesses for the group are Mr. and Mrs. Harl R. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thorpe.

The date of installation has been set for an early date because of the fact that the national convention of the fraternity will be held the latter part of June in Lexington, Ky., and because Mrs. Leland A. Coon, an active member of the group, is leaving the first of June to spend the next year and a half in France. Representatives of the three Pacific coast chapters and Ethel Sanborn will assist the national officers in the installation ceremonies.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS TO VIE FOR STATE TITLE

Grants Pass and Pendleton Teams to Meet in Finals in Guild Hall Tonight at 7 O'clock

That women are as efficient along debating lines as men will be proven tonight at 7 o'clock when the debate to decide the state championship of the high school debate league will take place between the Grants Pass and Pendleton high school teams in Guild hall. The latter team is made up of women and both teams were coached by women.

The subject of the debate is: Resolved, that a graduated income tax should be made a feature of a state system of taxation in Oregon.

A. C. Strange, of Astoria, president of the debate league, will preside, and the judges will be Professor Clarence D. Thorpe, R. W. Prescott, and I. O. Immel. President Campbell will make a brief speech, and Professor E. E. DeCou, donor of a silver living cup, will present it to the winners.

CAMPUS IS LIVENED BY VARIED FEATURES OF JUNIOR WEEK-END

TRACK MEET TODAY * * * * * AGGIES TAKE GAME

Oregon-Huskie Athletes Are Primed for Tilt to Begin at 2:30 on Hayward Field

Rain or shine, the Hayward field is in readiness for the Oregon-Washington track meet this afternoon at 2:30, which is the final athletic event of the Junior Week-end schedule. Coach Edmondson's men have been in Eugene since Thursday afternoon, and are in readiness for the contest, which, according to the opinion of the coaches, is going to be close and interesting.

The Washington team defeated the Aggie teams in the recent relay carnival, and in the last meet with Oregon won by a large score. However, since that time they have lost some of their strong men. With the defeats of the frosh in yesterday's track meet, and the varsity in baseball, the Oregon enthusiasts are trusting that the team will make a good showing this afternoon on Hayward field.

Since but 16 men are eligible to enter, Trainer Hayward has been forced to leave several of his men out, and late last night his choice stood as follows:

100-yard dash, Larson, Oberteuffer; mile run, Wlaskley; 220-yard dash, Oberteuffer, Larson; 120-yard high hurdles, Kuhnhausen, Webber; 440-yard dash, Sundleaf, Risley, Wyatt; two-mile run, Koepf, Campbell; 220-yard low hurdles, Oberteuffer, Kuhnhausen, Webber; 880-yard run, Peltier, Wlaskley, Kays; relay, Sundleaf, Risley, Wyatt, Rosebraugh; pole vault, Spearow, Rosenberg; shot put, Strachan, Ferris; high jump, Spearow, Bowles, Kuhnhausen; javelin, Rosenberg, Spearow, Strachan; discus, Strachan, Kuhnhausen.

The University of Washington entry list follows:

100-yard dash, Hurley, Douglass and Anderson; mile run, Williams and Finke; 220-yard dash, Loudy, Hurley and Free; 120 high hurdles, Frankland and Anderson; 440-yard dash, Douglass, Pratt, Loudy and Hathaway; two-mile run, Zenger and Finke; 220 law hurdles, Hurley, Frankland and Anderson; 880-yard run, Beall and Ferry; relay, one mile, Douglass, Pratt, Loudy, Hathaway and Free; pole vault, Callison, Mason; shot put, Bryan, Miller; high jump, Frankland, Callison, Mason; discus, Bryan, Miller; broad jump, Metlin, Frankland and Callison; javelin throw, Metlin and Mason.

PEPPY LEMMY TICKLES CAMPUS FUNNY BONES

Comic Magazine Featuring Preppers Makes Big Hit; Cover Design Unusual; Wit Is Rare

Snappy and timely is the "Preppers' Issue" of the Lemon Punch which appeared yesterday, the dapper young man on the cover presenting a grinning face and a willing hand to receive the Oregon welcome. Originality and "pep" stick out all over the magazine. The front page illustration, by Ray Bethers, is only a sample of the spirit displayed throughout the whole issue.

The number is featured by numerous cartoons and cuts, and the jokes are new, snappy and clever. Most of the jokes are shorter than usual and liberally illustrated. Several full page cuts are distinctive and unusual in originality.

Many new contributors have turned in material for this issue of the Punch, and from all indications, and according to the staff, the future holds much in the way of new and original contributions. Several contributors for this issue have had work accepted by national publications.

The editorial page is featured by a whole new make-up and is a bright spot in the issue, full of sparkling and effervescent wit.

This is the first issue of the Punch since it was taken over by the new staff of which "Doc" Braddock is editor. The character of this number seems to predict a bright future for the magazine, according to its readers.

Baseball Score Is 11 to 1 at End of Fifth Inning; Game Called on Account of Rain

By I. King

The Aggies had annexed a total of 11 tallies against Oregon's 1 when the game was called on account of rain at the end of the fifth inning yesterday on Cemetery Ridge. Each member of the O. A. C. nine can claim at least one run to his credit, excepting Palfrey, whose two hits served to swell the total, but who failed to cross the home plate himself. Jimmy Ross, Oregon's second baseman, worked his way around the diamond for the single Oregon tally in the first inning.

The game was taken by the Aggie team from the beginning. The score at the end of the initial frame was 4 to 1 in their favor. No runs were made by either team in the second and third, but by a series of good hits, the visitors completed their total of 11 in the fourth and fifth innings. Oregon lost a chance to score in the fifth when, with two outs already and the bases full, Ringle hit out to the Aggie shortstop and made the down which ended the game.

Yesterday's game was the third victory for O. A. C. in this season's series. The fourth and final game will be played this morning on the Ridge at 10 o'clock.

MISS SAUNDERS APPOINTED

Lucile Saunders, a former student in the University of Oregon School of Journalism, has recently been appointed to the United Press Service at Washington, D. C. She left Portland over a year ago to tour South America, writing her observations for the Portland Oregonian and a number of trade journals. Since that time she was appointed as United Press correspondent at Buenos Aires and was serving in that capacity when she accepted the position at Washington, D. C.

"Preppers" Are Thrilled with Numerous Events; 327 Officially Registered by Last Night

TENNIS, TRACK, BASEBALL TODAY

Festivities to End with Prom Tonight; Clean-up Is Termed Success; Frosh Prove Loyalty

Junior Week-end, that event in the school life of the University on which every eye has been focused for the past few months, has at last arrived, and yesterday created such a stir on the campus that there was not a leisure moment from the time that the mighty senior "cops" called early in the morning at the men's houses for freshmen recruits, until the last of the canoes went gliding down the race last night.

Up to 6 o'clock last night, 327 "preppers" had registered in the office for that purpose on the second floor of the administration building. According to "Chuck" Lamb, who was in charge at that time, a majority of the visitors are women, and the largest number from any one section of the state comes from Portland and vicinity. Of the outlying districts, Pendleton, Baker and Medford are best represented. Although it was thought that all the preppers had not registered, the total was taken as a fair estimate because of the fact that in order to obtain tickets to the various events, the prospective Oregon students had to have their names recorded. However, it is believed that many guests arrived later in the evening, so that there will be far more spectators at today's events than at those of yesterday. Although a large number are being entertained by the sororities, fraternities and halls of residence, many gave town addresses when registering.

Second Game Today

This morning the Oregon baseball team will meet the O. A. C. nine in the second of the two-game series. The fight is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock on the Cemetery Ridge diamond. Probably the most important feature of today's program is the Oregon-Washington dual track meet, which will draw the crowd to Hayward field at 2 o'clock.

Immediately after luncheon, at 1 o'clock, the Oregon frosh and the O. A. C. rooks will demonstrate their skill with racquets in a series of tennis matches on the cement courts west of the library. Due to the large number of Junior Week-end events which had to be crowded into the three-day period, a conflict necessarily resulted. The Oregon-O. A. C. singles will begin at 2:30, during the track meet. It is believed that among the visitors on the campus there will be enough tennis enthusiasts so that both contests will be well attended.

Practically the only formal event of the Junior Week-end program is the Prom, which is to be held in the Eugene armory tonight at 8:30. Guests have been provided with tickets for this, while students must pay the admission charge of $1. The Prom will end the scheduled activities of the week-end.

Yearling Clean Campus

It is said by campus authorities that if today "goes off" as well as yesterday, the preppers will be entertained as they had hoped to be. Beginning yesterday morning, gangs of freshmen could be seen all over the campus cleaning and straightening up. A large crew of the "yearlings," patrolled always by the wearers of the sombreros, gathered and burned the last vestige of the old Kincaid grandstand. The senior fountain, between the library and Deady hall, was cleaned out for the occasion and, as many of the frosh

More than 3000 people were served at the campus luncheon but, as four lines of tables holding the food were formed, there was no confusion and very little waiting to be done. Following the luncheon everybody went down to the railroad bridge across the mill race to see the frosh and sophomores pull their annual tug of war. Then came the wild scramble when the several hundred freshmen plunged through the icy waters of the mill race to safety on the other side.
